FSU to Launch Student Health Initiative with AstraZeneca Contribution

Public Invited to Join Free Afternoon of Health & Wellness Activities

On Sept. 5, Frostburg State University and fitness star Scott Cole will introduce a science- and wellness-centered initiative to promote health practices and education among college students and the local community, thanks to a $228,225 contribution from AstraZeneca Pharmaceuticals.

FSU’s planned programming for “Creating Healthy, Informed, Lasting Lifestyles (CHILL)” includes preventative student health screenings, smoking and substance abuse prevention and the development of a variety of campus-wide-activities and educational outreach efforts that encourage exercise and nutrition.

“Health and wellness are a huge part of the important life skills students develop while they’re in college, and FSU is committed to expanding educational outreach in this area,” said FSU President Jonathan Gibraltar.

On Sept. 5, national wellness expert Cole leads a campus-wide workshop and discussion for students, faculty, staff and residents.

Cole will talk to FSU audiences from noon to 1 p.m. in FSU’s Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall, located in the Lane University Center. A 2-mile, campus-wide walk led by FSU’s health and physical education students follows Cole’s presentation at 1 p.m. A Wellness Fair featuring various FSU offices and organizations will be held in the Lane University Center from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. The afternoon of health and wellness activities is free and open to the public.

Cole earned the title of National Aerobic Champion, starred in the top-selling “Abs of Steel” video series, and created DVD programs “Millennium

Scott Cole’s presentation will kick off CHILL.

CAST brings 'Henry V' to FSU

The Cambridge American Stage Tour (CAST) is coming once again to Frostburg to perform Shakespeare's "Henry V" on Wednesday, Sept. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the PAC Pealer Recital Hall.

Tickets are $5 for students and $10 for everyone else and can be reserved by calling x4145 or purchased at the door.

CAST, made up of undergraduate students from the University of Cambridge, England, has toured America since 1999.

"Henry V" is one of Shakespeare's most memorable and exciting plays, his most patriotic piece and an epic and vigorous portrayal of one of England's most popular national heroes.

The event is being sponsored by the Department of English at FSU, with support from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the Office of the Provost, and the FSU Foundation Inc. For more information about CAST, visit www.castonline.org.

Music

WFWM to Record Radio Shows 'Live at the Depot'

WFWM 91.9 FM, Public Radio from FSU, in cooperation with the Western Maryland Scenic Railroad, will record a series of old time-style radio shows called "Live at the Depot" at the historic Old Depot in Frostburg. The shows will feature live performances by local roots music bands and musicians.

"WFWM wants to support and provide a media outlet for local roots musicians and I saw these shows as a brilliant way to do that," said Chuck Dicken, the station's director. "It also gives WFWM, the local musicians and the participating organizations a chance to work together. I hope that these shows will lead to additional opportunities."

The recordings will take place each Friday in September between 12:30-2:30 p.m. while the train is at the Depot. Train passengers and the general public are invited to attend the recordings for free. WFWM will broadcast each show on the radio at a later date. In addition, the performances will be professionally videotaped and featured on the WFWM Web site. Musicians scheduled include Highland Grass, Short Mountain String Band, Black Diamond, Erik & Dhru, Jeff Thomas & John Neral, Greg Latta and Academic Probation.

The "Live at the Depot" shows are supported in part by the Allegany Arts Council, FrostburgFirst, Allegany County Tourism and the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. For information, call WFWM at x4143. WFWM broadcasts at 91.9 FM in Frostburg and 96.3 FM in Oakland, Md., and can be heard on-campus at www.wfwm.org.

Live At The Depot schedule

(subject to change):

- Sept. 5: Highland Grass (Bluegrass)
- Sept. 12: Short Mountain String Band (Old-Timey Appalachian) and Erik & Dhru (Acoustic Folk)
- Sept. 19: Academic Probation (Old-Timey Appalachian), Jeff Thomas & John Neral (Irish Traditional), Savage Family (Bluegrass Gospel)
- Sept. 26: Black Diamond (Bluegrass & Gospel) and Greg Latta (Acoustic Folk)

The three student shows (subject to change) will be scheduled for Friday, Nov. 7 or Saturday, Nov. 8; Friday, Nov. 21 or Saturday, Nov. 22; and Friday, Dec. 5 or Saturday, Dec. 6.

