Schlegel to Perform as Whitman in 'The Good, Gray Poet'

The premiere of "The Good, Gray Poet: A Reading by Walt Whitman," a one-man show created and performed by FSU English professor Dr. Keith W. Schlegel, will be presented on Monday, Feb. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center Drama Theatre. The presentation is free and open to the public.

Schlegel's monologue is a historical characterization of America's most well-known poet as he might have appeared to the public during America's Centennial. Following the monologue, "Walt Whitman" will respond to questions from the audience. After that, Schlegel will step out of the Whitman character to respond to further questions. FSU English professor Dennis Gartner will moderate.

In 1857, Whitman outlined to himself his plans to become a "wander-speaker" as a means to "hold the ear of the people." He lamented late in his life, "The people, the crowd - I have had no way of reaching them. I have sometimes thought of going out and around and reading my poems: I felt that the people would listen - and would get to know what I am about." The lack of a critical audience and ill health prevented his doing so.

Although Whitman did speak publicly in the 1870s and '80s, he did so not to read his most significant poetry, but to commemorate the life of Abraham Lincoln and to read his most popular, if least characteristic, poem, "O Captain, My Captain." In these well-attended events, Whitman was fully the "Good, Gray Poet," with little of the original American rebel evident. The moment to appeal directly to the public in his initial form had passed.

Schlegel, chair of the FSU Department of English, has taught at Frostburg since 1971. His dissertation is on Whitman's great dejection ode, "As I Ebb'd with the Ocean of Life." Researching and scripting "The Good, Gray Poet" was the major project of his fall 2002 sabbatical.

Dance

BSA to Present Umdabu African Dance Company

The Umdabu African Dance Company will perform at FSU on Tuesday, Feb. 11, at 7 p.m. in the Lane University Center's Alice R. Manicur Hall.

Hosted by the Black Student Alliance as part of FSU's celebration of Black History Month, this event is free and open to the public.

The Umdabu Dance Company, based in Birmingham, Ala., is dedicated to the preservation and presentation of traditional Zulu culture through dance. The Company presents dances within their social, cultural and historical context through a variety of theatrical vignettes.

Umdabu leader and choreographer Johannes "Jomo" Xulu has worked with professional dance companies in South Africa, Great Britain and the United States, including the acclaimed Soweto Street Beat Dance Company and the Adzido Pan-African Dance Ensemble.

For information, contact the FSU Diversity Center at x4050.

FSU to Offer 4th Summer Dance Retreat

FSU's Division of Performing Arts, in cooperation with the Martha Graham School of Contemporary Dance, Inc., will offer the fourth annual Frostburg Summer Dance Retreat, a Martha Graham Summer Intensive. Scheduled from June 9 through 21, the retreat will be directed by founder Dr. Barry Fischer, associate professor of dance at FSU.

The FSDR offers a two-week intensive study with professional dancers who have performed the repertory of America's renowned dance legend, Martha Graham. Students will be challenged to explore their technical, creative and artistic skills and talents. Rotating classes in ballet, composition and repertory will be small to permit individualized instruction, communication and support. The retreat will also offer make-up and costuming workshops and lectures about Graham and her influence on contemporary dance.

The staff includes Fischer, Diane Gray, Stuart Hodes, Peggy Lyman and Kenneth Topping. Fischer has coordinated the Mid-Atlantic American College Dance Festivals in 1999 and 2001 on the FSU campus. Gray has taught extensively. She has been active in the Martha Graham Company in many capacities, including serving as an associate artistic director, and has been a director of the Martha Graham School of Contemporary Dance. A former dance partner of Graham, Hodes has taught at the Martha Graham School since the 1950s, served as its director and is now dean of students. He has choreographed works for many media and has written magazine articles and a book on choreography. Lyman, a principal dancer with the Martha Graham Dance Company, is chair of the Hartt School's Dance Division at the University of Hartford and teaches at the Martha Graham Center in New York. She also restages Graham ballets for dance companies around the world. Returning to Frostburg for a third year, Topping is director of the Martha Graham Center of Contemporary Dance and artistic director of the Martha Graham Dance Ensemble.

