Singing and Dancing at FSU

FSU Dance Company to Present Spring Concert

The FSU Dance Company, under the artistic direction of Dr. Barry Fischer, will present its 2001 spring dance concert on May 4, 5 and May 6 in the Performing Arts Center's Drama Theater. Friday's and Saturday's performances are scheduled for 8 p.m., while Sunday's performance is a 2 p.m. matinée.

Featured works include a variety of modern and jazz dance pieces choreographed by professionals, choreographers and FSU Dance Company members. Guest artist Elizabeth Auclair, a soloist with the Martha Graham Dance Company, will perform two original works. "Excerpting," a jazz piece by Cornelius Carter of the University of Alabama, features the song "Shaft" by Isaac Hayes. "Play," an audience favorite from the Mid-Atlantic Regional American College Dance Festival's Gala Concert recently held at FSU, returns to the Drama Theatre with student dancers/choreographers Alexandra Holmes and Timothy Zeller from Virginia Commonwealth University. A total of six works will showcase the choreography and dance talents of students from the FSU Dance Company. To conclude the concert, Fischer has reconstructed and restaged "Steps in the Street," a 1936 work originally choreographed by Martha Graham that he used as the basis for his New York University doctoral dissertation.

Fischer is offering free tickets, based on availability, to those who have not previously attended an FSU Dance Company concert and come to the Performing Arts Center at least one hour prior to the performance. Tickets go on sale Monday, April 30, at $4 each to FSU students with a current ID and $7 for the general public.

Department of Music to Perform Choral Concert

The FSU Department of Music will present its annual Spring Choral Concert, "Music from Diverse Cultures," Sunday, May 6, at 3 p.m. in the PAC's Pealer Recital Hall. The concert is free and open to the public.

The program will feature the University Chorale and Collegium Musicum under the direction of Dr. Karen Soderberg and assisted by pianist Kimberly Andrews.

The University Chorale selections include Johann Michael Haydn's "Gloria et Honore" and "Prayers of Steel" by F. Melius Christiansen. Selections from Scandinavia include "Aftonen" and "A Maiden Is in a Ring" by Hugo Alfvén (Sweden), "At Sunrise" by Toivo Kuula (Finland) and "Rondes" by Folke Rabe (Sweden).

The Chorale will also perform "Prayer of the Children" — written by Kurt Bestor and arranged by Andrea S. Klouse — which is a commentary on the innocent children caught up in the brutal war in Yugoslavia that splintered into warring factions between the Serbs, Croats and Bosnians. Other music includes "The Battle of Jericho," arranged by Moses Hogan, and "Bwana, Ni Nani Atakayekaa?" a Sukuma melody from Kenya, adapted and arranged by Boniface Mganga.

Collegium Musicum's performance will include "Yesu Wainyanza," a Luhya spiritual arranged by David Zalo Okuku and "Kaung'a Yachee," arranged by Boniface Mganga from Kenya. They will also perform Veljo Tormis's "Curse of Iron" featuring Aaron Torgerson, tenor, and Ken Odom, bass, with Shaman Drum, and "St. John's Song," from the cycle of "St. John's Day Songs for Midsummer Eve" from Hargla, Estonia. Collegium Musicum will also perform "Hine e Hine," a Maori lullaby from New Zealand and "Byker Hill," an Irish folk song arranged for male chorus by Mitchell Sandler.

For information, contact the FSU Department of Music at x4109.

Singer-Songwriter Cory Sipper to Perform

Singer-songwriter Cory Sipper — whose style blends acoustic, pop, folk and rock — will perform at FSU in the Lane Center Loft as part of the Cafe Frostburg series Friday, May 4, beginning at 8 p.m. The performance is free and open to the public.

Hailing from Santa Barbara, Calif., Sipper began writing and performing her songs at the age of 12. She attended The Berklee College of Music for a year in 1991 and has since released four albums on her own label, Drumdum Records.

She credits her early influences as Carol King, Joni Mitchell, Cat Stevens and James Taylor.

