FSU Junior To Be Student Rep for USM

Richard Scott uses three daily planners to help him stay on top of his busy schedule. He's pursuing two majors—political science and theatre, along with a certificate in public administration—which might explain why he's enrolled in nearly 18 course credits this semester. Now the FSU junior is about to add another number to his equation for success: he has been nominated to serve as the sole student representative on the University System of Maryland Board of Regents.

The student regent is a full-fledged, voting member of the University System of Maryland Board of Regents, appointed by the Governor of Maryland. Only one student from across the System serves each year. The responsibilities of the appointment include serving on various committees and making sure the voice of the University System student body is heard, jobs that require frequent trips to Annapolis. His one-year term begins July 1. Scott is the second FSU student in the history of the University System of Maryland to fill this role: the last time an FSU student regent served the Board was during the 1999-2000 school year.

Scott's involvement in a variety of activities has kept him in the public eye here on campus as well as in Annapolis.

"In the past seven months that I have known Richard Scott, I have seen him as an actor in one of our student plays, interacting with U.S. Sen. Ben Cardin, working out at the Fitness Center and working on behalf of all students at FSU," FSU President Jonathan Gibralter said. "He is a remarkable young man, and I believe him when he says that some day he hopes to be President of the United States. I am very proud of the fact that he has been chosen to be student regent and know he will represent FSU and all students in Maryland very well."

Scott has had his heart set on representing the people through politics for many years.

"My mom stressed the importance of voting to me early on," he said, remembering how she routinely took him inside voting booths with her until he was 12, and too big to go anymore. Scott also attended the 1997 Clinton Inauguration, where he saw Maya Angelou and visited the office of U.S. Rep. Jesse Jackson Jr., D-Ill. He also established a lasting mentorship with Maryland Senate President Mike Miller while interning at the Office of the President of the Maryland Senate. Scott's passion for politics has continued to follow him to Frostburg, where he is active with the College Democrats and recently helped coordinate Gov. Martin O'Malley's campaign visit to FSU, which drew nearly 500 people.

"The O'Malley event was really big because it shows that Frostburg cares," Scott said.

"People throughout the state get caught up in the stereotype of how Frostburg is such a party school. They forget we produce students who compete at the highest levels in the country."

Making sure people know what an amazing place Frostburg is and how talented and scholarly its students are

Get a Taste of French Film, Wine

The FSU University Programming Council presents the film "Mondovino," as part of the Tournées Film Festival on Thursday, March 8, at 7 p.m. in the Lane University Center Room 140. There will be a wine tasting and prescreening panel immediately preceding the screening in LUC Room 140 at 5 p.m. Advance registration and proper identification is required for participation in the wine tasting. Both events are free and open to the public.

The prescreening panel discussion and wine tasting will feature local wineries and their impact on tourism and the regional economy. The featured speakers include Charlie Ross, Director and CEO of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce; Paul Roberts, Owner of Deep Creek Cellars and Todd West, WVU School of Agriculture and Instructor for the "Vines to Wines" course.

"Mondovino" gives voice to those who create, critique, sell and distribute wine, offering a surprisingly varied, and sometimes controversial glimpse into something many people enjoy but few people know much about. The ultimate film about wine, "Mondovino" was filmed over a three-year period in France, Italy, the United States, Argentina and Brazil. Juxtaposing mom-and-pop wine growers with conglomerates, Johnathan Nossiter, a trained sommelier and wine writer, intertwines multiple family dramas—some of which play out like soap operas.

Through interviews of amateurs, winegrowers, businessmen and critics, he uncovers the complex tapestry of conflicts, conspiracies and alliances that will be key highlights in the agenda Scott wants to pursue as University System student representative. In addition to marketing the school in a positive light, Scott also wants to focus on dealing effectively with the rising costs of tuition and developing something he calls "text-free textbooks," books that students can read online and not have to buy.

Getting up in front of people to present ideas is nothing new for Scott. In addition to his growing career in government, he is also an actor who has performed in various University Theatre performances and, with the help of his agent, has even snagged a few roles in independent films. Following graduation from FSU, he dreams of spending a few years in Washington, D.C., and then moving to Los Angeles to pursue acting and directing, a path that reflects the multiplicity of his talents and goals.

Theatre

UT Explores Untold Story in 'Eurydice'

University Theatre will present a whimsical interpretation of "Eurydice" by Sarah Ruhl on March 8, 9 and 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the Drama Theatre of FSU's Performing Arts Center.

