Learn “How to Succeed ... Without Really Trying”

University Theatre will open its 1999-2000 season with “How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying” Friday and Saturday, Oct. 8 and 9, and Thursday to Saturday, Oct. 14, 15 and 16, at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 10, at 2 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center Drama Theatre.

Power, sex, ambition and greed ... it’s just another day at the office. In this “delightfully irreverent” musical satire of big business and all it holds sacred, we follow the rise of J. Pierrepont Finch as he climbs the corporate ladder from lowly window washer to high-powered executive. On his way, Finch tackles such familiar dangers as the aggressively compliant “company man,” the boss’ whiny, nepotistic nephew, the office party, the backstabbing co-workers, caffeine addiction and, of course, true love.

“How to Succeed...” is based on the book by Abe Burrows, Jack Weinstock and Willie Gilbert. Music and lyrics are by Frank Loesser.

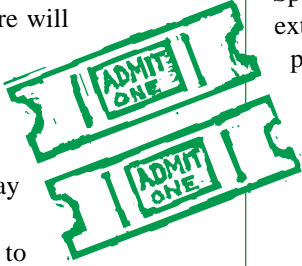

For information and ticket reservations, contact the University Theatre Box Office, Mondays through Fridays, 1 to 4:30 p.m., x4145. Student group rates and season discount cards are available.

Flamenco Comes to FSU

The FSU 1999-2000 Cultural Events Series will present “Flamenco Vivo” by the Carlota Santana Spanish Dance Company Saturday, Oct. 9, at 8:30 p.m. in the Cordts Physical Education Center Main Arena.

“This is an infectiously joyful celebration of music and dance,” noted The New York Times. With their earthy, gutsy and passionate combinations of song, rhythm and dramatic dance movement, this group conveys humanity’s most fundamental emotions.

Founded in 1983 by Carlota Santana and the late Roberto Lorca, the company uses flamenco not only as an art form, but also as a device for breaking down cultural barriers. In each performance, the audience clearly feels the essences of Spanish, Judaic, North African and Gypsy influences on the creation of Spanish culture. They have toured extensively throughout the United States performing to sold-out houses including Lincoln Center’s Clark Studio and The Joyce Theatre.

This event is presented in partnership with the FSU Campus Activities Board.

For information and ticket reservations, contact the CES Office in the Lane Center, Mondays through Fridays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., x4411. Based on availability, tickets may also be purchased the night of the performance at the venue box office one-hour prior to curtain.

Vaccinations Available at Lane Center Oct. 7

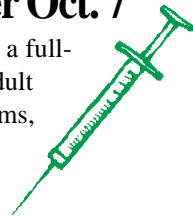

VACCESSHealth, a full-service provider of adult immunization programs, in cooperation with Frostburg State University’s Brady

Health Center will conduct a student immunization clinic from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 7, in the Lane Center Multi-use Room on the FSU campus.

Three immunizations are available on the day of the clinic. Meningitis vaccine, at a cost of $75, Hepatitis B (the first in a series of three) for $45 and influenza for $10. The influenza vaccine is available to FSU faculty and staff as well.

No appointments are necessary. Walk-ins are welcome. For information, contact VACCESSHealth at 1-877-4-VACCESS or call the Brady Health Center at x4310.

VACCESSHealth is designed to deliver effective education and access to immunization against vaccine-preventable diseases. The organization is dedicated to promoting good health by helping to overcome traditional barriers to adult immunization and by raising awareness and making it convenient and easy for adults in various settings to get the protection they need. You can visit their Web site at www.vaccess.com.

“Stop the Hate” Vigil Set

The rise of hate groups and violent, senseless attacks on innocent people should be of grave concern to all. In response, a “Stop the Hate” vigil will be held outside the Frostburg State University Lane Center by the Black Student Alliance fountain Thursday, Oct. 7, at 7 p.m. Everyone is invited to join this event.

Dr. Fred Yaffe, FSU’s dean for the newly formed College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, will serve as the vigil speaker. Dr. Yaffe comes to FSU from Ashland University in Ashland, Ohio, where he was Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences since 1997. Prior to his time at Ashland, he served for eight years as chair of the Department of Psychology at Eastern Illinois University.

Greg Latta of the Department of Physics, Amy Harman of the Department of Biology and Norma Blacke Bourdeau of the Department of English will present music selections at the vigil.

Sponsors of the vigil include United Campus Ministry, Catholic Campus Ministry, Baptist Campus Ministry, the National Coalition Building Institute, the Diversity Center, Hillel, Student Government Association, Center for International Education, NAACP and University Police. The FSU event will be part of a national “Stop the Hate” day sponsored by the Interfaith Alliance and the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

For information, contact the Rev. Larry Neumark, x7490.

