Spring Choral Concert Presented May 5

The FSU Department of Music will present the Annual Spring Choral Concert, Sunday, May 5, at 3 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center’s Pealer Recital Hall. The concert is free and open to the public.

The program will feature the Collegium Musicum and the University Chorale under the direction of Dr. Karen Soderberg and assisted by pianist Kimberly Andrews.

The University Chorale selections include two Latin fragments: “Ave Maris Stella” by Estaban Salas and “Deo Dicamus Gratias” by G. A. Hominlius, “Elí, Elí” by Gyorgy Deak-Bardos, Lloyd Prautsch’s “Triptych: Musicks Empire,” “Orpheus With His Lute” and “Consecrate the Place and Day.”

They will also perform two Samaoan folk songs, “Minio, Minio” and “La’a Lupe,” arranged by the Zealand composer Christopher Marshall, and two gospel selections, “My God Is an Awesome God” and “Praise His Holy Name,” by the American composer Keith Hampton. The University Chorale will conclude the concert with “The Battle Hymn of the Republic” arranged by Peter J. Wilhousky.

Collegium Musicum’s performance will include Henry Purcell’s “Hear my Prayer, O Lord” and “My Prayer” by Bob Chilcott. They will also perform the Japanese folk song “Sakura” arranged by Toru Takemitsu, “Aniran,” a Korean folk song, arranged by Chen Yi, “Song for a Young Country,” a setting of a traditional Masoie text and poems by Robyn Hyde from New Zealand, by David Hamilton, and “Kondalilla” from Australian composer Great Southern Spirits. Collegium Musicum will conclude their performance with “Makin’ Whoopee,” arranged by Kirby Shaw, and arrangements of the Beatles “Yesterday” and “Blackbird.”

FSU Dance Company to Present Spring Concerts May 2 to 4

The FSU Dance Company, under the artistic direction of Dr. Barry Fischer, will present its 2002 spring dance concert Thursday through Saturday, May 2 to 4, in the PAC’s Drama Theater. Thursday and Friday’s performances will be at 8 p.m., while Saturday’s is a 2 p.m. matinee.

This concert includes several high-energy, contemporary works for children 8 and above,” says Fischer.

Guest-artist Mary Ford of the José Limón Dance Company will perform two solo dances. “Shuvi Nafshi (1947),” described by Fischer as “an early historical masterpiece illustrating Jewish themes,” was created by the Jewish-American choreographer, Hadasah. The second work, choreographed by Carla Maxwell, artistic director of the Limon Dance Company, is based on her favorite movements from the Limon repertoire.

Six works will showcase the choreography and dance talents of students from the FSU Dance Company. Vanessa Jackson of the dance faculty at Essex Community College in Baltimore has contributed an Afro-ethnic, hip-hop work. FSU senior dance majors Susan Manger and Lori Cannon will perform in the premiere of an abstract new work by Fischer, set to music by Meredith Monk. Manger and Cannon have each choreographed and will perform original group works utilizing multi-media, text, moving props and contemporary music. Tashia Gaskins, a senior member of the Dance Company, is performing an original solo and group work. A high-energy, contemporary crowd-pleaser from last fall’s concert, “Coco-Jumbo,” will conclude the concert.

In addition, the Company will present a private performance for students from Beall Elementary, Frost Elementary and St. Michael’s schools on Thursday, May 2, as part of its community outreach.

Tickets for reserved seats are $4 each for FSU students with a current ID and $7 for the general public. They may also be available at the door one hour before each performance. For information and reservations, call 734-622 between 1 and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.
CAB Hosts Coaches from ‘Remember the Titans’

The FSU Campus Activities Board will host a lecture by former football coaches Herman Boone and Bill Yoast, of the famed T.C. Williams High School in Alexandria, Va. Boone and Yoast’s story was immortalized on screen in the inspirational 2000 film “Remember the Titans.”

The campus event will take place on Monday, April 29, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lane University Center’s Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall. Doors will open at 7 p.m. and admission is free.

In 1971, racial tensions ran high in Alexandria as three schools were newly integrated to form T.C. Williams High School. As a result of combining the three schools, the Titan football team was formed; formerly rival schools, they now faced school integration.

After many tumultuous months, the two coaches, Boone and Yoast, were able to put aside their differences and force their players to unify by establishing common goals and visions. Both men brought the school and community together at a volatile time when race relations were frayed. Compiling a 13-0 record, the Titans became one of the best teams in Virginia and went on to win the state championship.

