Count Basie Keeps Billie Holiday Real

The Cultural Events Series Jazz Club sponsored by Kauffman Music gets its season off to a sassy and sizzling start with a concert featuring the world famous Count Basie Orchestra with special guest Nnenna Freelon at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 27, in the Performing Arts Center's Pealer Recital Hall at FSU. Join this Grammy-Award-nominated vocalist and premier jazz band for an unforgettable evening of jazz, soul, gospel and blues inspired by the late Billie Holiday, a standout diva in the history of jazz who once sang with the Basie Orchestra.

The legendary Holiday helped the Basie Orchestra give a new sound to the big band legacy. Freelon and the Basie Orchestra will honor and remember her past with the Basie Orchestra by drawing inspiration from Freelon's "Blueprint of a Lady: Sketches of Billie Holiday," bringing their unique interpretation to those songs, and adding some of their own music to celebrate this chapter of the Basie-Holiday history.

The Basie Orchestra, directed by Bill Hughes and featuring Butch Miles,

FSU Enrollment On the Upswing

FSU is celebrating the largest freshman class in its history and a 32 percent increase in transfer students, one year after the University reported that its enrollment headcount had reached a 17-year low.

Based on the final enrollment numbers for the fall, FSU is welcoming 1,074 new freshmen. That is 51 students more than last year's class of 1,023 and 132 over the 942 freshmen the year before. The previous high-water mark was reached in fall 2000 with 1,056 students. Total enrollment is 4,993 students, up from 4,910 in fall of 2006.

The number of transfer students has also increased dramatically, to 356, up from 269 last year. The increase in transfers can largely be attributed to a concerted effort to solidify relationships with community colleges in Maryland and neighboring states, as well as actions designed to ease those students' transition to Frostburg, according to Wray Blair, Associate Vice President for Enrollment Management.

"I am very proud of the efforts of the faculty and staff of Frostburg who have worked collaboratively to make increasing our enrollment a priority," said FSU President Jonathan Gibralter. "The Enrollment Management Task Force I created, the hiring of Wray Blair as Associate Vice President for Enrollment Management and the development of a Division of Communications and Media Relations under a new vice president have the potential to forever correct any downward turn in enrollment."

The charge of the Enrollment Management Task Force, the creation of which was one of Gibralter's first actions, was to aggressively take steps to identify the reasons for the enrollment decline and take whatever steps are necessary to reverse the downward trend.

"We're extremely pleased to enroll the largest freshman class in the history of FSU," Blair said. "It has truly been a team effort, spearheaded by the Enrollment Management Committee and by the Admissions staff, who spend much time with prospective students and their families. And, as the Admissions staff is already on the road recruiting for fall of 2008, we will continue to emphasize the personal contact with students and their families that has become our hallmark," he said.

Graduate enrollment held steady at 658 students. The number of graduate students is another area of focus for the Enrollment Management Committee.

'The Winter's Tale' a Student Work

CAST, the Cambridge University American Stage Tour, will bring William Shakespeare's "The Winter's Tale" to FSU on Tuesday, Sept. 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center's Pealer Recital Hall.

Directed and produced entirely by members of the student body, this year's offering is sure to captivate audiences. One of his latest plays, "The Winter's Tale" is one of Shakespeare's most enchanting and moving works. It is a tragic tale of redemption and jealousy, set within a vibrant but dangerous wonderland of the paranoid King Leontes.

Since 1999, CAST has sent the brightest theatrical talent from Cambridge University, England, across the Atlantic to perform Shakespeare to audiences in the United States.

Tickets are $5 for students and $10 for the general public. For information or reservations, call x4145.

This event is sponsored by the FSU Department of English, with support consists of 19 musicians dedicated to continuing the legacy of one of the greatest jazz musicians of all time, William "Count" Basie, whose talent with the keyboard elevated jazz to a new art form. The group is in constant demand for television and films, has won every respected jazz poll in the world at least once and continues to accumulate awards and special recognitions.

Freelon's voice is remarkable for its range and dynamics; her phrasing is precise and straight out of the jazz tradition, but with a slightly modern, even hip-hoppish flavor. Singer, composer, producer and arranger, she has earned the Billie Holiday and the Eubie Blake awards, as well as accolades for her work on behalf of children and education.