Sipper has been known to touch listeners with her uncanny ability to write and perform with heart and purity. One fan describes Sipper's music as "music to enjoy and dream to." Another called Sipper's latest album, "Orbiter," as "... the soundtrack of my life."

IFS Film: 'Lock, Stock & Two Smoking Barrels'

The FSU International Film Series concludes its 2000-2001 season with the British feature, "Lock, Stock and Two Smoking Barrels" on Tuesday, May 1 at 7 p.m. in Lane Center 201. Admission is free and open to the public.

Directed by Guy Ritchie ("Snatch"), "Lock, Stock and Two Smoking Barrels" centers the plight of three Cockney boys who owe a gambling debt to a seedy criminal and porn king named "Hatchet" Harry. As they try to avoid their pursuer, the boys are caught up in a world of double-crosses that lead to murders, drugs and two antique rifles.

"Lock, Stock and Two Smoking Barrels" is becoming a cult classic for its unique intelligence, humor and suspense.

The International Film Series is sponsored by the Lane Center and Campus Activities, Center Stage and the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature.

Md.'s Premier Vintage Jazz Ensemble to visit

The Peabody Ragtime Ensemble, which is dedicated to preserving the roots of American jazz, will come to Frostburg State University Friday, May 11, to conduct a series of educational workshops culminating with an evening performance at 8 p.m. in the PAC's Pealer Recital Hall.

Through research, arrangement and performance of a vintage repertoire from Ragtime to Dixieland to Big Band, Baltimore's eminent ensemble "edutains" its audiences with a blend of informative narrative and virtuoso playing that takes the listener on a stroll through America's musical history.

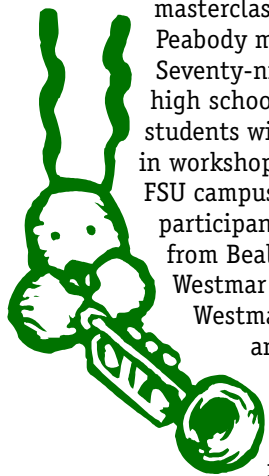

FSU's Jazz Ensemble will join students from the Allegany County school system in a day of workshops and masterclasses with the Peabody musicians. Seventy-nine middle and high school jazz band students will spend the day in workshops held on the FSU campus. Among the participants are musicians from Beall, Fort Hill and Westmar high schools and Westmar, Washington and Mount Savage middle schools.

The professional musicians from Peabody will work with students in sectional rhythm, brass and wind workshops concentrating on style and jazz conception. They will also introduce elements of creative and improvisational style.

The day's activities will culminate as the young musicians appear onstage with the Peabody Ragtime Ensemble during the public evening performance.

Tickets to the evening performance are $5 and will be available at the door. For more information, call x3163.

'Shattering the Silences' Video Set for 2 Sessions

"Shattering the Silences: Minority Professors Break into the Ivory Tower," a PBS video program will be shown in Lane Center 201 on Monday, April 30.

There will be two sessions, one from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and one from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. with a half-hour discussion period following each one.

"Shattering the Silences" takes a surprising and provocative look at the success and distress of minority scholars in the humanities and social sciences in universities from Seattle to New York.

This is a bold, compelling documentary. There are poignant stories about the obstacles and challenges on the journey to the ivory tower. There is both humor and pain as these minority voices in the academy tell a double-edged story. Minority scholars are introducing new perspectives and fresh questions in university classrooms. While they have invigorated disciplines by contributing a wealth of new scholarship, the number of minority professors is still alarmingly small and the pipeline is fragile. Across all disciplines, ninety percent of professors are white.

One of those "new voices," Darlene Clark Hine, historian, states in this program: "If we want a new world, I think we have to make new people, and I look upon students as new people in the making, and we have to teach them a new history."

This is a film filled with compassion, humor, anger and tears, (including student perspectives and reactions). The characters are engaging and provocative. They are superb teachers; riveting role models; and path-breaking scholars in history, literature, sociology, ethnic studies and political science.

