'Peter Pan' Takes Flight

'Peter Pan'

The FSU Cultural Events Series opens its new Family Series with the Box of Light Theatre presentation of the children's classic "Peter Pan" on Thursday, Sept. 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the Pealer Recital Hall.

Join Wendy, Michael and John Darling in this 21st century adaptation of J.M. Barrie's classic as performers mix elements of traditional theatre with Buraku-style puppets, computer animation and audience participation. It's a guaranteed delight for a child of any age.

Season tickets and subscriptions, including the new Family Series Subscription, are available. To buy tickets or for more information, call the CES Box Office at x3137, toll free at 1-866-TIXX-CES or online at ces.frostburg.edu.

Additional packages include the Arts Getaway Packages, providing accommodations for two, selected meal options, transportation between the hotel and the FSU campus, a special welcome gift at check-in, and two tickets for preferred seating for the Cultural Events Series performance. You can also add a Dinner Show Package to your ticket purchase and transform your performance into an enchanting social event.

Music

Patchwork to Present Concerts Sept. 26, 28

Patchwork will appear in concert in the Pealer Recital Hall on Friday, Sept. 26 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Sept. 28, at 3 p.m. The program will feature classical selections for piano, Broadway love songs, and traditional folk music selections by musicians Joan DeVee

Dixon, Greg Latta, Suzi Mills, Jeff Ward and guitarists Chris Alexander and Jeff Klinetob.

Selections by Dr. Dixon will include "Rhapsody on the Theme by Paganini" by Rachmaninoff, "Rhapsody in Blue" by Gershwin, and "Satin Doll" by Duke Ellington. Selections by Dr. Mills will include "I Will Always Love You," and an original composition, "Hopeless." The ensemble musicians will perform several pieces, including "Some Enchanted Evening" by Rodgers & Hammerstein, "How Sweet It Is" by James Taylor, "Can You Feel the Love Tonight?" by Elton John and "Love Changes Everything" by A.L. Webber.

Tickets are $15 and benefit the FSU Piano Festival.

There will be a wine and cheese reception beginning at 7:15 p.m. on Friday night. There will be afternoon coffee/tea and dessert beginning at 2:15 p.m. on Sunday.

For information or to reserve tickets, call x4115 or make check payable to FSU Foundation-Piano Festival and mail to Dr. Joan DeVee Dixon, Division of Performing Arts, FSU, Frostburg, MD 21532. All tickets will be held at the door.

Patchwork: Suzi Mills, Joan DeVee Dixon and Greg Latta

Speakers

Agnew Prosecutor George Beall to Speak

George Beall, the prosecutor who led the investigation that culminated with the conviction and resignation of U.S. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, will speak at FSU Tuesday, Sept. 30, at 11 a.m. in FSU's Lane University Center Atkinson Room (201).

The Frostburg native will discuss the events 30 years ago that thrust him, then a 35-year-old U.S. Attorney for Maryland, into the national spotlight. The lecture is free and open to the public.

At the height of the Watergate scandal, investigators in Maryland were looking into other corruption – that of kickbacks being paid to public officials by architects, engineers and contractors doing business with public agencies in the state. Before becoming Richard Nixon's vice president in 1969, Agnew had been governor of Maryland and a Baltimore County executive. Investigations pointed to misconduct by Agnew as far back as 1964.

With the investigation beginning to implicate Agnew, the possibility that the president and vice president would both face charges of official misconduct was a daunting possibility for the nation. Agnew resigned as Vice President on Oct. 10, 1973, pleading "no contest" to charges of tax evasion.

Beall's personal papers concerning the Agnew investigation and resignation are now housed in the Beall Archives at FSU's Ort Library, which also house the papers of his father, J. Glenn Beall, and his brother, J. Glenn Beall Jr., both of whom served in the U.S. Senate.

Beall was at the center of a unique and crucial turning point in our country. He has seldom spoken publicly about his role, making his appearance at FSU a rare opportunity for anyone interested in this important time in American history.

