FSU Celebrates Largest Undergrad Class in Its History

FSU is welcoming the largest undergraduate class in its history, 4,755 students, thanks largely to a strong transfer class from community colleges, increased international enrollment and more students who are staying to complete their degrees at FSU. This enrollment success is reflecting increased transfer students and those who have not decided on a major: and a wide array of academic support services and monitoring programs, including tutoring, math and writing instruction, study groups, career development and assistance with the financial aid process. All of these measures are designed to keep a single area of weakness from sinking a student's entire college career.

In addition to more students staying at FSU, the University welcomed 416 transfer students, the highest number of transfers since 1991, reflecting increased success in recruitment from Maryland's community colleges.

Country Singer Sara Evans Comes to FSU

Country music singing-sensation Sara Evans will grace the CES stage at FSU in a special Family Weekend concert. The Country Music Association award winner will hit the stage of the Cordts Main Arena at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 3. Whether dominating country radio airwaves with one of her many hit singles or attracting a new legion of fans with her spirited turn on “Dancing with the Stars,” Evans’ drive, talent and determination have placed her in an elite class of artists who transcend musical genres to become a household name.

Evans has become one of the most successful female artists of her generation – a compelling, heart-in-the-throat heir to Loretta Lynn and Tammy Wynette. She’s won numerous accolades, among them the Academy of Country Music’s Female Vocalist of the Year and the Country Music Association’s Video of the Year for “Born to Fly.” She was named 2006 Female Vocalist of the Year in the R&R Reader’s Poll and has been celebrated as one of People magazine’s “50 Most Beautiful People.”

Evans has earned numerous No. 1 hits, including “Born to Fly,” “No Place That Far,” “Suds in the Bucket” and “A Real Fine Place to Start,” which spent two weeks at the top of the country charts. Of the five albums she has released, her second set, “No Place That Far,” has been certified gold, 2001’s “Born to Fly” is double-platinum and 2003’s “Restless” and 2005’s “Real Fine Place” are both platinum.

Always looking to stretch herself artistically, Evans has continued to develop her gift as a songwriter. Her fourth album, “Restless,” spawned the hit “Perfect,” which she penned with Tom Shapiro and Tony Martin. She followed “Restless” with “Real Fine Place,” which served up four hit singles.

Tickets for Sara Evans are $38 for advance reserved floor seats and $25 for advance reserved bleachers seats. Tickets for all seating are an additional $10 at the door. Group rate tickets are also available. Tickets may be ordered by calling 1-866-849-9237, or visiting ces.frostburg.edu.

Community College. These agreements ensure a smooth transfer to FSU, with regular advising on course selection and prospective majors, as well as allowing the community college students to join in on FSU’s student life through access to activities, athletic events and communications. For info, contact the FSU Office of Admissions at x4201 or visit www.frostburg.edu.
Jazz Violinist Phenom Comes to FSU

The Jazz Club welcomes Regina Carter, jazz violinist, who will perform with her quintet Thursday, Oct. 1, in Lane Manicur Hall at 7:30 p.m. as part of her “Reverse Thread” tour. In 1994, Carter’s first album was released. Since then, she has played with a broad range of musicians – from jazz trumpeter Wynton Marsalis and R&B legend Aretha Franklin to Patti Labelle, Mary J. Blige and Lauryn Hill. She also lent her musical expertise to the score of the Ken Burns documentary “The Civil War.”

She has released five CDs with a sixth, “Reverse Thread,” to be released in 2010. In spring 2006 Carter received an honorary doctorate in human service. She has also lent her musical expertise to the score of the Ken Burns documentary “The Civil War.”

She has released five CDs with a sixth, “Reverse Thread,” to be released in 2010. In spring 2006 Carter received an honorary doctorate in human service. She has also lent her musical expertise to the score of the Ken Burns documentary “The Civil War.”

Carter’s “Reverse Thread” is one of three CES performances to offer a dinner package before the performance. Guests enjoy parking access in the PAC lot and dine on a catered meal in a private restaurant setting in the Lane Center. Dinner includes soup or salad, entree with sides, dessert and coffee or iced tea. A cash bar is available through dinner. Tickets for Carter’s “Reverse Thread” are $17 for adults and $12 for young people under 17. Group rate tickets are also available. Prices for the Performance and Pre-Performance Dinner Package are $42 for adults and $37 for those under 17. A discounted season package (three dinners) is also available. Tickets may be ordered by calling x3137 or 1-866-849-9237, or by visiting ces.frostburg.edu.

Johnny Staats to Lead Music Workshop

Local mandolin, guitar and banjo players can hone their instrumental skills at the Roots Music Series workshops and concert presents Johnny Staats & the Delivery Boys band in Frostburg Saturday, Oct. 3.

Mandolin virtuoso Staats, former National Flatpicking Champion guitarist Robert Shaffer and banjoist Butch Osborne will conduct the workshops. While novices are encouraged to attend the workshops and observe the techniques, participants should have at least an intermediate skill level on their instrument. The workshops will be held at City Place on Water Street from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Jonny Staats & the Delivery Boys band will wrap up the fall Roots Music Series with a concert at the Palace Theatre on Main Street in Frostburg beginning at 8 p.m.