The FSDR is open to students age 16 and over with an intermediate or advanced level of training in modern dance or ballet. An audition is not required. Students may choose a half retreat from June 9 to 14 or the full retreat from June 9 to 21. Dancers attend two to three classes per day, Monday through Friday. Those who attend the full retreat will have the opportunity to perform in a final gala performance.

Residential students will be housed in residence halls on the FSU campus. Dancers will serve as resident advisors for around-the-clock guidance and support.

Applications and requests for registration materials are available from Fischer, who can be reached at x4730 or bfischer@frostburg.edu.

Music

Singer/Songwriter Ryan Adcock to Perform

FSU's Center Stage Live! at the Loft Series will present singer/songwriter Ryan Adcock on Thursday, Feb. 13, at 8 p.m. in the Derezhinski Lounge/Loft, in the Lane University Center.

A Cincinnati native, Adcock was named the city's "Best Singer/Songwriter" and "Best Rock Vocalist." His dynamic voice and rhythmic guitar combine to create powerful, stripped-down versions of his recorded material. His most recent release is "From Silence and Joy."

Adcock is also known as an enchanting storyteller who often has his audiences in tears of laughter with his tales of life on the road. In the past year, he performed at more than 100 venues in 39 states.

Adcock's appearance is free and open to the public. For more information, call the Lane University Center Information Desk at x4411.

Professors to Present Valentine's Concerts

FSU professors Joan Dixon, Greg Latta and Suzi Mills will present two Valentine's Concerts featuring romantic piano music, Broadway love songs and folk ballads on Friday, Feb. 14, at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Feb. 16, at 3 p.m. in the FSU Performing Arts Center's Pealer Recital Hall.

Selections by Dixon will include "Liebestraum" by Franz Liszt, "Variation on a Theme of Paganini" by Rachmaninoff, selections from "Beauty and the Beast" by Alan Menken, "Andante" from "Rhapsody in Blue" by Gershwin and "Just the Way You Are" by Billy Joel. Selections by Latta will include "Reynardine" (traditional), "On the Street Where You Live" and "Shady Grove" (performed on the hammered and Appalachian dulcimers), "That's Amore" (performed on the concertina), and "Choo Choo to You." Selections by Mills will include "I Will Always Love You," and two original compositions, "The Other Side of the Bed" and "Hopeless." The three will also perform together for several pieces, including "Some Enchanted Evening" by Rodgers & Hammerstein, "How Sweet It Is" by James Taylor, "Can You Feel the Love Tonight?" by Elton John and "Love Changes Everything" by A.L. Webber. Jeff Ward will assist on percussion.

There will be a wine and cheese reception before the concert and at intermission on Friday night. There will be afternoon coffee/tea and dessert before the concert on Sunday. All ticket sales, donations and cash bar proceeds will benefit the FSU Piano Festival and may be used to purchase pianos for the Performing Arts Center. A tax-deductible donation of $30 or more is requested for two tickets and two glasses of wine (or non-alcoholic beverage) on Friday night, or two tickets and coffee/tea and dessert on Sunday afternoon. Individual tickets are also available.

To reserve tickets, call the FSU box office at x7462 or make checks payable to FSU Foundation: Piano Festival and mail to Dr. Joan Dixon, Division of Performing Arts—Music, FSU, Frostburg, MD 21532. Tickets may be purchased at the door but advance reservations will help the caterer. For information, call Dixon at x4115.

Art

Print Exhibition to be Shown at Roper Gallery

On/Off/Over the Edge, a traveling exhibition from the American Print Alliance, will be on display at FSU from Friday, Feb. 7, through Wednesday, Feb. 26. The opening reception on Feb. 7 from 7 to 9 p.m. is free and open to the public.