For more information about the George Beall lecture, contact Nat DeBruin at the Beall Archives at x3114.

'Journey to a Hate Free Millennium' Presented

FSU's Division of Student and Educational Services will present the award-winning documentary "Journey to a Hate Free Millennium" at 7 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 22 in the Lane University Center Manicur Assembly Hall. The event will also include a presentation by the film's producer/director Brent Scarpo.

Inside:

Campus Events.....	1-2	Points of Pride .....	4	International .....	5
Theatre .....	3	Social Events .....	5	Safety First .....	6
TV 3 Schedule .....	3	Leadership .....	5	Calendar .....	6

"Journey to a Hate Free Millennium" seeks solutions to ending hate and hate crimes. The film centers around true stories taken from national headlines including the student shootings at Columbine High School in Littleton, Colorado; the tortuous dragging death of James Byrd, Jr., an African-American man in Texas; and the brutal beating and death of Matthew Shepard, a gay college student in Wyoming.

The 35-minute documentary addresses the subject of hate by searching out the origins of how it is "taught and learned," the scope of its danger beginning with childhood taunting to murder. Viewers are invited to create their own vision of a world free of hate, where senseless acts of violence are a thing of the past. The program utilizes the documentary in an interactive, multi-media presentation that impacts and changes views of hate in their world.

Filmmaker Scarpo has 15 years of experience as a producer, writer, director, actor and casting director in Hollywood. In addition to his work on "Journey to a Hate Free Millennium," he is the founder of the non-profit New Light Media, which is dedicated to stimulate, educate and impact the world through multimedia works. Prior to founding New Light Media, Scarpo served as a casting director for six years casting television projects, commercials and motion pictures including "The Shawshank Redemption," "That Thing You Do" and "Air Force One."

The event is free and open to the public. For more information, contact the FSU Student and Educational Services Office at x4311.

Children's Author Frank Murphy to Speak

The FSU Children's Literature Centre presents its fall author Frank Murphy at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 25, at City Place, 14 S. Water St., Frostburg.

A graduate of Rutgers University, Murphy is a second grade teacher in Newtown, Pa. Murphy loves to chase stories from the past. His first book "The Legend of the Teddy Bear" took him nearly two years to write. His other works include "Always Inventing – The True Story of Thomas Alva Edison" and "Ben Franklin and the Magic Squares." His latest book "George Washington and the General's Dog" has just been released by Random House.

For more information, contact the Children's Literature Centre at x4420.

'Joining to End Violence Against Women'

Former NFL Football player Donald McPherson will present the lecture "Men and Women: Joining Together to End Violence Against Women" at FSU on Tuesday, Sept. 23, at 7 p.m. in the Lane University Center Manicur Hall. The event is free and open to the public.

McPherson travels to various venues to discuss the issue of stopping violence against women. He and his work were profiled in the October 2002 issue of "O," Oprah Winfrey's magazine, and he was also a guest on the "Oprah Winfrey Show" that same year.

A native of West Hempstead, N.Y., McPherson is the founder and executive director of the Sports Leadership Institute at Adelphi University in Garden City, N.Y. He played for the Philadelphia Eagles for two seasons, before being traded to the Houston Oilers, only to return to Philadelphia. In 1991, he headed north to the Canadian Football League, joining the Hamilton Tiger-Cats (1991-93) and Ottawa Rough-Riders (1994).

Upon retiring from professional football in 1994, McPherson worked as co-director of Athletes in Service to America, director of Sports in Society's Mentors in Violence Prevention Program, a gender violence prevention program designed to encourage men to take a proactive position in the effort to stop men's violence against women.

As program coordinator of the Student-Athlete Leadership Program, McPherson trains thousands of high school student-athletes in motivational speaking and group work dynamics. His training includes mobilizing students within their respective school districts and communities to address self-esteem, substance abuse, violence prevention, bullying and teasing, and academic issues. By using sports as an educational tool, student athletes learn to teach, using their personal experiences as motivating examples for young people.

