Spring Festival of Children's Literature Returns to Campus

FSU's 20th Annual Spring Festival of Children's Literature will return to campus Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27, in the Lane University Center. Embracing the theme "A Patchwork of Story: Celebrating 20 years of Children's Literature," the weekend event will feature the award-winning authors and illustrators Peter Catalanotto, Floyd Cooper, Patricia Reilly Giff and Martin Waddell.

Catalanotto

Catalanotto, an author/illustrator, started his career at the Pratt Institute in New York City. According to Catalanotto, he tries to write and illustrate his books in a way that encourages the reader to think.

His book "The Painter" is a "delightful work of art that deserves a place in every collection," notes The School Library Journal. In addition, Catalanotto has illustrated works by well-known authors including Cynthia Rylant and George Ella Lyon.

Cooper, an award-winning children's book author/illustrator, began illustrating as a way of complementing his advertising career. His first book, "Grandpa's Face," is an American Library Association Notable Book. He was also chosen to illustrate books that deal with discrimination such as "Eddie Lee," the story of a young boy with Down's Syndrome.

Cooper

"I feel children are at the frontline in improving society," Cooper states. "This might sound a bit heavy, but it's true. I feel children's picture books play a role in counteracting all the violence and other negative images conveyed in the media."

Because it is "like breathing to me," Giff begins each day by writing. The award-winning author taught for 20 years before deciding to write for children.

"I want the children to bubble up with laughter or to cry over my books," says Giff. She has written more than 60 books including the Newberry Honor Book "Lily's Crossing." Giff is also the author of the book series "Kids of the Polk Street School." Her novel, "Nory Ryan's Song," was awarded the American Library Association's Best Book for Young Adults.

Northern Ireland native and resident Waddell's life was forever changed when he was injured by a 1969 Belfast bomb explosion. "I became Mr. Mom," he states. "What I didn't know was that I was sitting on the richest vein of ideas."

Waddell's first work "Can't You Sleep, Little Bear?" became the first of this award-winning author's Big and Little Bear stories.

In addition to having written over 100 books for children and young adults, Waddell has worked with outstanding illustrators including Helen Oxenbury.

Throughout its history, the FSU Festival of Children's Literature has welcomed a "packed house" of librarians, educators, parents and students who travel to Western Maryland to share their love of children's literature and learn more about the successful ways to share that love with children.

Waddell

Participants will have the opportunity to mingle with fellow educators and exchange ideas, purchase books and learn from the visiting authors.

In addition to the numerous workshops, the Festival includes the R. Margaret Hamilton Children's Hour for children ages 4 to 13, Friday, April 26, beginning at 4 p.m. in the Lane University Center. Age-specific programs by the guest authors offer an opportunity for them to share their works with children and to offer guidance in the process of writing, illustrating and enjoyment of literature.

Contact Dr. William Bingman, Director of the Children's Literature Centre, at x4420 for information.

Theatre

UT to Present Memory Loss Play, 'Fuddy Meers'

University Theatre will present the play "Fuddy Meers" Thursday through Saturday, April 25 through 27, at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre.

"Fuddy Meers" explores the strange dilemma of Claire, who loses her memory whenever she sleeps. Every morning, her husband explains her condition and gives her a book filled with essential information about her life.

When a man in a ski mask enters her house and claims to be her brother coming to rescue her, Claire begins a strange journey to find her past and forgotten life. Her adventure brings her into contact with several outrageous characters, including a dimwitted thug, a claustrophobic policewoman and a crude hand puppet.

"'Fuddy Meers'" has the feel of a collaboration between Jerry Springer and the Marx Brothers," says the Boston Globe about this work by contemporary playwright David Lindsay-Abaire.

Tickets are $3 for students and $7 for the general public. For reservations and information, call the Department of Theatre at x7462, Monday through Friday, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Presentations

'Sankofa' Next in Africana Film Series

The Africana Film Series sponsored by African American Studies for Spring 2002 continues. The next film to be presented is "Sankofa," from the producer Haile Gerima. The showing is scheduled for Monday, April 22, at 7 p.m. in Lane University Center, the Atkinson Room (Room 201).