The prints, paperworks and bookworks selected for this traveling exhibition by the Alliance explore the concept of the edge in all of its possibilities, from figurative to literal, formal to conceptual, psychological to physical. Judges accepted all print, papermaking and book arts techniques from low tech to high tech, including computer or digital printmaking. Entries came from subscribers to the Alliance's journal, "Contemporary Impressions," and from members of the printmakers' councils in the Alliance.

The American Print Alliance is a non-profit consortium of printmakers' councils representing about 4,500 artists in the United States and Canada. For more information, visit www.PrintAlliance.org.

For information on the exhibit, contact FSU's Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Theatre

CES Presents 'Golden Pond' with Jack Klugman

The FSU Cultural Events Series has added a special theatrical performance of "On Golden Pond" to its 2002-03 season. Jack Klugman, one of television's favorite curmudgeons, will appear in "On Golden Pond" with Anita Gillette at FSU on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 18 and 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center's Drama Theatre.

"On Golden Pond," a critically acclaimed Broadway production by Ernest Thompson, is a touching, funny and perceptive story of a family, the play focuses on the bond between Norman and Ethel, a couple in their golden years. Klugman is perfectly suited to the role of Norman, an almost 80-year-old retired professor with a playful, feisty yet crusty attitude. His wife Ethel, younger by a decade, serves as a perfect foil, with her delight in the little things that have enriched their long marriage. Their divorced daughter Chelsae joins them at their summer vacation home, along with her dentist boyfriend and son. Chelsae suffers from the pain of a father and daughter who love each other but haven't expressed it to one another, while her son adds a fresh note with his youthful spirit.

Klugman, a versatile character actor, is best known for playing sportswriter Oscar Madison in the "The Odd Couple" with Tony Randall as his fussy roommate, Felix Unger. He then played a crime-fighting medical examiner on another series, "Quincy M.E." Anita Gillette's most memorable roles include Mona, Vincent Gardenia's mistress in "Moonstruck" (1987) and Mary-Louise Parker's outspoken mother in "Boys on the Side" (1995). Klugman and Gillette first worked together in 1959 as co-stars in the Broadway show "Gypsy." Later, as Dr. Emily Hanover on "Quincy, M.E.," she went on to "marry" Klugman's character.

Tickets are $29. To purchase tickets or for information about Arts Getaway or Dinner Show packages, call or visit the CES Box Office, Monday through Friday, between 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Office is located at FSU in the Lane University Center, Room 235, and can be reached at x3137 or toll-free at 1-(866) TIXX CES. Online ticketing powered by CyberSeats is available at the FSU's Cultural Events Series Web site at <http://ces.frostburg.edu>.

Appalachian Laboratory

The first presentation in the Appalachian Laboratory Spring 2003 Seminar Series will be "Green Buildings as Biological Analogs: Are Ecosystems or Organisms the Right Metaphor? (Lessons from the Adam Joseph Lewis Center for Environmental Studies)." John E. Petersen of Adam Joseph Lewis Center for Environmental Studies, Oberlin College in Oberlin, Ohio, will speak Thursday, Feb. 6, at 3:30 p.m. in AL room 109.

Take Note

Spring 2003 Diversity Retreat

FSU students interested in diversity issues have the opportunity to participate in the fifth annual Spring Diversity Retreat at Herrington Manor State Park in Garrett County. The event is scheduled from Friday, Feb. 28, through Sunday, March 2. Offered by the Black Student Alliance, the FSU Campus Chapter of the National Coalition Building Institute (NCBI) and the Diversity Center, the retreat will include the award-winning NCBI Welcoming Diversity Workshop and other related activities intended to promote student awareness and empowerment in diversity issues and coalition building.