CAB will show the film Saturday, April 20, at 8 p.m. and Sunday, April 21, in the Atkinson Room.

For more information, contact the FSU CAB Office at x4192.

Appalachian Laboratory

On Thursday, May 2, Charles E. Conrad of the Department of Geography at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, will present the next AL spring seminar, titled “Synoptic Climatology of Factors Contributing to Precipitation Over the Eastern United States.” The seminar will be held at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 109. Receptions will be served following the seminar.

Presentations

Students to Present Service Learning Projects

Students and faculty involved with the Leadership Studies Minor would like to extend an invitation to the campus community to join The LEAD 150 – Citizen Leader class to hear the final presentations of the students’ service learning projects for the spring 2002 semester.

“The presentations are a great way for people to learn more about the Leadership Studies Minor in general as well as the Citizen Leader course in particular,” said Kathy Powell, Associate Professor of Social Work and instructor for the LEAD 150 course. “The students have learned a great deal about civic involvement, social change, and leadership within a community.”

FSU faculty, staff, and students are invited to attend one or all of the presentations which are scheduled in Guild Center Room 113 on upcoming Wednesday evenings from 6 to 8:30 p.m. as follows:

May 1: Jaime Baker — Neighborhood Change in Fort Washington, Md.; Rosa Romero — The Need for Pro Bono Legal Services on the FSU Campus; Crystal Beeman — Preserving Local Stories in Barton, Md.

May 8: Terica Nickel — Sex Education for Middle and High School Students; Jennifer Twig — Developing a Local Youth Program; Mike Goddard — FSU’s First Relay for Life; Melodie Thomas — Recruiting Students for the Allen HallSTARS! Program

For more information, please contact Powell at x4695.

Good Physical Practices

Whytech and the Center for Teaching Excellence is sponsoring a brown bag lunch Monday, May 6, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. to talk about good physical practices that you can adopt when working long hours at your computer and in your office. Do you know what postures are best, how to arrange your peripherals, how and how often you should relax muscle groups? This session comes with handouts and recommended exercises and office configuration. Occupational Therapist Lisa Stewart will make her presentation in the Cordts Center’s Leake Room. Beverages and dessert will be served.

Art

‘Daedalian’ Opens May 3 at Roper Gallery

“Daedalian,” with artwork by FSU senior art students Melissa Field, Erin Gouldin and Kristin Warnick, will be on exhibit at the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery beginning Friday, May 3.

The show will run from May 3 to Wednesday, May 8. An opening reception will be held at the gallery at 7 p.m. May 3. Regular gallery hours are Sunday through Wednesday from noon to 4 p.m.

Field will display photographs, oil and watercolor paintings, and sculptural ceramics, emphasizing water themes and figurative studies. Along with her black and white photography, Field explores alternative processes, including cyanotypes, gum printing and Polaroid image transfers.

Through her focus in the field of ceramics and painting, Gouldin will exhibit sculptural and functional ceramics and abstract paintings. Gouldin’s exploration of firing processes, whether soda, wood or reduction firing, demonstrates her capabilities as a ceramicist.

Warnick, whose areas of focus are ceramics and photography, will exhibit sculptural and functional ceramics and black and white photography. With her ceramics, Warnick concentrates on the vessel as a canvas for her painterly style, which is further enhanced by her use of sgraffito carving techniques. Her black and white photography portrays the painted body in a style similar to her ceramics, commenting on the idea of the body as a vessel.

The exhibit is free and open to the public. For information, contact the Department of Visual Art at x4797.

‘Life of the Land’ on Display at Roper

“Life of the Land,” with artwork by FSU seniors Pam Baker, John Cline and Lynford Yoder, will be exhibited in the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery. The artists’ paintings and drawings feature optimistic images inspired by nature and its beauty.

The show will run until Wednesday, May 1. Regular gallery hours are Sunday through Wednesday from noon to 4 p.m.

Baker works in pen and ink, printmaking and painting. Inspired by nature, she creates works that are primarily representational, with detail that comes from close observation of the subject.

Cline uses the landscape as a metaphor for spiritual concepts. Working from sketches prompted by the sight of the Allegheny Mountains, he imbues his paintings with a mystical feeling through the use of unusual compositions, light and shadows.