Tickets for the show are $29 for the general public; $25 for faculty and staff; $27 for children 17 and under and $15 for FSU students. To purchase tickets or for more information about Freelon and the Basie Orchestra, call the FSU Cultural Events Box Office at (301) 687-3137 or toll free at 1-866-TIXX-CES, or visit online at ces.frostburg.edu.

Showbiz Satire Opens Second Stage Season

"Anton in Show Business" will kick off the Second Stage, student-directed, University Theatre season on Oct. 5 and 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre of FSU's Performing Arts Center.

This "backstage comedy" by Jane Martin follows three struggling actresses who are cast in a regional theatre production of Anton Chekhov's "The Three Sisters." A fast-paced satire, "Anton in Show Business" dives deep into the unconventional behaviors of theatre artists and dares to search for the purpose of such an often underappreciated art form.

Please join us for this light-hearted comedy directed by FSU senior Erinrose Sincevich.

For reservations and information, call the theatre box office at x7462 (Monday-Friday 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.), or stop by the box office in the Performing Arts Center lobby, (Monday-Friday noon to 2 p.m.). The box office will also be open during the week of the show from 5 to 7 p.m. All tickets are $5.

'Into the Woods' Kicks Off UT Season

FSU's University Theatre invites audiences to become enchanted by the power of storytelling when it presents the Tony Award-winning musical "Into the Woods." "Into the Woods," with music and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim and book by James Lapine, kicks off UT's Main Stage season, with performances at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 12, 13, 18, 19 and 20 and matinee showings at 2 p.m. on Oct. 13 and 20 in FSU's Drama Theatre.

A dark yet beguiling take on Brothers Grimm fairy tales, "Into the Woods" weaves together the familiar stories of "Cinderella," "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Rapunzel" and "Little Red Riding Hood" to tell the tale of a baker and his wife who cannot have a child until they break the curse of the witch who lives next door. With wit, wisdom and a magical score, the musical explores the loss of innocence, the price paid for getting the things you really want and what happens after "happily ever after."

University Theatre's 2007-2008 season continues with several other exciting shows, including Beth Henley's quirky and dark comedy, "Abundance," Nov. 9, 10, 15, 16 and 17 at 7:30 p.m., with a matinee on Nov. 10 at 2 p.m. in the F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre. "Machinal" by Sophie Treadwell then opens the spring semester with performances on Feb. 29, and March 1, 6, 7, and 8 at 7:30 p.m. and a matinee performance on March 1 at 2 p.m. in The Drama Theatre. The Main Stage season closes with Lorraine Hansberry's classic, "A Raisin in the Sun." Performances will take place in the F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre on April 18, 19, 24, 25, and 26 at 7:30 p.m. and April 19 at 2 p.m.

Tickets to Main Stage performances are $5 for FSU students and $10 for non-students. Theatre fans may want to consider purchasing a Season Discount Flex Card. For $30 receive a Season Discount Flex Card and receive four Main Stage tickets and save $10! Card holders can spread tickets throughout the Main Stage season, or use any number of tickets for one show.

To purchase tickets to "Into the Woods" and to get a 2007-2008 season brochure and information about Season Discount Flex Cards, please call the University Theatre box office at (301) 687-7462, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., or visit the box office in the FSU Performing Arts Center lobby, Monday through Friday, noon to 2 p.m.

Father, Daughter Combine Creativity

Painter Jennifer L. Collins and sculptor Charlie Brouwer celebrate their talents as respective artists and honor their relationship as father and daughter in the upcoming exhibition, "This Time, This Place," a show that highlights collaborative pieces they created together, as well as their individual works. "This Time, This Place" will be on view Oct. 5 through Oct. 28 at the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery, with a free, public reception from 6 to 9 p.m. Friday, Oct. 5, that includes a gallery talk from 6 to 7 p.m. in Fine Arts room 132.