Applications are available at the Lane University Center Information Desk and in the Diversity Center, (temporarily located in Dunkle Hall 309). Completed applications must be submitted by Feb. 20. Those selected must participate in all retreat activities, starting at 3:45 p.m. Friday to 1 p.m. on Sunday. Participants will be asked to pay $5 for the retreat as well as a $5 refundable fee to hold their spaces. Those concerned with the cost are encouraged to speak with the retreat coordinator, Robin V. Wynder.

The BSA sponsors activities, events and programs to foster an understanding of the culture and heritage of FSU students of Black African Heritage. BSA also works in coalition with other student organizations to provide cross-cultural opportunities. NCBI is a nonprofit leadership training organization based in Washington, D.C., which works to eliminate prejudice and inter-group conflict in communities throughout the world. The Diversity Center offers activities, workshops and programs to help all students develop an understanding of cultural differences as well as the skills needed to work effectively with individuals from various cultural/ethnic groups.

For more information about the retreat, contact Ms. Wynder at x4050.

Staff Award Nominations Now Being Accepted

The FSU Staff Awards Review Committee is accepting nominations for the 2003 Board of Regents' University System of Maryland Staff Awards. Detailed information on the Staff Awards nomination process has been distributed to all employees in campus mail. Please consider taking this opportunity to nominate yourself or a fellow employee for a Staff Award. You could be a winner just like Susan Eisel, Administrative Assistant in Health, Physical Education & Recreation here at FSU, was in 2002. Refer to the campus mailing for eligibility requirements and required documentation. Nomination packages are due no later than 4 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 14.

Beneficiary Forms Reminder from OHR

As announced during and after Open Enrollment for Health Benefits last fall, new beneficiary designation forms are required for the following new insurance providers for the State of Maryland as of Jan. 1, 2003.

Enrollments rolled over to these new providers, but beneficiary designations did not.

- Group term life insurance changed from Metropolitan Life to Standard Insurance.

- Voluntary accidental death & dismemberment (AD&D) insurance changed from The American Home Assurance Co. to Metropolitan Life.

The Office of Human Resources still has not received the required beneficiary designation form(s) from all employees enrolled in either or both of these plans. Employees missing either or both beneficiary forms received a reminder memo and another copy of the missing form(s) by campus mail last month. If you got a reminder but have not yet returned the completed, signed form(s) to OHR, please do so immediately. Call Kelly Durst x7487 if you have questions about your coverage or completing the form(s).

Commencement Announcement

All students planning to complete their studies during the current semester (May 2003) must first officially file for graduation. Undergraduate students should contact the Registrar's Office (x4349, 144 Pullen Hall), while graduate students should submit all necessary paperwork to Graduate Services (x7053, 141 Pullen Hall). Special mailings and notices regarding Commencement are sent only to those students who have completed all filing requirements. The initial mailing will be sent the third week of March.

Caps and gowns are provided at no charge to all students cleared to participate in Commencement; however, students are responsible for placing orders in advance. Orders should be submitted to the University Bookstore by March 14.

Information is always available on the University's Web site. Go to www.frostburg.edu, click on "current students," then on "academics." A drop-down screen will list Commencement. Click on this for full details on Commencement and related activities: (You may also type in www.frostburg.edu/events/commenc.htm.) For information, contact Beth Deatelhauser in Special Academic Services, x3130, 127 Performing Arts Center, or via e-mail (bdeatelhauser@frostburg.edu).

Grad Fair

Attention May graduates!! The spring semester Grad Fair will be held on Tuesday, March 11, in the Manicur Assembly Hall at the Lane University Center from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. This is the day to order your regalia (cap and gown), personalized graduation announcements, class ring, diploma frame, as well as, visit with the Alumni, Graduate and Career Services offices. Gandalf's to Host WFWM Fund-Raiser Gandalf's Restaurant and Pub on Main Street in Frostburg will hold a fund-raising benefit for WFWM Radio on Friday, Feb. 28, starting at 8 p.m. WFWM is a listener-supported public radio station licensed to FSU and an affiliate of National Public Radio.