Yoder paints a variety of subjects in oils, including portraits and landscapes. His paintings are not exact transcriptions of nature, but rather attempts to make worlds that could be real through the use of light and harmonious colors.

For information, contact the Department of Visual Art at x4797.

Entertainment

Int’l Film Series Presents ‘The Legend of Rita’

The FSU International Film Series will present “The Legend of Rita” on Tuesday, May 7, at 7 p.m. in the Lane University Center's Atkinson Room.
Set in West Germany in the early 1990s, this political thriller begins with an unconventional bank robbery. Social activist Rita Vogt, accompanied by a terrorist gang, tells bank employees, "Hi, guys, we're the robbers. We're nationalizing the economy." As the group flees, Rita stops to give money to a street person.

After a series of complications, these anti-capitalist revolutionaries are forced to disband, but Rita decides to take refuge in East Germany under a false identity and soon encounters some of the drab, discontented reality of a Communist state. She lives in constant fear of having her cover blown, which unavoidably happens after the German reunification.

The Los Angeles Times calls the film a “captive saga” and “major achievement for director Volker Schlondorf,” who also directed "The Tin Drum." This German film runs for 103 minutes.

For information, contact the Lane Center Information Desk at x4411.

FSU College of Education Recognized by NCATE
FSU has achieved accreditation by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.
FSU is one of the first institutions nationally to reach accreditation under new standards implemented by NCATE that dramatically change the way teacher education is evaluated. FSU is one of 36 schools to meet the new performance-based standards, out of a total more than 640 institutions that have either been accredited or are seeking accreditation by NCATE.
FSU, like all higher education institutions in Maryland with enrollments of more than 2,000 students, was required to gain NCATE approval by the state of Maryland under its Redesign for Teacher Education. According to Dr. Susan Arisman, dean of the FSU College of Education, when the new rule was enacted in the late 1990s, FSU had already set its accreditation drive in motion. A number of Maryland institutions have NCATE accreditation but most faculty that they remained at such a peak of performance over the years even though they didn't go through the national [accreditation] process.

According to Arisman, a number of schools have expressed interest in looking at Frostburg's information as they go through the NCATE process themselves.
NCATE-accredited institutions must meet rigorous standards set by the profession and members of the public. Meeting the new NCATE accreditation standards also helps institutions prepare new teachers for new, more rigorous licensing standards now found in many states.
The U.S. Department of Education recognizes NCATE as the professional accrediting body for schools, departments and colleges of education. On-site visits, documentation review and accreditation decisions are all carried out by professionals from the education community, including teachers, school specialists and teacher educators, as well as members of the public and education policymakers.

Multicultural Music Ed. Summer Institute
Registration is open for Music Education Summer Institute at FSU being held from July 14 to 18, 2002. This two-week institute is titled “Multicultural Music Education.” The institute is available for graduate credit and will focus on Multicultural K-12 music education, including Caribbean music for Orff instruments, South African choral singing, Chinese percussion ensemble and World Music Drumming.

In addition to daily workshops, there is a pot luck dinner and “informance” of world music on Thursday night (July 17) that will be open to the public.
For registration information, contact Dr. Susan Mills at x4119.

Commencement Announcement
Students planning to complete their studies during the current semester (spring 2002) must first officially file for graduation. Undergraduate students should contact the Registrar's Office (x4349, 144 Pullen Hall), while graduate students should submit all necessary paperwork to Graduate Services (x7053, 141 Pullen Hall).
Mailing lists regarding Commencement are sent only to those students who have completed all filing requirements.
Caps and gowns are provided at no charge to all students cleared to participate in the Commencement Ceremony; however, each student is responsible for placing an order in advance. Orders should be submitted to the University Bookstore immediately.
Information about Commencement is always available on the University's Web site. Go to www.frostburg.edu/events/commenc.htm. For information, contact Beth Deatelhausen in Special Academic Services, x3130, 127 PAC, or via e-mail at bddeatelu@frostburg.edu.