Collins and Brouwer first noticed the visible and meaningful similarities in their imagery, themes, metaphors and aesthetic vision when the two first exhibited together in 1998, similarities Collins says reflect their natural relationship as father and daughter. The title of the exhibition, "This Time, This Place," refers to Collins' focus on making paintings that always are based on what the world looks like; she paints specific times and places. Unlike Collins, Brouwer usually pulls the subjects of his work from his imagination, which creates a dynamic collaboration between the two artists.

Collins received her Master of Fine Arts degree in painting from Radford University in 1995; she now teaches drawing at the university. Brouwer received his M.F.A. in sculpture from Western Michigan University; he also teaches at Radford.

The Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery has free admission and is open to the public Sunday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. For more information about the exhibition, please contact FSU Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Purchase Prints to Decorate

The campus community is invited to get inspired to decorate their residence halls and other areas by checking out prints during the Global Prints Poster Sale from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Clock Tower Quad on Sept. 24 and Sept. 25. For more info, call x4411.

Land a Job with Career Services

The Office of Career Services will offer two great events for job seekers and students who are looking for input and advice on their careers in general.

Career Services will offer a workshop titled, "Basic Training: Résumés and Cover Letters" at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 26, in the Career Services Library, 124 Sand Spring Hall. The workshop is 45 minutes in length and can accommodate eight students.

Sand Spring Hall is the red building behind the Chesapeake Dining Hall and the Children's Center. Students are encouraged to walk or park in designated student parking lots; the parking lot in front of Sand Spring Hall is reserved for faculty and staff. Call and reserve a seat at x4403.

The Office of Career Services will also sponsor CAREER EXPO 2007 "Mirror to the Past, Window to the Future" from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday, Oct. 19, at various locations throughout campus. Alumni from different majors will return to the campus for Homecoming Weekend to speak to students. This is a great networking opportunity for students, and a chance to receive info about majors and/or careers in which they may be interested. Speaker programs will be available throughout campus and at the registration table on the Lane University Center's second level starting at 9 a.m.

To search for jobs and internships, visit www.collegecentral.com/frostburg. For more info on the Office of Career Services, call x4403 or e-mail careerservices@frostburg.edu.

Assistance for Students on Probation

Assistance will be offered to students on academic probation for the fall 2007 semester in a series of three meetings from Tuesday, Oct. 9, through Thursday, Oct. 11, in the Compton Science Center. The meetings will be held Tuesday, Oct. 9, beginning at 12:30 p.m. in Compton Science Center Room 224; Wednesday, Oct. 10, at 7 p.m. in Compton 226; Thursday, Oct. 11, at 3:30 p.m. in Compton 224.

Please come and invest an hour to ensure that you are able to return to FSU for the spring 2008 semester. This meeting could make a difference!

For more info, call the Provost's Office at x4212.

Planning to Graduate in December?

If you are planning to graduate at the end of this semester, please note the following: The 131st Commencement Ceremony is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 15, in the Harold J. Cordts Physical Education Center. The College of Business and College of Education will hold its service at 10 a.m., while the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences will present graduates at the 2 p.m. ceremony.

Please complete your graduation application at the Registrar's Office now. This will enable you to receive information about your upcoming Commencement. The first Commencement mailing is scheduled for the first week in October and will be sent to both your local and your permanent address. Please update your address information in PAWS or with the Registrar's Office to assure that you will receive all the details.

Caps and gowns are provided at no cost to all graduates and may be ordered at the University Bookstore. Your order must be placed by Oct. 15.

A Grad Fair will be held Oct. 15 in the Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall in the Lane University Center from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Vendors will be present for ordering your class ring and diploma frames, and you will also have the opportunity to order your cap and gown and announcements. Additional University services will be available and there will be giveaways and refreshments.

Full details about Commencement are on the University's Web site. Go to "Current Students" and Commencement information is under Academics on the left side. For more info, please contact Brittni Teter at x4423 or bkteter@frostburg.edu.

Graduation Requirement Exceptions

All students who would like to petition for approval of an exception to a baccalaureate degree or General Education requirement must appeal to the Academic Standards Subcommittee. A written request (including supporting letters and documentation, as appropriate) is due in the Office of the Provost, Hitchins 213, no later than Oct. 11 and Nov. 15 during the fall 2007 semester. Please note that Nov. 15 is the last day of appeals for December 2007 graduates. For more information, contact x4212.

