FSU Police, Student Government Receive Governor's Crime Prevention Award

FSU Police has won the Maryland State Governor's Crime Prevention Award for the 20th consecutive year, and this year, the FSU Student Government Association has also won the prestigious award in its first year of nomination for its SafeRide program. The awards are presented to groups or individuals who have "made outstanding contributions to the furtherance of crime prevention programming."

The Student Government Association won the award in category C, Community Groups, Organizations or Individual Citizens. SafeRide is a student-run program that offers other FSU students a safe, alternative ride home from any Frostburg event on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights from 10 p.m. to 2:30 a.m. The program is designed to promote safety and awareness to students and encourage them not to drink and drive.

Students call the SafeRide office and speak with dispatchers. The dispatchers will then relay the call and location of the riders to the "tag-along" riding with the van driver. The van will then stop at the designated location and offer students a free ride home. Students can also stop the van along its route and ask for a ride. SafeRide is in its third year of operation and has given out thousands of rides to FSU students.

"SafeRide has contributed to a decrease in crime in our community. DUI numbers, along with other crimes related to alcohol abuse, are significantly down," said Sgt. T.S. Donahue of University Police.

"Alcohol is a challenge area to deal with in our community, and in any college community. The issue must be addressed from multiple angles. SafeRide is a great example of this," said Dr. Jesse Ketterman, FSU dean of students. "The program indirectly reduced vandalism and noise on streets where students travel. As a result, this program has been welcomed by the community and Frostburg City Police."

In addition to SafeRide, University Police is being recognized again for its impressive efforts to make sure every student in Frostburg is safe. The department was recognized under category A, Governor's Crime Prevention Award for Law Enforcement Agencies. The department strives to educate every student on personal safety, rape prevention, drug and alcohol education, theft prevention, residential and commercial activity as well as other topics specific to college populations.

FSU's police department is considered unique in its approach to crime prevention. Instead of having an individual or division dedicated to preventing crime, every single officer is expected to educate students, faculty and staff by completing at least eight crime prevention activities each year. To ensure every student is safe, University Police takes a hands-on approach to crime prevention. Officers may be found in the classroom, heard on the airwaves, read on the Internet or seen in a demonstration.

Each year, the Maryland Community Crime Prevention Institute with the Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services, the Maryland Police and Correctional Training Commissions and the Maryland Crime Prevention Association present the Annual Governor's Crime Prevention Awards.

For info, call University Police at x4223.

Theatre

'Musical Comedy Murders' to Be at FSU

Murder, betrayal and ever-changing plots with a comedic twist are on deck as "Musical Comedy Murders of 1940" by John Bishop will be presented at FSU Oct. 8, 9 and 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre.

The creative team of a recent Broadway flop (in which three chorus girls were mysteriously murdered by the "stage door slasher") assembles at the estate of a wealthy benefactor to hold auditions for their new show. All goes according to plan until a blizzard cuts off connection to the outside, and the slasher strikes again. Boasting an intriguing variety of suspenseful elements, "Musical Comedy Murders" sparkles with comedic wit, as fingers point in all directions to reveal the slasher's identity.

Season subscriptions for students and non-students will be on sale until Oct. 10. Main Stage subscriptions are $40 and provide one ticket per show for all Main Stage productions. Student subscriptions are $30 and provide the owner with one ticket per show for Main Stage and Second Stage productions. Individual tickets are $6 for students and $12 for general admission.

For info, call the Theatre and Dance Box Office at x7462, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 until 4 p.m.

Music

Maryland Symphony Orchestra Returns

Under the vibrant baton of music director and conductor Elizabeth Schulze, the Maryland Symphony Orchestra returns to FSU on Friday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m. The highly acclaimed MSO, now in its 28th season, revisits Frostburg to perform a trio of captivating classical works in the PAC Pealer Recital Hall as part of the University's Cultural Events Series.

The orchestra will present Tomas Svoboda's "Overture of the Season," Antonin Dvorak's "Symphony No. 6 in D" and Samuel Barber's "Violin Concerto" with special guest violinist Elena Urioste. Named by Symphony magazine as an emerging artist to watch, Urioste made her debut with the Philadelphia Orchestra at 13.

