Writing Workshop for High School Students

The second annual Savage Mountain Creative Writing Workshop for high school students will be held at FSU, home to noted writers and FSU professors Barbara Hurd ("Stirring the Mud"), Brad Barkley ("Allison's Automotive Repair Manual") and Gerry LaFemina ("The Parakeets of Brooklyn"), from June 26 to June 30. The Savage Mountain Creative Writing Workshop is an opportunity for high school sophomores, juniors and seniors to spend a week of intensive study in fiction writing, creative nonfiction writing and poetry writing.

Attending students will get an experience with literature and language beyond the average high school's goal and requirements, including the production of polished stories, essays or poems, online publications and the opportunity to study with respected and well published contemporary fiction writers, essayists and poets. By learning to read texts like writers, as opposed to literature students, participants will get a greater understanding of what choices make a piece of writing individual and powerful, will become more attentive readers and will become more aware of the countless potentialities for their own written work.

For a $200 fee, students spend a week studying with a published writer, gain the ability to work in small, seminar-style workshop classes in order to produce polished fiction, essays and poems and a have chance to read their finished works to an audience of their family and peers. There is also an opportunity to win prizes from the readings, lunch and receptions. This year the faculty consists of LeFemina (director), Barkley (fiction), George Guida (creative nonfiction) and Erin Murphy (poetry). Additionally, there is a residence hall option available this year for an additional $120 fee, double occupancy, and includes breakfast and dinner.

For more information or applications, contact LeFemina at x4024 or glafemina@frostburg.edu.

Summer Math Program Seeks Young Minds

The Maryland Summer Center for Mathematics: "Mystery + Mastery * Beauty + Power = Infinity!" at FSU is seeking applications of talented children currently in grades 4 to 7. This Maryland Summer Center runs from July 5 to 14 (weekend excluded). Content will emphasize the beauty of math and joy of exploration. Students will be challenged to develop perspectives and tricks of mathematicians, as well as exploration strategies and empowering habits of mind. Last year's program received very strong reviews from State evaluators. Those who participated in last year's program are still eligible, and the mathematics content will be new.

The instructional team includes Co-Director Dr. Gerry Wojnar (FSU), Co-Director Pam Deering (Instructional Designer at Allegany College), Associate Director Dr. Marc Michael (FSU), visiting fractal specialist Dr. Len Brin from Southern Connecticut State University, and FSU graduates LeeAnn Zlomek (Washington Middle mathematics school improvement specialist, former Maryland Council of Teachers of Mathematics Teacher of the Year) and Teresa Vogtman (Braddock Middle School MathCOUNTS leader), plus some FSU students. The Co-Directors were awarded Governor's Citations for making significant contributions to the field of gifted and talented education in Maryland, nominated for the recognition by State Superintendent of Schools Nancy Grasmick.

The program is non-residential. Applications should be submitted as soon as possible. Scholarships are available. The program is funded by the Maryland State Department of Education. For more information, visit the web site <http://faculty.frostburg.edu/math/wojnar/msc>.

Information is also available in elementary and middle schools or by calling Wojnar at x4181.

Math Camp at FSU Math Lab

FSU math professor Dr. Laxman Hegde is conducting a Summer Math Camp for the area children entering fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh grade in the fall of 2006. Prof. Hegde has been teaching mathematics for the last 25 years (15 years at FSU).

There will be four sessions:

- Session I (June 19-22, 1-4:30 p.m.) for fourth and fifth graders.
 - Session II (June 26-29, 1-4:30p.m.) for sixth and seventh graders.
 - Session III (July 17-July 20, 1-4:30p.m.) for fourth and fifth graders.
 - Session IV (July 24-July 27, 1-4:30p.m.) for sixth and seventh graders.
 - Session V (Aug. 14-Aug. 17, 1-4:30p.m.) for fourth and fifth graders.
 - Session VI (Aug. 21-Aug. 24, 1-4:30p.m.) for sixth and seventh graders.
- Sessions III and IV are similar but not identical. It is not necessary to attend sessions I and II to be able to attend sessions III and IV.

