CES Season Begins With Ensemble Galilei

The opening performance of the 2009-2010 season of the Cultural Events Series at FSU, Ensemble Galilei's "Universe of Dreams" is an extraordinary multimedia concert combining music, poetry and dazzling celestial visuals. The performance will begin on Sunday, Sept. 13, at 7:30 p.m., at FSU's Pealer Recital Hall in the Performing Arts Center.

Ensemble Galilei is an ensemble of players from classical and Celtic traditional backgrounds, playing Irish and Scottish airs and dance tunes, early and medieval music, and original compositions. The musicians perform on various ancient and modern instruments, including the Celtic harp, Baroque violin, viola da gamba, fiddle, recorders, whistles and percussion.

Neal Conan, host of National Public Radio's "Talk of the Nation" will narrate the show while images from the Hubble Space Telescope are projected on a movie screen behind the ensemble, marrying music to words in a compelling and beautiful way.

While Ensemble Galilei performs its rich repertoire of early Scottish and Irish folk tunes, Conan will recite classic and newer works about the stars and the heavens from such authors as Stanley Kunitz, Jim Harrison and William Shakespeare. The result is a concert that conveys all the spectacular and sometimes spiritual wonders of the universe.

The CES Pre-Performance Dinner Club offers concert-goers an opportunity to enhance their cultural experience. "Universe of Dreams" is one of three CES performances to offer a dinner package before the performance. Guests arrive on campus early, enjoy the benefit of easy parking access in the PAC parking lot and dine on a delicious catered meal in a private restaurant setting in the Lane University Center. Dinner includes soup or salad, entrée with sides, dessert and coffee or iced tea. A cash bar is available throughout dinner.

Tickets for "Universe of Dreams" are $17 for adults and $12 for young people under 17. Group rate tickets are also available. Pre-performance dinners are $26 per person. A discounted season package (three dinners) is also available. Tickets may be ordered by calling x3137 or 1-866-849-9237, or by visiting ces.frostburg.edu.

Welcome Back Block Party!

The annual Welcome Back Block Party on Main Street in Frostburg will be on Wednesday, Sept. 9, from 6 to 9 p.m. The Block Party is a combined effort of the Frostburg Business and Professionals Association, the City of Frostburg and FSU. Events highlighted this year include games, the Western Maryland Chili Challenge and a pepper-eating contest. Shuttle services will run between Edgewood Commons, the Annapolis Lot, College Avenue Lot and Broadway.

Entertainment

Jean Ritchie & Sons Headline Festival

Event Celebrates Region's Culture With Music, Film, Food and Family Fun

The public is invited to learn more about the region's rich cultural heritage during FSU's 2009 Appalachian Festival Sept. 18 and 19. Now in its fourth year, the much-anticipated event brings together a variety of performers and craftspeople to celebrate the natural landscape, history, food and musical and artistic offerings of Western Maryland and the surrounding areas. Folk music legend Jean Ritchie and Sons perform on stage at the Historic Palace Theatre in Frostburg during the popular Saturday evening concert.

The Festival kicks things off Friday, Sept. 18, with "Appalachia: People and Place," an informative symposium highlighting a sampling of regional work in which FSU faculty and students are engaged from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Lane Center.

Following the symposium, Appalachia enthusiasts can drift down to the Mountain City Traditional Arts venue at 25 E. Main St. in downtown Frostburg for a clogging and flat-footing workshop from 5:30 to 7 p.m. featuring the RockCandy Cloggers, with music by Jason Twigg and Fritz Kessler. An Appalachian Film Festival featuring the Academy award-winning documentary "Harlan County, USA" caps off Friday's festivities at 8 p.m. in Frostburg's Palace Theatre.

Then on Saturday, Sept. 19, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., check out daylong presentations, workshops, arts and crafts demonstrations, live music, Appalachian dance environmental talks and children's activities on the FSU campus. These festivities, held on FSU's Upper Quad, are free and open to the public. Performers include Frostburg Arion Band, Jay Smar, Highland Grass, Abe Folmsbee, Rachel Eddy, Garrett Highlands Pipes and Drums and Allegheny Drifters. Hands-on demonstrations, workshops and other activities will also be available.