Haile Gerima is a film professor at Howard University in Washington, D.C., and a well-known film director and producer within the African Diaspora. Sankofa, an Akan word meaning, "one must return to the past in order to move forward," is the story about the transformation of Mona, a self-possessed African-American woman sent on a spiritual journey in time to experience the pain of slavery and the discovery of her African identity. "Sankofa" is also an attempt to tell a different story of the slave plantation in the Americas than that told by Eurocentric historians. The film fictionalizes forms of slave resistance that would discount inherited racial stereotypes and would affirm the not so popular view that the slave truly believed in her/his humanity, inherent worth and equality with the slaveholder.

The event is free and open to the public. The next film in the series, "Flame," will be shown on Tuesday, May 14, at 7 p.m., also in the Atkinson Room.

For more information, please contact Jean-Marie Makang, coordinator of African American Studies at x3089.

Writer Daniel Mark Epstein to Offer Reading

The Department of English and Western Maryland Writers' Workshop will feature Baltimore writer Daniel Mark Epstein on Tuesday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lane University Center Room 201.

An award-winning poet, essayist, playwright, translator, biographer and musician, Epstein has read to enthusiastic audiences throughout Western Europe, Africa and the United States.

In his most recent collection, "The Traveler's Calendar," the poems — by turns mysterious, tender, ironic and apocalyptic — explore the healing power of poetry in times of crises. "A book of night thoughts, of the poet in the middle of his life peering backward, marveling at the mysteries, dramatizing other lives and daydreaming about his own, crafting his song with a gift and a passion, as he so forcefully puts it, 'for filling/Darkness with music'," notes poet Edward Hirsh.

A reception and booksigning will follow the 7:30 p.m. reading.

This event is free and open to the public. For information, contact the Department of English at x4221.

Art

'Life of the Land' Opens April 26 at Roper

"Life of the Land," with artwork by FSU seniors Pam Baker, John Cline and Lynford Yoder, will be exhibited in the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery, located in the Fine Arts Building. The artists' paintings and drawings feature optimistic images inspired by nature and its beauty.

The show will run from Friday, April 26, until Wednesday, May 1. An opening reception will be Friday at 7 p.m. in the gallery, and is free and open to the public. Regular gallery hours are Sunday through Wednesday from noon to 4 p.m.

Pam Baker works in pen and ink, printmaking and painting. Inspired by nature, she creates works that are primarily representational, with detail that comes from close observation of the subject.

John Cline uses the landscape as a metaphor for spiritual concepts. Working from sketches prompted by the sight of the Allegheny Mountains, he imbues his paintings with a mystical feeling through the use of unusual compositions, light and shadow.

Lynford Yoder paints a variety of subjects in oils, including portraits and landscapes. His paintings are not exact transcriptions of nature, but rather attempts to make worlds that could be real through the use of light and harmonious colors.

For information, contact the Department of Visual Art at x4797.

'Ecstasy in Mysteries' on Display at Roper

Senior visual arts students Uyai Ekpenyong, Michael Maginnis and Brooke Perry will present their senior directed exhibition "Ecstasy in Mysteries" at the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery in the Fine Arts building through Wednesday April 24.

The exhibit is free and open to the public. Regular gallery hours are Sunday through Wednesday from noon to 4 p.m.

For information, contact the Department of Visual Art at x4797.

Dance

FSU Dance Company to Present Spring Concert

The FSU Dance Company, under the artistic direction of Dr. Barry Fischer, will present its 2002 spring dance concert Thursday through Saturday, May 2 to 4, in the Performing Arts Center's Drama Theater. Thursday and Friday's performances will be at 8 p.m., while Saturday's performance is a 2 p.m. matinee.

"This concert includes several high-energy, contemporary works for children 8 and above," says Fischer.

Guest-artist Mary Ford of the José Limon Dance Company will perform two solo dances. "Shuvi Nafshi (1947)," described by Fischer as "an early historical masterpiece illustrating Jewish themes," was created by the Jewish-American choreographer, Hadassah. The second work, choreographed by Carla Maxwell, artistic director of the Limon Dance Company, is based on her favorite movements from the Limon repertoire.

Six works will showcase the choreography and dance talents of students from the FSU Dance Company. Vanessa Jackson of the dance faculty at Essex Community College in Baltimore has contributed an Afro-ethnic, hip-hop work. FSU senior dance majors Susan Manger and Lori Cannon will perform in the premiere of an abstract new work by Fischer, set to music by Meredith Monk. Manger and Cannon have each choreographed and will perform original group works utilizing multi-media, text, moving props and contemporary music. Tashia Gaskins, a senior member of the Dance Company, is performing an original solo and group work. A high-energy, contemporary crowd-pleaser from last fall's concert, "Coco-Jumbo," will conclude the concert.