For information, call x4797.

Take Note

Gibraltar 2.0

FSU President Jonathan Gibraltar is kicking off the semester by introducing a new way to communicate with the campus community. "Blog from the 'BURG," his new presidential blog, debuts today. Go to <http://blogfromtheburg.blogspot.com> to check it out.

"I see this blog as a new outlet to communicate with faculty, staff and students, in addition to talking to them in person, which remains a very important way for us to meet and discuss FSU's goals and challenges together," Dr. Gibraltar said. "Here on Blog From the 'BURG, you can post comments and share your thoughts with me, as part of a larger community conversation about FSU and how things are going."

Students, faculty, staff and members of the public are invited to bookmark the blog on their computers and explore the content. Dr. Gibraltar will use the blog to send out short campus messages and updates throughout the year.

For more information on the blog or to share comments or ideas, e-mail burghblog@frostburg.edu.

New Programs:

B.S. in Nursing Completion Program

Registered nurses and current nursing students looking to expand their skills and advance their careers can now take advantage of a new learning opportunity at FSU. FSU has received approval from the Maryland Higher Education Commission and the Maryland Board of Nursing to offer a Bachelor of Science in Nursing completion program, presented in collaboration with Allegany College of Maryland.

FSU's long-term goal is to expand the program to offer a Master of Science in Nursing, with an emphasis on developing nursing faculty.

The program is open to those who have already been licensed as registered nurses or are eligible for a license and to students who are enrolled in an associate degree program that will lead to a license. Instruction will be presented using a blended format, which includes online offerings. Blended instruction maximizes a student's scheduling flexibility while still maintaining the student-faculty connection that is essential to academic success.

FSU was awarded $250,000 from the Maryland Higher Education Investment Fund to develop its nursing program.

For information, contact Sue Coyle at sbcoyle@frostburg.edu or x4791 or visit the Web site at www.frostburg.edu/nursing.

Information Technology

FSU has been granted approval to offer a bachelor of science degree in information technology, an important component in its efforts to meet the workforce development needs of the region and the state of Maryland. The Information Technology program will be part of FSU's Department of Computer Science. A minor in information technology will also be offered.

Information technology differs from computer science in its focus. Computer science tends to be directed more purely on the design of a program, while information technology tends to be more of the bridge to the program's user.

These external skills are the purpose for the tracks - accounting, business, computer security, graphic arts and mass communication - which students in the program will choose. These are often technology-intensive disciplines that also require specialized knowledge in the field beyond the computer program itself.

The program is designed to meet the standards of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, and the University will be pursuing accreditation from that board.

For more information on FSU's new information technology program, contact Dr. Brad Rinard at x4719 or brinard@frostburg.edu.

Course Redesign Workshops Offered

• Sept. 12: Why Engage in Course Redesign? One Department Chair's Perspective. Guest NCAT Scholar: Dr. Tristan Denley. Sponsored by Hawkes Learning System: A Special Look at Math Courses. Open to anyone interested in course redesign with a presentation by Hawkes geared for math instructors. For information or to register, go to www.usmd.edu/usm/academicaffairs/courseredesign/091208ws.html

• Sept. 19: How to Engage in Course Redesign and How Clickers Can Enhance Your Student's Classroom Experience. Guest NCAT Scholar: Dr. John Broida. Sponsored by Worth Publishers. Open to anyone. For information or to register, visit www.usmd.edu/usm/academicaffairs/courseredesign/091908ws.html.

FSU takes part in course redesign through the University System of Maryland and NCAT. For information on course redesign efforts, visit www.frostburg.edu/courseredesign/index.htm.

