Frostburg State University Theatre and Dance Schedules Exciting Season

FSU's Department of Theatre and Dance has once again brought a series of eclectic shows to its schedule, with a 2012-2013 season that promises to ensnare the senses of audience members through live dance, colorful musicals and tales of heartache, comedy and personal growth.

To kick off the season, Tony Kushner's play "Angels in America Part One: Millennium Approaches" will be performed Friday and Saturday, Oct. 5 and 6, and Thursday through Saturday, Oct. 11 to 13, at 7:30 p.m., with a matinee Oct. 6 at 2 p.m. Praised by Newsweek Magazine as "The broadest, deepest, most searching American play of our time," "Angels in America" tells the story of two co-workers whose lives come together in reality and fantasy. Set in the context of the Reagan administration and the AIDS crisis, this play is recommended for mature audiences. Performances will take place in the F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre.

The dancers of the FSU Dance Company will be getting back to basics for the Fall Dance Concert, focusing on the natural flow of human movement in time and space. The dancers will perform new choreography as well as earlier works in two showings during Leadership and Homecoming Weekend, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 19 and 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the Drama Theatre.

The Roundabout Children's Theater returns to the FSU stage to bring "Pinkalicious the Musical," based on the book by Elizabeth and Victoria Kann, to area children. In this sweet tale, Pinkalicious eats so many pink cupcakes that her dream to radiate pink comes true. She develops a case of pinkitis, and although she is warned to stop eating the pink treats, she cannot stay away from cupcakes. This performance will be Friday, Nov. 2, at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 3, at 2 p.m. in the Drama Theatre. Before the Nov. 3 show, everyone is invited to a "Pinkalicious Party" with playful activities for kids from noon until 2 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center lobby. Tickets are $5 for children and students, and $10 for the general public.

Clockwise from top are Nora Grider (as Harper Pitt), Scott Turner (as Roy M. Cohn), Jacob McDonald (as Joe Pitt), Shelby Herbert (as Ethel Rosenberg) and Nick E. Carter (as Louis Ironson).

Just in time for the holidays comes "A Civil War Christmas: An American Musical Celebration," playing on Friday, Nov. 30, and Saturday, Dec. 1, then again from Wednesday to Saturday, Dec. 5 to 8, at 7:30 p.m. with matinees at 2 p.m. on Dec 1 and 8. By Paula Vogel, with music by Daryl Waters, "A Civil War Christmas" uses traditional songs, spirituals, poetry and folk tales to stitch three stories together. Set in Washington, D.C., on Christmas Eve, 1864, a fugitive from slavery desperately searches for her lost daughter, the ideologies of Confederate and Union soldiers are challenged, and President and Mrs. Lincoln plot to give one another the perfect Christmas gift. Performances will be in the Drama Theatre.

Coming on Friday and Saturday, March 1 and 2, and Thursday through Saturday, March 7 to 9, at 7:30 p.m. with a 2 p.m. showing on March 2 is "Bach at Leipzig." In this play, set in Leipzig in June 1722, after the musical director of St. Thomas Church and master of St. Thomas school dies, six of the best organists in Germany compete for his vacant post.

Nothing short of a farcical fugue, this play delivers a collision of ideologies about art, God and humanity, which resolves in a brilliantly crafted ending. Performances will be in the Smith Studio Theatre.

Everyone's favorite lost boy is coming to FSU in "Peter Pan or ... The Boy Who Would Not Grow Up." The trouble starts when Peter chases his shadow to the Darling household in London. On waking the children of the house, Peter entices them to fly away to Never Never Land – a magical island where children do not have to grow up. There, the children, along with the Lost Boys and Tinkerbell, battle scurvy pirates and the dangerous Captain Hook. This adaptation by Matthew Earnest stays true to J.M. Barrie's original play, "Peter Pan," and his novel, "Peter and Wendy." Performances are in the Drama Theatre. Show times are Friday and Saturday, April 19 and 20, and Thursday through Saturday, April 25 to 27, at 7:30 p.m. with a 2 p.m. showing April 20.

Closing out the 2012-2013 season is the Spring Dance Concert. Come see the choreography buzz, flicker, glow and flow as imaginations unite to build an entertaining concert experience on Friday, May 10, and Saturday, May 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Drama Theatre.