Cellist to Perform Music from Around the World

Tickets are still available for the performance by internationally acclaimed cellist Daniel Kazez and pianist David Hapner Sunday, Oct. 3, at 3 p.m. in Pealer Recital Hall in the Performing Arts Center. The recital, which will feature music from France, Spain, Czechoslovakia, Israel, Hungary, Germany, Canada, Russia and the United States, is sponsored by the Department of Music and the Center for International Education.

The recital is free and open to the public. Concertgoers will have an opportunity to meet the musicians following the performance.

Dr. Kazez began playing cello at the age of 5. A student of world music, he has traveled, studied and performed around the world, including India, Java, Bali, Turkey and Greece, in addition to Europe and the United States. His scholarly work includes two books, one of which is the most widely used rhythm textbook in the U.S., "Rhythm Reading: Elementary through Advanced Training."

Hapner, in addition to his work with instrumentalists, has worked in musical theater and opera, including productions of Verdi's "Tosca," starring Placido Domingo and the world premiere of Leonard Bernstein's "A Quiet Place."

This concert is made possible through support of the Faculty Development Committee and the Maryland State Arts Council.

For more information, call Ellen Grolman Schlegel in the Department of Music at x4117.

Anka to Present "Sex, Love and Dating"

Anka Radakovich will present "Sex, Love and Dating in the New Millennium" Friday, Oct. 1, at 3 p.m. in the FSU Lane Center Multi-use Room. Her presentation is sponsored by the FSU Campus Activities Board.

Known as a "Doyenne of Sex for Generation X," a sexual anthropologist and a sexual affairs correspondent, the Hagerstown, Md., native is an outspoken and candid columnist for "Details" magazine. As the hip mouthpiece for the twenty-something crowd, she stresses that communication is the key to bridging the divide that exists between the sexes.

For an afternoon full of fun, facts and fresh information about sex and relationships, plan to attend. This event is free and open to the public. For information, contact the Lane Center Information Desk, x4411.

International Film Series Presents "El Mariachi"

"El Mariachi," a film about a musician who stumbles into in love and a battle against evil, is the next offering of the FSU International Film Series. The Spanish film with English subtitles will be shown Tuesday, Oct. 5 at 7 p.m. in Lane Center 201.

In this film, directed by Robert Rodriguez, a lone Mariachi musician arrives in a small Mexican border town hoping to find work. As the story evolves, the Mariachi falls in love with a beautiful bar owner who befriends him after he is accidentally confused as the hitman for the town's revenge-crazed drug dealer. Soon, he finds himself ushered into the violent underworld, battling the world's evil until the film's final tragic moments.

This event is free and open to the public. For information, contact the Lane Center Information Desk, x4411.

Teaching Internships Deadline Oct. 8

Students in Secondary/K-12/N-8 Teacher Education who plan to enter a teaching internship (Phase III) during the Spring 2000 Semester are asked to pick up an application from Mrs. Carol Abernathy in the Office of Field Experiences (203 Framptom Hall) through Friday, Oct. 8. Deadline for completed applications is Oct. 8. Call Carol at x4216 if you have questions.

Strike Up "The President's Own" Band

"The President's Own" United States Marine Band will perform at the Cordts P.E. Center Saturday, Oct. 2, at 7:30 p.m.

The concert is sponsored by The Cumberland Times-News and the Allegany Arts Council. The concert is free, but tickets are required. Tickets are available at the Lane Center, The Cumberland Times-News on Baltimore Street in Cumberland or at the Allegany Arts Council office on the Downtown Cumberland Mall. There are no reserved seats. Ticket-holders must be seated by 7:15 p.m.

Alston to Speak to Rehab Club

The FSU Rehab Club will hold its first meeting of the academic year Thursday, Sept. 30, at 4 p.m. in 208 Tawes Hall. Dr. Margaret Alston, Director of Admissions at University of Maryland Baltimore, will speak. Dr. Alston is a graduate of FSU's pre-physical therapy program and will share her experiences with students and faculty. Anyone with an interest in health-related professions is encouraged to attend. For details, contact Dr. Joe Hoffman at x4160.

"Recipes from Home" Collected for Cookbook

The FSU Parents Association has decided to publish a "Recipes from Home" cookbook filled with the best recipes from parents, students, faculty, staff and alumni of Frostburg State — and we need your recipes!

The proceeds of the cookbook will go toward the FSU Parents Association Endowment Fund to provide book scholarships for FSU students. These 6-inch-by-9-inch cookbooks with plastic comb binding will most definitely become a cherished keepsake on your kitchen shelf! (Note: Recipes submitted by FSU Parents will automatically be entered in our spring 2000 "Recipes from Home" Contest.)

We would like to have one, two, three, four or more of your favorite recipes as soon as possible. Your name will even be printed in the cookbook with each of your own recipes!

