FSU Joining Other Universities in Presidential Debate Watch

FSU will join many other colleges, universities and communities throughout the United States and participate in the 2004 Presidential Debate Watch program. These debates, hosted by the FSU Center Stage Program and by Dr. Ruth Wallinger's Presentational Communication class, will be held 8:30 to 11 p.m., on Thursday, Sept. 30; Tuesday, Oct. 5; and Wednesday, Oct. 13. All presentations will be held in the Lane

University Center Loft.

The Debate Watch program is sponsored through the Commission on Presidential Debates (CPD) and focuses on educating voters throughout the U.S.

The program brings community members together to watch the televised presidential and vice presidential debates and then invites viewers to join in an interactive discussion hosted by Dr. Ruth Wallinger's Presentational Communication class. This program allows members of the campus and local communities to share their thoughts on the candidates and the issues surrounding the upcoming election.

The Debate Watch Programs are free and open to the public. Refreshments will be provided. For more information, contact Sara Livengood, Center Stage program advisor, at x4151.

Tom Chapin

CES Family Fun Series Begins with Tom Chapin

FSU's Cultural Events Series will launch its Family Fun Series, sponsored by Smiley's FunZone and Pizzeria, with Grammy Award-winning entertainer Tom Chapin on Saturday, Oct. 2, in the FSU Performing Arts Center Pealer Recital Hall. Two shows will be presented on that day at 1 and 4 p.m.

A 2001 Grammy Award winner, Chapin is a gifted entertainer who charms audiences of all ages. Chapin grew up in a musical family, performing with his brothers and earning acclaim on the Greenwich Village club circuit. He has gained widespread critical and popular acclaim for his recordings aimed at 4- to 11-year-olds and their families, and has been recognized with awards from the American Library Association, Parents' Choice, the New York Music Awards, the National Association of Parenting Publications and Parents Magazine. His latest family CD, "Making Good Noise," was nominated for a 2003 Grammy Award.

To purchase tickets or for more information, call the FSU Cultural Events Box Office at x3137 or toll free at 1-866-TIXX-CES, or visit online at <http://ces.frostburg.edu>. Ask about special get-away packages.

CES Jazz Club Presents The Yellowjackets

FSU's Cultural Events Series will launch its new CES Jazz Club, sponsored by Kauffman Music, with "An Evening with The Yellowjackets" on Thursday, Sept. 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center Pealer Recital Hall.

As two-time Grammy Award winners, The Yellowjackets has thrived as one of America's most loved and top-selling contemporary jazz groups for nearly 20 years. With 15 albums, the group continues to display a forceful, individual sound. The mixture of pulsating energetic rhythms with dynamics and subtlety are certain to delight.

The Yellowjackets

This tour of the Yellowjackets is made possible by a grant from Mid Atlantic Arts Foundation in partnership with the National Endowment for the Arts Regional Touring Program.

To purchase tickets or for more information, call the FSU Cultural Events Box Office at x3137 or toll free at 1-866-TIXX-CES, or visit online at <http://ces.frostburg.edu>. Ask about special get-away packages.

Theatre

Shakespeare in the 'Burg: 'As You Like It'

The Cambridge University American Stage Tour brings its lively and colorful production of Shakespeare's celebratory romance, "As You Like It," to FSU on Monday, Sept. 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center's F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre.

This feast of music, clowning and cross-dressing comes to you from students of Cambridge University, England. Each autumn the best of Cambridge's theatre talent cross the Atlantic to tour venues in the States – the show has been 11 months in the making with a full cast and crew working to create a thoroughly professional production.

CAST tours include the opportunity for American students and young people to participate in workshops, as a way of introducing them to Shakespeare or building on the knowledge they already have.

Tickets are $10 for the general public and $5 for students. For ticket information, call the FSU Box Office at x4145.

This appearance of CAST at FSU is supported in part by a grant from the Maryland State Arts Council, an agency funded by the State of Maryland and the National Endowment for the Arts.