As part of CES' Art Outreach program, Schulze and Urioste will host an interactive discussion on the evening's musical selections at 7 p.m., before the orchestra presents its concert. While there is a ticket charge for the concert, the discussion is free and open to the public. It will be held in the Performing Arts Center as well.

Tickets for the Maryland Symphony Orchestra performance are $30 per person. A group discount ticket rate is also available. Tickets may be ordered by calling x3137 or visiting ces.frostburg.edu.

Goodman in Recital at FSU

FSU's Department of Music will present Lindsey Goodman in a recital of contemporary flute and electronic music with pianist Dr. Joan DeVee Dixon on Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 3 p.m. in PAC Pealer Recital Hall. The recital is part of the department's Guest Artist Series. The performance and a masterclass to follow are free and open to the public.

Goodman's program will include "Everything is Green" by Randall Woolf, "Under the Rainbow" by Mathew Rosenblum, "Lipstick" by Jacob ter Veldhuis and "Intimate Exchanges" by Arthur Kreiger.

After her performance, Goodman will host a masterclass for FSU music majors and the public during which she will address fundamental aspects of flute playing, as well as how to organize a musical commission, how to approach music for acoustic instruments with electronics, and practice techniques for effective doubling between flute, piccolo and alto flute.

Goodman holds the Martha Gaines Werhle chair as the principal flutist of the West Virginia Symphony Orchestra and is the solo flutist of the Pittsburgh New Music Ensemble (PNME). With PNME, Goodman has recorded two CDs, made two international tours and been featured eight times as a soloist. An advocate of contemporary music, she has given over 30 world premieres and has performed with the contemporary chamber orchestra Alarm Will Sound.

For info, contact FSU's Department of Music at x4109.

FSU Wind Ensemble to Perform

The FSU Wind Ensemble will perform a concert Sunday, Oct. 11, at 3 p.m. in PAC Pealer Recital Hall.

Featured on the program are selected movements from Johan de Meij's Symphony No. 1, entitled "The Lord of the Rings." Written in 1987, each movement of the symphony illustrates a character or important episode from the popular literary trilogy by J.R.R. Tolkien. Also featured on the program is "Mannin Veen," by Haydn Wood, based on a collection of folk songs from the Isle of Man in the Irish Sea. Admission is $5 for adults, $3 for students and free for youth under 17. For info, call the FSU Department of Music at x4109.

Presentations

Fall African American Lecture Series Begins

Guy P. Djoken, president of NAACP in Frederick County, Md., and chair of the Press and Publicity Committee for the Conference of NAACP, will speak on the challenges of African American activists in the 21st century Tuesday, Oct. 6, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in Compton 327. The reading is free and open to the public.

Djoken, a civil rights activist and author of "What a Century!" serves as executive director of the UNESCO Center for Peace and is a member of the Hood College African American Studies Advisory Committee and the Maryland FBI Multicultural Advisory Council. He has won the Citigroup Community Partner Award and Hood College Thurgood Marshall Award for outstanding community service.

For info, contact Dr. James Saku at x4724 or jsaku@frostburg.edu.

The Time Has Come to Protect Groundwater!

On Monday, Oct. 12, the Western Maryland American Chemical Society will host Dr. Thomas M. Spittler at 6:30 p.m. at Ryan's restaurant in Hagerstown, Md. The title of the talk is "Groundwater Protection – A Problem Whose Time Has Come."

Contamination of groundwater by leaks from underground storage tanks is widespread. Fortunately, the technology for investigating volatile contamination is well defined, and the instrumentation is available and relatively inexpensive. This lecture will cover the areas of instrumentation, investigative techniques and available remediation procedures. Emphasis will be placed on practical and cost-effective methodology and will show how local communities can be active participants in the effort to protect their now-clean water supplies from future contamination. Also, there will be some discussion of available approaches to the cleanup of existing problems and how newer techniques may prove more cost-effective.

For info, contact Don Weser at x4157 or Peggy Biser at x3193.