Points of Pride
Recipients and nominees for the FSU 2002 Staff Senate Awards for Excellence were honored at President Catherine Gira's Spring Convocation, held April 18.
Developed as part of the FSU's Strategic Plan, these annual awards recognize outstanding employee service to the institution and community. All FSU exempt (salaried) and non-exempt (hourly) staff employees are eligible for nomination by members of the faculty and staff. This year, three categories were recognized: Exempt, Non-Exempt/Other than Facilities and Maintenance and Non-Exempt/Facilities and Maintenance.
This year's recipients were Judy Wolfe for Exempt, Marjorie Robison for Non-Exempt/Other than Facilities and Maintenance and Donald Galliher for Non-Exempt/Facilities and Maintenance. Each was presented with a plaque and a cash award of $500. In addition, their names will be placed on the Awards for Excellence Perpetual Plaque displayed in FSU's Office of Human Resources.
Nominees for 2002 were Pat Deasy, Marjorie Robison and Wolfe for Exempt; Griffith and Vicky Raylor for Non-Exempt/Other than Facilities and Maintenance and Donald Galliher for Non-Exempt/Facilities and Maintenance.
Funding for the Staff Senate Awards for Excellence is made possible by contributions to the Annual Fund Campaign through the FSU Foundation, Inc.

Chris Mc Knight, Head Baseball Coach, and Scott Kingston, Assistant Coach, published an article in Coach and Athletic Director titled "Bunt Defenses and Picks for Critical Situations.”

A team of educators from FSU was one of 15 teams selected through a competitive process to attend Campus Compact's "Introductory Institute on Service-Learning" in Harrisburg, Pa. Campus Compact is an educational association dedicated to promoting the civic
The cook-out will be held and prizes will be awarded to the winning team of seven people together, contact Ron Ross and Marci McClive at x7934. Summer Work Study Jobs Available

The Office of Financial Aid will be sponsoring a summer Work-Study program for the first session of summer school (May 28 to June 30). In order for a student to be eligible for this program, he/she must meet all of these requirements:
- be registered for summer or fall semester
- demonstrate financial need based on the results of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)

The sign-up will be during the week of April 29 through May 3 in Pullen Hall, Room 114. At that time, students will be provided with the dates for job placement.

Supplemental Instructors Wanted

FSU’s Learning Center is looking for students to participate in the Supplemental Instruction (SI) Program. A Supplemental Instructor attends a selected course, models good student behavior (like reading the book, taking notes, asking questions), and coordinates a weekly lab where students participate in structured activities designed to improve classroom and test-taking performance.

Current positions, among others, include History 100, Sociology 100, and English 101.

Students interested in teaching or tutoring are encouraged to apply, but the positions are available to any FSU student willing to share study tips and motivate students.

An SI Leader receives a stipend of $250 and Education Field Experience credits. Job duties include class attendance, weekly supervisor conference, and a one-hour per week lab.

Opportunities for additional service, and pay, are available.

For applications or additional information, visit the Learning Center, 150 Pullen Hall, or contact Dr. Sandy Eckard at x3064 or seckard@frostburg.edu.

Student Accident/Injury Reporting Procedures

An employee who is involved with or is a witness to an accident or employee injury must seek immediate first aid / medical attention. Evaluation and treatment may be obtained at the Brady Health Center during its normal service hours. You, your supervisor or another employee must call the Office of Human Resources and report the injury. Complete the required First Report of Injury forms and return them to the Office of Human Resources. You should be able to obtain these forms from the main office of your department or division. For additional information, please call x4105/4897. Please follow the reporting procedures on Page 22 of your Employee Safety and Risk Management Manual.

Stroke Awareness Information Day

Again this year, FSU will conduct a Stroke Awareness Information Day in connection with Maryland Stroke Awareness Day on Wednesday, May 8, from 9 a.m. to noon in Lane University Center 201. Stroke warning signs and related information will be distributed. You can have your blood pressure taken and have a risk assessment form completed. There is no cost to the employee. Please inform your supervisor if you plan to attend.

Deadline for Ireland Exchange - April 30

Students who are interested in taking part in next spring’s Ireland Exchange Program with Mary Immaculate College should note that the deadline for applying is Tuesday, April 30. Application forms are available from the CIE in the Fuller House. The exchange program takes place each spring. Next spring Dr. Kenneth Witmer from Educational Professions will accompany the group and teach three courses. Students pay regular FSU tuition and may apply for CIE scholarships. For information, contact Amy Simes at x3091.

Rowe Scholarship Deadline - May 1

International students who are studying at FSU on F or J visas and who will have completed one year of study by fall 2002 are invited to apply for the Harold R. Rowe International Scholarship. Applications are available from Tom Carr in the CIE office or can be downloaded from the CIE Web site: www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm. Completed forms should reach the CIE office by 5 p.m. May 1. Awards will be made after May 10. For more information, contact Tom Carr at x2477 or tcarr@frostburg.edu.