Children's Center Accepting Students

The FSU Children's Center is beginning its 21st year of Pre-School/Extended Day Care on Tuesday, Sept. 2. Anyone interested in enrolling a child between the ages of 2 1/2 and 5 years should contact Denise Payne at x4027 or dpayne@frostburg.edu.

PeopleSoft PAWS/HRSA 9.0 Upgrade Coming

FSU is upgrading the current PeopleSoft PAWS/HRSA 8.0 system to version 9.0. This system allows students, faculty and staff to access their vital information, which includes academic, advising, employment and other information pertaining to the University.

This upgrade is critical because it will keep us current with a supported version of this software. You will notice a new look and feel to PAWS/HRSA 9.0 system. Both the Faculty Center and Student Center have changed significantly with new and improved functionality. Our goal is to make the transition from PAWS/HRSA 8.0 to PAWS/HRSA 9.0 as smooth as possible. We have set a go-live date to take place over the weekend of Oct. 10.

Law Enforcement Awareness Day Sept. 17

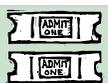

University Police will host its Second Annual Law Enforcement Awareness Day on Wednesday, Sept. 17, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Lower Quad on the FSU campus. The event is sponsored by the FSU Student Government Association and the committee is headed by Cpl. Michael Ruppenkamp.

Representatives from the University Police, as well as a number of other state, county, municipal and federal law enforcement agencies, will be on hand to provide professional demonstrations, displays, recruiting and crime prevention tips and hand-outs. Photograph and fingerprint identification for children will be provided.

If it rains, the event will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 24. For information, contact Ruppenkamp at mcruppenkamp@frostburg.edu or call x4223 to sign up.

Entertainment

Robin and Linda Williams Headline Appalachian Festival

Event Celebrates Region's Unique Culture with Music, Film, Food and Family Fun

The University community is invited to learn more about the region's rich cultural heritage during FSU's Appalachian Festival Sept. 19 and 20. Now in its third year, the much-anticipated event brings together a variety of performers and craftspeople to celebrate the natural landscape, history, food and musical and artistic offerings of the region. Robin and Linda Williams and Their Fine Group, regular contributors to Garrison Keillor's "A Prairie Home Companion," join the line-up this year as the featured musical guests at the popular Saturday evening concert that culminates the weekend of fun.

The Festival kicks things off Friday, Sept. 19, with "The Appalachian Environment," an informative symposium focusing on pressing issues affecting the Appalachian natural environment. Scheduled from noon to 6 p.m. Friday, the symposium includes hands-on workshops on sustainability initiatives throughout the day at FSU and a performance by Pennsylvania-based musician Jay Smar emphasizing the mountain region's rich coal heritage. An Appalachian Film Festival caps off Friday's festivities at 8 p.m. in the Palace Theatre in downtown Frostburg.

Then on Saturday, Sept. 20, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., check out daylong presentations, workshops, arts and crafts demonstrations, live music, Appalachian dance, environmental talks and various children's activities on the FSU campus. These festivities, held on FSU's Upper Quad, are free and open to the public and provide entertainment for all ages. Performances will include Frostburg Arion Band, South Mountain String Band, Farmington Youth Experience Community Choir, "That's It" Barbershop Quartet, FSU favorites Academic Probation, Highland Grass and the Woodticks, among many other talented artists. Frostburg's Appalachian Festival culminates with 7:30 p.m. Saturday night at the Palace Theatre with a special concert featuring Robin and Linda Williams and Their Fine Group.

For more information about the Appalachian Festival and to reserve tickets to see Robin and Linda Williams, contact FSU folklorist Kara Rogers

Thomas at x3124 or e-mail krogerstomas@frostburg.edu. The Appalachian Festival Web site is www.frostburg.edu/events/afestival.

Cultural Events Series Offers Exciting Season

With 14 acts and five different venues, the 2008-2009 FSU Cultural Events Series promises to be another exciting season of musical and theatrical performances for all ages, bringing the best of Broadway, world-class jazz, children's events and high-energy performances to Western Maryland and the tri-state region.