In 1997, Don was called to testify before the United States Congress on behalf of a resolution to create a national summit that would address violence in sport and society. He is regularly quoted in print articles and has been featured on several television shows including "A& E: Investigative Reports," MSNBC, Fox News, ABC's "Nightline," "The Phil Donahue Show" and Court TV and WNBC's "Today in New York."

The event is sponsored by FSU's Feminist Majority Leadership Alliance, Student Government Association and the University Programming Council.

For more information, call Nicole Mattis at x3212.

Judaism Discussion

Rabbi Stephen Sniderman, who has led Cumberland's B'er Chayim Congregation since January, will speak at FSU on "Who Are the Jews and What is Judaism" at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 22, in Lane University Center 201, the Atkinson Room. The presentation, in which he will speak on the beliefs and customs of Judaism, is free and open to the public.

Before coming to Cumberland, Sniderman served congregations in Sharon, Pa., and Rockford, Ill. Before that, he was the rabbi of the Hillel Foundation at the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana. Sniderman was born in Toronto, Canada.

The program is sponsored by Hillel Club, United Campus Ministry, and Catholic Campus Ministry.

"What Do We Mean by Love of Country?"

What can be learned from the social movements of the 1960s, especially in light of present realities?

Dr. Paul Lyons, professor and author of "The People of This Generation: The Rise and Fall of the New Left in Philadelphia" will present the talk "Dissent and Patriotism: What Do We Mean By Love of Country?" on Monday, Oct. 13 at 7 p.m. in the Leake Room of the Cordts Physical Education Center and is free and open to the public.

Lyons has a rich background integrating social work and history, and he regularly teaches "The Vietnam War: Senior Seminar" and "The Holocaust and the American Experience." He is a professor of Social Work at Stockton College in Pomona, N.J. He also serves on the associated faculty in Historical Studies and the faculty in the Master's in Holocaust and Genocide Studies. He received his Ph.D. in Community Work and Policy from Bryn Mawr Graduate School of Social Work and Social Research in 1980.

Lyons' other books include "Philadelphia Communists, 1936 -1956;" "Class of '66: Living in Suburban Middle America" and "New Left, New Right, and the Legacy of the Sixties."

The talk is sponsored by the FSU Faculty Development & Sabbatical Committee. For more information, contact Ann Bristow, Psychology Department, at x4446.

Appalachian Laboratory

On Thursday, Sept. 25, Linda M. Lyons of the FSU Department of Biology will present "Antanosy Odyssey II: Application of the Use and Knowledge of Non-Domesticated Medicinal Plants on Conservation Among the People of Madagascar," part of the fall seminar series from UMCES Appalachian Laboratory. The seminar will present a descriptive approach to scientifically understanding the Antanosy people and their connection to the environment.

The seminar will begin at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 112. A reception will follow in the AL Lobby.

Geography Lecture to Discuss Botswana

Department of Geography will host a Sodexho Lecture, "Remote Sensing and GIS for Environmental Analysis in Botswana," on Tuesday, Sept. 30, at 6 p.m. in 226 Compton Science Center.

Dr. Duane Nellis, dean of the Aburley Science College at West Virginia University and President of the Association of American Geographers, will be the speaker. The seminar is free and open to the public.

For more information, contact Shivaji Prasad in the Department of Geography at sprasad@frostburg.edu or x4412.

Theatre

Free Theatre Workshop Offered for Educators

The FSU Cultural Events Series and the FSU Children's Literature Centre present an evening of arts & literature on Thursday, Sept. 25. The evening is planned as part of the CES production of Box of Light Theatre's "Peter Pan," and the Children's Literature Centre Fall Author Series.

Box of Light Theatre Artistic Director Rand Whipple will present an interactive workshop, "Encore, Encore," for teachers and future educators on Sept. 25, from 4:30 to 6 p.m. at Frostburg City Place. In this free, 90-minute session, Whipple will share ways of using active theatre games in the classroom to involve and animate children. The workshop will include a demonstration with elementary school students and a brainstorming session. Participants will have the opportunity to share ideas with other educators, get information on granting opportunities, and how to bring the arts into the school system.