Following the MLK message from Bruce Jacobs—writer and poet—this program can provide windows for understanding and compel an interesting and productive discussion.

Students, faculty and staff are invited. The program is sponsored by the Office of Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity (AA/EE0).

Symposium Topic: Making Math Meaningful

The FSU Mathematics Department will sponsor the 30th Annual Mathematics Symposium, Friday May 4. This year's theme is: "Our 3M Mission: Making Mathematics Meaningful." The keynote presentation will be "Virtual Manipulatives? ... And Their Role in School Mathematics" by Dr. Patricia S. Moyer-Packenham of the Graduate School of Education at George Mason University. Also of note is the presentation "Magnifying Mathsemantics Momentum" by Edward MacNeal together with FSU professors Kurt Lemmert (Mathematics) and Glynn Baugher (English). MacNeal, an airline industry consultant, is author of the book "Mathsemantics."

Visit the Mathematics Symposium Web site at <http://www.frostburg.edu/dept/math/wojnar/mathsymposium/>.

Another Brown Bag Lunch Scheduled

All members of the campus community are invited to bring lunch to 202 Lane Center on Wednesday, May 2 between noon and 1:30 p.m.

Dr. Steve Hartlaub from the Department of Political Science will present his study of how the language we choose to use in our syllabi colors students' perceptions of the course and of the instructor.

The presentation will be informal and interactive.

Steve will offer answers to such questions as:

- Does the phrasing we use in our syllabi affect student perceptions of the course?
- Does the phrasing affect how comfortable students are talking to professors? Does it affect their impression of the instructor?
- Are more advanced students more likely to pick up on these subtle clues?

Dessert and refreshments will be provided by the Office of the Provost.

Look for a full schedule of monthly brown bag lunches next fall!

Power Dynamics in Writings Topic of Talk

The power dynamic of the master/mistress-servant relationship, as represented in the works of several contemporary Mexican women writers, is the focus of Dr. Sandra Messinger-Cypess' presentation Thursday, May 3, at 4 p.m. in Lane Center 201. Professor of Spanish and Latin American Literature at University of Maryland College Park, Messinger-Cypess will disclose ways in which the power relationship may be further entangled by layers of class and ethnicity.

Hosted by Sigma Delta Pi, LaSO and the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, Messinger-Cypess' lecture, presented in English, will highlight and illuminate the influence wielded by the "Malinche Paradigm" upon plays, novels and stories by Rosario Castellanos, Elena Garro and Cristina Pacheco.

The event is free and open to the public. An open discussion will follow the presentation, which is sponsored by the FSU Faculty Development Workshop/Speaker Program.

Dr. Philip Allen to Discuss Madagascar

The Philosophical Forum and the African American Studies Lecture Series will present "Mora Mora: The Vanishing Environment of Madagascar," a presentation by Dr. Philip Allen, Wednesday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the Cordts P.E. Center's Leake Room. The presentation will be followed by an open discussion.

Allen's presentation will lead the audience to the exploration of Madagascar's landscape and culture and will address the perils of the Malagasy patrimony. He will also discuss the question of poverty in Madagascar as "a conspiracy of circumstances," and will consider the issue of global solutions for Madagascar's local problems, which he is inclined to picture as "the combat of the rock and the egg."

The event is free and open to the public.

For more information, contact Dr. Thomas Mappes, Philosophy Department Coordinator at x4262 or Dr. Jean-Marie Makang, Coordinator of African American Studies at x3089.

Art

'Oil, Water & Light' Exhibit Ends May 2

Three Maryland artists will exhibit their recent works in a show titled "Oil, Water & Light" through May 2 in the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery. The show is free and open to the public.

Matthew Pickett of Columbia will exhibit traditional landscape and still life oil paintings. His landscapes display the unique aspects of Maryland's scenery.

Heather David of Dundalk specializes in wildlife, landscape and close-up photographs. Her composed works, inspired by everyday observations, aspire to help viewers connect with the living spirit within all things and gain a greater respect for the world.

