Cambridge University Actors to Present "Hamlet"

The talented student actors from England's Cambridge University will return to FSU this month to present their new production of William Shakespeare's "Hamlet" Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 7 p.m. in the F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre in FSU's Performing Arts Center.

Sponsored by the FSU Department of English, the play is presented as part of the Cambridge University American Stage Tour (CAST.)

Student troupes from Cambridge have been delighting audiences since 1855, and former members include such famed actors as Emma Thompson, John Cleese and David Frost. FSU has been fortunate to welcome the CAST troupe for several years. They have stopped here regularly on their annual U.S. tour since

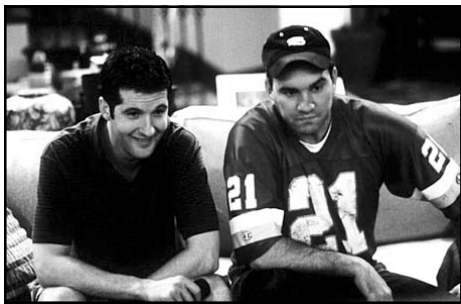

1995 with other Shakespearean masterpieces like "Twelfth Night," "The Tempest" and "As You Like It."

Inspired by the 18th-century Gothic movement and the imagery of the early circus, this new production of "Hamlet" brings to life a classic tale of dark desire, madness and revenge. Against the shadowed backdrop of Elsinore, where whispers of intrigue echo down the halls, the romantic rebel prince Hamlet battles against a truth he cannot accept, cavorting with the macabre traveling players and questioning the validity of natural and unnatural relations.

Tickets are $7 for the general public and $3 for students. To purchase tickets, please call the FSU Box Office at x4145.

Anthony Clark, left, and Mike O'Malley star in the new CBS sitcom, "Yes, Dear." O'Malley plays an FSU grad.

CBS Sitcom Has Multiple Ties to FSU

When the new CBS sitcom "Yes, Dear" premieres this fall, the show will have both on- and off-screen ties to FSU. One of the main characters, Jimmy, portrayed by comedian Mike O'Malley, will be an FSU graduate.

"Yes, Dear" is about a pair of "odd couple" brothers-in-law and their different approaches to life and family. Jimmy, who is described as a "loud, but lovable guy," moves to Southern California with his family to be closer to his generous in-laws, Greg and Kim, played by Anthony Clark and Jean Louisa Kelly.

The idea of creating a character who is a graduate of FSU is the brainchild of Frostburg State's real-life alum Gregory Garcia, the series' co-creator and co-executive producer. Jimmy will be dressed in appropriate FSU T-shirts, caps and sweatpants every week, Garcia says.

Garcia graduated in 1992 from FSU where he studied television writing. As a result, he was selected to participate in a writer development workshop hosted by Warner Bros. Television. His previous television experience involved behind-the-scenes work on such sitcoms as "Step by Step," "Family Matters" and "Getting Personal." He was co-creator of the short-lived ABC series "Built to Last" in 1997 starring comedian Royale Watkins.

"Yes, Dear" will premiere Monday, Oct. 2, at 8:30 p.m. on CBS.

Parents' Weekend 2000: Endless Summer

FSU is extending summer, at least for a few days, during Parents' Weekend 2000. Enjoy our Endless Summer events, including a performance by a steel drum ensemble, the Aloha Mixer novelty night, art exhibitions, the film "Dinosaur," FSU athletic games including Bobcat football, the Mapapa African Acrobats, planetarium shows and a special reception with President Gira.

Detailed schedules are available at the Lane Center Information Desk.

Meningitis, Flu Shots to Be Offered Oct. 5

FSU and VACCESSHealth will again offer the meningitis vaccine to members of the FSU campus community. Flu shots will also be offered.

The cost will be $75 for the meningitis vaccine and $15 for the flu shot. The shots will be offered in the Lane Center Multi-Use room from 1 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 5.

A new Maryland law states that students living on campus must either have the meningitis vaccine or have signed a waiver saying they decided against it. That law doesn't cover students living in off-campus housing who are still at risk.