In addition, the Company will present a private performance for students from Beall Elementary, Frost Elementary and St. Michael's Schools at 1 p.m. on Thursday, May 2, as part of its community outreach.

Tickets for reserved seats go on sale Monday, April 29, at $4 each for FSU students with a current ID and $7 for the general public. They will also be available at the door one hour before each performance. For information and reservations, call x7462 between 1 - 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

FSU Presents Annual Spring Choral Concert

The FSU Department of Music will present the Annual Spring Choral Concert, Sunday, May 5, at 3 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center's Pealer Recital Hall. The concert is free and open to the public.

The program will feature Collegium Musicum and the University Chorale under the direction of Dr. Karen Soderberg and assisted by pianist Kimberly Andrews.

The University Chorale selections include two Latin fragments: "Ave Maris Stella" by Estaban Salas and "Deo Dicamus Gratias" by G. A. Homilius, "Eli, Eli" by Gyorgy Deak-Bardos, Lloyd Pfautsch's "Triptych: Musicks Empire" "Orpheus With His Lute" and "Consecrate the Place and Day." They will also perform two Samoan folk songs, "Minoi, Minoi" and "La'u Lupe," arranged by the Zealand composer Christopher Marshall, and two gospel selections, "My God Is an Awesome God" and "Praise His Holy Name," by the American composer Keith Hampton. The University Chorale will conclude the concert with "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" arranged by Peter J. Wilhousky.

Collegium Musicum's performance will include Henry Purcell's "Hear my Prayer, O Lord" and "My Prayer" by Bob Chilcott. They will also perform the Japanese folk song "Sakura" arranged by Toru Takemitsu, "Arirang," a Korean folk song, arranged by Chen Yi, "Song for a Young Country," a setting of a traditional Maori text and poems by Robyn Hyde from New Zealand, by David Hamilton, and "Kondalilla" from Australian composer Great Southern Spirits. Collegium Musicum will conclude their performance with "Makin' Whoopee," arranged by Kirby Shaw, and arrangements of the Beatles "Yesterday" and "Blackbird."

For more information, contact the Department of Music at x4109.

Speakers

CAB Hosts Coaches from 'Remember the Titans'

The FSU Campus Activities Board will host a lecture by former football coaches Herman Boone and Bill Yoast, of the famed T.C. Williams High School in Alexandria, Va. Boone and Yoast's story was immortalized on screen in the inspirational 2000 film "Remember the Titans."

The campus event will take place on Monday, April 29, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lane University Center's Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall. Doors will open at 7 p.m. and admission is free.

In 1971, racial tensions ran high in Alexandria as three schools were newly integrated to form T.C. Williams High School. As a result of combining the three schools, the Titan football team was formed; formerly rival schools, they now faced school integration.

After many tumultuous months, the two coaches, Boone and Yoast, were able to put aside their differences and force their players to unify by establishing common goals and visions. Both men brought the school and community together at a volatile time when race relations were frayed. Compiling a 13-0 record, the Titans became one of the best teams in Virginia and went on the win the state championship.

CAB will show the film Saturday, April 20, at 8 p.m. and Sunday, April 21, in the Atkinson Room.

For more information, contact the FSU CAB Office at x4192.

Appalachian Laboratory

On Thursday, April 25, Deborah Lawrence of the Department of Environmental Sciences, University of Virginia, will present "Effects of Soil Fertility, Landuse History, and Species Diversity on Nutrient Cycling in Tropical Forests."

The seminar, part of the AL Spring Seminar Series, will be presented at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 109. Refreshments will be served after the seminar in the AL Lobby.

Take Note

Multicultural Music Ed. Summer Institute

Registration is currently open for Music Education Summer Institute at FSU being held from July 14-18, 2002. This weeklong institute is entitled "Multicultural Music Education." The institute is available for graduate credit and will focus on Multicultural K-12 music education, including Caribbean music for Orff instruments, South African choral singing, Chinese percussion ensemble and World Music Drumming.

In addition to daily workshops, there is a pot luck dinner and "informance" of world music on Thursday night (July 17) that will be open to the public.

For registration information, contact Dr. Susan Mills at x4119.