'Damn Yankees' Tickets Now on Sale

The main stage season will launch with "Damn Yankees" on Oct. 8, 9, 14, 15 and 16 at 8 p.m. and Oct. 9 and 16 at 2 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center Drama Theatre. Based on the novel "The Year the Yankees Lost the Pennant" by Douglass Wallop, "Damn Yankees" follows Washington Senators number one fan, Joe, who strikes a deal with the devil and is transformed into a hotshot rookie baseball player, giving the Senators their first real chance to beat the Yankees and capture the pennant. But the devil's secret agenda is to "throw the fans a screw ball" just before the Senators win. Joe's yearning for his wife, Meg, threatens to undo the devil's devious plan, prompting the devil to send in Lola, the best vamp on his staff. Joe and Lola warily dance around each other, he fascinated by her physical charms, she mesmerized by his honesty and goodness. With so much pressure on him, can Joe hold it together long enough to beat those damn Yankees, win the pennant for the Senators . . . AND keep his soul?

A modern version of "The Devil and Daniel Webster" story, "Damn Yankees" is an exciting mix of rough-and-tumble baseball and lively song-and-dance numbers that make this musical comedy a home run!

Tickets are $10 for the general public and $5 for students. Season discount tickets are also available. By purchasing three tickets for $30, you will receive a free ticket to "Damn Yankees." For reservations and information call 301-687-7462, weekdays, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The box office opens one hour prior to curtain. Group discounts are available when booked in advance.

Entertainment

UPC Presents 'Sex Signals' Improv Show

FSU's Programming Council will be presenting the popular interactive show "Sex Signals" on Tuesday, Oct. 5, at 7 p.m. in the Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall in the Lane University Center.

"Sex Signals" is an improv show that dives deep into the realms of college dating, exploring the good, the bad and the ugly. The show was created by Gail Stern and Christian Murphy in 2000 and since then has been performed at over 200 universities. The readers of Campus Activities Magazine recently nominated Stern and Murphy's creation for the Speaker of the Year Award.

This UPC event is free and open to the public. For more information, contact the Lane University Center Information Desk at x4411.

Ventriloquist to Perform for Family Weekend

Ventriloquist Lynn Trefzger will present her lively comedy act on Saturday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m. in the Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall in the Lane University Center.

Trefzger is a self-taught ventriloquist who travels all over the country with her many furry puppet friends to entertain children and adults alike. Her ability to blend her vocal skills with her figure manipulation creates comedic characters that brighten up her show. Trefzger specializes in using dummies, puppets, and even inanimate objects in order to bring laughter to her crowds. Even unsuspecting audience members may be brought into the world created by Trefzger and her comical characters.

This performance is free and open to the public. For more information, contact the Lane University Center Information Desk at x4411.

Mind Reader to Perform for Family Weekend

One of the many performances set to take place during FSU's Family weekend is Robert Channing's "Mysteries of the Mind." The show will be held on Friday, Oct. 8, at 9 p.m. in the Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall in the Lane University Center.

Channing has astonished audiences, taking them through a journey of the human mind and all of its possibilities. People have been amazed by his ability to defy logic and make accurate predictions about the life of a person he has never met until the night of the show. Channing challenges the distinction between reality and illusion.

This Family Weekend event is free and open to the public. For more information, contact the Lane University Center Information Desk at x4411.

Speakers

Hadra Forum: Community Music

The free weekly forums named for James Hadra will continue Monday, Sept. 27, at noon in Ort Library room 237 with Dr. Suzi Mills, Music, speaking on "What the Scholars and Poets Could Learn from Community Music."

The 50-minute program is free and open to the public. Attendees are encouraged to bring a bag lunch; coffee and tea will be provided.

On Oct. 4, Dr. John Lowe and Dr. Mikal Crawford will present "The Millennial Generation Comes to College."

On Oct. 11, Dr. Steve Simpson will speak on "The Media and the 2004 Presidential Campaign."

The forum is sponsored by Catholic Campus Ministries, United Campus Ministries and Hillel. For more information, call Gary Horowitz at x4271.

Geography Colloquium to Feature NSF Speaker

Dr. Thomas Baerwald, program director for the National Science Foundation, will be the featured speaker for the FSU Department of Geography's fall colloquium. Baerwald will be speaking on "Trends and Opportunities in Geography: A View from the National Science Foundation" on Tuesday, Oct. 5, at 6 p.m. in room 226 of the Compton Science Center.