Recipe forms are available through the University Advancement Office (228 Hitchins) or call x7588 to request a form. The tentative deadline for recipes is Friday, Oct. 1.

We are anticipating a great demand for these cookbooks, so we want to be certain we are ordering enough. Please send your name, address, phone number and number of cookbooks you would be interested in ordering even if you don't plan to submit a recipe. Remember, if you don't reserve your copies now, we may not have a cookbook for you!

Gigantic Yard Sale Supports Scholarship

A Gigantic Yard Sale will be held Saturday, Oct. 2, beginning at 8 a.m. at 174 Mount Pleasant St. in Frostburg. The sale will raise money for an FSU scholarship. Miscellaneous household items, books, collectibles and antiques will be features.

To get to the sale, from the Md. 36 exit off Interstate 68, turn left at the light to Main Street. From Main Street, turn right at Jenkins Street and follow the signs to the sale.

For more information on the sale or to donate items, call Dot Rowe at (301) 689-3613.

The sale is sponsored by the Frostburg Branch of American Association of University Woman (AAUW), which promotes equity for all women and girls, lifelong education and positive society change. In principle and practice, AAUW values and seeks a diverse membership. A graduate of either gender holding a baccalaureate or higher degree is eligible for admission to AAUW membership. For information on joining, contact Phyllis Stewart, vice president for membership, at (301) 689-3770.

Life in the Fast Lane: AL Seminar

"Evolution of Egg Size in Cichlid Fishes: Life in the Fast Lane" will be the first in the fall seminar series offered by University of Maryland Center for Environmental Science — Appalachian Laboratory. The seminar will be Thursday, Sept. 30, from 3 to 4 p.m. in Appalachian Laboratory IVN Room 109. The speaker will be Dr. Ronald M. Coleman, who is a lecturer in the Department of Biological Sciences at the University of the Pacific. For information, call Ed Gates at (301) 689-7173.

Attention Teacher Education Applicants

If you are planning to enroll in Phase I or II courses for the spring 2000 semester, you must apply before Friday, Oct. 15.

Please consult your catalog and your advisor for admission requirements.

Applications may be picked up from the Office of Field Experiences, 203 Framptom Hall.

Play Golf, Help Out Accounting Students

A four-member team scrambler championship will be held the morning of Friday, Oct. 1, at the Cumberland Country Club with proceeds benefiting scholarships for the FSU Accounting Department.

Sponsored by Uncle Tucker's of Cumberland, this is being billed as a premier scrambler event to crown the area's best "captain's choice" team. First and second place will be awarded in both net and gross categories. The low gross winner will take home a grand prize of $600, "Uncle Tucker's Traveling Trophy" and free registration to defend their title next year.

The entry field is limited. Cost per team is $320. To register, contact Greg Ortman, Cumberland County Club, at (301) 724-0440. To contribute to the event or to volunteer assistance, contact Jack Aylor, FSU Foundation, at x4161.

Diverse Views on Abortion to Be Aired

United Campus Ministry will present "A Student Dialogue on Abortion" Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in Library Room 237. Dr. Phoebe Wiley from the P.A.S.S. office will moderate this civil exploration of diverse views on this controversial subject. This is an ideal opportunity to learn about and listen to various anecdotes and ideas related to abortion. A student panel including Maggie Denny, Stacey Sharpe, Chris Wilson and Brian Sappington will entertain questions and share their diverse views on abortion. Everyone is encouraged to attend this educational discussion on a contemporary topic.

UCM to Visit Children's Home

At 6 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 29, United Campus Ministry will have dinner and visit Salem Children's Home. Call x7490 for details.

Study Abroad Opportunities

Education Majors -
Do you want to go to Denmark?

FSU is beginning a new exchange program with the KDAS Teaching College in Copenhagen. This semester we are hosting two students from KDAS, and spring semester 2000 we hope to send two FSU students to Copenhagen. Contact Amy Simes at the Center for International Education, x3091, asimes@frostburg.edu. You may also contact Dr. William Bingham in the Educational Professions Dept., x4420.

International Student Exchange Program Information Meeting

Students interested in taking part in any of the ISEP programs should attend an information meeting Tuesday, Oct. 5, at 6 p.m. in Ort Library, Room 210. There are still spaces left for students interested in taking part in ISEP during the spring semester 2000. ISEP has programs in more than 200 locations worldwide. Students pay their normal tuition and room and board to FSU and then spend a semester or a year overseas. Financial aid may be used to cover expenses. Credits earned are transferred back to FSU. Contact Amy Simes at the Center for International Education, x3091, Fuller House on Braddock Road. Deadline for next academic year applications is Friday, Oct. 15.