The benefit will feature three of the Western Maryland area's best bands. Opening the evening's festivities will be Pickin'@Bluegrass, a bluegrass band featuring Tim Custer. Custer is a multi-time winner of the Maryland State Banjo championship and the current Mid-Atlantic banjo champion. Joining Custer in the band is his brother Kevin on upright bass, John Larimer on dobro and guitar, and Dean Shumaker on mandolin and guitar. Shanty Irish will follow the bluegrass with a set of traditional Irish pub tunes. Shanty Irish is a frequently featured performer at the Garrett County Highland Festival and the "house band" of the Cumberland Celtic Fest. The band consists of Mike Burkey on vocals, whistle and bodhran, Steve Owens on guitar and vocals, Woody Getz on guitar, Tommy Dunn on harmonica and tenor vocals, and Jim Moen on fiddle and mandolin. Their soundman, Vic Ward, has volunteered to run sound for the event. The evening will close with a set of blues courtesy of the Channel Cats Blues Band. The Channel Cats have shared the stage with many blues artists, including "Philadelphia" Jerry Ricks, Sherman Robertson, Debbie Davies and Deanna Bogart. In addition to founding members Tommy "T.J." Jenkins on vocals, Pat Sullivan on bass and Terry McManus on guitar, the Channel Cats include Will Voghtman on harmonica and sax, Mark Patrick on keyboards and Bill Ryan on drums.

There will be a $5 cover charge, with the proceeds going to WFWM. There will also be numerous compact disc giveaways and drawings. You must be 21 or older to attend. For more information, contact Gandalf's at (301) 689-2010 or www.gandalfs.org or WFWM at x4143.

Points of Pride

Joan DeVee Dixon, Music, has been awarded a Sasakawa Fellowship by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, which will support her participation in the National Faculty Development Institute on "Incorporating Japanese Studies into the Undergraduate Curriculum," to be held at San Diego State University from June 2 to 27, 2003.

Volunteers

Students Offer Free Tax Preparation Assistance

Free help preparing 2002 tax returns is available through the IRS-sponsored VITA (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance) Program at FSU.

Help with basic federal and Maryland income tax returns will be offered from early February through early April by College of Business students who have been trained and approved by the IRS.

The VITA program offers this assistance to taxpayers filing Form 1040EZ, Form 1040A, or a basic Form 1040 federal tax return. Volunteers will alert taxpayers to special credits and deductions for which they may be eligible.

Appointments must be made in advance by calling Joyce Middleton, VITA site co-coordinator, at x4154. Students will work Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in FSU's Framptom Hall (except for March 22 and 29). A drop-off service will also be available throughout the week.

Taxpayers arriving for an appointment should bring any tax packages mailed by the IRS and the state, Form W-2 from all employers, interest and dividend statements (Form 1099), a copy of last year's returns, if available, and any other relevant information about income and expenses. Taxpayer and dependent social security numbers and birth dates are also needed.

Faculty members will oversee the student preparers, who include Bob Arbogast, Dee Dee Gamble, Kelly Saulpaw, Carleena Sines and April Witt.

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases, students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information on any of the programs or scholarships that may be available, check with Dr. Amy Simes at the CIE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, call her at x3091 or e-mail her at asimes@frostburg.edu, or visit the CIE's new and improved Web page at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm or the updated newsletter at <http://www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/newsletter.htm>

Study in Non-traditional Locations

FSU is affiliated with the School for International Training. This enables FSU students to study through SIT in over 50 locations while remaining registered at FSU. All financial aid will transfer. SIT offers programs in Africa, Asia, South America, Europe and Austral-asia. This is a fantastic opportunity for students who would like to spend a semester, year or summer off the beaten track.

Semester Overseas for Same Price as FSU

The International Student Exchange Program (ISEP) allows FSU students to register at FSU, pay FSU tuition and housing, and then study overseas for a semester, year or summer at one of more than 140 locations. Students may take financial aid with them and may apply for scholarships from the CIE and from ISEP. Students may choose programs taught either in English or other languages. For the price of an airline ticket, this is a great way to earn credit toward your FSU degree while enjoying life in a foreign culture. Apply now for summer or fall 2003.