Int’l Council Needs Students for 2002-3

Students who are interested in serving on the International Education Council during the 2002-3 academic year are invited to get in touch with Dr. Amy Simes, Director of the CIE (x3091). The International Education Council consists of faculty, staff and three student representatives: one each representing the Honors program, returning study abroad students and international students. The Council meets once a month during the semester on Fridays, usually between 1 and 2 p.m.

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information on any of the programs or scholarships that may be available, check with Dr. Amy Simes at the CIE in the Fuller House on Backbone Road, call her at x3091 or e-mail her at asimes@frostburg.edu, or visit the CIE web page at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm.

School for International Training

FSU is affiliated with the School for International Training (SIT). This enables FSU students to study through SIT in over 50 locations while remaining registered at FSU. All financial aid will transfer. SIT offers programs in Africa, Asia, South America, Europe and Austral-asia. This is a fantastic opportunity for students who would like to spend a semester, year or summer off the beaten track.

Study in Newcastle, England

Students interested in taking part in the Ireland Exchange Program in Limerick during spring 2003 should pick up an application at the CIE office. Participants in the program study at Mary Immaculate College and take one FSU class and three MIC classes. Next spring, Dr. Kenneth Witmer (Educational Professions) will accompany the group and will teach three classes. All financial aid will transfer and scholarships are available.

Study Down Under: Australia, New Zealand

FSU is affiliated with AustraLearn, an organization that provides unique opportunities for students to study at universities in Australia and New Zealand. AustraLearn arranges cheap flights, an orientation program on the Great Barrier Reef, pre-registration and transcript evaluation. Students may choose from a range of courses at campuses in exotic surroundings. Scholarships are available from both FSU and AustraLearn. Applications for fall 2002 and spring 2003 are now being accepted.

Study in Newcastle, England

Students interested in studying at the University of Northumbria in Newcastle, England, may apply now for spring 2003 semester. Newcastle is one of the liveliest cities in the UK, just across the Channel from Amsterdam, and three hours north of London (one hour south of Edinburgh) by train. Courses are available in a wide variety of subjects.

The cost is about the same as one semester at FSU and all financial aid will transfer.

Semester Overseas for Same Price as FSU

The International Student Exchange Program allows FSU students to register at FSU, pay FSU tuition and housing, and then study overseas for a semester.
year or summer at one of more than 200 locations. Students may take financial aid with them and apply for scholarships from the CIE. Students may choose programs taught in English or other languages. For the price of an airline ticket, this is a great way to earn credit toward an FSU degree while enjoying life in a foreign culture. Apply now for spring 2003.

Choose from Over 20 Locations to Study

FSU affiliates with the American Institute for Foreign Study, which offers study abroad programs at a variety of universities around the world. Programs are open to all majors. Study in Prague, South Africa or Japan. Register at FSU and use your financial aid for all programs. AIFS offers scholarships to qualified students. Apply now for spring 2003.

Do Your Student Teaching in Copenhagen

Education majors who would like to earn a semester of FSU credits while studying in Denmark should apply now for the spring 2003 semester’s exchange program with the KDAS School of Teacher Training in Copenhagen. Students complete projects and spend several weeks in Danish schools practicing student teaching skills. All courses are in English. Financial aid transfers are possible. Students may use their financial aid with them and can apply for scholarships from the CIE. Students may choose from short experiences (one to 12 months), or even look into a more serious commitment (one to three years). Destinations are available throughout the world.

Gain Work/Volunteer Experience Overseas

Students interested in working abroad should come by the CIE for information about internships, volunteer organizations and paid work overseas. Many organizations help students obtain jobs and work permits, and some help arrange housing as well. Students can choose from short experiences (one to two months) to longer experiences (four to 12 months), or even look into a more serious commitment (one to three years). Destinations are available throughout the world.

Learn More about Study Abroad

Students who would like to learn more about study abroad opportunities and how they fit into a degree program may come to the CIE. The CIE staff will provide an overview of study abroad programs and requirements and have applications available. Scholarship and financial aid information will also be available. Students may use the CIE library and computer to search for programs. Many videos are also available.

Music from Around the World

Tune in to the university’s commercial-free radio station, WFWM (91.9 FM), every Wednesday between 7 and 8 p.m. for “Planet Frostburg.” Listen to both traditional and contemporary world music and get the latest announcements from the CIE about study abroad opportunities.