Local artist Lisa Peterson of Cumberland will show watercolors and prints. Her work is a reflection and celebration of vibrant color as it appears in the world, with images intended to inspire the viewer.

For more information, contact the Department of Visual Art at x4797.

Senior Artists Exhibit Works in 'Laleh'

Three of FSU's graduating artists will exhibit their works in the gallery opening of "Laleh" from May 4 to 9. The exhibition will consist of works by Elizabeth Kirby, Carmen Guido, and Sherene Rezaiyan displaying paintings, ceramic vessels and sculptures, as well as several pieces unrelated to their majors. "Laleh" will open in the Roper Gallery in the Fine Arts building at 7 p.m. Friday, May 4.

Each of the artists has focused on painting. They have developed varying styles and techniques, yet each represents underlying symbolism with aesthetic purity. Carmen Guido uses hallways and familiar objects to represent the emotions encountered during the decisions and trails of life. Abstract houses of simple line and color are Sherene Rezaiyan's way of representing the peace of home and family. Along with a variety of symbolic works, Elizabeth Kirby will exhibit scenes from her trips to Ireland, a selection of dish sets, canisters and uniquely carved vessels.

The exhibition is an opportunity for the artists to display what they have learned in their years at Frostburg. It also provides them with an entrance into the professional art world. The public is invited to join the artists at the opening or any of the days following to view and discuss their work. A majority of the pieces displayed will also be for sale.

For more information on Laleh, please call x4797.

Take Note

Stroke Awareness Day

The Governor has proclaimed May 2 as "Stroke Awareness Day" in the State of Maryland. Stroke information will be handed out on campus and qualified medical staff will take individual blood pressure. A questionnaire will be available to rate your risk of having a stroke. The Office of Human Resources will have these activities in Lane room 201, between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. on May 2. Please request time to visit with us on this date from your supervisor. If you have any questions please call x4897. We look forward to seeing you there.

Stroke is the third leading cause of death behind heart disease and cancer.

Music Education Summer Institute

Registration is currently open for a Music Education Summer Institute at FSU being held from June 29 to July 2. This four-day institute is titled "Current Trends in Music Education". The institute is available for graduate credit and will focus on the current curricular trends in music education, including the National Standards, the assessment movement and Orff-Schulwerk music education.

In addition to daily workshops, evening events include a line- and folk-dance social, a recorder reading session and a potluck dinner and jam session. Evening events are open to the public.

For registration information, contact Dr. Susan Mills at x4119.

Perkins Loan Exit Interview Required

Perkins Loan Exit Interviews will be conducted on Wednesday, May 9, and Thursday, May 10, in the Lane Center, room 202 (the sessions will be at 10 and 11 a.m., and 2 and 3 p.m.) If you received a Perkins loan and are graduating in May, it is mandatory that you attend one of the sessions.

Please bring your driver's license and name/address/phone information for three references. If you have any questions, please contact Denise Fazembaker, Perkins Loan Manager at x3186.

Stafford Loan Exit Interviews to Be Held

All students graduating in May who received Stafford Loan money as part of their financial aid package at FSU are required to complete an exit interview prior to commencement. These mandatory sessions will be held on Monday, May 7, and Tuesday, May 8, in the John Leake Room of the Cordts Physical Education Center. These information sessions will cover such topics as total loan indebtedness, repayment terms, deferment options and consolidation opportunities.

There will be three morning sessions (9, 10 and 11 a.m.) and three afternoon sessions (2, 3 and 4 p.m.) offered each day. Students may choose the day and time that best fits their schedule and are not required to RSVP. A detailed letter has been sent to all students who have been identified as graduating Stafford Loan borrowers. Students who feel they should attend these sessions, but did not get a letter, are urged to contact the Financial Aid Office at x4301.

Thanks from the FSU Parents Association

The FSU Parents Association wishes to thank all students, faculty, and staff who hosted campus events during the weekend of Family Day, April 21.