Gain Work/Volunteer Experience Overseas

Students interested in working abroad should come by the CIE for information about internships, volunteer organizations and paid work overseas. Many organizations help students obtain jobs and work permits, and some help to arrange housing as well. Students can choose from short experiences (one to two months) to longer experiences (four to 12 months), or even look into a more serious commitment (one to three years). Destinations are available throughout the world.

Do Your Student Teaching in Copenhagen

Education majors who would like to earn a semester of FSU credits while studying in Denmark should apply for the spring semester exchange program with the KDAS School of Teacher Training in Copenhagen. Students complete projects and spend several weeks in Danish schools practicing student teaching skills. All courses are in English. Financial aid transfers and scholarships are available.

Study in Limerick, Ireland

Students interested in taking part in the Ireland Exchange Program in Limerick are encouraged to pick up an application at the CIE. Participants study at Mary Immaculate College and take one FSU class and three MIC classes. All financial aid will transfer and scholarships are available. Apply now for spring 2004.

Study in Newcastle, England

Students interested in studying at the University of Northumbria in Newcastle, England, may apply now for the fall 2003 semester. Newcastle is one of the liveliest cities in the UK, just across the Channel from Amsterdam, and three hours north of London (one hour south of Edinburgh) by train. Courses are available in a wide variety of subjects. The cost of the program is about the same as one semester at FSU (in-state) and all financial aid will transfer.

Financial Aid for Studying Overseas

FSU students are able to transfer all federal financial aid overseas to help pay for study abroad programs, along with state and institutional aid for most FSU sponsored programs. The CIE also awards study abroad scholarships of $500 and $1,000 to qualifying students. Scholarship deadline for summer, fall and academic year programs is March 15. Many other state and national scholarships are also available to help cover overseas costs.

Choose from Over 20 Locations to Study

FSU affiliates with the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS), which offers study abroad programs in a variety of locations at universities around the world, including Richmond College in London. Programs are open to all majors. Study in Prague, South Africa or Japan. You may register at FSU and use your financial aid for all programs. AIFS offers scholarships to qualified students. Take advantage of free rail pass offers.

In Case of Fire

Fire alarm procedures for staff:

- Be familiar with a primary and alternate evacuation route from each area in which you are assigned to work.
- When an alarm sounds, proceed in a safe and orderly fashion to the nearest clear exit. In cold or inclement weather, take outer clothing.
- Use the secondary exit if there are smoke or flames between you and the primary exit.
- If you are supervisor, be sure that your employees react promptly to the alarm.
- Use the stairs, not the elevator.
- Assist any disabled individuals. If you can't help the disabled person out of the building, assist him/her to an enclosed stair tower, safe from smoke, flame and gases. If you leave a disabled person in a stair tower, be sure to notify fire personnel.
- Instruct students or others to evacuate via the nearest clear exit.
- Do not congregate near exits.
- If, in your personal judgment, time and conditions permit, turn off all heat-generating appliances. Likewise, secure cash, valuables and sensitive data, and shut doors and windows.

- Do not re-enter the building until University Police give the "all-clear."

Procedures for faculty:

- Be familiar with a primary and alternate evacuation route from each area that you teach in. Evacuation route information (including instruction not to use elevators) should be shared with students during the first meeting of each class and each time a fire alarm sounds.
- When an alarm sounds, release the class IMMEDIATELY, telling students to proceed in a safe and orderly fashion to the nearest clear exit. You should evacuate also.
- If, in your personal judgment, conditions permit, heat-generating appliances should be turned off in the exit process. Doors and windows should be shut.
- Assist in preventing students from congregating near building exits.
- The building should not be re-entered until University Police give the "all clear."
- Requirements to leave the building apply to faculty during non-teaching times as well.