Attention All Education Students!

The application deadline for students entering Phase I, Phase II or Phase III of the Teacher Education Program in the spring semester is Monday, Oct. 15. ALL APPLICATIONS SHOULD BE RETURNED TO THE OFFICE OF UNIT ASSESSMENT, FRAMPTON HALL, ROOM 203-3 on or before DEADLINE DATE. If you need an application form or have questions, contact Barbara Bluebaugh at x7953 or barbluebaugh@frostburg.edu.

Eat a Doughnut to Support Physics

The FSU Physics and Engineering Club is now selling mugs featuring the club logo for $10, in addition to T-shirts for $10, to support club-sponsored activities, like the campus Physics and Engineering Day. The Club is also selling doughnuts and coffee in the Compton Science Center 2nd floor Atrium on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. The Club meets every Wednesday at 7 p.m. in CSC 233. For information, contact Eric Moore at x4500 or ejmoore@frostburg.edu.

The next seminar is "Landscape connectivity for the good, the bad, and the ugly" by Emily Minor, UMCES Appalachian Laboratory, hosted by Todd Lookingbill. It is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 27, in Room 109. Refreshments follow in the lobby. For more information, visit www.al.umces.edu/seminar/schedule.

Technology Showcase

As part of its 2007 Family Weekend celebration, FSU will highlight student, faculty and staff achievements in technology through a Science, Engineering and Technology Showcase. This showcase will be held in Compton Science Center from 11:15 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 29.

Through interactive demonstrations that students and their families can experience and enjoy, the Showcase will help promote a better understanding of and appreciation for the high level of technology fluency among FSU students, faculty and staff. For more details on the 2007 Family Weekend Science, Engineering and Technology Showcase, contact Sean Morton at x4211.

FSU Hosts Native Plant Conference

FSU is hosting Maryland Native Plant Society's 2007 Annual Conference "Climate Change: Global Effects, Local Impacts, Western Maryland's Flora - At Risk?" The conference is co-sponsored by FSU's Department of Biology with support from The Nature Conservancy and will take place on Sept. 29 and 30 in 226 Compton Science Center.

The Maryland Native Plant Society is a non-profit organization dedicated to protecting, conserving and restoring Maryland's native plants and habitats. They provide opportunities to learn about habitats, plant identification and invasive plants through monthly meetings, field trips and workshops.

Western Maryland contains unique plants left over from the Ice Age which are in danger of extinction due to climate warming. The conference will take you on field trips to the locations of these plants to get a closer view of the sub-arctic flora, including tamarack, wild calla and Canadian burnet.

The conference will cost $50 for members, $65 for non-members, and FSU students and staff may register for $20. There will also be a social on Saturday evening which is $20 for students and $30 for non students.

For more information, a schedule of events and to register for the conference visit the Web site at www.mdflora.org/events/fall2007/fall2007conference.html or call Beth Johnson at (301) 949-6338. All proceeds from the conference benefit the Maryland Native Plant Society's programs and activities.

Get a Taste at 'Key Ingredients'

"Key Ingredients: America by Food," a Smithsonian Institution traveling exhibition at FSU, will begin with a presentation from exhibit curator Charles Camp on "Inspecting Gadgets: The Making and Selling of Culinary Paraphernalia," at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 28, in FSU's Compton Science Center room 226, followed by a reception featuring regional cuisine at 7:30 p.m. in the Compton Exploratorium.

"Key Ingredients" delves into the historical, regional and social traditions that merge in everyday meals and celebrations of the American table. It will be on view at the FSU Compton Exploratorium from Sept. 28 to Nov. 10. The opening event and the exhibition are free and open to the public.

Camp will discuss the product demonstrators who not so long ago appeared at county fairs throughout America and amazed fairgoers with inexpensive machines that turned ordinary potatoes into cascades of curlicues and carrots into orange toothpicks.

Dr. Kara Rogers Thomas, Assistant Professor of Sociology at FSU, and a committee of area residents including educators, farmers, agriculture extension agents, historians and artists have created a number of complementary programs and exhibits featuring regional foodways. Exhibits on display with the Smithsonian exhibition include "Cook-books Through the Ages," "All About Food" and "Cooking Antiquities."