FSU's two performance series, the Main Stage Series and the CES Jazz Club sponsored by Kauffman Music, along with several special events, provide tons of opportunities for both residents and visitors to enjoy metropolitan-quality performances at an affordable price and in easy-access venues. Tickets are on sale now.

The CES season starts with a hilarious bang at 8 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 12, with the ninth incarnation of "Forbidden Broadway 'Special Victims Unit,'" an off-Broadway musical revue that gives scathing homage to Broadway's biggest shows and brightest stars. Among this year's "Special Victims" are the puppets of "Avenue Q," the witches of "Wicked" and parodies of old favorites, including "Little Shop of Horrors," "Les Miserables," "Beauty and the Beast" and Mel Brooks' "The Producers." "Forbidden Broadway" will be performed at FSU's Pealer Recital Hall in the Performing Arts Center for one show only.

The rest of the season's events:

- Entertainer and motivator David Parker introduces children of all ages to theatre. A free with-ticket performance will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 22, at Frostburg's Mountain Ridge High School.
- Barrage's "High Strung" fiddle fest is scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 27, in the Harold J. Cordts Physical Education Center's Main Arena. Six violin players, a guitarist, a bass player and a drummer create an eclectic mix of music, song and dance.
- The Capitol Steps, known for poking fun at politics, will perform at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 30, at FSU's Pealer Recital Hall in the Performing Arts Center.
- The Maryland Symphony Orchestra, led by music director and conductor Elizabeth Schulze, returns to Pealer at 8 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 17, and will perform three masterworks: Wagner's "Prelude to Die Meistersinger," Brahms' "Violin Concerto," featuring the return of guest violinist Rachel Barton Pine, and Dvorak's "Symphony No. 8."
- Grammy award-winner Kathy Mattea brings her coal-mining heritage to "Moving Mountains" at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 9, at Mountain Ridge High School in Frostburg.
- Jazz master tenor saxophonist Jimmy Heath and his quartet will be the first event in the CES Jazz Club sponsored by Kauffman Music series, at the Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall, at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 22.

- Toma'seen Foley's "A Celtic Christmas" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 2, in FSU's Pealer Recital Hall.
 - Preview performances of the musical "Bye Bye Birdie" will come to the PAC's Drama Theatre at 8 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 23, and Saturday, Jan. 24, 3 p.m. and 8 p.m.
 - Esperanza Spalding, a 23-year old bassist, vocalist and composer will bring her voice and her instrumental chops to the stage at Windsor Hall at Town Centre on Sunday, Feb. 8. Patrons have the option of a 5 p.m. Supper Club or 6:30 p.m. concert only.
 - The Cat in the Hat will be host, emcee and all around mischief maker in TheatreworksUSA production of "Seussical" on Sunday, March 8 at 3 and 7 p.m. in FSU's Pealer Recital Hall. This fast-paced, whimsical adaptation of the original Broadway version is perfect for ages 4 and up.
 - One of America's pre-eminent pianists George Winston will take the stage at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 1, at FSU's Pealer Recital Hall.
 - Composer and lyricist Neil Berg returns to CES at 8 p.m. Friday, April 17, with a brand new, high energy theatrical rock concert event, "The Twelve," to be performed on stage at Mountain Ridge High School. "The Twelve" pairs each of the 12 apostles with a different, well-known, classic rock style.
 - Wrapping up the season will be Shakespeare's rousing story of courage and the price of glory, "Henry V," presented by The Acting Company/Guthrie Theatre at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 28, in the Drama Theatre of the Performing Arts Center.
- Ticket packages and discounts are available, including the Build Your Own Series for those planning on attending several events throughout the year; Corporate Nights offering group pricing, priority seating and personalized service; and Group Sales, with special rates for purchases of 15 or more tickets for a single performance. Tickets may be ordered from 1-866-849-9237, x3137 or by <http://ces.frostburg.edu>.