Season subscriptions are on sale until Oct. 13. For $60, Main Stage subscribers receive six tickets (one ticket per show for Main Stage productions and the Dance Concerts), an overall 15 percent savings. In addition, season subscribers can reserve tickets in advance of the general public. Individual tickets are $12 for general admission and $6 for students unless otherwise noted.

For info, call the Theatre and Dance box office at x7462 Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m.

CES Presents

'Imogene's Antlers'

New York's beloved children's theatre company, TheatreworXUSA, will return to FSU on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 9 and 10, as part of the Cultural Events Series annual program, Arts for the School Day, when regional elementary school children will travel to the University to attend one of five school-day matinees of the exuberant musical, "Imogene's Antlers and Other Storybooks." A limited number of public tickets are available for the 4:30 p.m. performance on Oct. 9.

This family performance is a sparkling revue comprised of several mini-musicals based on popular children's books, including "Amazing

Grace” by Mary Hoffman, “Owen” by Kevin Henkes, “If You Give a Mouse a Cookie” by Laura Joffe Numeroff, “Borreguita and the Coyote” by Verna Aardema, “Master Man” by Aaron Shepard, “Math Curse” by Jon Scieszka and “Imogene’s Antlers” by David Small.

TheatreworksUSA has a distinguished history of providing young audiences with their first taste of the performing arts and giving young actors, writers, directors and designers an early opportunity to work in professional theatre. A list of alumni includes four-time Tony-winning director Jerry Zaks, writers Marta Kauffman and David Crane from TV’s “Friends” and Tony-winning actors Roger Bart, Chuck Cooper and John Glover. Esteemed performers F. Murray Abraham, Henry Winkler and Judy Kuhn also got their start with Theatreworks.

For info or to purchase tickets for the Oct. 9 public performance, contact the CES box office at x3137 or visit CES’s webpage at ces.frostburg.edu.

 Entertainment

Comedy Night With Cristela Alonzo

The University Programming Council at FSU will present a Comedy Night featuring comedian Cristela Alonzo on Monday, Oct. 8, at 8 p.m. in Lane

Manicur Hall.

Alonzo, who got her first break writing for Comedy Central, has also appeared on NBC’s “Last Comic Standing,” FX’s “Sons of Anarchy” and TBS’ “Conan O’Brien Show” and has performed with Gabriel Iglesias. Alonzo compares her style of humor to that of Wanda Sykes, using her universally funny outlook on life to produce a comedy act described as “no holds barred.” This show is free and open to the public.

For info, contact Robert Cooper at x4411 or rncooper@frostburg.edu.

 Music

Keith Murphy to Appear at MCTA

Folk musician Keith Murphy will perform songs of Newfoundland on Wednesday, Oct. 3, at 7:30 p.m. at Mountain City Traditional Arts, 25 E. Main St., Frostburg. This event is free and open to the public.

A native of Newfoundland, Murphy is an accomplished composer and arranger in the realm of traditional music and has composed for theater and film. He is a featured performer on well over a dozen recordings and a guest musician on numerous others.

Murphy’s traditional song repertoire is based in Eastern Canada and Quebec as well as his current home, Vermont. His direct and intimate style of traditional singing in English and French infuses old ballads and songs with a powerful immediacy, while his rhythmic and percussive finger style of guitar playing brings new shape and color to his songs. Murphy was a founding member of Nightingale, a trio that broke new ground in its sophisticated approach to traditional music. He is also a mainstay of the Boston fiddle extravaganza, Childsplay.

For info, contact MCTA at 301-687-8040 or mountaincitytradarts@gmail.com.

The Nontraditional Music Styles of Matt Corey

The FSU Programming Council will present saxophonist and music sensation Matt Corey on Wednesday, Oct. 10, at 8 p.m. in Lane Manicur Hall. This event is free and open to the public.

Corey has been named “Male Solo Artist of the Year” for two consecutive years by the Association for the Promotion of Campus Activities. He has opened shows for many artists, including Lil Wayne, Far East Movement, New Boyz and Bruce Springsteen. He is known for featuring music by John Legend, Michael Jackson, Justin Timberlake, Kanye West and Marvin Gaye in his saxophone performance. Corey has been called a combination of Travis Barker and Jay Z.

For info, contact the Lane Center information desk at x4411 or visit Corey’s website at www.mattcorey.com.

