Children's Shows with Ray Owen

11:45 AM

Davy Crockett & Daniel Boone

Multi-instrumentalist Ray Owen takes children on a magical sing-along journey through Appalachian history and culture. He presents a rich motherlode of frontier ballads, tall tales, mountain minstrel music and side-splitting stories that'll take you pioneering over terrain that abounds in rousing sing-alongs and wide-eyed surprises, back to the untamed wilderness.

2 PM Old MacDonald's Farm Heritage Show

Ray Owen offers a tuneful tribute to the American farmer celebrating farm life, the good earth and old fashioned country living – a true harvest of the heart, embracing a bountiful blend of songs, stories and family fun.

Whammy-Diddles

1 PM Under the Children's Hands On Tent

Construct your own whammy-diddle under the guidance of musician Slim Harrison. Whammy-diddles are one of the simplest and most authentic "Appalachian" instruments and folk toys. They are easy to make and are a great parent and child project. For over 25 years,

Harrison has performed at schools and festivals, hoedowns and throwdowns all over North America and around the world. He is a “Master Artist” with the Wolf Trap Institute for Early Learning Through the Arts and full-time “Artist in Residence” with the Maryland State Arts Council – Artists in Education, Touring Artists Program.

Capering Kids 4-H Goat Club

Capering Kids 4-H Goat Club will host a “goat-painting” area where children can exercise their creative flair painting goat-shaped silhouettes. The group will also bring goats and offer milking demonstrations throughout the day. In addition, soaps made from goat’s milk will be available for sale.

Hands-on Arts

FSU’s Children Literature Center, students and members of Alpha Phi Omega have designed several projects to engage children of all ages. These projects are hands on, so be ready to flex your creativity and take something from the festival home to enjoy. FSU students and festival volunteers will assist attendees in making numerous traditional Appalachian toys and objects, including cornhusk dolls, dancing men, cat’s eyes and more.