Visual Arts

Art Exhibition Invites Artists to Submit Work

"What Dreams May Come" is a community art exhibition that will be at the Saville Gallery in Downtown Cumberland. Sponsored by the Allegany Arts Council, FSU Art Club and Kappa Pi, it is open to artists in the tri-state region. Artwork can be in any media and creative interpretations of "dreams" are encouraged.

Drop-off of artwork for jurying will be at FSU's Fine Arts Building, Room 128, on Thursday, Oct. 8, and Friday, Oct. 9, from noon to 5 p.m. There will be a fee of $3 per entry and artists may submit up to four. Forms will be available as artwork is dropped off.

The juror this year is Professor Joe Campbell from Frederick Community College. Jurying will take place on Saturday, Oct. 10.

Artwork not accepted for the exhibit may be picked up on Sunday, Oct. 11, and Monday, Oct. 12, from noon to 4 p.m. in Fine Arts 128.

All accepted artwork will be installed at the Saville Gallery and available for viewing by Wednesday, Oct. 14. The exhibit will only be up for four days and will conclude with a closing reception and awards ceremony at the gallery Saturday, Oct. 17, from 6 to 8 p.m. The reception is free and open to the public.

Exhibiting artists may take their artwork home after the reception, or artwork may be picked up from the Fine Arts Building Monday, Oct. 19.

For info, contact Jackie Brown at 301-722-4354 or jbrown@frostburg.edu.

Points of Pride

FSU Honors Three With Staff Awards

FSU honored three outstanding employees, Beth Andrews, Michael Beeman and Colleen Stump, at its recent Fall Convocation. The annual Staff Awards for Excellence recognize outstanding service to the institution, and the recipients are nominated and chosen by their colleagues.

Beth Andrews was honored in the category of Nonexempt employee. An employee at FSU for 17 years, Andrews is the administrative assistant and box office manager for the Department of Theatre and Dance and Communication Studies. Andrews is known for coming up with ways to improve services, such as the new box office ticketing system. Students benefit from her eagerness to help them find financial aid and her assistance in writing letters and helping find community resources.

Michael Beeman was recognized under the Nonexempt employee/facilities/maintenance category. An FSU employee for 15 years, he is known for going above and beyond the call of duty in the residence halls. Beeman cares a lot about his work and is constantly vigilant about the safety and comfort of FSU students living in the residence halls.

In the Exempt (salaried) employee category, Colleen Stump has been honored for her 30 years of dedication and support to the FSU community. Stump has served in various roles, including the University's first-ever graphic designer and director of Publications. Her talents have been displayed on many committees, including Strategic Planning, Enrollment Management and the Marketing and Branding Task Force. She is associate vice president for University Advancement, with the responsibility for communications and media relations. Her commitment goes beyond FSU to include contributing countless volunteer hours to her church and local organizations such as the YMCA and the Board of Education of Allegany County.

Recipients were given a plaque, a certificate commemorating their dedication and a monetary award. Staff Awards for Excellence are funded by the FSU Foundation Annual Fund Campaign.

ACPS Hosts Earth Science Academy

During the week of Aug. 10, 31 teachers from Allegany County public schools participated in the Earth Science Rocks Academy at FSU. The academy is a 15-month professional development training program that gives teachers the opportunity to enhance their background knowledge of Earth science, technology and pedagogy teaching skills.

Dr. Matthew Ramspott, third from left, and Dr. Phillip Allen, fourth from left, assistant professors in the Geography Department at FSU, hosted the academy. Dr. Thomas Small, former FSU Geography Department chair, traveled with the group during their last day to provide local geology information.

The academy is funded by a Math and Science Partnership (MSP) grant through the Maryland State Department of Education, which was awarded to Allegany and Washington counties and the Eastern Shore Consortium. Allegany County's MSP grant has been funded for the past two years, with the grant's content focusing on physics and chemistry. The focus for the 2009-2010 school year is Earth science.

Each year teachers apply to participate in the academy's five-day summer session before the school year, two pull-out days during the school year and another five-day session at the end of the school year. Teachers participate in 90 hours of college-level course work and can earn up to six MSDE credits at the completion of the academy. Participants are fourth- through eighth-grade teachers and include special education teachers and teachers from nonpublic schools.