FSU Wind Ensemble

The FSU Wind Ensemble will play its first concert of the fall on Sunday, Oct. 14, at 3 p.m. in PAC Pealer Recital Hall. The band, under the direction of Philip Klickman, will perform some classic American concert band music, including “Variations on a Shaker Melody” from Aaron Copland’s ballet, “Appalachian Spring”; “Lassus Trombone” by Henry Fillmore; and “Pineapple Poll,” a suite of dance music by Charles Mackerras. Also featured is an arrangement of Aaron Copland’s “Hoe Down” from the ballet, “Rodeo.” The concert concludes with “Incantation and Dance” by John Barnes Chance. Admission is $5 for adults, $3 for students and free for children 12 and under.

For info, contact the FSU Music Department at x4109 or go to www.frostburg.edu/dept/music/concerts.

Readings

Poetrypalooza With Allan Wolf

“An Echo in the Hills: A Poetrypalooza With Allan Wolf” and Poetry Slam will be held on Monday, Oct. 22, at 7 p.m. at Mountain City Traditional Arts on Main Street in Frostburg. This event is free and open to the public.

Wolf, of Asheville, N.C., is an author, poet, performer and educator. After three years teaching at Virginia Tech, he became the educational director for Poetry Alive! a national touring company that presents theatrical poetry shows for all ages. Wolf is also a member of The Dead Poets, a musical trio that transforms classic poetry into toe-tapping tunes. An active organizer in the early days of the poetry slam competitions, Wolf has unfailingly worked to take poetry to the people. And with literally hundreds of poems committed to memory, he is always ready to spin out a stanza or two.

Got rhyme? A slam isn’t your ordinary poetry reading but a head-to-head poetry competition. It’s a spoken word live performance during which the audience determines who rules the stage. Come out and see local poets take their art to the stage or take the stage yourself! Experienced poets and novices alike are welcome. Prizes will be awarded to the winners.

This event is part of the AppIndie’s One Vision Many Voices Project.

For info, contact MCTA at 301-687-8040 or mountaincitytradarts@gmail.com.

 Presentations

Reading of Banned Books Set at FSU

The English Honors Society Sigma Tau Delta and the Department of English at FSU will present an evening of readings from books deemed controversial enough to be challenged or banned on Thursday, Oct. 4, at 7 p.m. in the Lane Atkinson Room (232).

This event is held with the American Library Association’s annual Banned Book Week: Celebrating the Freedom to Read. The American Library Association hopes that the reading “reminds Americans not to take this precious democratic freedom for granted.”

For info, contact Dr. Mary Anne Lutz in the Department of English at mlutz@frostburg.edu.

Coffee With Writer Stephen Dunn

The FSU Center for Creative Writing’s new series, Coffee With a Writer, will begin with Pulitzer Prize winner Stephen Dunn on Saturday, Oct. 6, at 10 a.m. at the Lyric Theatre, 20 E. Main St., Frostburg. Coffee, tea and pastries will be provided and this event is free and open to the public.

Local poet Dunn’s 2001 collection “Different Hours” won the Pulitzer Prize for Poetry. His other works include “The Insistence of Beauty,” “Everything Else in the World,” “What Goes On: Selected and New Poems” and “Here and Now: Poems.” He also received an Academy Award in Literature from the American Academy of Arts and Letters, three National Endowment for the Arts Creative Writing Fellowships and fellowships from the Gunnenheim and Rockefeller foundations.

Coffee With a Writer is a new featured event that will give local students of writing the opportunity to meet with local writers with national renown and have a relaxed conversation with them in a comfortable setting. The Center for Creative Writing will host this event the first Saturday of each month. The next featured writer will be Keith Schlegel on Saturday, Nov. 3.

For info, visit the center’s website at www.frostburg.edu/cwcenter or call x4340.

Fall Philosophical Forum Discussion

The Philosophy Department will present a panel discussion titled “Economic Justice in America’s Election Year” on Tuesday, Oct. 16, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Lane Atkinson Room (232). Michael Mathias of the Philosophy Department will serve as the panel moderator. The following four panelists will contribute their views, drawing on their respective disciplines.

- John Neral, Economics Department: “The Elephant (and Donkey) in the Room: Property Rights and Rent-Seeking”
- Suzanne McCoskey, Economics Department: “Main Street Versus Wall Street: Who’s in Charge Here?”
- John O’Rorke, Department of Political Science: “The Consequences of the Growing Economic Divide on U.S. Political and Social Stability”

- Jean-Marie Makang, Philosophy Department: “The Eradication of Poverty in 21st-Century America: A Moral Imperative”

After the brief presentations, the audience will be invited to interact with the panelists.