Places Available at Children's Center

Looking for a developmentally appropriate pre-school program or quality child care for your child? The FSU Children's Center has openings beginning May 20 for children between the ages of 2 1/2 and 5 years of age. For more information, e-mail dpayne@frostburg.edu or call x4027 between 1:15 p.m. and 2:45 p.m.

Name the Hall: Be a Part of FSU History

You can make a contribution that will be a permanent part of FSU. A new residence hall will be built on the lower end of campus, due to open for students in the fall of 2003, and FSU is looking for a name. All members of the campus community are encouraged to submit suggestions.

In response to student requests at the time they were built, all the newer (downhill) residence halls have been named for cities in Maryland. That history will be taken into account, but all suggestions will be considered.

Send your ideas by April 22 with your name, phone and e-mail address to Liz Medcalf by campus mail at 228 Hitchins or by e-mail at emedcalf@frostburg.edu.

This is your chance to have lots more than 15 minutes of fame and be a part of FSU forever.

Van Driver's Training Sessions for April

- Thursday, April 25, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., LUC Room 207/208

You must register by calling x4897 to attend this training.

Spreadsheet (Excel) Workshops Offered

FSU's Center for Community Partnerships will offer two workshops on the computer program Microsoft Excel 2000, one on building spreadsheets and one on advanced spreadsheets.

"Microsoft Excel 2000 I: Building Spreadsheets" will be offered Monday, April 22, from 6 to 9 p.m. in 208 Framptom Hall on the FSU campus. The class is an introduction to the power of Excel, which enables the user to build, maintain and utilize analytical tools. Excel's formulas, tables and what-if scenarios are user-friendly. Students will learn to build a basic spreadsheet and develop workbooks.

"Microsoft Excel 2000 II: Advanced Spreadsheets" will be offered Wednesday, April 24, from 6 to 9 p.m., also in 208 Framptom Hall. Progress from basic to intermediate/advanced features of MS Excel. Students will continue building, maintaining and utilizing the analytical tools and what-if scenarios of the software and continue to learn advanced formulas and how to further build intermediate to advanced spreadsheets.

To register, contact Dr. Amit Shah or Tammy Alexander at x4008. The cost of registration is $20 per session. Seating is limited to 15 people per session, so early registration is recommended.

Commencement Announcement

Students planning to complete their studies during the current semester (spring 2002) must first officially file for graduation. Undergraduate students should contact the Registrar's Office (x4349, 144 Pullen Hall), while graduate students should submit all necessary paperwork to Graduate Services (x7053, 141 Pullen Hall).

Mailings regarding Commencement are sent only to those students who have completed all filing requirements.

Caps and gowns are provided at no charge to all students cleared to participate in the Commencement Ceremony; however, each student is responsible for placing an order in advance. Orders should be submitted to the University Bookstore immediately.

Information about Commencement is always available on the University's Web site. Go to www.frostburg.edu/events/commenc.htm. For information, contact Beth Deatelhauser in Special Academic Services, x3130, 127 PAC, or via e-mail at bdeatelhauser@frostburg.edu.

Points of Pride

The students have been selected to serve as Commencement speakers for their respective Colleges at the 120th Commencement (May 25) and the 12th Commencement at the Hagerstown Center (May 28):

The College of Education has selected Casey Doggett. Casey, an early childhood/elementary education major, "has distinguished herself as an outstanding teacher candidate, in the elementary classroom as an effective teacher intern, as well as in the university classroom as an excellent student," observes her faculty nominator. During her various internships, Casey organized a classroom science fair for kindergarten, coordinated successful service learning projects within her school community, and implemented a variety of performance-based activities. She has developed technology application projects, has participated in "Read Across America" celebrations, and has been involved in the service activities of the Maryland Student Education Association. Casey will graduate from FSU with a 4.0 GPA.

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences will be represented by Justin VanFleet. Justin will earn a double major in International Studies (International Politics track) and Spanish, achieving an overall GPA of 4.0. Justin's interest in international human rights have led to a study abroad program in Argentina where he conducted interviews with families of victims of human rights abuses. He has held an internship in the Science and Human Rights Program at the American Association for the Advancement of Science and is currently conducting research on protection mechanisms for indigenous knowledge in Latin American patent law. Justin has also volunteered as a Spanish instructor at Frost Elementary School and has served as president of FSU's International Relations Club. In addition, he was head delegate to both the Model Organization of American States and the Model United Nations.