Concert tickets will be available at the door or in advance from the Allegany Arts Council, the Book Center in Cumberland or Main Street Books in Frostburg. For info, contact the Allegany Arts Council at 301-777-ARTS (2787) or visit www.alleganyarts.council.org.

Musical Comedy Murders’ to Be at FSU

Muder, betrayal and ever-changing plots with a comedic twist are on deck as “Musical Comedy Murders of 1940” by John Bishop will be presented at FSU beginning Friday, Oct. 2, and continuing Oct. 3, 8, 9 and 10 at 7:30 p.m., with a matinee performance on Oct. 3 at 2 p.m. in the F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre.

The creative team of a recent Broadway flop (in which three chorus girls were mysteriously murdered by the “stage door slasher”) assembles at the estate of a wealthy benefactor to hold auditions for their new show. All goes according to plan until a blizzard cuts off connection to the outside and the slasher strikes again. Boasting an intriguing variety of suspenseful elements, “Musical Comedy Murders” sparkles with comedic wit, as fingers point in all directions to reveal the slasher’s identity.

Season subscriptions for students and non-students will be on sale until Oct. 10. Main Stage subscriptions are $40 and provide one ticket per show for all Main Stage productions. Student subscriptions are $30 and provide the owner with one ticket per show for Main Stage and Second Stage productions. Individual tickets are $6 for students and $12 for general admission.

For info, call the Theatre and Dance Box Office at x7462, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 until 4 p.m.

Presentation

Fall African American Lecture Series Begins

Guy P. Djoken, president of NAACP in Frederick County, Md., and chair of the Press and Publicity Committee for the Maryland State Conference of NAACP, will speak on the challenges of African American activists in the 21st century Tuesday, Oct. 6, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in Compton 327. The reading is free and open to the public.

Djoken, a civil rights activist and author of “What a Century!” currently serves as executive director of the UNESCO Center for Peace and is a member of the Hood College African American Studies Advisory Committee and the Maryland FBI Multicultural Advisory Council. He has won the Citigroup Community Partner Award and Hood College Thurgood Marshall Award for outstanding community service.

Visual Arts

‘Body Mapping’ on Display at Roper

“Body Mapping,” an exhibition of paintings and drawings that explore the human body from each artist’s standpoint, will be on display in the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery. The exhibition will run through Sunday, Oct. 4.

The collection features enigmatic painted, oil-glazed wood panels by Eileen Senner displaying glowing, fragmented torsos set in dark expanses of undefined space; hand-painted photographs by Kaethe Kauffman that probe the body’s dynamics that bring muscular substructures to light; watercolors by Tina Blondell that appropriate poses and symbols inspired by biblical and mythic heroines; and pencil drawings by Giedra Montvila, who draws on her experience as a runway fashion model to take issue with the barrage of media-generated glamour propaganda. Each artist’s focus differs, covering metaphysical issues, bodily mechanisms, personal growth patterns.

The Roper Gallery is open Sunday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. For info, contact Dustin Davis at ddavis@frostburg.edu or call the Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Art Exhibition Invites Artists to Submit Work

“What Dreams May Come” is a community art exhibition that will be held at the Saville Gallery in Downtown Cumberland. Sponsored by the Allegany Arts Council, FSU Art Club and Kappa Pi, this exhibition is open to all visual artists in the tri-state region. Artwork can be in any media and creative interpretations of “dreams” are encouraged.

Drop-off of artwork for jurying will be at FSU’s Fine Arts Building, Room 128, on Thursday, Oct. 8, and Friday, Oct. 9, from noon to 5 p.m. There will be a fee of $3 per entry and artists may submit up to four entries. Entry forms will be available as artwork is dropped off.

The juror this year is Professor Joe Derezinski from Frederick Community College. Jurying will take place on Saturday, Oct. 10.

Artwork not accepted for the exhibit may be picked up on Sunday, Oct. 11, and Monday, Oct. 12, from noon to 4 p.m. in Fine Arts 128.

All accepted artwork will be installed at the Saville Gallery and available for viewing by Wednesday, Oct. 14. The exhibit will only be up for four days and will conclude with a closing reception and awards ceremony at the Saville Gallery, Saturday, Oct. 17, from 6 to 8 p.m. The reception is free and open to the public.

Exhibiting artists may take their artwork home after the reception, or artwork may be picked up from the Fine Arts Building, Monday, Oct. 19.

Staking Our Claim

Foundation Welcomes Members to Board

The FSU Foundation, Inc., at its most recent meeting welcomed four new members to its board of directors: John Balch of Cumberland, Md.; Diane Carter-Richardson of Ellicott City, Md., Marion Leonor of LaVale, Md.; and Sandra Saville of Cumberland.

Balch, president of The Pharmacare Network in Cumberland, is president of the Western Maryland Health System Foundation Board and on the advisory board for Cardinal Health. He also serves in an advisory capacity to the University of Baltimore School of Pharmacy. Pharmacare established the J. Glenn Beall Memorial Scholarship, which provides a full, four-year scholarship to FSU for a student from Mountain Ridge High School each year.