Special thanks to the students in Residence Life who hosted "Sibling Weekend," the Sierra Club for providing "earth day" activities, the Dept. of Music and Office of Admissions, intramurals, Center Stage, the FSU Bookstore, CAB, University Theatre, and the Center for Service and Leadership for contributing to the program of activities. Your efforts were greatly appreciated by all the families that visited during Family Day. Thank you!

Memorial Wall Update

The FSU Memorial Wall located in front of the Performing Arts Center is accepting names for the annual update. For information on how to have a name added to the wall, contact Jack Aylor, director of development. For more information on the Memorial visit: <http://www.frostburg.edu/admin/foundation/memwall.htm> or call x4161.

Dept. of Social Work Sets Info Session

The Department of Social Work at FSU will hold an information session Wednesday, May 9, from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Department of Social Work Offices in Guild Center 029, for persons interested in a career in social work. The meeting will include information on the curriculum requirements of the social work program at FSU.

The session is designed for people who want to learn more about the social work profession and FSU's undergraduate social work program.

Those who plan to attend are asked to call the Department of Social Work at x7497 at least one day in advance of the session.

The FSU undergraduate social work program is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education.

For information, contact Kathleen H. Powell, M.S.W., at x4695.

Points of Pride

David Dean, Department of History, presented the paper "Westward Ho: Bicycling and History" at the Western Social Science Association in Reno, Nevada April 18-21. He also was a discussant at a panel: "West Point and the Philippines."

WFWM, public radio from FSU, recently taped an episode of "For the Best of Our Knowledge" for Wisconsin Public Radio. The show focused on Bedford, Pa., writer Carole Case, author of "The Right Blood: America's Aristocrats in Thoroughbred Racing." WFWM will receive a credit at the end of the on-air broadcast.

International

Study in Ireland

Applications are due April 30 for the spring 2002 Ireland Exchange Program in Limerick, Ireland. Students study at Mary Immaculate College and take one FSU class and three MIC classes. Next spring Dr. Steve Hartlaub (Political Science) will accompany the group and offer three course options in political science, including POSC 211, "Introduction to World Politics." Application forms may be turned in any time before the deadline. All financial aid will transfer and scholarships are available.

Rowe Scholarships for International Students

The CIE is pleased to be able to offer for the first time the Harold R. Rowe International Student Scholarship for new and returning international students at FSU. Returning students may apply for funding for the fall semester or academic year by contacting Kris Riggs at the CIE, at x4747 or by e-mail at kriggs@frostburg.edu. The deadline for Rowe applications for fall semester is May 1.

Spaces Still Available in Summer Programs

Summer in Oxford, England

Art and Design students are encouraged to sign up for the FSU Summer in Oxford program that takes place during the first three weeks of August. Dr. Judy Dieruf will teach "Watercolor in Britain," and students may take part in a variety of field trips around Oxford. Students live in St. Edmund Hall, one of the oldest colleges in Oxford. Oxford is approximately one hour by bus from London.

Summer in Ecuador

Spend 10 weeks in the Andes taking intensive Spanish classes or Latin American studies through this Augustana College program. An alternative program in "Teaching English as a Foreign Language" is offered for six weeks in June and July. Brochures and applications are available in the CIE office or visit the Augustana web site at <http://helios.augustana.edu/snsummer>.

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases students register at FSU during a semester abroad, and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information on any of the programs or scholarships that may be available, check with Dr. Amy Simes at the CIE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, call her at x3091 or e-mail her at asimes@frostburg.edu. Students are also advised to visit the CIE web page at: <http://www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm>

Study in Newcastle, England

Students interested in studying at the University of Northumbria in Newcastle, England, may apply now for next fall, spring or the full academic year. Newcastle is one of the liveliest cities in the UK, just across the Channel from Amsterdam, and three hours north of London (one hour south of Edinburgh) by train. Course offerings are available in a wide variety of subjects. The cost of the program is the same as one semester (in-state) at FSU, and all financial aid will transfer.