The College of Business has chosen as its Commencement speaker Heather Abucevicz, an Economics major with a double minor in Business Administration and Mathematics. With a 4.0 GPA in Economics and an overall GPA of 3.841, her professors describe her as "well-spoken, self-directed, and poised." A Dean's List student, Heather also works as an actuarial assistant with CBIZ Benefits and Insurance Services where she aids in data collection/analysis and in the preparation of annual reports. In addition, she has excelled in several varsity sports, including volleyball, basketball, and track.

Representing the FSU Center at Hagerstown will be Robert Rankin. A life-long resident of Hagerstown, Robert will receive his MBA at next month's ceremonies, having earned an overall GPA of 3.933. Robert is currently manager of the Scott Minnich Funeral Home in Hagerstown; in addition, he has been very active in community affairs, involved in groups as diverse as the Lions Club, United Way, YMCA, the Red Cross Board of Directors, and St. Mary's Church (as the president of its Parish Council).

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences recently held the first Dean's Student Colloquium and Dinner.

Created to cultivate and recognize significant student endeavors outside the classroom, the Colloquium honored undergraduate students from every major program in the college who are engaged in a unique or particularly interesting activity. Students selected for the Colloquium had the opportunity to describe their work.

A combination of formal presentations and informal table talk, the Colloquium promoted the exchange of ideas, fosters interdisciplinary understanding and respect and reinforces individual morale. Abstracts submitted by each participant are included in a booklet that serves as a permanent record of the event.

Seventeen projects involving 22 students were selected:

- John Tobiason - Art and Design: "Design Work Done for FSU"
- Brandon Lingenfelter - Biology: "Can Rhodococcus equi be Isolated from Soil and Fecal Samples?"
- Kristi Weigle - Biology/Biotechnology: "AFLP Analysis of Maryland Populations of Taxus Canadensis, a State-rare Medicinal Plant Species"
- Andy Reynolds - Computer Science: "Student Services Provided by the FSU Computer Club"
- Lori Cannon - Dance: "Charmer" - a solo dance
- Kesha Frisby, Cynthia Riley and Tim Sloane - Electrical Engineering: "Web Camera for Interactive Video Classroom"
- Roger Alan Skipper - English: "Some Other Tuesday" - a novel
- Larisa Yelovich - History: "The Life and Times of Rosie the Riveter"
- Erin Frankenberg - History/Social Science: "Working Women and the Suffrage Movement from 1900-1920"
- Alison Kaplon - Mass Communications: "FSU Department of Mass Communication Recruitment Campaign"
- Phillip Wagner, Andrew Limbaugh and Adam McCoy - Mechanical Engineering: "A Mechanical Device for Rolling Over the Physically Handicapped"
- Ray Rogers and Michael Shaffer - Physics: "Implementation of LabView Virtual Instruments in Physical Science Classes"
- Dawn Garlitz - Psychology: "Addiction Educator Survey: Preliminary Findings"
- Shawn Golden - Psychology: "Object Memory, Location Memory and Mental Rotation: Sex Differences?"
- * Rosa Anise Smith - Social Work: "Multiple Projects"
- Tina Woodard - Theatre: "Reaching for the Stars"
- Angela D. Burns - Wildlife and Fisheries: "Monthly Variation in Scat Marking by River Otters Along Tionesta Creek in Northwestern Pennsylvania"

FSU's honor from the American Association of State Colleges and Universities as a national model for civic and community service programs was noted in the April 8 issue of "Youth Service America's National Service Briefing," a weekly publication of YSA's National Youth Service Network, which has been published for the national and community service field since 1994. The item read, in part:

"Paula R. Schild, a research assistant from the National Center for Higher Education Management Systems ... noted the enthusiasm and engagement of the University community as a whole in creating, maintaining and expanding service-learning activities at FSU. She cited the Allen HallSTARS! learning community experience as a model, with its problem-based, multidisciplinary approach to service learning, as well as FSU's AmeriCorps, Center for Volunteerism and the new Volunteer Center located at the County United Way offices in Cumberland."

Members of the FSU Wildlife Society who attended the 2002 Southeastern Wildlife Conclave placed fourth out of 17 schools from southeastern region in the Quizbowl competition. The Conclave, hosted by Murray State University in Kentucky at Lake Barclay State Resort, is an annual competition between student chapters of the Wildlife Society which tests the knowledge and skill of each school through a variety of events. The Quizbowl, which is the main event, is a contest between schools that quizzes the participants on subjects ranging from general biology, wildlife techniques, ecology, etc. The other events that the FSU students participated in were art, archery, trap shooting, game calling, dendrology, kayaking, an obstacle course and a team competition. The students who attended are President Angela Burns, Vice President Ross Garner, Treasurer Faran Moser, Secretary Kerry Wixted, Blane Eineichner, Tim Gillespie, Ian Hill, Tim Musella, Thomas O'Miles, Corey Prescott and Tom Rayhard.