Points of Pride

FSU Earns High Marks in Princeton Review's 'Green Rating' of colleges

FSU made the grade in having a green campus when it received a score of 85 in the Princeton Review's "Green Rating" of colleges. The Green Rating is a numerical score of 60 to 99 that the Princeton Review tallied for 534 colleges and universities based on data it collected from the schools concerning their environmentally related policies, practices and academic offerings. FSU's score of 85 is in the top half of that ranking, just 5 points short of the level of "Green Rating Honor Roll."

The Princeton Review created the Green Rating to help students identify schools that are committed to environmental issues in their practices, use of resources and academic and research programs.

FSU Workshops Net National Certification on Residential PV Generation Systems

Area electricians, contractors, engineers and other interested parties will have an opportunity to expand their knowledge of photovoltaic (PV) generation systems, thanks to FSU's latest inroads in providing educational programs on renewable energy: FSU recently received approval from the North American Board of Certified Energy Practitioners (NABCEP) to offer workshops and entry-level certification exams on designing, installing and maintaining residential PV generation systems.

FSU is currently the only NABCEP-approved provider of PV workshops and certification exams in Maryland and throughout the region that covers Virginia, Washington, D.C., West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Kentucky. For information, visit www.nabcep.org.

FSU English Professor LaFemina Nets Prestigious Pushcart Prize

Gerry LaFemina, an English professor at FSU, recently joined the ranks of some of America's most notable writers when he won the Pushcart Prize, an American literary award that recognizes the best writing published by small presses.

"It's a great honor to win one of these things," LaFemina said. "I've been nominated eight other times, so ninth time is the charm! I'm excited—it's been a great year for me as a writer, and this just adds to it."

LaFemina was honored for his poem, "Returning Home in the MG Just Before Dawn," a work that was published in the Summer 2007 issue of "The Chattahoochee Review," a nationally recognized literary magazine sponsored by Georgia Perimeter College.

"Returning Home in the MG Just Before Dawn" will be featured in "The Pushcart Prize XXXIII: Best of the Small Presses," which will be published in December.

LaFemina is the Distinguished Poet-in-Residence at FSU, directs that school's Frostburg Center for Creative Writing and serves as assistant professor in FSU's Department of English.

- Dan Fiscus, Biology, in May co-authored, in collaboration with Sunshine Brosi and Peggy Biser, an Appalachian Regional Commission proposal that was funded for $7,500 for two student interns

He also in June attended a three-week forestry field techniques class with Allegany College of Maryland forestry faculty and students and two FSU students, where he began discussions toward more forest ecology and forestry collaboration with Allegany College. In July he led an FSU Arboretum workday for 35 students and staff of Upward Bound from Potomac State College. They removed invasive knotweed and planted native grasses and wildflowers.

On July 22 he gave an invited talk at the Hickory Environmental Education Center as part of the Natural Resources Careers Camp (NRCC) for about 30 students, counselors and camp directors.

- This summer, Senior Sarah McIntire was honored a second time as a Junior Fellow for the Library of Congress's Summer Internship Program. McIntire was one of 50 U.S. college students selected from over 200 applicants for this 10-week paid internship. She is also a minor in sociology and hopes to pursue a Master's in Library Science degree after graduation. In addition to this honor, she is a 2008 recipient of the department's Pauline Justin Hobbs scholarship. To see her recent LOC press release, visit www.loc.gov/today/pr/2008/08-113.html.

Get Involved

Participate in Annual Fall Diversity Retreat

FSU students interested in diversity issues have the opportunity to participate in the 10th Annual Diversity Retreat. The event is scheduled from 4 p.m. Friday, Oct. 10, through 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 12. Offered by the Black Student Alliance and the Diversity Center, this year's theme is "Building Community: Forming a More Perfect Union." The retreat will include workshops on Diversity and other related activities intended to promote student awareness and empowerment in diversity issues, coalition building and social justice.