Beverages will be served and free pizza will follow. RSVP to Susan Manger at x7420 or smanger@frostburg.edu. The workshop is limited to 45 participants.

"Romeo and Juliet" opens UT Season

Tickets are now on sale for William Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, which will open the 2003-2004 University Theatre season.

Through beautiful language and a passionate cast of characters, William Shakespeare takes us on an unforgettable journey in Romeo and Juliet. The setting is Verona, Italy where the hatred of two warring families, the Capulets and Montagues, has become the fabric of society. Romeo, a Montague, and Juliet, a Capulet, fall in love, but they must deal with their families' division to stay together. The two "star-crossed lovers" encounter numerous obstacles with an urgency that makes Romeo and Juliet the most famous love story in the world.

The production runs Oct. 10, 11, 16, 17 and 18 at 8 p.m. with a matinee on Oct. 11 at 2 p.m.

Season discount cards are available for $30 and cover admission to all four main stage productions. Regular ticket prices are $5 for students and $10 for non-students. Call x7462 Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for reservations and information on the season discount card.

Int'l Film Series Launches with 'Curves'

Frostburg State University 2003-2004 International Film Series begins with the Mexican movie "Real Women Have Curves" on Tuesday, Sept. 23 at 7 p.m. in Lane University Center Atkinson Room 201. The series is sponsored by FSU Center Stage.

Ana Garcia, played by America Ferrera, spends the summer after her high school graduation torn between her duty to her strict mother Carmen, played by Lupe Ontiveros, and other pleasures and urgent issues – the top of the list is trying to break away from her family ties in East Los Angeles. Carmen wants Ana to work in a dress factory, run by Ana's shy older sister. Ana is disgusted with the work and would much rather apply for a scholarship to Columbia University. It's an age-old battle between a mother's irrationality and a teenager's willfulness.

"Real Women Have Curves" won the Dramatic Audience Award at the 2002 Sundance Film Festival.

Other films scheduled for this semester include:

- "West Beirut" on Tuesday, Oct. 21.
- "Time of Harvey Milk" on Tuesday, Nov. 18.
- "Shower" on Tuesday, Dec. 9.

All film showings are free and open to the public. For information, contact the Lane University Center Information Desk at x4411.

Take Note

Hispanic Heritage Month

FSU and the Latino Students are proud to sponsor a variety of activities and events to celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month:

Tuesday, Sept 23, 7 p.m. Lane Center: Film -- "Real Women Have Curves" (see description above).

Tuesday, Sept. 30, 7:30 PM Fine Arts 221, "Little Murders": Life and Death in Ciudad Juarez, Mexico, Dr. Paul Charney (History Department).

In the last 10 years, more than 300 young females factory workers and students have been kidnapped and murdered in a desert area along the USA-Mexico border. Hundreds more have disappeared mysteriously without a trace. Dr. Charney will discuss these criminal events and the issues surrounding them.

To be scheduled -- a lecture on the USA Supreme Court and Its Treatment of Hispanics. Dr. Scott Johnson (Political Science Department).

Organizers and participants will conduct all activities in English and the University invites all members of the public to attend free of charge.

Co-sponsors of these events include The Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, The Diversity Center, The Women Studies Program, The FSU Chapter of Amnesty International and the International Film Series.

For more information, contact Maria-Luisa Sanchez at x4101.

Arboretum: "Get Rid of the Knotweed"

As some of you are aware, the campus arboretum has become infested with the dreaded invasive Knotweed. Although the removal of this plant will take consecutive seasons, we are hoping to begin its demise this semester.

Therefore, an FSU Arboretum "Get Rid of the Knotweed" Day will be held Saturday Oct. 11 from 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. (Raindate will be Sunday Oct. 12). The day will consist of cutting and removing the knotweed from the site. Please come with work gloves and lots of energy! For more information, contact Linda Lyon, Biology, at llyon@frostburg.edu.