More than half of the outbreaks from 1992 to 1996 occurred in schools, colleges, universities and similar settings. Studies have suggested that college students are more susceptible because they live and work close to one another in dormitories and classrooms. Behavior and social aspects of college life also appear to be risk factors, with smoking, exposure to second-hand smoke, excessive alcohol consumption and bar patronage all increasing the chance that you will contract meningitis from an infected individual.

Symptoms often mimic flu, including fever, severe headache, stiff neck, rash, nausea, vomiting and lethargy. The infection can lead to permanent disabilities or even death. The infection is spread by direct contact, for example from sharing a glass or cigarette or by kissing, or through the air when an infected person coughs or sneezes.

The parents of Jesse Gardiner, an FSU freshman who died of meningococcal bacteremia in 1999, spearheaded the effort to pass the Maryland law.

Lecture on Quilts Part of African Am. Forum

Susan Allen, writer and professor of English at FSU, will present "Gathering of Spirits: A Lecture on African-American Quilts" on Tuesday, Sept. 26, 2000 at 7 p.m. in the Atkinson Room of the campus Lane Center.

Ms. Allen's lecture is the sixth event of FSU's African American Studies Forum 2000, which celebrates the cultural contribution of African Americans in the second millennium. This celebration started in September 1999 and will conclude this December.

For more information, contact Dr. Jean-Marie Makang, coordinator of the African American Studies Forum, x3089.

Pasqua to Bring Personal AIDS Message

Living and Loving in a World with AIDS is a powerful interactive program about HIV/AIDS today. Elaine Pasqua's message about AIDS, safe sex and behavior choices presents a wake-up call to young adults in an era of not-so-safe sex and binge drinking.

Pasqua will bring her message to FSU Wednesday, Sept. 20, at 7 p.m. in Dunkle 218. The program is free and open to the public.

Pasqua witnessed the ravages of HIV/AIDS as she watched her mother and stepfather lose their dignity, independence and, ultimately, their lives to this deadly virus. She experienced first-hand how the stigmas surrounding HIV/AIDS forces those who are infected to retreat in secrecy and shame for fear of being shunned.

The program is sponsored by AIDS Peer Educators and Student Government Association. For information, contact Sherri Schubert at x7429.

Entertainment

FSU Presents Mapapa African Acrobats

Family fun is coming to FSU's Cordts Center Main Arena from Africa, when the Mapapa African Acrobats present a unique show that has been a hit with audiences and critics around the globe. The Acrobats will bounce, bop and balance to a joyful Benga beat while combining ancient Chinese acrobatics with East African dance moves.

The Acrobats will perform on Saturday, Sept. 23, at 8:30 p.m. as part of the Endless Summer theme of FSU's Parents' Weekend 2000 and its Cultural Events Series.

For information and ticket reservations, contact the CES Box Office in the Lane Center, Monday through Friday between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., at x4411. Based on availability, tickets may also

WVU Steel Drum Ensemble to Perform

The West Virginia University Steel Drum Ensemble will bring the sounds of the islands to FSU on Friday, Sept. 22. This performance, which is part of FSU's Parents' Weekend 2000 celebration, is scheduled from 8 to 9:30 p.m. in the Lane Center's Multi-Use Room. It is free and open to the public.

Considered one of the best university steel bands in the nation, the WVU Steel Drum Ensemble recently performed at the Kennedy Center. The band, under the direction of Lisa Bays, is comprised of undergraduate and graduate students and is one of several world percussion ensembles at WVU.

For more information, call the Lane Center Information Desk at x4411.

Guitarist Edgar Cruz Kicks Off Cafe Frostburg

Cafe Frostburg 2000 at FSU kicks off with a performance by the innovative and inventive guitarist Edgar Cruz Thursday, Sept. 28, at 8 p.m. in the Lane Center Loft. The event is free and open to the public.

Cruz is renowned for his unique guitar arrangements of everything from the classics to "Bohemian Rhapsody" by Queen. His "Top 10 Greatest Guitar Licks" is always a smash hit.

Cafe Frostburg is sponsored by Lane Center and Campus Activities. For additional information, contact the Lane Center Information Desk, x4411.