The colloquium is free and open to the public. For more information, contact Shivaji Prasad in the FSU Department of Geography at x4412.

Lecture: 'Cooperation or Confrontation?'

FSU will host speaker Imam Yahya Hendi as he presents his timely lecture "Jews, Christians and Muslims: Cooperation or Confrontation?" on Monday, Oct. 11, at 7 p.m. at the Palace Theatre located on Main Street in Frostburg.

Hendi is the Muslim chaplain at Georgetown University, as well as the Imam of the Islamic Society of Frederick, chaplain at the National Naval Medical Center and spokesperson of the Islamic Jurisprudence Council of North America. He also serves as an adjunct faculty member at McDaniel College. Hendi has received his master's degree in comparative religions from Hartford Seminary and is currently working on his Ph.D. in the same area.

Hendi is a well-respected religious speaker who strives to connect persons of different religions and create a unity and peace between all people. His mission through his lectures and appearances is to foster an understanding of the Islamic religion and work towards world peace. He speaks locally and globally about issues related to Muslims and he works with government officials, non-profit organizations and inter-religious groups in order to share his message.

This lecture is open to the campus and the community. At 8 p.m. there will be a refreshment period and a continued dialogue will take place at St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church located across the street.

The sponsors for this event are FSU's United Campus Ministries, Catholic Campus Ministries and Hillel. For more information, contact Larry Neumark at x7490.

Music

Faculty Gala Recital

The FSU Foundation and FSU Music Department will present a Faculty Gala Recital Sunday, Oct. 31, at 3 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center's Pealer Recital Hall.

The Gala is a highly anticipated event featuring the multi-talented faculty members of the FSU Music Department. Do you like classical music? Jazz? Contemporary? Solos? Chamber music? Funny/entertaining music? This concert has something for everyone. For the 2004 Gala, lead arranger of the Navy Jazz Band and former FSU saxophone teacher Scott Silbert has arranged — especially for this group of FSU musicians — a fantastic jazz piece to end the Gala.

The afternoon begins with a pre-recital reception beginning at 2:15 p.m. in the lobby of the Performing Arts Center; the concert follows at 3 p.m. Tickets are $5 for the general public and $3 for students. All proceeds benefit the Music Department Scholarship Fund through the FSU Foundation Inc.

Center Stage Presents Rapper Lavish Mikell

FSU's Center Stage program presents Chicago-based rapper Lavish Mikell on Thursday, Oct. 14, at 7 p.m. at the Lane University Center Loft.

Leslie Stewart, otherwise known as Lavish Mikell, is a talented rapper, songwriter and producer in the hip-hop industry. Mikell's love for music stems from his father, Butch Stewart, founder of Copia Records. Mikell's style of rapping is more influenced by pop than any other form of music and also incorporates his attitudes towards the hip-hop culture he surrounds himself in. Recently, he finished his first solo album with Copia Records and has written and produced songs for many other hip-hop and R&B artists in the Chicago area.

This event is free and open to the public. For information contact the Lane University Center Information Desk at x4411.

Literature

Children's Lit Center Presents Illustrator

The FSU Children's Literature Centre will present a talk by children's book illustrator John Manders on Thursday, Oct. 14, at 7 p.m. at City Place, 14 S. Water St. in Frostburg. The event, part of the Children's Literature Centre's Fall Author Series, is free and open to the public.

Manders, who began his career as a graphic designer, switched to illustration several years ago. Over the past seven years he has illustrated more than two dozen children's books. One of Manders' favorite subjects is Sherman, his African gray parrot, who can converse in several languages, compose music and imitate the sound of a garbage truck backing up. Manders says his illustrations reflect his "sort of cartoony and wise-guy" personality.

Manders was educated at the Art Institute of Pittsburgh and later took courses at the School of Visual Arts and the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York, where he studied children's illustration, animation and life drawing. Manders' work is featured in over 30 children's books and dozens of children's magazines. His work has been exhibited at the Art Institute of Pittsburgh gallery, the Pittsburgh Children's Museum, and he was honored in the 25-year retrospective of Cricket magazine covers that was held at the Art Institute of Chicago in 1999. That year he was also a participant at the Children's Book Fair in Bologna, Italy.