Do Your Student Teaching in Copenhagen

Education majors who would like to earn a semester of FSU credits while studying in Denmark should apply now for next spring semester's exchange program with the KDAS School of Teacher Training in Copenhagen. Students complete projects and spend several weeks in Danish schools practicing student teaching skills. All courses are in English. Financial aid transfers and scholarships are available.

Study Down Under with AustraLearn

FSU is affiliated with AustraLearn, an organization that provides unique opportunities for students to study at a variety of universities in Australia and New Zealand. AustraLearn arranges cheap flights, a weeklong orientation program, pre-registration and transcript evaluation. Students may choose from a broad range of course offerings at campuses set in beautiful and exotic surroundings. Scholarships are available from both FSU and AustraLearn.

Celebrate Oktoberfest in Germany

FSU students who would like to take part in UMUC's semester programs in Schwabisch Gmund in southern Germany are advised to apply to the CIE. The campus is part of the University of Maryland system, and all credits transfer back to FSU. Live in a beautiful village and study on a campus with international students from over 80 countries. All teaching is in English, and German instruction is offered as well. Scholarships are available from both FSU and UMUC.

National Scholarships for Study Abroad

Now is the time to begin the application process for a number of scholarship programs available to students who want to study overseas. Applications are available at the CIE office for the National Security Education Program (NSEP), the Fulbright program, and the Rotary Club. All three programs offer awards that generously cover all study abroad costs and usually lead to employment after college. Fulbright applications are available from Dr. John Neral in Economics (130 Guild Center, x4265). Come by the CIE to see how you may qualify for thousands of dollars in scholarship funds, or check out our financial aid Web page: <http://www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/finaid.htm>

New Scholarships from Maryland

The Maryland International Education Association in conjunction with Celebrate Maryland 2000 is offering study abroad scholarships for the first time this year to Maryland residents who take part in credit-bearing study abroad programs. Awards will help to cover study abroad and travel expenses. For more information and application forms, come by the CIE office.

Scholarships for Students on Financial Aid

The U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs announces a new study abroad scholarship program for undergraduate students who are receiving financial aid and are citizens or nationals of the United States. The Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarship Program will provide scholarships of up to $5,000 for students of limited financial means to pursue study programs outside of the United States for up to one year. A result of the International Academic Opportunity Act of 2000, this program aims to broaden the student population studying abroad by focusing on students who might not otherwise be able due to financial constraints.

Semester Overseas for Same as FSU

The International Student Exchange Program (ISEP) allows FSU students to register at FSU, pay FSU tuition and housing, and then study overseas for a semester, year or summer at one of over 200 foreign locations. Students may take financial aid with them and may apply for scholarships from the CIE. Students may choose programs taught in either English or in other languages. For the price of an airline ticket, this is a great way to earn credit towards your FSU degree while enjoying life in a foreign culture. Some spaces for summer programs in Asia are still available.

Choose from over 20 Locations to Study

FSU affiliates with the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS) which offers study abroad programs in a variety of locations at universities around the world. Programs are open to all majors. Study in Prague, South Africa or Japan. You may register at FSU and use your financial aid for all programs. AIFS offers scholarships to qualified students. Apply now for fall 2001.

information about internships, volunteer organizations and paid work overseas. Many organizations help students obtain jobs and work permits, and some help to arrange housing as well. Students can choose from short experiences (1-2 months) to longer experiences (4-12 months), or even look into a more serious commitment (1-3 years). Destinations are available throughout the world.

Weekly Information Sessions

Students who would like to learn more about study abroad opportunities, and how they fit into a degree program, may come to the Center for International Education in the Fuller House on any Tuesday at 3 p.m. for an information session. The CIE staff will provide an overview of study abroad programs and requirements, and have application forms available. Scholarship and financial aid information will also be available. Students may use the CIE library and computer to search for programs. Many videos are also available.

Music From Around the World

Tune in to the university’s commercial-free radio station, WFWM (91.9), every Wednesday between 7 and 8 p.m. for “Planet Frostburg.” Listen to both traditional and contemporary world music, and get the latest announcements about upcoming study abroad opportunities.