Md. General Assembly Internships

Scheduling and Religious Observances

FSU President Catherine R. Gira requests sensitive and responsible compliance by all students, faculty and staff to the following FSU and Board of Regents policy:

"It is the policy of FSU that the academic programs and services of the University shall be available to all qualified students who have been admitted to its programs, regardless of their religious beliefs. Students shall not be penalized because of observances of their religious holidays and shall be given an opportunity to make up, within a reasonable time period, any academic assignment that is missed due to the individual participation in religious observances. It is the responsibility of the student to notify his/her instructor of conflicts between religious observances and scheduled course activities."

Courtesy suggests that students should notify their instructors of conflicts and make arrangements for making up missed work PRIOR to an absence due to religious observance.

All faculty and staff will be sent a calendar of Religious and Ethnic Holidays for reference.

Ecudaor, Anyone?

Informational meetings are slated for students interested in studying in Ecuador for the upcoming intersession (Dec. 26 through Jan. 24). Two meetings will be held on Thursday, Sept. 25, at 12:30 and 4 p.m. in room 205 of the Lane University Center.

Courses will be taught in both English and Spanish.

For more information, contact MacGregor O'Brien at x4287.

Master of Arts in Teaching Info Night

Master of Arts in Teaching - Elementary (grades 1-8): Information Night, Monday, Sept. 22, at 7 p.m. (new time), FSU Hagerstown Center. Application and admissions information will be available for students desiring to enter the program in May 2004. For additional program information, contact Dr. Kim Rotruck, Hagerstown Center, at (301) 791-4026 or the Office of Graduate Services, 141 Pullen Hall, x7053.

Electronic Suggestion Box Launched

If you've always wanted to contribute your two cents, here's your chance. FSU will be experimenting with an electronic suggestion box.

Send your suggestion to fsusuggestionbox@frostburg.edu. An FSU e-mail address is required to make a suggestion. Suggestions are not anonymous.

Depending upon the ability of the server handling the suggestion box to send out automatic replies, each submission will get an immediate, automatic reply that it has been received and will be sent to the appropriate vice president for consideration and reply in a timely manner.

Ten working days is the estimated time for a response. If more than 10 working days are needed, then the person making the suggestion will be told when to anticipate a reply.

If you have difficulty sending a suggestion to the box, contact Teresa Feck, x7092 or tfeck@frostburg.edu.

Allegheny Highlands Trail Annual Ride

Come and show your support for the construction of the Maryland section of this major interstate hiker/biker trail on Saturday, Sept. 27.

Participants will be riding from the Frostburg Depot to the Big Savage Tunnel along the proposed route of the AHTM. This ride will cover six miles up a gentle grade of one to two percent over a rough but not rugged surface of dirt and railroad ballast. With a mountain or hybrid bike children as young as ten should be able to handle this pleasant ride.

Notable features of this year's ride will be a tour of the almost completed trailhead at Frostburg and the newly completed Big Savage Tunnel. Bring lights if you wish to ride through the tunnel.

Registration and check-in will be at the Depot from 10 to 11 a.m. The group will be leaving the Depot at 11 a.m. and arriving at the Big Savage Tunnel about noon. The group will be returning to Frostburg about 1:30 p.m. where they will have lunch at the Whistle Stop Cafe and a briefing on the status and construction schedule for other sections of the Maryland section of this trail.

The cost of this ride is $10 per person. This includes lunch, escorts and support for the ride. Helmets and a signed waiver are required. You can make reservations by contacting Nick Clulee at 301-759-3562, by e-mail nclulee@charter.net, or by sending a check to AHTM Trail-Annual Ride, P.O. Box 28, Cumberland, Md. 21502.

Commencement Announcement

Any student planning to complete their studies during the current semester (December 2003) must officially file for graduation. Undergraduate students should contact the Registrar's Office (x4349, 144 Pullen Hall), while graduate students should submit all necessary paperwork to Graduate Services (x7053, 141 Pullen Hall). Mailings and notices regarding Commencement are sent only to those students who have completed all filing requirements. The first mailing will be sent the second week of October.