Fund-Raisers

Thai Dinner Auctioned to Benefit French Club

The French Club is auctioning a dinner for six persons to raise money. Food will be prepared and delivered to the highest bidder by Special Thai Chef Pai Johnson, an FSU student.

The deadline for bidding is Friday, May 3. Please e-mail Mary Anne Meyers (mmeyers@frostburg.edu) or Pai Johnson (tippyjohnson@yahoo.com) in the Foreign Languages Department. The current bid is $70.

Pai has prepared Thai dinners at the Tombstone Restaurant in Frostburg and has also prepared a Thai dinner for Frost Elementary School auction.

Bobcat Spring Crawl 5K Run/Walk

The Bobcat Spring Crawl 5K Run/Walk is scheduled for April 28 on the Bobcat Track. This event is a fund-raiser for the Intramural Department. We would like to have as much support from the staff and faculty as possible. For information, call the intramural office at x 4466. We hope to see each of you April 28.

Registration is at 9 a.m. on the track. The race starts at 10 a.m. Entry fees are $10 for students and $15 for adults.

The top overall female and male finishers in the run/walk will receive a trophy. Medals will be awarded to the top winner in each group. T-shirts will be awarded to all participants of the race.

The course will go through Midlothian Road and parts of FSU main campus. Runners will start and finish in the Bobcat Stadium. A course map will be available at your request.

Get Involved

Catholic Campus Ministry

CCM will play the "Faith Game" Tuesday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Osbourne Newman Center. Come see how much you know about Catholicism.

United Campus Ministry

UCM will hold a "Fun Night" and progressive dinner Wednesday, April 24, at 6 p.m.

That weekend, Friday, April 26, to Sunday, April 28, will be the Northeastern Jurisdiction Conference held at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa. The theme is "A Fusion of Mind and Spirit: A Weekend of Worship, Service and Fellowship."

For more information on either event, call x7490.

Jobs, Jobs, Jobs

Summer Work Study Jobs Available

The Office of Financial Aid will be sponsoring a summer work-study program for the first session of summer school (May 28 to June 30). In order for a student to be eligible for this program, he/she must meet all of these requirements:

- be registered for summer or fall semester
- demonstrate financial need based on the results of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)

The sign-up will be during the week of April 29 through May 3 in Pullen Hall, Room 114. At that time, students will be provided with the dates for job placement.

Supplemental Instructors Wanted

FSU's Learning Center is looking for students to participate in the Supplemental Instruction (SI) Program. A

Supplemental Instructor attends a selected course, models good student behavior (like reading the book, taking notes, asking questions), and coordinates a weekly lab where students participate in structured activities designed to improve classroom and test-taking performance.

Current positions, among others, include History 100, Sociology 100, and English 101.

Students interested in teaching or tutoring are encouraged to apply, but the positions are available to any FSU student willing to share study tips and motivate students!

An SI Leader receives a stipend of $250.00 and Education Field Experience credits. Job duties include class attendance, weekly supervisor conference, and a one-hour per week lab.

Opportunities for additional service, and pay, are available.

For applications or additional information, visit the Learning Center, 150 Pullen Hall, or contact Dr. Sandy Eckard at x3064 or seckard@frostburg.edu.

International

Int'l Council Needs Students for 2002-3

Students who are interested in serving on the International Education Council during the 2002-3 academic year are invited to get in touch with Dr. Amy Simes, Director of the CIE (x3091). The International Education Council consists of faculty, staff and three student representatives: one each representing the Honors program, returning study abroad students, and international students. The Council meets once a month during the semester on Fridays, usually between 1 and 2 p.m.

Apply Now for Fall, Spring Study Abroad

A few spaces remain open for students who want to study abroad fall semester 2002 through UNN, AustraLearn, or some ISEP, AIFS or SIT programs. Deadlines are approaching in mid- to late April. Students who want to study abroad during spring 2003 need to apply as soon as possible. There are many overseas opportunities in a wide variety of locations. Students interested in studying through the International Student Exchange Program (ISEP) during spring 2003 are urged to apply now. Deadline for spring is Sept. 1.