In sessions I and III, the students will explore Arithmetricks, some tricks to do perform arithmetic quickly. Also students will explore some basic algebra, geometry, and probability ideas. The problems are fun oriented. There will be lots of web based problem solving activities and math games and strategies.

In sessions II and IV, the students will explore George Polya's four step problem solving logic: Understand a problem, devise a plan, carry out the plan, and look back. Students will explore different problem solving strategies such as guess and check, graphs and table, work backwards, set up equations etc. Importantly, the students will be introduced to networks and graphs.

All these math activities provide a great opportunity for our students to enhance their mathematical skills.

Cost is $75 per session. For information, contact Hegde at lhegde2@gmail.edu or x4384 or visit foundationmath.com.

Courses Focus On Museums as Resources

Creativity and collaboration between University of Maryland, FSU and Allegheny College of Maryland has led to a new series of graduate-level classes that feature museums as resources for developing special projects for use in public schools.

This summer, faculty from the three institutions will teach three courses on museums as educational resources, featuring materials at the C. William Gilchrist Museum of the Arts in Cumberland. Educational materials produced in these courses will be used in the after-school program of Allegany County Public Schools. The series is designed as part of a graduate degree program, to meet teacher recertification requirements or others who meet enrollment requirements.

The classes offered are: "The Arts: Contrasts and Connections," "Museums as Educational Resources" and "Practicum in Museum Education."

The first course, "The Arts: Contrasts and Connections," will be offered May 30- July 7, on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6 p.m. to 8:20 p.m. at FSU. This arts integration course will emphasize the inter-connectedness among the disciplines as the young learner experiences them.

Second in the series is "Museums as Educational Resources," which is offered July 6-26, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to noon. The class focuses on using museums as a resource to support instructional goals for K-12 schools. Participants will look at the Gilchrist Museum materials and design appropriate activities. The third course, which will be held during fall semester, is titled "Practicum in Museum Education." Instructional materials designed in the second course will be developed into an interdisciplinary after-school program in selected Allegany County Public Schools.

The deadline to register for the first course is May 12. Registration is through the Outreach Office at the U-Md. College of Education. Contact Toyia Younger at tyounger@umd.edu or Julianne Ferris at jferris@umd.edu.

Safety Message

Md. Chiefs' Challenge Nighttime Enforcement

What is the Nighttime Enforcement Effort?

This is a statewide program that is run on the same evening throughout Maryland, May 25. Law Enforcement Officers will be conducting traffic enforcement "Day & Night" in an effort to increase seatbelt usage compliance. Remember that Maryland Law states that every driver and every front passenger occupant MUST wear a seatbelt. Unless you want to risk a ticket, or worse-your life, you need to remember to 'Click It or Ticket' day and night.

Is it effective? According to NHTSA (National Highway Traffic Safety Administration) 31,693 passengers died in traffic crashes during 2004-2005, and 55 percent of those passengers were not wearing their seatbelt.

NHTSA research has found that lap and shoulder safety belts, when used, reduce the risk of fatal injury from front-seat passenger car occupants by 45 percent and 60 percent in pickup trucks, SUVs and mini-vans.

We're finished with the warnings, so buckle up or pay up!

Fire Safety Prevention Notice - No Candles

No burning candles are allowed in any campus facilities, including classrooms, offices, assembly areas, residence halls, public spaces, meeting rooms, lecture halls and dance studios. No exceptions! (In compliance with the States Fire Prevention NPFA 101 Life Safety Code)

Special permission may be obtained from the Office of Human Resources Safety Office for specific dining activities. Written requests must be received five days before the activity. Any questions, please call x4897.

Campus Vehicles: Slow Among Pedestrians

Four and six wheeled non-standard vehicles reduce your speed, slow down and watch for pedestrians!

Non-standard vehicles include John Deere Gators, flatbed six-wheel, golf carts, four-wheel vehicles with a flatbed back, a box enclosure or a second seat. These are the non-standard vehicles that travel on side walks, service roads and campus roads and are used for many types of tasks. They are driven among pedestrians on and around crosswalks. They can create serious hazards when speed is applied. These vehicles should not be travel any faster on service roads and sidewalks than pedestrians are walking. Drivers who do not slow down to prevent pedestrian injuries will be reported to the University Police. Safety is our first concern.