Among the children's books that Manders has illustrated are "Minnie's Diner" by Dayle Ann Dodds, "Prancing Dancing Lily" by Marsha Diane Arnold, "Humphrey, Albert and the Flying Machine" by Kathryn Lasky, "Z Is for Zombie" by Merrily Kutner and "Dirt Boy" by Erik Jon Slingerup. Manders also illustrated the traditional Mexican rhyme, "Senor Don Gato."

For more information, contact the Children's Literature Centre at x4420.

Film

Int'l Film: 'Uncovered: The War on Iraq'

FSU's International Film Series will present the film, "Uncovered: The War on Iraq," on Tuesday, Oct. 12, at 7 p.m. in the Atkinson Room 201 in the Lane University Center.

This controversial documentary details the events and decisions leading to the war in Iraq. The film shares never-before heard details straight from government officials, CIA agents, Pentagon employees and foreign service experts. The filmmakers demonstrate the lies, misconceptions and exaggerations presented to the American people by the Bush Administration as well as show how they say President Bush deceived millions into believing that a regime change would be necessary for the Iraqi government. The war in Iraq has stirred up controversy among the American people as well as among the chambers of government and this documentary tells the story of a misguided America and a disheveled Iraq.

Other films scheduled for this semester include "Dirty Pretty Things," Nov. 16; and "La Belle et le Bete" ("Beauty and the Beast"), Dec. 7. All film showings are free and open to the public. For more information, contact the Lane University Center Information Desk at x4411.

Take Note

Athletic Training Ed Earns Accreditation

FSU's Bachelor of Science Program in Athletic Training has received national accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP), a distinction that will allow the graduates of FSU's program to sit for the Board of Certification (BOC) Examination.

FSU's is one of only three accredited programs in athletic training in Maryland.

CAAHEP is the largest specialized accreditor in the health sciences field. In collaboration with its Committees on Accreditation, CAAHEP reviews and accredits more than 2,000 educational programs in 21 health science occupations across the United States and Canada. The accreditation standards are established by CAAHEP and The American Academy of Family Physicians, The American Academy of Pediatrics, The American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine and The National Athletic Trainers' Association Inc.

FSU's Athletic Training Education Program (ATEP) began in the late 1970s as an internship program that was part of the Health and Physical Education degree. That program grew to the point that FSU established an Exercise and Sport Science program in 2000, with Athletic Training as one of three concentrations.

FSU's previous program, which was based on an extensive internship, had allowed students to sit for the exam, but that rule has just been changed by the Board of Certification, which now requires exam candidates to graduate from an accredited program. The BOC is the only accredited certification program for athletic trainers in the United States.

FSU saw the change coming and decided to apply for accreditation, a multi-year process.

When James Racchini was hired as ATEP director in 2001, he applied for candidacy for accreditation and began the process of establishing the Athletic Training program as a stand-alone major, instead of a concentration within Exercise Science. The University System of Maryland Board of Regents in 2002 approved the Bachelor of Science in Athletic Training, along with additional entrance requirements and two new courses.

The candidacy phase lasted two years, followed by a self-study for accreditation through CAAHEP and a team visit from the Joint Review Committee on Education Programs in Athletic Training, which performs the accreditation study for CAAHEP.

The ATEP at FSU has grown from one sponsoring Certified Athletic Trainer in its infancy to being served by two full-time Certified Athletic Trainer faculty, two full-time staff Certified Athletic Trainers and two graduate assistants.

Grad Fair

Grad Fair will be held in the Lane University Center Manicur Assembly Hall on Wednesday, Oct. 13, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Seniors are encouraged to attend to order their cap and gown, personalized graduation announcements, diploma frames and class rings. The Offices of Graduate Studies and Career Services will be available, as well as free drawings and refreshments.

Fall Convocation

Dr. Catherine Gira's Fall Convocation will be Tuesday, Oct. 12, at 3 p.m. in the PAC Drama Theatre. All students, faculty and staff are cordially invited.