Remove Your Incompletes

Reminder: The last day for removal of incomplete grades for undergraduate students for Spring 1999/Summer 1999 semesters is Monday, Oct. 11.

Instructors may contact Marcy in the Registrar's Office at x4347 if they have questions or need "Change of Grade" forms.

Also, the last day to withdraw with a "W" in a course for the fall 1999 semester is Friday, Oct. 22.

Join Homecoming for Days of Auld Lang Syne

All student organizations are encouraged to participate in this year's Homecoming celebration, Oct. 21-24.

Using the theme "Auld Lang Syne 1999," students can earn prize money by participating in a number of competitions, including fence decorating, banners, parade float/car decorating, window decorating, residence hall decorating and lip sync. The Homecoming Committee is also sponsoring its annual Homecoming Queen and King competition. Entry forms have been placed in all student organization mailboxes and also are available at the Lane Center information desk. The deadline for competition entries (except Queen and King) is noon Friday, Oct. 9. For information, please contact the Student Government Association (x4304) or the Office of University Advancement (x4068).

Roger Day to Bring Acoustic Rock to Campus

Roger Day, a singer-songwriter who brings the energy of rock to his solo acoustic performances, will appear at Café Frostburg at Frostburg State University's Lane Center Lounge Friday, Oct. 8, at 8 p.m.

The concert is sponsored by the FSU Lane Center and Campus Activities' Center Stage. The concert and refreshments in a café/coffeehouse setting are free and open to the public.

Day's voice is often described as a cross between R.E.M.'s Michael Stipe and James Taylor. His show reflects a stunning diversity of styles, including his original material and a range of cover tunes. His first CD, "Rich Man, Poor Man, Beggarman, Thief" was selected by Performing Songwriter magazine as one of 1994's top 10 independent releases.

"Songs of My People" Celebrates Contribution

The subject of the second program of the African American Studies Forum 2000 is African American spirituals and gospel songs: a lecture and performance by professors James Richardson of the Department of English at Morehouse College in Atlanta, Norma Blacke Bourdeau of the FSU departments of English and Philosophy and Pansye Atkinson, director of FSU AA/EEO. The group will be assisted by Professor Frank Fleckenstein from the FSU Philosophy Department.

The program is titled "Songs of My People" and is a celebration of the cultural — especially musical and religious — contribution of African Americans in the second millennium A.D.

The event will be Monday, Oct. 18, at 7 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center Pealer Recital Hall. It is free and open to the public.

This program is organized by the African American Studies Program and is co-sponsored by the President's Advisory Council on Diversity, the Center for International Education, the Office of Diversity, Black Student Alliance and Bryce Quarve, director of Arts Marketing and Outreach at FSU.

For information, contact Dr. Jean-Marie Makang, Coordinator of African American Studies at x3089 or Dunkle Hall 130.

FSU Featured in the Best in Md. Higher Education

The fall conference of the Maryland Association of Higher Education (MAHE) will showcase exemplary academic, student services, and community service programs in Maryland, including FSU's own A STAR! In Western Maryland (AmeriCorps and service learning programs), winner of the 1999 MAHE Distinguished Program Award. The conference is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 15, 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at Washington College, Chesterton, Md. The program fee is $40 for MAHE members, $50 for nonmembers, and $60 for the combined conference/99-00 membership. For registration material and to get on a list for shared transportation, please contact FSU's MAHE representative Mary Gartner in Hitchins 213, x4212.

Faculty, Staff Notes

Keith Hart, program coordinator for A STAR! in Western Maryland, was recently appointed to the Governor's Commission on Service and Volunteerism.

According to Hart, the Commission oversees the administration and allocates the funding for service and volunteer programs throughout the state.

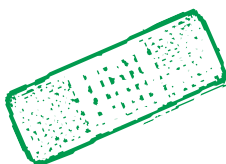

"Gov. Glendening and Lt. Gov. Kathleen Kennedy Townsend are leaders in creating cutting edge programs of service and leadership designed to help the citizens of their state," Hart stated. "I am pleased to be part of the Governor's team and to represent Western Maryland."

Prior to his 1998 arrival on the FSU campus, Hart served at the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation in Philadelphia as an AmeriCorps leader with the National School and Community Corps. Previously, he served as a National Civilian Community Corp member based in San Diego. With this position, he traveled throughout the Southwest as a forest firefighter. When not in the field, he worked to educate the public on forest fire prevention.

Philip Allen, former Arts and Humanities dean, leaves Friday, Oct. 1, for Auckland, New Zealand, where he is to chair a panel on The Arts Curriculum for the 21st Century at the international "Global Arts Beyond 2000" conference. From there he proceeds to Antananarivo, capital of Madagascar, where he and Susan Allen will spend the year, thanks to his Fulbright lectureship, teaching at the national university.