"No Way Out" Part of African Am. Film Series

"No Way Out," the first film of FSU's African American Film Series will be shown Thursday, Sept. 28, at 7 p.m. in room 201 of the Lane Center. The showing is free and open to the public.

Starring Sidney Poitier and Richard Widmark, "No Way Out," centers on race and social justice issues. After a black doctor fails to save a gangster's brother's life, the criminal seeks revenge by inciting race riots and ordering mob slayings. This movie, released in 1950, was nominated for two Academy awards and lasts one hour and 45 minutes.

The FSU African American Film Series will feature four classic films, with one scheduled per month through December.

Take Note

Cap and Gown Orders Due by Sept. 29

December graduates must have their cap and gown orders forms completed and turned into the FSU Bookstore on or before Friday, Sept. 29.

Order forms can be picked up at the Bookstore. Caps and gowns are free to all graduates and will be in and ready for pick up anytime during Finals Week in December.

I.T.S. Sets Open House for Parents' Weekend

The I.T.S. Center will open the doors of the distance learning classroom (139 Pullen) on Friday, Sept. 22, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. so visitors can see a classroom with the latest instructional technology.

From 1 to 3 p.m., there will be an interactive video connection between the Frostburg campus and the Hagerstown Center to demonstrate the distance learning facilities. From 3 to 5 p.m., I.T.S. Center staff will be available to answer visitors' questions.

Stafford Loan Entrance Interviews Scheduled

Students who recently received a letter telling them they are required to complete an entrance interview for the Stafford Loan program are encouraged to do so by visiting www.educaid.com on the Web. Choose "online seminars, undergraduate/graduate entrance" on the right side of the frame. From there, follow the directions and complete the online quiz. When finished, Educaid will e-mail a confirmation to the Financial Aid Office. This can be done any time prior to Wednesday, Sept. 20.

Students who don't complete the online seminar must attend an in-person entrance interview Thursday, Sept. 21 in the Leake Room of the Cordts P.E. Center. Sessions are at 10 or 11 a.m., 1, 2 or 3 p.m.

Entrance interviews or online seminars are required for all first-time Stafford Loan borrowers. For information, contact the Financial Aid Office at x4301.

Ceramics Class Offered

The Department of Visual Arts is offering a Continuing Ed Ceramics Class running from Sept. 25 through Oct. 30, on Mondays from 6 to 9 p.m. in Fine Arts 105. The instructor for the course is Teddy Latta.

The cost for the course is $50 registration fee, $25 firing fee and $6.50 for a 25 lb. bag of clay (as needed). For a registration form or additional information, call Sharon Gray at x4797.

Bass Tourney Applications on Web

Applications for the David Sanford Memorial Bass Tournament may be found on the Web at: <http://www.fishdeepcreek.com/images/bassform1.gif> or by calling Jack Aylor, director of development, x4161.

Points of Pride

Dustin Davis, chair of the Department of Visual Arts, was awarded Best of Show for a welded steel sculpture at the Hampshire County Arts Council's Fall 2000 Fine Arts Show.

Dr. Frederick A. Senese, assistant professor of chemistry at FSU, has been twice honored recently for his ingenuity in using the World Wide Web to teach chemistry.

In October, he will be profiled in "Chemistry," the quarterly publication of the American Chemical Society with a circulation of nearly 200,000.

This spring, at the Association for the Advancement of Computing in Education EDMEDIA 2000 conference, the editors of the Internet media journal Computer-Enhanced Learning and AACE chose "The Internet Chemistry Set: Web-Based Remote Laboratories for Distance Education in Chemistry," as one of six representative "best papers." Senese's two co-authors are FSU students Christopher Bender and Jennifer Kile.

Dr. Chandrasekhar Thamire, Assistant Professor of Mechanical Engineering at FSU and U-Md., College Park, had the paper "Modeling of the Local Heating of Non-perfused Tissue with Directionally Dependent Thermal Diffusivity and Heat-Induced Damage," written with S. E. Davis and N. T. Wright of U-Md., published in the Proceedings of the ASME National Heat Transfer Conference, 2000.