Festival goers "can learn traditional basket weaving, try their hand at playing the mountain dulcimer, practice traditional Appalachian dance steps or prepare for the fall fishing season by tying flies," said FSU folklorist Kara Rogers Thomas, festival founder and key organizer. "In addition to our always popular children's hands-on area, we have several programs appealing to both children and adults featuring storytellers and the theatrical performance, 'Witches, Britches, Rings and Things,' by Front & Centre Stage Productions."

Frostburg's Appalachian Festival culminates with an 8 p.m. Saturday night performance at the Palace Theatre featuring Jean Ritchie and Sons, with an opening concert by Zane & Hugh Campbell and Friends.

Celebrate and sample Appalachian culture, music and more. Tickets for Jean Ritchie and Sons are $17 for adults and $12 for young people under 17. Group rate tickets are also available. Tickets may be ordered by calling x3137 or 1-866-849-9237, or by visiting ces.frostburg.edu. For full Appalachian Festival program information visit www.frostburg.edu/events/afestival or call x3124. You can also find the Appalachian Festival on MySpace and on Facebook (Search "Frostburg State University Appalachian Festival.")

'Two Gentlemen of Verona' Coming

FSU's Department of English will host the Cambridge American Stage Tour presentation of Shakespeare's "Two Gentlemen of Verona"

Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in PAC Pealer Recital Hall.

One of Shakespeare's early comedies, "Two Gentlemen of Verona" tells the story of Proteus, Valentine and their affections for Julia and Silvia. The play is a charming and carefree story about the universal experience of being young, confused and in love.

Founded in 2000, CAST is proud to celebrate its 10th Anniversary Tour and continues to present Shakespeare with the finest talent from Cambridge University in England. This production, like the others before it, is directed and produced entirely by members of the Cambridge student body.

Ticket prices are $6 for students and $12 for the general public. For info, call x4145. For CAST information, visit www.castonline.org.

'PlayRights – One Night'

Acquaintance rape, a prevalent problem on college campuses today, will be the subject of an interactive play for students that will be performed Thursday, Sept. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center.

Music

'Live at the Depot'

WFWM 91.9 FM, Public Radio from FSU, in cooperation with the Western Maryland Scenic Railroad, will present "Live at the Depot," a series of live old-time radio shows at the historic Old Depot in Frostburg. The shows will feature 15-minute performances by local roots music bands and musicians. Chuck Dicken, WFWM station director, will serve as emcee. The performances will be recorded by WFWM for broadcast on the station at a later date. The Mass Communication Department will also videotape each show for use on the WFWM Web site and for possible television play.

"Live at the Depot" will take place each Friday in September between 12:30 to 2 p.m., while the Scenic Railroad's train is at the depot. The public can attend the recordings for free. The "Live at the Depot" shows are supported in part by the Allegany Arts Council and the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. For info, call x4143. To receive info on programming at WFWM, including notification of special programs, e-mail wfwfm2@frostburg.edu. WFWM can be heard at 91.9 FM, Frostburg and 96.3 FM, Oakland.

The schedule is as follows:

- Sept. 11: Fritz Kessler & Jason Twig (Old-Time Appalachian)
Hanna Livingston (Old-Time Fiddle)
- Sept. 18: Highland Grass (Bluegrass)
Bear Hill Bluegrass (Bluegrass)
- Sept. 25: Greg Latta (Folk)
Amy Fabbri & Amanda Barger (Old-Time Appalachian)

Visual Arts

'Body Mapping' on Display at Roper

"Body Mapping," an exhibition of paintings and drawings that explore the human body from each artist's standpoint, will be on display in the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery. The exhibition will open on Friday, Sept. 11, at 7 p.m. and will run through Sunday, Oct. 4.