Rowe Scholarship Deadline - May 1

International students who are studying at FSU on F or J visas and who will have completed one year of study by fall 2002 are invited to apply for the Harold R. Rowe International Scholarship. Applications are available from Tom Carr in the CIE office or can be downloaded from the CIE Web site: www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm. Completed forms should reach the CIE office by 5 p.m. May 2. Awards will be made after May 10. For more information, contact Mr. Tom Carr at x4747 or tcarr@frostburg.edu.

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information on any of the programs or scholarships that may be available, check with Dr. Amy Simes at the CIE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, call her at x3091 or e-mail her at asimes@frostburg.edu, or visit the CIE web page at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm.

School for International Training

FSU is affiliated with the School for International Training (SIT). This enables FSU students to study through SIT in over 50 locations while remaining registered at FSU. All financial aid will transfer. SIT offers programs in Africa, Asia, South America, Europe and Australasia. This is a fantastic opportunity for students who would like to spend a semester, year or summer off the beaten track.

Study in Limerick, Ireland, Spring 2003

Students interested in taking part in the Ireland Exchange Program in Limerick during spring 2003 should pick up an application at the CIE office. Participants in the program study at Mary Immaculate College and take one FSU class and three MIC classes. Next spring, Dr. Kenneth Witmer (Educational Professions) will accompany the group and will teach three classes. All financial aid will transfer and scholarships are available.

Study Down Under: Australia, New Zealand

FSU is affiliated with AustraLearn, an organization that provides unique opportunities for students to study at universities in Australia and New Zealand. AustraLearn arranges cheap flights, an orientation program on the Great Barrier Reef, pre-registration and transcript evaluation. Students may choose from a range of courses at campuses in exotic surroundings. Scholarships are available from both FSU and AustraLearn. Applications for fall 2002 and spring 2003 are now being accepted.

Study in Newcastle, England

Students interested in studying at the University of Northumbria in Newcastle, England, may apply now for spring 2003 semester. Newcastle is one of the liveliest cities in the UK, just across the Channel from Amsterdam, and three hours north of London (one hour south of Edinburgh) by train. Courses are available in a wide variety of subjects. The cost is about the same as one semester at FSU and all financial aid will transfer.

Semester Overseas for Same Price as FSU

The International Student Exchange Program allows FSU students to register at FSU, pay FSU tuition and housing, and then study overseas for a semester, year or summer at one of more than 200 locations. Students may take financial aid with them and apply for scholarships from the CIE. Students may choose programs taught in English or other languages. For the price of an airline ticket, this is a great way to earn credit toward an FSU degree while enjoying life in a foreign culture. Apply now for spring 2003.

Choose from Over 20 Locations to Study

FSU affiliates with the American Institute for Foreign Study, which offers study abroad programs at a variety of universities around the world. Programs are open to all majors. Study in Prague, South Africa or Japan. Register at FSU and use your financial aid for all programs. AIFS offers scholarships to qualified students. Apply now for spring 2003.

Do Your Student Teaching in Copenhagen

Education majors who would like to earn a semester of FSU credits while studying in Denmark should apply now for the spring 2003 semester's exchange program with the KDAS School of Teacher Training in Copenhagen. Students complete projects and spend several weeks in Danish schools practicing student teaching skills. All courses are in English. Financial aid transfers and scholarships are available.

Gain Work/Volunteer Experience Overseas

Students interested in working abroad should come by the CIE for information about internships, volunteer organizations and paid work overseas. Many organizations help students obtain jobs and work permits, and some help to arrange housing as well. Students can choose from short experiences (one to two months) to longer experiences (four to 12 months), or even look into a more serious commitment (one to three years). Destinations are available throughout the world.

Learn More about Study Abroad

Students who would like to learn more about study abroad opportunities and how they fit into a degree program may come to the CIE. The CIE staff will provide an overview of study abroad programs and requirements and have applications available. Scholarship and financial aid information will also be available. Students may use the CIE library and computer to search for programs. Many videos are also available.

Music from Around the World

Tune in to the university's commercial-free radio station, WFWM (91.9 FM), every Wednesday between 7 and 8 p.m. for "Planet Frostburg." Listen to both traditional and contemporary world music and get the latest announcements from the CIE about study abroad opportunities.