Clulee Keynote Speaker at Conference

Dr. Nicholas Clulee, a professor in the History Department, participated in the John Dee Quatercentenary Conference on Sept. 21 and 22 at St. John's College at Cambridge University. Joining scholars from England, Scotland, France, Italy, Portugal and New Zealand examining the career and legacy of the pre-eminent Elizabethan scientist and polymath, Clulee presented a keynote paper, "Generating, Organizing and Promoting Knowledge: John Dee's Ideas of a Research Institute."

S.A.F.E./BURG

Upcoming Activities

Jail Bail, Tuesday, Oct. 6, to Thursday, Oct. 8. Support peer education at this 16th annual fundraiser and DWI awareness campaign. Proceeds help students attend a national peer education conference.

SSS Program, Monday, Oct. 12, 7 p.m., Edgewood. Smashed, sex and sleep are the three topics of discussion. This education program deals with serious issues that college students must confront. Learn how to make healthy choices in a nonjudgmental, humorous and interactive atmosphere.

Take Note

Weight Watchers

A new Weight Watchers at Work group meets every Monday at noon in the Cordts Leake Room. New attendees are welcome, and the cost will be prorated based on registration date.

If you currently attend another community meeting, consider the convenience of attending a meeting on campus. If you have prepaid coupons that have not expired, you can apply them to this series and pay the difference. Bring coupons and membership book to the first meeting. If you hold a current monthly pass and want to join the group, contact Patty Lemmert at x4368 for details.

Help Is Here!

Invest an hour at one of the following academic probation meetings to ensure you can return to FSU for the spring 2010 semester:

- Monday, Oct. 5, 4 p.m., Compton 327
- Tuesday, Oct. 6, 3:30 p.m., Compton 226
- Thursday, Oct. 8, 12:30 p.m., Compton 226

SI Workshop

The PASS Office and CTE will host a Supplemental Instruction workshop Tuesday, Oct. 13, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Pullen Distance Education classroom.

SI is a nationally recognized program developed to support student retention in historically difficult courses. SI also increases re-enrollment and graduation rates and, over the long-term, proves cost-effective.

Higher education institutions have been implementing the SI model for over 25 years to support student learning outside the classroom. FSU currently offers SI instruction in Introduction to Psychology courses but with this workshop, hopes to expand its SI program and offerings.

The purpose of this staff development is to provide a general overview of the SI program and share experiences and suggestions for program implementation. This is an all-day workshop and attendees can come and go. Sessions will be conducted by Wendy L. Wilson, University Counseling Center, UMD. The schedule for the day is:

- 8-9:15 a.m. Overview
 - 9:30-10:45 a.m. SI Supervisor Role and Responsibilities
 - 11 a.m.-2:15 p.m. Faculty Participation and Student Expectations
 - 12:15-1:30 p.m. Lunch
 - 1:45-2:45 p.m. Leader Orientation and Training/Supervision
 - 3-4 p.m. Evaluating SI's Effectiveness
- E-mail CTE@frostburg.edu to reserve a seat.

Last Day for Grade Changes!

The last day for undergraduate grade changes for the spring and summer 2009 semesters is Tuesday, Oct. 13. This includes removal of incomplete grades.

Graduation Exceptions

If your official degree progress report indicates you have not completed all requirements and you have a basis to request an exception, submit your written appeal letter and supporting letters and documentation to the Academic Standards Subcommittee, Office of the Provost, Hitchins 213, by 4 p.m. Oct. 15 for the October meeting or Nov. 12 for the November meeting (last chance for graduation exceptions and inclusion in the Commencement Booklet). For info, call the Provost's Office at x4212.

Grant Applications Solicited

Do you have a great idea for encouraging students to demonstrate an entrepreneurial spirit, hone their leadership and/or critical thinking skills or enhance their determination to be successful? Be on the lookout for an e-mail with a description of the Gira Campus-to-Community Grant and an application. Return the completed application to the Office of the Provost by noon Monday, Oct. 26. The effort could yield a grant of $500 to $2,000!

Graduating Dec. 19?

The 135th commencement ceremony is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 19, in the Cordts PE Center. The College of Business and College of Education will hold their service at 10 a.m., while the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences will present its graduates at the 2 p.m. ceremony.