FSU Logos to Go

The resolution of the FSU logo copied from our Web site is not suitable for printed documents. High resolution versions of the FSU logo are available on the Campus U drive in a folder named "FSU Logos." The selections include several formats (tif, eps and jpeg) and both black and two-color versions.

Also, please do not use any creative renditions of the FSU logo, i.e., no more homemade or student-created logos, no more "I don't have the font that's used in the logo but I like this one better anyway" substitutions. In addition, it is no longer appropriate to use the FSU centennial logo.

If you are unable to access the U drive or have any questions, e-mail cstamp@frostburg.edu.

Commencement News for Graduate Students

Students who plan to graduate in December 2004 need to complete the "Application for Graduation" as soon as possible. The forms are available at the Office of Graduate Services 141 Pullen Hall, or by calling x7053.

Info Meetings Set on MAT - Elem., Secondary

FSU will present information meetings for prospective applicants for its Master of Arts in Teaching programs, both elementary and secondary.

Elementary Program Coordinator Dr. Kim Rotruck and Secondary Program Coordinator Dr. William Childs will be at the FSU Hagerstown Center, on Public Square in Hagerstown, on Wednesday, Sept. 29, at 6:30 p.m. to speak to prospective applicants for the group beginning studies in summer 2005.

A second meeting for those interested in the elementary program will be held Wednesday, Oct. 20, at 6:30 p.m., also in the FSU Hagerstown Center.

The Master of Arts in Teaching - Elementary is offered at FSU's Hagerstown Center. The deadline for Summer 2005 cohort applications is May 1, 2005. The summer 2005 applicant fall admissions interviews will be scheduled for the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 23, at the Hagerstown Center.

The Master of Arts in Teaching - Secondary program is offered at FSU's Frostburg campus. The deadline for summer 2005 cohort applications is April 1, 2005.

FSU's Master of Arts in Teaching program is designed for career changers or recent college graduates who want to pursue a career in teaching. The full-time program that lasts just over a year provides its students with all the necessary coursework and classroom experience to obtain teacher certification in the State of Maryland.

For more information, call the Graduate Services Office at x7053 or contact Rotruck at x4026 for questions about the elementary program or Childs at x3087 for questions about the secondary program.

Points of Pride

Joy Kroeger-Mappes, Philosophy, presented a one-day program/workshop, "Ethics for the Health Care Professional," at the Allegany College of Maryland Center for Continuing Education on Sept. 18; 40 health care professionals were in attendance.

Professor Laxman Hegde created a series of Mathematics Camps in Dunkle Hall this summer for 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th graders. The three camps, held in June, July and August, were attended by 110 students. The children solved puzzles, learned quick calculation tricks, studied geometry, and played games like Nim, 7-up, 24 and Sprouts. Dr. Hegde reports that the students were very enthusiastic, and that he enjoyed working with them. He was assisted in his effort by Allegany High graduate and current Cornell University student Shaz Bellary. The Math Camps were also supported by the FSU Foundation.

Internships

Intern with The Mouse

The Walt Disney World College Program is returning to the Frostburg State campus for two presentations this semester. College Program recruiter David Horvath will be giving an overview of these paid internships on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 27 and 28, at 7 p.m. in the Lane University Center Manicur Hall. Over 4,000 U.S and international students participate in the College Program, Management Internship and Advanced Internship programs every semester. While participating in this PAID intern experience, FSU students are strongly encouraged to take the free ACE-evaluated Disney courses eligible for FSU credit.

Prior to the mandatory presentation, interested students should seek more information at www.wdwcollegeprogram.com about the working and learning opportunities and complete the no-obligation application to bring to the presentation. Students will talk briefly to David and hand in their applications following the presentation - no long interviews this semester. Follow-up telephone interviews will be conducted from Orlando. Applicants are required at the time of application to have completed a minimum of 12 credit hours with a minimum FSU GPA of 2.0. For details contact Elaine Barry in Career Services, 124 Sand Spring Hall.

Get Involved

Dream Of Being King or Queen?