The collection features enigmatic painted, oil-glazed wood panels by Eileen Senner displaying glowing, fragmented torsos set in dark expanses of undefined space; hand-painted photographs by Kaethe Kauffman that probe the body's dynamics that bring muscular substructures to light; watercolors by Tina Blondell that appropriate poses and symbols inspired by biblical and mythic heroines; and pencil drawings by Giedra Montvila, who draws on her experience as a runway fashion model to take issue with the barrage of media-generated glamour propaganda. Each artist's focus differs, covering metaphysical issues, bodily mechanisms, personal growth patterns and society's obsession with appearances.

The Roper Gallery is open Sunday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. For info, contact Dustin Davis at ddavis@frostburg.edu or call the Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Staking Our Claim

FSU Builds Character the 'Ripken Way'

FSU spent the past year teaching character lessons to local children thanks to a grant from the Cal Ripken Sr. Foundation through the FSU Foundation.

The Healthy Choices, Healthy Children sessions, four each semester, with two lessons per session, focused on teaching children to make good choices. Topics included sportsmanship, leadership, taking responsibility, communication and the value of hard work, said FSU softball coach Wes Landrum, who coordinated the program.

A number of Landrum's softball players, who are teacher candidates, as well as a handful of teacher candidates on the Bobcat baseball team, worked with the children, who ranged in age from 8 to 14. Children were recruited from the local community through the Cumberland Salvation Army, a partner in the program. The course was offered to the children free of charge.

The Ripken Foundation committed nearly $15,000 to the program, with a third of that coming in the form of equipment to be used by the children.

The program, part of the Ripken Foundation's Badges for Baseball, was developed as a character education plan that uses the philosophies that Cal Ripken Sr. practiced on the playing field to teach youths how to live.

FSU and Salisbury University were the first educational institutions to offer Healthy Choices, Healthy Children, Landrum said.

For info about supporting FSU, visit foundation.frostburg.edu or call x4161 or 1-866-241-3296, toll free.

Literature

FSU Announces Small and Regional Press Fair

The Center for Creative Writing at FSU, in partnership with the Allegany County Library System, announces that the third annual Western Maryland Small and Regional Press Fair will be held Saturday, Sept. 19, from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Washington Street Branch of the Allegany County Library. The event, which features editors, publishers, writers and educators, includes panels on writing and getting published; writing the region; writing, kids, reading and teaching; and blogging and new media publishing. Roundtable discussions with published authors will also help aspiring writers work through practical matters of getting their work on the page. The event ends with a 5 p.m. poetry slam for high school students and a 6:30 p.m. poetry slam for adults. Cash prizes will be given.

Two new panels created for this year's event, "Teachers, Publishers and Students" and "Pick Up That Book – Getting Kids to Want to Read," are designed with educators in mind and focus on helping to get new literature into the hands of students, or helping teachers and school districts publish a student literary magazine.

The event is free and open to the public. For info, contact the Washington Street Library at 301-777-1200 or the Frostburg Center for Creative Writing at x4024, or visit the center Web site at www.frostburg.edu/cwcenter.

Risk Management Plan Revisions

Revisions have been made to the Risk Management Plan. Since some of the changes involve billing and ticketing practices, risk management training sessions have been set up for any group having an event where a risk management plan or event production plan is needed.

A risk management plan is needed for an event ending beyond 10 p.m., a student-focused/student-sponsored event with anticipated attendance of over 450 persons, a student event involving the potential for high-risk or safety factors and/or a student-focused/student-sponsored event that has had a risk management/safety issue within the past two years.

An event production plan is needed for a student-focused/student-sponsored event with an anticipated attendance of 250 persons, an event taking place outside University property, and/or a student event involving the possibility of unusually high risk or safety factors.

A student event is an event or activity paid for by student organizational funds and/or an event or activity approved by the Department of Student Activities.

A student-related activity is any activity sponsored by any organization recognized by the University.

Training is offered for advisors as well as members of student organizations. Advisors are asked to pass on this information to their organizations. The training will be offered Tuesday, Sept. 8, and Tuesday, Nov. 3, from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

Members of any organization having student events (as defined above) must attend one of these meeting dates (if they have not already).

For info, contact Jamie Winters at x7398 or jwinters@frostburg.edu.