Carter-Richardson graduated from FSU in 1980 with a degree in psychology and a Master of Business Administration degree in 1984. She is the founder of RCI Financial and serves as its president and CEO. She is a former vice president of lending at Bank of America and currently serves on the Board and on the advisory board for the Western Maryland Bar Foundation.

Leonard is a head women’s basketball coach at Riverdale Baptist High School, her high school alma mater. She received the Distinguished Alumni Achievement Award from FSU in 1996.

Leonard is a retired professor from the MBA program in FSU’s College of Business. She is the owner of Inner Leadership Associates and serves as vice president of the Allegany Arts Council and member of the board of directors of the Community Trust Foundation (serving Allegany, Garrett and Mineral counties).

Internships

Beall Institute

Accepting Applications

The Beall Institute is accepting applications for its Annapolis internship program. The Beall internship is available to applicants expressing an interest in a public service career as a manager, planner or policy analyst.

Up to four internship slots are available, and depending on housing situations and quality of applicants, more may be available. The selected intern will serve in a Maryland delegate’s or state senator’s office in Annapolis during the legislative session from early January through the middle of April 2010. Democratic and Republican officeholders are represented. The internships are full-time, earn 15 credit hours and are available only during the spring semester.

Depending on housing needs, selected applicants will be awarded a stipend paid directly to them to assist with lodging and transportation. These stipends are paid from the J. Glenn Beall Jr. Public Affairs Institute, a foundation established by Beall and his family and other contributors to inspire FSU students to follow a career in public service. This is a unique opportunity for FSU students to acquire hands-on experience in the legislative arena. Interns selected for service in the general assembly may also be awarded up to $1,000 paid directly from the assembly.

For info, contact Tim Magrath at x4080 or visit guid 141. The deadline for applications is Friday, Oct. 16.

Faith Connections Sunday Morning. Want to visit various churches in the area but don’t want to go alone? Join Chaplain Cindy Sunday for breakfast treats at 9:15 to 9:30 a.m. in 161 Tawes Hall. The group will decide which church to visit that day.

True North. True North, the weekly Sunday evening program that involves biblical explorations on various topics (and free stuff!), will meet at 7:30 p.m. in 161 Tawes Hall. The topic for the next six weeks is Building a True Life in a Virtual World. This week’s topic is Relationships.net.

Spiritual Study Breaks. Wednesday study breaks are at 9 p.m. in Cook Chapel and include Christian music, videos and various prayer acts and praise experiences. The group is continuing its talent search for FSU students, staff or faculty who would like to start a praise band to be a part of this team.

S’mores and Prayers Twilight Retreat. Register now for the UCM Fall Twilight Retreat on Sat., Oct. 10, starting at 3:30 p.m. The retreat includes a mountaintop view of four states, Praying With Your Eyes Open: Listen to Nature – Listen to God prayer experiences, campfire food and bonfire and s’mores. The event is free, but registration is required to ensure transportation.

Unite Against Hunger Concert. The Christian student groups on campus will host a Christian rock concert to cap off Homecoming festivities.

Sunday, Oct. 18. This is a benefit concert for two Hunger Relief projects. Cost of admission is a minimum of one can of food for the local food bank. During the concert, a donation will be taken to help with expenses and Heifer International. The band performing is K-Red; students will show off their talents during intermission; and a nationally known inspirational speaker, Bobby Petrocelli, will talk. Doors open at 6 p.m. The concert and program are from 7 to 9 p.m. in Lane Manicur Hall. The event is open to the public.

ACRC Observes Conflict Resolution Day

The Allegany Conflict Resolution Center (ACRC) marks its second anniversary next month as a local non-profit organization. Formed to offer free community mediation services, ACRC has planned a special event to commemorate National Conflict Resolution Day. “Theatre of the Conflicted,” will be Thursday, Oct. 15, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at Allegany College of Maryland (ACM) in the Continuing Education Building in Room 12-13. The presentation will feature a mock mediation and interactive presentations about services the center offers. Light refreshments will be served.

A proclamation designating “Conflict Resolution Day” in the City of Cumberland will be read by a member of City Council. Then, students from the Communication Studies Club at FSU and the Peace Studies Club at ACM will offer an educational production, “Theatre of the Conflicted.”

“Theatre” is sponsored by the ACRC Outreach Committee, which works to seek referrals for mediation, educate the public and build relationships with other community organizations. For info, call 301-759-6658, e-mail conflictresolutioncenter@allconet.org or visit http://www.alleganymediation.org.

Message Board

FSU-TV3 cablecasts an automated educational and community message channel when not showing video programming. The message channel provides info about FSU events, non-profit organizations and community events. If you have an announcement to advertise on the FSU-TV3 message board, log on to www.frostburg.edu/dept/mcom/channel3/admin-pic/cf_upload.cfm, enter the information and click submit. A graphic or pre-made message can be loaded as well. Submit requests at least one week in advance.

For info, contact Melanie Lombardi at x3011 or mlombardi@frostburg.edu.