Complete your graduation application in PAWS to receive info about the upcoming commencement.

The first commencement mailing is scheduled for mid-October and will be sent to your local and permanent addresses. Update your address information in PAWS to ensure you will receive all the details.

Caps and gowns are provided at no cost to graduates and may be ordered at the University Bookstore. Your order must be placed by Dec. 4.

A Grad Fair will be held Oct. 19 in Lane Manicur Hall from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Vendors will be present for ordering your class ring and diploma frames. You can also order your cap and gown and announcements.

Full details about commencement are on the University's Web site. Go to "Current Students." Commencement information is under Academics.

For info, contact Brittni Teter at x4423 or bkteter@frostburg.edu.

Frostburg Trash Collection Notice

Trash collection is provided to Frostburg citizens. Requirements are:

- All trash must be placed in bags or cans or tied securely in bundles.
- Each residence can set out up to five bags, cans or bundles for each pickup. (New)
- No bag, can or bundle may weigh more than 50 pounds.
- Trash must be placed at the curb no earlier than 8 p.m. the night before and no later than 7 a.m. the day of pickup. Return trips are not made to pick up trash not set out on time.
- All brush, cardboard or other loose material must be tied in bundles. Loose cardboard, like pizza boxes, will not be picked up.

The city is not responsible for cleaning up trash scattered by animals or not securely placed in bags or cans.

The city will not pick up trash that is not permitted in the landfill by federal, state or county regulations.

Remember every resident can help reduce the amount of trash by actively participating in recycling.

Internships

Beall Institute Accepting Applications

The Beall Institute is accepting applications for its Annapolis internship program. The Beall internship is available to applicants expressing an interest in a public service career as a manager, planner or policy analyst.

Up to four internship slots are available, and depending on housing situations and quality of applicants, more may be available. The selected intern will serve in a Maryland delegate's or state senator's office in Annapolis during the legislative session from early January through the middle of April 2010. Democratic and Republican officeholders are represented. The internships are full-time, earn 15 credit hours and are available only during the spring semester.

Depending on housing needs, selected applicants will be awarded a stipend paid directly to them to assist with lodging and transportation. These stipends are paid from the J. Glenn Beall Jr. Public Affairs Institute, a foundation established by Beall and his family and other contributors to inspire FSU students to follow a career in public service. This is a unique opportunity for FSU students to acquire hands-on experience in the legislative arena. Interns selected for service in the general assembly may also be awarded up to $1,000 paid directly from the assembly.

For info, contact Tim Magrath at x4080 or visit Guild 141. The deadline for applications is Friday, Oct. 16.

Get Involved

Awakening the DREAMER Initiative

The Awakening the DREAMER: Changing the Dream Symposium will be Sunday, Oct. 11, from 1 to 4 p.m. in Lane Manicur Hall. The symposium is a workshop designed to inspire people to take action in pursuit of a fair, peaceful and sustainable future.

The event is free and open to everyone. For info, contact Patrick O'Brien at x4210, e-mail lglg@frostburg.edu or visit <http://awakeningthedreamer.org>.

Writing Green

Students are encouraged to submit materials for the spring '09 issue of "E=(LG)2." The magazine will consider 200- to 1,000-word articles with an environmental or sustainability emphasis that pertain to student research, class activities, nature appreciations, club or Greek activities, reportage and more, including photos and digital artwork. The magazine will be published in print and online. Submit materials to lgmag@frostburg.edu by Tuesday, Oct. 20.

The portal Web site, which links to current and archived issues, is online at <http://organizations.frostburg.edu/lgmag>.

UCM Events

For info, contact Chaplain Cindy at x7490 or c.zirlott@frostburg.edu.

Faith Connections Sunday Morning. Want to visit various churches in the area but don't want to go alone? Join Chaplain Cindy Sunday for breakfast treats at 9:15 to 9:30 a.m. in 161 Tawes Hall. The group will decide which church to visit that day.

True North. True North, the weekly Sunday evening program that involves biblical explorations on various topics (and free stuff!), will meet at 7:30 p.m. in 161 Tawes Hall. The topic for the six-week period is Building a True Life in a Virtual World.