For info, contact Makang at x3089 or jmakang@frostburg.edu.

AL Fall Seminar Series

Dr. Nicolas Zegre, West Virginia University, will present “Characterizing the Hydrologic Response of a Mountaintop-Mined Watershed to Changing Land Use and Climate: Implications of Scale” on Thursday, Oct. 4, at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 109. For info, go to www.umces.edu/al/seminar/schedule.

Visual Arts

‘La Bella Vita’

Community artists are invited to enter the juried art show “La Bella Vita” that will be exhibited on Saturday, Oct. 13, at the Allegany Arts Council’s Saville Gallery at 9 N. Centre St., Cumberland. All participating artists must drop off their work Oct. 1 through 5, in FSU Fine Arts Building room 128, from 1 to 4 p.m. This event is open to all community artists.

There will be a fee of $4 per entry, and artists may submit up to four entries. Work must be ready to hang with secure wire. Entry forms will be available as artwork is dropped off. Artwork not taken back after the show will be placed in room 128 of Fine Arts until Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 6 p.m.

The juror this year is John Alderton, a local professional artist who enjoys landscape painting and is an accomplished muralist. He has won awards for 2D and 3D art in juried exhibitions.

The reception and awards ceremony will be at Cumberland’s Saville Gallery on Saturday, Oct. 13, at 6 p.m. It is free and open to the public.

For info, contact the FSU Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Points of Pride

Thomas Named Vice President of University Advancement at FSU

Dr. Rosemary M. Thomas has been named FSU’s next vice president for University Advancement and executive director of the FSU Foundation, Inc. She will begin her duties at FSU in January.

Thomas comes to FSU from Florida Gulf Coast University, bringing with her significant experience in advancement operations, which encompass fundraising, alumni relations, communications and marketing. The move to Frostburg marks a return to Maryland and the University System of Maryland, as she spent more than eight years at Salisbury University as vice president for Advancement and executive director of Salisbury’s foundation. There she led Salisbury’s most recent campaign, where they exceeded their $25 million goal by $15 million.

“I am thrilled to be bringing an advancement professional of Dr. Thomas’ caliber and experience to Frostburg State University,” said President Jonathan Gibralter. “She is highly respected within the state of Maryland, the USM System and the USM Foundation Board, and her knowledge there will allow her to step in and provide leadership immediately as we consider our next major campaign. We are extremely fortunate to have Dr. Thomas join our team.”

“I am so honored to be joining Frostburg State and the leadership team of President Gibralter,” Thomas said. “I have always been impressed by the school spirit, commitment to quality education and service to community that is FSU. Frostburg is truly committed to making the world around it a better place. The students embrace that, faculty and staff encourage it and alumni perpetuate that notion. To be part of such a university will be a privilege.”

Thomas will be filling the position previously held by Bernard J. Davisson, II. He is now associate vice president for principal gifts and planned giving at George Washington University.

“What an honor it will be to inherit this responsibility from B.J. Davisson, whom I greatly respect and admire,” Thomas said. “I look forward to working with Mr. (Quincy) Crawford and Mr. (Al) Martin and all the volunteers of the FSU Foundation and Alumni Association boards, and to building on Frostburg’s noteworthy traditions of involvement, generosity and engagement.”

Thomas earned a Doctor of Education degree from West Virginia University, a Master of Public Administration degree from the University of South Carolina and a bachelor's degree in political science from Clemson University. She also did post-doctoral work at Harvard. She is a native of Fairmont, W.Va.

USM Board of Regents Honors FSU's Ann Townsell

Ann Townsell of Cumberland, director of Publications for FSU, has received the 2012 University System of Maryland Board of Regents Staff Award, the highest honor bestowed on USM staff employees. She is being honored for extraordinary public service to the university or greater community.

Townsell was recognized at the Sept. 28 Board of Regents meeting.

In her nomination letter, Colleen C. Stump, interim vice president for University Advancement, said that "... the success of the University's publication, marketing and rebranding efforts would not have been possible without her. Her dedication and commitment to Frostburg State University's success, her professionalism and creativity, and her support of the arts and the environment combine to make her an outstanding member of the University and surrounding communities."