Caps and gowns are provided at no charge to all students cleared to participate in the Commencement Ceremony; however, each student is responsible for placing an order in advance. Orders should be submitted to the University Bookstore by Oct. 21. All graduating students are also encouraged to attend the Grad Fair on Monday, Oct. 20, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Manicur Assembly Hall in the Lane University Center. More information on this event will be distributed at a later date.

Advance information about Commencement is always available on the University's website. Go to www.frostburg.edu, click on "current students," then on "academics." A drop-down screen will list Commencement. Click on this and it will connect you to full details on Commencement and related activities. (www.frostburg.edu/events/commenc.htm.) For more information, contact Beth Deatelhauser in Special Academic Services, x3130, 127 Performing Arts Center or bdeatelhauser@frostburg.edu.

Points of Pride

FSU has been awarded a five year continuation for the Upward Bound project. Funded by the U.S. Department of Education, Upward Bound helps Allegany County high school students to prepare for higher education. Participants receive instruction in literature, composition, mathematics and science on campus on Saturdays during the school year and daily throughout a six-week summer session. The project has helped hundreds of local students gain the preparation to enter and succeed in college during its 21 years at FSU. The FSU proposal received all 300 possible points from the field readers and was one of the top-rated among the approximately 770 programs in operation throughout the United States. The grant, written by Tim Malloy, Connie Ralston and Elena Steele, will bring FSU at least $1,934,690 during the five year grant cycle.

Robert Llewellyn, Professor of Art in the Visual Arts Department, has been invited to participate in an exhibition at the Gorohovaya Gallery in St. Petersburg, Russia. The exhibition of international artists is in celebration of the 33 year anniversary of St. Petersburg. The International Artists Support Group based in Washington, D.C., is sponsoring the exhibition. The exhibit will be presented Sept. 15- Oct. 15. Llewellyn had two intaglio prints selected for the exhibit.

International Studies major Tabu DeLucco was named this week as one of 34 university students across the US to be selected by the British Council to serve as a student ambassador. British Council Student Ambassadors help to promote study in the UK by promoting study abroad opportunities on their home campuses. Tabu spent spring semester 2003 studying at the University of Northumbria in Newcastle, England. She will work with the Center for International Education this semester to promote that program and other UK programs.

Deadlines

Apply Now for Intersession, Spring

Students are encouraged to come by the CIE to pick up an application form for intersession and spring semester study abroad programs. Intersession programs to Ecuador, Quebec and Madagascar have mid-October deadlines. Scholarships are available for these programs. Students may also apply for a range of programs during the spring semester, including programs in Ireland, England, Australia/New Zealand, Denmark, Italy, and in over 150 locations through AIFS, SIT, and ISEP.

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases, students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information on any of the programs or scholarships that may be available, check with Dr. Amy Simes at the CIE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, call her at x4714 or e-mail her at asimes@frostburg.edu, or visit the CIE's Web page at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm or the newsletter at <http://www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/newsletter.htm>.

Australia Information Session - Monday, 22nd September

Students who are interested in studying in Australia should attend an information session on Monday, Sept. 22, at 2pm in Room 203-4 of the Lane Student Center. Steve Arnold from Northern Territories University in Darwin will present a powerpoint presentation and be available to answer questions about living and studying down under. Some returning study abroad students may also be available. Steve will have a table in the Lane Center foyer from 11a.m. until the presentation at 2 p.m. For further information, phone the CIE at x4714.

Snow and French Winter Term in Quebec

Students interested in studying at the University of Quebec in Chicoutimi can apply through the CIE for this three week program that includes French courses, snow sports, and an introduction to the unique quebeoise culture. Students take a placement exam and are placed in French courses accordingly (including introductory French). Lodging is with homestay families in the city of Chicoutimi. Cost is just $1,400. For further information, contact the CIE at x4714. Applications due by Oct. 15th.