Thamire also made a presentation, "On the Efficacy of RF-heating in the Treatment of Benign Prostatic Hyperplasia," to the ISME/BME Annual Meeting, 2000.

The admissions office is looking for outgoing motivated students to become part of the Bobcat Ambassadors. Job responsibilities include tele-counseling, open house tours, daily tours and other duties as needed. If interested, please contact David Adams in the Admissions Office, x4201.

Student Telemarketing Positions

Thirty positions are available. The positions are part-time evenings for three months (November, March and April), paying $6.50 to $8.50 per hour. The Office of University Advancement, Office of Annual Giving is now hiring experienced telemarketers to help with the 2000-2001 Annual Fund Telemarketing Campaign. This is an excellent opportunity to earn extra money and gain experience in telemarketing. Candidates will be responsible for soliciting contributions from alumni, friends and parents for unrestricted gifts to the University.

The position requires prior telemarketing experience, excellent organization and communication skills. Advanced marketing and sales skills are a must. Candidates must be available to work Sundays through Thursdays from 5:30 to 9 p.m.

Interested candidates may pick up an application on or before Oct. 1 at: The Office of University Advancement, The Office of Annual Giving, Hitchins Building Room 228.

Student Telemarketing Manager

This position is a part-time, six-month position paying $8 to $10 per hour. It is an excellent opportunity to learn all aspects of telemarketing. The candidate will be responsible for recruiting, training, motivating and retaining a staff of approximately 40 student employees. The candidate will assist in developing program goals and objectives, write scripts, devise key strategies and incentives, track statistical program results and oversee budgets.

The position requires at least two years of telemarketing experience, preferably in a management capacity. Also required is computer literacy (Excel, MS Word), excellent organization and communication skills.

Interested candidates may submit cover letter, resume and at least three references on or before Sept. 24. To the Office of University Advancement, The Office of Annual Giving, Hitchins Building Room 228.

International

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases students register at FSU during a semester abroad, and can take all financial aid with them and transfer course credit back to FSU. For information on any of the programs or scholarships that may be available, check with Dr. Amy Simes at the CIE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, call her at x3091 or e-mail her at asimes@frostburg.edu.

Information Sessions Every Tuesday at the Fuller House

Each week students are invited to come by the Fuller House for a free information session about study abroad. Sessions begin at 3 p.m. Tuesdays in the CIE library. Students may access catalogs, videos, and the Internet. During the month of September, students who want to attend the University of Northumbria or any of the ISEP or AIFS programs are encouraged to come to one of these sessions.

First Pre-Departure Orientation Meeting for Ireland 2001

Students planning to go to Ireland during the spring semester 2001 should attend the first pre-departure orientation meeting on Monday, Sept. 25, in Room 237 of the Ort Library. The meeting will take place from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Go Down Under for a semester or summer

FSU is now affiliated with AustraLearn, an organization that provides unique opportunities for students to study at a variety of universities in Australia. AustraLearn arranges cheap flights, a weeklong orientation program, pre-registration and transcript evaluation. Students may choose from a variety of Australian and New Zealand universities, all offering a broad range of course offerings at campuses set in beautiful and exotic surroundings. Deadline for spring semester is Oct. 15.

Pubs & Clubs in Newcastle, UK

Students interested in studying at the University of Northumbria in Newcastle, England, during the spring semester 2001 should contact the CIE for an application form. Newcastle is one of the liveliest cities in the UK, just across the Channel from Amsterdam, and three hours north of London (one hour south of Edinburgh) by train. Course offerings are available in a wide variety of subjects. The cost of the program is the same as one semester (in-state) at FSU, and all financial aid will transfer. Application deadline for spring 2001 is Oct. 1.

200 Ways to experience Culture Shock

FSU affiliates with both the International Student Exchange Program (ISEP) and the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS). Both organizations offer study abroad locations in hundreds of universities around the world for all majors. If you are an adventurous student looking for an exciting and unique experience overseas and you would like to enhance your job resume, one of these locations may be the program for you. You may register at FSU and use your financial aid for all programs.