Townsell, an FSU employee since 1996, designs the graduate publications, homecoming publicity, Foundation publications, Cultural Events Series brochures, theatre brochures and commencement programs, as well as provides a steady supply of salon-quality photographs of University people and places that further enhance FSU's publications and websites. In addition, she designed the University's new logo based on concepts developed through the marketing and branding task force. An active member of FSU's Learning Green, Living Green Executive Committee, she has undertaken numerous projects and initiatives to promote sustainability on campus. She has also supervised and coached dozens of graphic design student interns, providing them with real-world experience. An official photographer for FSU's Appalachian Festival, she has donated countless hours of her off-time to provide documentation of the event.

Outside FSU, as a passionate supporter of the arts in the local community, Townsell has served on the Allegany Arts Council Board of Directors from 1998 to the present (as president in 2006 and 2007) and as an active committee member for many other Arts Council events and initiatives. She has also chaired the annual Will's Creek Survey, a national juried art exhibition, for the past 13 years and serves on the advisory board to the Frostburg One-Act Play Festival sponsored by FSU's Center for Creative Writing. She is a member of the Allegany County Animal Shelter Management Foundation Board. Over the years, she has generously donated her time and graphic design talent to support several other local, nonprofit organizations in marketing and promoting various events that have benefitted the entire community.

The Regents' Staff Award recognizes the achievements of salaried and hourly employees of the University System of Maryland. Award winners are selected from the institutions within USM and are nominated based on letters and recommendations by colleagues. Each recipient receives a certificate presented during a ceremony at a Board of Regents meeting and a monetary prize.

Welcome Back Bash

FSU@USM Hagerstown recently held a Welcome Back Bash for Hagerstown students in all programs. Students visited each night of the week to chat, meet faculty and staff, share a quick snack and sign up for door prizes. This was a first-time event for Hagerstown students and was very well received.

An end-of-semester Pizza Night is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 4.

Take Note Community Dialogue Series to Continue

The Frostburg community is invited to participate in the continuation of the Sustaining Campus and Community Dialogue Series in Frostburg.

This project supports existing collaborative efforts and promotes healthy relationships between campus and community, as well as a peaceful, non-violent culture in the Mountain City. Conflict resolution experts Drs. Frank Dukes and Marvin Johnson will continue their work with the community throughout the ongoing series, which is being funded by the Maryland Judiciary's Mediation and Conflict Resolution Office through 2014. The events will be planned and advertised by semester, and online and on-air coverage of the events will help document the experience of working together.

You are invited to participate in this dialogue series in one or more of the following ways:

- As a dialogue facilitator, willing to lead small group discussions about community concerns and coalition initiatives. Training will be provided on Monday, Oct. 1, with two session options: 11:30 a.m. to 1:45 p.m. in Lane 111 or 5 to 7:15 p.m. in the Lyric Theatre, 20 E. Main St.

- As a community member contributing to the open dialogue sessions on Monday, Oct. 8, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Lyric Theatre and Thursday, Nov. 1, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Frostburg Community Center at 23 S. Water St. For info, contact Dr. Elesha Ruminski at elruminski@frostburg.edu or x4480.

Announcers Needed for Sporting Events!

FSU-TV3 is looking for announcers for the following events:

- FSU Men’s and Women’s Soccer, Saturday, Oct. 13
- FSU Women’s Volleyball, Saturday, Oct. 20

If interested in helping out, email FSU-TV3@frostburg.edu.

Want Your Event Filmed?

FSU-TV3 is gathering information for filming events for the fall semester. Events can be covered with a single camera for a visiting lecturer, artist or performance or with a multi-camera camera crew. Events for this package include panel discussions, fashion shows or concerts in larger venues.

For those who would like to have an event filmed, or who advise a student organization that would like to have an event filmed, FSU-TV3 needs at least four weeks’ notice to try and schedule a student crew for an event.

To have an event filmed, go to www.frostburg.edu/fsu-tv3/taping-request and fill out the form with all pertinent info about the event.

FSU-TV3 does not film for archival purposes. Events that are filmed are to be used for future programming on FSU-TV3.

Message Board

FSU-TV3 cablecasts an automated educational and community message channel when not showing video programming. The channel provides info about FSU events, nonprofit organizations and community events.

To advertise an activity, log on to www.frostburg.edu/fsu-tv3/message-request-form, enter the info and click submit. A graphic or pre-made message can also be loaded. Submit requests at least two weeks in advance.

For info, contact FSU-TV3 at x3011 or fsu-tv3@frostburg.edu.