While former participants are welcome, new students are strongly encouraged to participate. This is an excellent opportunity to spend quality time with students from various cultural, ethnic, racial and other groups to develop relationships and understandings that reach beyond the surface.

Applications are available at the Lane University Center Information Desk and in the Diversity Center in Hitchins 122. Completed applications must be submitted before Sept. 19. Participation is limited and there is a selection process based on information provided in the application. Applicants are advised to submit a thoughtful response to the paragraph prompt. Those selected will be required to complete additional forms to confirm your commitment to attend and participate.

All Black Student Alliance and Diversity Center activities and events are open to ALL FSU students regardless of ability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, etc.

For information, contact Robin Wynder at x4050.

Get Down to Business

FSU students who are interested in accounting, business administration or economics are invited to learn more about these exciting areas of study by visiting Tammy Shockey at the College of Business Advising Center in Framptom Hall 319 to discuss the programs, declare a major and be assigned faculty advisors. The College of Business Advising Center hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5:30 p.m. For information, call x4008.

Activities for Life

For information and registration, call AFL Coordinator Amy Nazelrod at x7934.

Infant-Toddler and Pre-School Swimming

Infant-Toddler and Pre-School swim lessons will be offered at the Cordts PE Center Swimming Pool Mondays and Wednesdays, Sept. 8 to 22, from 6 to 6:45 p.m. The Infant-Toddler Swimming Class is for children ages 3 to 36 months and the Pre-School Class is for children ages 3 and 4. Both infant-toddler and pre-school swimming classes require parents to be in the water and to participate along with their children. Advance registration is required.

Community Memberships

Activities for Life will offer Community Membership to the Cordts Physical Education Center. Members, depending on the level they purchase, will be able to utilize the PE Center activity areas to include the swimming pool, weight rooms, racquetball, squash and tennis courts, as well as the practice gym.

The three levels of membership for families and individuals will consist of the Gold, Silver and Bronze distinctions. Family memberships are based on a family up to four. For each additional family member thereafter, there will be an added charge. Family members are defined as immediate family members, married couples and direct dependents under the age of 18.

For more information, visit <http://www.frostburg.edu/events/community/htm> or contact Amy Nazelrod.

Tumbling Classes

A variety of tumbling classes will be offered for children ranging in age from 3 to 12, all beginning Sept. 16. The location for all three classes will be in the Cordts PE Center in room 170. Advance registration is required.

The Pre-School Tumbling classes are for children ages 3 to 4 (limited to 12 students) who have little or no formal tumbling training, and will be conducted on Tuesdays, Sept. 16 to Nov. 18, from 4:30 to 5 p.m. Pre-School children should be potty-trained. The classes will include activities such as cartwheels, rolls and other simple movements.

The Beginning Tumbling classes will be held on Tuesdays, Sept. 16 to Oct. 14, from 5 to 6 p.m. for children ages 5 to 12. The classes will include basic floor tumbling exercises and some work on the low balance beam. This is not an advanced tumbling class. Space is limited to 15 students, with a minimum of 7.

The Intermediate Tumbling classes will meet on Tuesdays, Sept. 16 to Oct. 14, from 6 to 7 p.m. for children ages 5 to 12. Prerequisites include a round-off and a kick over from a bridge (back walk-over). Space is limited to 10 students with a minimum of 6.

Community

AAUW Meets Sept. 2

The American Association of University Women (AAUW) Frostburg Branch will kick off its 2008-09 business year on Tuesday, Sept. 2, at the United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall on Main Street in downtown Frostburg. A covered dish dinner at 6 p.m. will begin the evening's agenda with a presentation by Jerilyn Jackson, director of "Frostburg First."

Jackson will discuss Frostburg's program for economic development, "Frostburg First," which focuses on downtown district projects that promote "Main Street Communities" such as Frostburg.

On Sept. 2, a brief business agenda will discuss attendance at the upcoming AAUW State Fall Conference in Hagerstown on Sept. 27; this year's national AAUW's focus "Breaking through Barriers"; and a local Frostburg Branch fundraiser.