Nomination forms and schedules for the Homecoming King and Queen are available in the Office of Alumni Programs (University Advancement, 2nd Floor Hitchins). Nominations forms must be returned to this office no later than Friday, Oct. 1, at 4:30 p.m. The 2004 Homecoming King and Queen will be crowned on Saturday, Oct. 23 at the half-time show. For more information, contact Lynn Ketterman at lketterman@frostburg.edu.

Participants Sought for Homecoming Parade

FSU is once again gearing up for its annual Homecoming Parade, scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 23, at 10:30 a.m. The parade will be part of FSU's "Rockin' Down the Highway" Homecoming 2004 celebration.

Organizers are seeking school bands and classes, civic group and individuals who wish to participate in this year's event. Participants from past FSU Homecoming parades are encouraged to march again this year.

For more information or to register your organization, float or parade unit, contact Dina Poland, FSU director of Alumni Programs, at x7588 before Friday, Oct. 8.

Catholic Campus Ministry

Dave Treber, a Quaker, will speak to CCM about "Conscientious Objection and the Draft" on Tuesday, Sept. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the Osborne Newman Center.

United Campus Ministry

Several students will share their faith and how it makes a difference in their lives in the UCM program "The Spiritual Journey" on Wednesday, Sept. 29, at 7:30 p.m. in Ort Library 237. Participants will be Frankie Revell, Adrienne Kurtz, Jonell Mousiaux and Angela Wilson.

Baptist Student Ministry

BASIC is true, heartfelt worship led by students for students. Join them this week as Chris Sirbaugh, associate director of Programs and Facilities at New Life Bible Camp in Buffalo Mills, Pa., will share. They will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 28, at the BSM Center (white house located behind Cumberland Hall). Refreshments will be available.

Check out the Web site for more weekly events and programs: <http://goliath.frostburg.edu/bsm>

Volunteers

Blood Drive

The Sociology Club is sponsoring a Red Cross blood drive on Wednesday, Sept. 29, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Lane University Center ARMAH. All people who show up, (even if they cannot donate for some reason) will be given a tie-dyed shirt from the Red Cross.

Walk-ins will be accepted the day of the drive; but there may be a wait.

Ride to End Family Violence Needs Helpers

The Allegany County Family Violence Council is initiating what they hope is an annual event, a motorcycle poker run. This fun activity's purpose is to raise much-needed funds, since the FVC has suffered recent funding cuts. The mission of the Allegany County Family Violence Council is to significantly reduce the incidents of family and interpersonal violence by creating a coordinated community response, which protects victims, holds offenders accountable and offers treatment and education as a means of prevention.

The Ride to End Family Violence Poker Run is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 2 (rain date, Oct. 9) with registration from 9 to 10 a.m. at the CBIZ parking lot, corner of Baltimore and Mechanic streets in Downtown Cumberland, where the ride will begin at 10 a.m. and end at 4 p.m. Pre-registration is not required. Participants will pay $5 per hand of poker, and can purchase as many hands as they want. The poker run, open to motorcycles, hot rods and other classic car groups, will meander through scenic parts of the county with stops being made at six sites. Following the run, riders will be treated to a block party on the Downtown Cumberland Mall.

Volunteers are needed to help staff the six stops, check riders in, give out cards, and sell extra hands at the run stops.

Community members who aren't motorcyclists can still take a part in the event. Donations can be made by stopping by any of the run stops and buying a hand of poker, or just by giving what they want. If their hand wins, they are eligible for prizes. To volunteer to assist with the event or to make a donation, call Kristin Morton at Western Maryland Area Health Education Center, 301-777-9150, x110.

Local Men Featured on 'NASA Science Files'

Local hydroelectric techs Jim Jeffries and James Broadwater, who work with the United States Geological Survey (USGS), were featured on the NASA Sci Files show, "The Case of the Wacky Water Cycle." Along with Jim and James, Pixie Hamilton and Steven Schriver from Richmond, Va., were also featured from the USGS. Last summer, NASA asked if they could film the group as they tested 32 different wells in the Piedmont physiographic region in newly urbanized areas of the D.C. metro area. They're working on a study about how urbanization affects ground water quality over time.