Nominations for Staff Awards

One of FSU's goals is to reward outstanding service to the institution. Again this year the FSU Foundation will fund three $500 Staff Awards for Excellence. FSU exempt/nonexempt staff are eligible to be nominated, whether contractual, full- or part-time.

Detailed award categories, nomination criteria and nomination forms have been distributed to all employees via campus e-mail. Complete nomination packets will be due no later than 4 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 14. The awards will be presented with Dr. Gibraltar's Fall Convocation. For info, contact Kelly Durst at x7487 or kdurst@frostburg.edu, or Patrick McLane at p.m.clane@frostburg.edu.

Weight Watchers at Work

Join the 12-week Weight Watchers at Work session at FSU. An info/registration meeting will be held Thursday, Sept. 10, from noon to 12:45 p.m. in the PE Center Leake Room. Sessions will run each Monday beginning Sept. 14 from noon until 12:45 p.m. in the Leake Room. Cost is $144 payable by cash, credit card or check. A split payment option is available. For info, contact Lee Ann Nightingale at x4398 or lnightingale@frostburg.edu.

Points of Pride

Offstein's Books Published

Dr. Evan Offstein, Department of Management, has been busy. His book, "Making Telework Work: Leading People and Leveraging Technology for High-Impact Results," which he wrote with Jason Morwick, was published by Davies-Black Publishing two weeks ago. He and his co-author addressed senior leaders of the U.S. Department of the Treasury on Aug. 26.

His second book of the month (and third overall), "Gridiron Leadership: Winning Strategies and Breakthrough Tactics," co-authored by Morwick and Scott Griffith, was published by Praeger last week. It features a foreword by Steelers owner Art Rooney and has been endorsed by Gen. Raymond Odierno, the U.S. Army's second-highest-ranking general, USM Chancellor Brit Kirwan and Sergeant Major of the Army (and Mount Savage native) Ken Preston.

Walsh/Brosi Win Award

Natalie Walsh, graduate candidate in applied ecology conservation biology, was awarded the Traditional Ecological Knowledge Student Merit Award for her poster with advisor Sunshine Brosi. They received the award for "Stratification Protocols and Germination Rates of Open-Pollinated Families of Black Cohosh (Actaea racemosa L.) From Three Western Maryland State Forests: Population Dynamics of a Medicinal Herb Native to the Appalachian Mountains" at the 94th Annual Meeting of the Ecological Society of America on Aug. 5.

Aerobics

Classes will run Monday, Sept. 14, to Thursday, Dec. 10 (no classes Nov. 23 to 26). The following classes will be held in Cordts PE Center 168 – Monday: 7 to 8:30 p.m., Step Combo; Tuesday: 7 to 8 p.m., Cardio Combo; Wednesday: 7 to 8:30 p.m., Step Combo; and Thursday: 7 to 8 p.m., Body Sculpting. After paying a small one-time semester fee, participants can take part in all the above classes. Participants will need 3- or 5-pound weights.

Preschool Tumbling

Half-hour classes will be offered for children ages 3 and 4 Tuesdays, Sept. 15 to Nov. 17, from 4:30 to 5 p.m. in Cordts PE Center 170. This is a parent/child class, and an adult must participate with each child. The class is limited to 12 students who have little or no formal tumbling training. (Children should preferably be potty-trained.) The class will include activities such as cartwheels, rolls and other simple movements. It is designed to teach flexibility, strength, muscle control and coordination.

Beginner Tumbling

Classes for children ages 5 to 12 will be Tuesdays, Sept. 15 to Oct. 13, from 5 to 6 p.m. in Cordts PE Center 170. The class will include basic floor tumbling exercises and some work on the low balance beam. (This is not an advanced tumbling class.) Space is limited to 15 participants, with a minimum of 7.

Intermediate Tumbling

Classes for children ages 5 to 12 will be Thursdays, Sept. 17 to Oct. 15, from 5 to 6 p.m. in Cordts PE Center 170. Prerequisites are a round-off and a kick-over from a bridge (back walk-over.) Space is limited to 10 participants, with a minimum of 6.