For the covered dish dinner, please bring enough to serve 10 to 12 people. Refreshment hostesses Janet Harden, Dorothea Rowe and Charren Nelson will provide seasonal table décor, dinnerware, rolls, condiments and beverages. Interested persons are invited. For information, contact Yvonne Beal at 301-689-6849.

Trident Initiative Sets 3rd Annual Conference

FSU's Trident Initiative and the Western Maryland SCORE Chapters in Hagerstown and Cumberland will conduct the Third Annual Entrepreneurship conference from Sept. 25 to Sept. 26 at the University System of Maryland in Hagerstown (USMH).

Titled "Regional Renaissance ... Transforming Communities through Entrepreneurial Activity," this event will focus on business and entrepreneurial opportunities in the Western Maryland region, and in particular, the Hagerstown area. The conference will highlight the transformational impact of entrepreneurial efforts that directly affect the Hagerstown community. A variety of themes will be covered, including the best practices in the area of green businesses, the movement towards the "greening" of businesses as well as the importance of the "microentrepreneur." Innovations in agricultural entrepreneurship, educational efforts to spur entrepreneurship in the regions and programs established by all levels of government to support entrepreneurs will be discussed as well.

The conference will also recognize and honor entrepreneurs of the region with a view to showcasing the region's "best practices" in small business. Awards for the Model Entrepreneur and Young Entrepreneur of the Year will be presented at the Awards Luncheon.

The conference will serve the needs of both prospective and current entrepreneurs along with member of the academic community and government officials as well. David W. Edgerley, Secretary, Maryland Department of Business and economic Development (DBED), will address the conference.

For information, contact Dr. Sudhir Singh at x4093 or ssingh@frostburg.edu, or www.frostburg.edu/trident.

Science, Engineering & Technology Showcase

As part of its Family Weekend celebration, FSU will be exhibiting student, faculty and staff achievements in technology through a Science, Engineering, and Technology Showcase. Through interactive demonstrations, students and their families can experience and enjoy an understanding of and appreciation for the high level of technology fluency among our students, faculty, and staff.

The Showcase will be held in the Compton Science Center on Saturday, Sept. 27, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. For more details on the Family Weekend Science, Engineering, and Technology Showcase, contact Stacey Utley-Bernhardt at x4211.

Safety Message

Campus Emergency Evacuation Procedures

FOR STAFF: All employees shall be familiar with a primary and secondary evacuation route from each area within the building where they work. Evacuation routes are any clear hallway that leads to the stairs and the outside of the building.

When an alarm sounds, the employee shall immediately evacuate the building in safe and orderly manner to the nearest clear exit. DO NOT USE THE ELEVATOR.

Assist any individual requiring additional help. Instruct any other occupants of the building to evacuate the building immediately. Don't congregate near the exits.

When safely out of the building, contact University Police at x4222 by cell phone or from another building. The building shall not be re-entered until an "all clear" is given by University Police.

FOR FACULTY: Instructors should be familiar with a primary and a secondary evacuation route from each area of the classroom building. During the first class, faculty should share with students evacuation routes and tell them not to use the elevator in an emergency. This information should be repeated in a fire alarm sounds.

When an alarm sounds, the instructor must immediately release the class, telling the students to proceed in a safe and orderly fashion towards the nearest clear exit. The instructor should leave as well.

The instructor should assist any handicapped or mobility impaired individuals out of the building or to an enclosed stair tower where they will be protected from flame, smoke and gasses. If an impaired person is left in a stair tower, the University Police must be notified immediately after exiting the building.

If conditions permit, heat-generating appliances should be turned off. Doors and windows should be shut when exiting the room.

Make sure students don't congregate near building exits. The building should not be re-entered until an "all clear" is given by a University Police officer.

Watch for other safety tips that pertain to your work place or your assigned task. Preventing employee injury is the responsibility of every employee.

If you have any questions, call x4897.