Denmark for Future Teachers

FSU has established an exchange program for education majors at the Day and Evening Teacher's College in Copenhagen. Students spend spring semester with other international students, taking part in practice teaching and other academic projects. Application deadline for spring 2001 is Oct. 10.

Spend the Intersession on a Dog Sled in Quebec

Applications are being taken now for the intersession 'French and Snow' program at the Universite du Quebec at Chicoutimi. Students immerse themselves in a French-speaking culture and take one 3-credit course in French along with a 1-credit course in snow sports. Students take a placement test to determine their level of French. Application deadline is Oct. 10.

Spain? Germany? Italy?

FSU participates in programs at the University of Navarra in Pamplona and at the Instituto Universitario de Sevilla, both in Spain. FSU students may also take part in UMUC's semester programs in Schwabisch Gmund in southern Germany, or in Towson's American University of Rome program in Italy. Application deadlines for each of these programs are approaching for the spring 2001 semester. Contact the CIE for more information.

Work/Volunteer Overseas - Enhance your resume!

Students interested in working abroad should come by the CIE for information about internships, volunteer organizations and paid work overseas. Many organizations help students obtain jobs and work permits, and some help to arrange housing as well. Students can choose from short experiences (1-2 months) to longer experiences (4-12 months), or even look into a more serious commitment (1-3 years). Destinations are available throughout the world.

Listen to the World on WFWM

Every Wednesday evening from 7 to 8 p.m. listen to "Planet Frostburg" on WFWM, 91.9 on your FM dial. Amy Simes plays music from around the world and catches everyone up on the latest news in overseas study and international programs.

Scholarships for Intersession and Spring

Students who are planning to study overseas during the spring semester or the 2001 intersession may apply for scholarships from the CIE. The deadline is Oct. 15. Scholarships are awarded in the amounts of $500 and $1,000. Students must be accepted in an FSU-sponsored program in order to apply.

National Security Education Program Scholarships for Overseas Study

The NSEP deadline for scholarship applications this year is Feb. 5, 2001. These are competitive scholarships with large awards, so students need to get started early. Help with filling out forms is available at the CIE. Students may apply on-line at http://ww2.iie.org/cgi-bin/nsep/nsepapp_student_login.cfm

Deadlines

Planning to Student Teach? Deadline Near

Pick up an application packet for admission to your teaching internship from the Office of Field Experiences, Framptom Hall 203, by Oct. 9. Submit the completed application by Oct. 9 to Carol Abernathy in the Office of Field Experiences. If you are going to have a problem meeting the application deadline of Oct. 9, contact the Office of Field Experiences at x4216 as soon as possible.

Activities for Life

FSU's Activities for Life Offers Aerobics

Safety Message

Using Cell Phones and Driving Safely

Cell phones have gone from being a convenient way to prepare for emergencies to an essential tool for conducting business. We use them to check our voice mail at the office, to let our next client know we are running late, to give our supervisors an easy way to reach us, to keep in touch with the office and family when we are on the road.

However, research suggests that using a cell phone is contributing to as many traffic fatalities as driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol. One study found that it quadruples the risk of having an accident, even if the phone is hands-free. Legislators have been considering a proposal to make it illegal to use a hand-held cell phone while driving. Regardless of the law, cell phone users would be wise to become aware of the safety considerations when using their cell phones in the car.

If you must use the phone while driving, here are some important safety reminders:

- Before you take your phone on the road, read your manual to learn how to operate it so that you are comfortable with its features.

- Use a hands-free model with a built-in or attached microphone.

- Place the cell phone in a convenient location where it is easy to see and reach.

- If the phone slides onto the floor, pull off the road to retrieve it.

- Use speed dial. Your phone probably has a feature that allows you to store numbers, which can then be speed dialed by pressing one or two buttons.

- When buying a cell phone, consider voice-activated dialing.

- Pull off the road and stop if you need to redial.

- When talking, drop the phone if traffic or weather conditions become hazardous.

- Above all, continue to follow safe driving practices such as using your safety belts, obeying speed limits, maintaining a safe following distance, and keeping your eyes on the road and your hands on the wheel.

The Human Resources Safety Office is concerned with your safety during your coming or going from campus.