Through a cooperative agreement with FSU, the USGS now has a field office located at FSU in Tawes Hall Room 128. Students at FSU who have had the opportunity to work with the USGS in the past had to travel to other offices for field experience but now they do not need to travel with a field office here on our campus.

Tune into Channel 3 on Monday, Sept. 27, at 4 and 7 p.m. to see the group working on the NASA Sci Files show, "The Case of the Wacky Water Cycle." For questions about programming, please contact Melanie Lombardi at x3011 or mlombardi@frostburg.edu.

Want to Get Your Message on TV3?

If you have an announcement about an activity that you would like to advertise on the Channel 3 message board, log on to www.frostburg.edu/dept/mcom/index.htm, click on the Channel 3 Request Form and enter your information. Then click submit. It's as easy as that.

If you would like to submit your request with a hard copy and need the form, contact Melanie Lombardi at x3011, mlombardi@frostburg.edu or stop by Old Main Room 005.

Interested in Television Production?

Interested in television production, but don't know how to get involved?

FSU TV-3 is looking for volunteers interested in working with multi-camera events covering FSU sporting events and the Frostburg City Council meetings. No experience is necessary; we will train you. For more information, please contact student producers Josh Meloney at jmeloney0@frostburg.edu, Peter Della-Luna at pdella-luna0@frostburg.edu, Matt Romeo at mromeo0@frostburg.edu or Cable Channel 3 manager Melanie Lombardi at x3011 or mlombardi@frostburg.edu.

International

Fulbright Scholarships

The Fulbright Program is the United State's premier scholarship program. It enables students to gain international competence in an increasingly interdependent world. Each year the Fulbright Program offers scholarships to pursue research in specific countries and fields. The U.S. Dept. of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs sponsors the Fulbright Program.

The Fulbright Scholarships are awarded as follows:

- Fulbright Full Grants: This grant is offered to students who are conducting research in a Fulbright approved country on an approved topic.

- Fulbright Travel Grants: This grant is offered to students who are conducting research in Germany, Hungary, Italy or Korea that is Fulbright-approved.

- Foreign and Private Grants: This grant is offered to students who are conducting research in a Fulbright approved country on an approved topic. The host country's government, universities or private donors offer the grant.

Recipients must be a U.S. citizen and have received a bachelor's degree from a U.S. institution. All FSU students must apply by early fall.

Please contact the Center for International Education at x4714. The national deadline is Oct. 21.

Study Abroad Programs

The International Student Exchange Program (ISEP) still has spaces available for spring semester 2005. Contact Dr. Hank Bullamore at the CIE for information on the following:

Spanish-speaking sites

- Argentina – Agronomy, business, political science and international relations; courses in literature, Argentine history and Spanish language are offered. Students are housed with host families and receive personalized attention from International Programs office staff.

- Mexico – New 16-week program consisting of three electives. International Trade courses in English and eight hours a week of Spanish language for beginners.

- Spain – Two universities to choose from, each offering a variety of courses. The courses offered include business, economics, Spanish literature, art, history, and geography. Three hours a week of Spanish language are included in the benefits.

See "Available Sites (U.S. Students)" at isep.org for more details.

Safety Message

Ladder Safety

Position the ladder properly. Face the ladder when starting to climb. Keep both hands on the side rails while climbing; one hand on the side rail while working. Carry tools or other materials on a tool belt, pull them up by a tag line; or have a co-worker hand (never throw) them to you; place articles in a bucket and pull it up. If climbing more than a few feet, have someone hold the ladder safely for you. Climb slowly. If the ladder begins to move, climb down immediately and reposition ladder. Do not over-reach. Keep your upper body inside the side rails. Do not “walk” or “pogo stick” or “dance” a ladder to move it to a new location. Never allow more than one person on a ladder at one time. Never sit on a ladder rung, the top of ladder or on the paint shelf. Do not hang or leave tools or other materials on rungs or on top of the ladder. Never climb any higher than the second step from the top on a step ladder; or the fourth rung from the top of a straight (extension) ladder.

On extension and straight ladders, the base of the ladder should be one foot away from the wall for every four feet of the distance to the point where the ladder touches the wall (4-1 rule). The base of a ladder that touches 12 feet up should be positioned three feet from the wall.