Spiritual Study Breaks. Wednesday study breaks are at 9 p.m. in Cook Chapel and include Christian music, videos and various prayer acts and praise experiences. The group is continuing its talent search for FSU students, staff or faculty who would like to start a praise band to be a part of this team.

S'mores and Prayers Twilight Retreat. Register now for the UCM Fall Twilight Retreat on Sat., Oct. 10, starting at 3:30 p.m. The retreat includes a mountaintop view of four states, Praying With Your Eyes Open: Listen to Nature – Listen to God prayer experience, campfire food and bonfire and s'mores. The event is free, but registration is required to ensure transportation.

Unite Against Hunger Concert. The Christian student groups on campus will host a Christian rock concert to cap off

Homecoming festivities Sunday, Oct. 18. This is a benefit concert for two Hunger Relief projects. Cost of admission is a minimum of one can of food for the local food bank. During the concert, a donation will be taken to help with expenses and Heifer International. The band performing is K-Red; students will show off their talents during intermission; and a nationally known inspirational speaker, Bobby Petrocelli, will talk. Doors open at 6 p.m. The concert and program are from 7 to 9 p.m. in Lane Manicur Hall. The event is open to the public.

Community

MCTA Offerings

A partnership of the Allegany Arts Council, Folklore & Folklife Programming at FSU and FrostburgFirst: A Main Street Community, Mountain City Traditional Arts is dedicated to the education, sales and perpetuation of traditional art in Appalachia.

Fall Knitting Gatherings

Intermediate to Advanced Knitting with Amy Shuman (beginners are welcome, but should call ahead) will be Wednesdays, Oct. 7 and Oct. 21, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. The cost is $12.50 a class or $42 for the series of four (paid the first evening). For the first gathering, participants may bring a project they are working on or all the supplies needed to start something new. For info, call Shuman at 301-777-3719 or e-mail amy@shumanlife.com.

Conflict Resolution Day to Be Observed

The Allegany Conflict Resolution Center (ACRC) marks its second anniversary next month as a local non-profit organization. Formed to offer free community mediation services, ACRC has planned a special event to commemorate National Conflict Resolution Day. "Theatre of the Conflicted," will be Thursday, Oct. 15, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at Allegany College of Maryland (ACM) in the Continuing Education Building in Room 12-13-14. The presentation will feature a mock mediation and interactive presentations about services the center offers. Light refreshments will be served.

A proclamation designating "Conflict Resolution Day" in the City of Cumberland will be read by a member of City Council. Then, students from the Communication Studies Club at FSU and the Peace Studies Club at ACM will offer an educational production, "Theatre of the Conflicted."

"Theatre" is sponsored by the ACRC Outreach Committee, which works to seek referrals for mediation, educate the public and build relationships with other community organizations. For info, call 301-759-6658, e-mail conflictresolutioncenter@allconet.org or visit <http://www.alleganymediation.org>.

Message Board

FSU-TV3 cablecasts an automated educational and community message channel when not showing video programming. The message channel provides info about FSU events, non-profit organizations and community events. If you have an activity announcement to advertise on the FSU-TV3 message board, log on to www.frostburg.edu/dept/mcom/channel3/admin-pic/cf_upload.cfm, enter the information and click submit. A graphic or pre-made message can be loaded as well. Submit requests at least one week in advance.

For info, contact Melanie Lombardi at x3011 or mlombardi@frostburg.edu.

Taping Request Form

FSU-TV3 has a Taping Request Form for groups or departments interested in having a speaker or musician taped to air on FSU-TV3. Submit your request by logging on to www.frostburg.edu/dept/mcom/channel3/tapingreqform.htm, fill in all required information and hit submit. Be sure to give FSU-TV3 at least four weeks' notice before the event to plan the shoot.

For info, contact Melanie Lombardi at x3011 or mlombardi@frostburg.edu.

International

Study Abroad

The Center for International Education offers ways for FSU students to see the world. In some cases, students can pay FSU tuition, room and board and study for a semester in Ireland, England, Spain, France or many other countries. For info, visit the Fuller House (across the street from Braddock House) or call x4714.