The exhibition will be open for viewing on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m., Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturdays from 1 to 5 p.m. and Sundays from 3 to 8 p.m. To learn more, visit www.frostburg.edu/events/keyingredients or contact Rogers Thomas at FSU at x3124.

2008 POSC Internship Meetings

Dr. Joan Andorfer will begin conducting meetings for all students who are planning to intern in the Department of Political Science in the spring or summer of 2008 at 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 26, in Old Main 104. Subsequent meetings will be held at 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 24, and Wednesday, Nov. 28, in Old Main 104. (These meetings are for students who plan on interning for academic credit only.)

The Maryland General Assembly Intern Program is an example of an internship that is of particular interest to many students. Applicants must be either juniors or seniors and have a GPA of 3.0 or higher. A stipend is awarded for participation. The deadline is Monday, Oct. 22.

It is vital that you attend at least one of these meetings if you want to participate in a Political Science/Justice Studies/Law and Society internship at any time during 2008. If you are unable to attend these meetings, please get in touch with Dr. Andorfer in her office in Old Main 103, during her office hours: Monday and Wednesday 1:30 to 3 p.m. or Thursday 11:30 a.m. 12:30 p.m. For more info, call x4790 or e-mail jandorfer@frostburg.edu.

Day of Caring, Sharing

United Campus Ministry will help clean up the town of Frostburg on Saturday, Sept. 29, from 9 a.m. to noon. Workers will receive a free lunch and T-shirt. For more info on participating, call x7490.

UCM Holds 'Green' Talk

In support of FSU's efforts to become a green campus, the United Campus Ministry will hold an Interfaith Dialogue on the Environment on Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 7:30 p.m. in Lane University Center Room 142.

The dialogue will feature representatives of various world religions, including Christianity, Judaism, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism and others. The discussion will address issues surrounding the environmental crisis and how religion and spirituality can play constructive roles in healing the planet. Dr. Bilal Itani, a pediatrician from Keyser, W.Va., will serve as the Muslim representative at the event.

This event is free and open to the public. For more information contact the Rev. Larry Neumark at x7490.

Sevinc Ozcan, native of Turkey and Cyprus, will be the featured speaker at the next meeting of Frostburg Branch, AAUW (American Association of University Women). The meeting will be held in the Social Hall of the Frostburg United Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 2.

Ozcan was reared in Cyprus, went to school in Turkey, was an AFS student in Frostburg and graduated from Beall High School. She, her husband and children returned to Frostburg six years ago.

Hostesses will be Yvonne Beal, Amy Meek and Martha Meek. The public is welcome to attend. For more information, please call Program Chair, Jane Grindel, at (301) 689-8935.

International

Study Abroad Programs

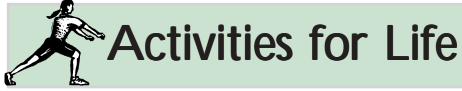

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases, students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU.

For information, contact the CIE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, x4714, or visit www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie.

Learn about England

Rob Carthy from Northumbria University, located in New Castle, England, will be in the Lane University Center from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Monday Sept. 24, with information regarding the Northumbria exchange program. For more information please visit www.northumbria.ac.uk/studyabroad.

the Spring 2008 semester, around Jan. 29 to June 3. Students may select from a variety of courses offered by Mary Immaculate College, all of which transfer back to FSU for credit. Application deadline is Oct. 1.

For more information on Activities for Life and registration, contact Amy Nazelrod at x7934 or anazelrod@frostburg.edu.

Swimming Lessons for All

Activities for Life at FSU will offer Youth and Advanced Swimming Lessons for children ages 5 to 12. The classes will be from 6 to 6:50 p.m. in the FSU Pool in the Cordts PE Center. Classes will be held on Monday and Wednesday from Oct. 1 to Oct. 17.

Youth swimming instruction is separated into skill levels. Advanced swimming lessons are for those interested in learning advanced swimming skills or preparing for a swim team. Advanced registration is required.