The traditional story of Orpheus and Eurydice is a cornerstone of Western mythology and has been retold in nearly every art form. Ruhl, the playwright, has said, "We know a great deal about Orpheus' loss. But for some reason we never hear from Eurydice—she's always a cipher, someone who dies twice. I'm interested in her voice, a voice that hasn't been heard before. I'm interested in anyone who dies twice." This creative and fresh look at the myth incorporates moments of humor as well as more serious moments of sentimentality.

Tickets are $5 for students and $10 for non-students for the Main Stage series. For reservations and information, call the theatre box office at x7462. Please note that evening performances now begin at 7:30 p.m.

Music

Learn More About New Orleans Jazz

The world-renowned Preservation Hall Jazz Band, a group of talented and award-winning musicians who have dedicated their careers to preserving New Orleans jazz, will explore jazz's roots in the Big Easy during a special educational session at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, March 15, in Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall at FSU's Lane University Center.

The program, a component of the CES Jazz Club's educational outreach initiatives, is free and open to the public. Using slides, video and musical examples, Preservation Hall Jazz Band will trace the complex history of New Orleans and its multi-layered cultures to explain the development and evolution of New Orleans jazz. At the heart of the presentation is the question, "Why is New Orleans the birthplace of jazz?" Ticket holders will also be able to enjoy the group's sounds later that day during a sold-out performance at 7:30 p.m. at FSU.

"This is a unique opportunity, for not only jazz aficionados but for our entire community, to gain insight into the development of jazz as well as the impact and influence the New Orleans region continues to have on this music," said Mary Jane Plummer, assistant director of FSU's Cultural Event Series. "But even more impressive is the fact that we will hear this directly from one of New Orleans' most prominent groups and world-renowned performers."

Founded in 1961 by Alan and Sandra Jaffe, who sought to perpetuate the traditional jazz music of New Orleans, the Preservation Hall Jazz Band has toured the world as emissaries of this unique American art form. The group was recently awarded the 2006 National Medal of Arts, the nation's highest honor for artistic excellence, in recognition of its efforts to bring jazz to the masses.

Dedicated to preserving New Orleans Jazz, Preservation Hall Jazz Band performs traditional New Orleans music and derives its name from the venerable music venue—Preservation Hall, in the heart of the French Quarter in New Orleans.

For more information about this free program featuring Preservation Hall Jazz Band, please call the FSU Cultural Events Box Office at x3137, or visit online at ces.frostburg.edu.

Then Gaines will perform Live! at the Loft on Friday, March 9 at 8 p.m. in the Derezhinski Lounge. Both events are free and open to the public.

Since Gaines' self-titled debut was released, this expressive and dynamic artist has been heralded for his soul-

The FSU University Programming Council presents singer, songwriter and guitarist Jeffrey Gaines. Gaines will perform several songs, discuss his searching confessional lyrics and his powerful live performances. Gaines has been described as "the man who sounds like Otis Redding, Elvis Costello and David Bowie, wrapped in one amazing package." Gaines has shared the stage with Stevie Nicks, Sheryl Crow, Tom Petty, Tracy Chapman, Greg Allman, Tori Amos and Sting.

Faculty Lecture, Recital Highlight Composer

Dr. Ellen Grolman, FSU music professor and author of Joan Tower: The Comprehensive Bio-Bibliography, will lecture about Tower and her music in conjunction with a recital by clarinetist Dr. Mark Gallagher and pianist Frank Corliss at 3 p.m. on Sunday, March 11, in the Performing Arts Center's Pealer Recital Hall.

The afternoon's selections will include Joan Tower's "Fantasy (...those harbor lights)," Robert Schumann's "Fantasiestücke für Klarinette und Klavier, Op. 73," George Phillip Telemann's "Fantasien für Klarinette Solo" arranged by Mark Gallagher and John Ireland's "Fantasy-Sonata."

Grolman, who has been an FSU faculty member since 1983, is very active in musicological research, specifically in the field of women composers. In addition to performing and teaching, Grolman appears regularly as a music reviewer and editor for two separate music journals.

Gallagher is an assistant professor of clarinet and music theory at FSU. When he is not performing around the world or teaching, Gallagher lectures on the topic of occupational health issues facing musicians. He recently returned from a concert tour in the Netherlands.

Frank Corliss recently joined the faculty at the Bard College Conservatory of Music in New York. Prior to that, he was a staff pianist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra for many years as well as the Director of Music at one of the nation's premier private secondary arts schools, the Walnut Hill School.

For more information on this event, contact the Department of Music at x4109. For more information on Gallagher, visit www.markgallagher.net.

Goo Goo Dolls To Play FSU

The alternative rock superstars the Goo Goo Dolls will appear in concert at FSU's Cordts Physical Education Center Main Arena on Sunday, April 22, at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the FSU

Lane University Center Box Office and online at <http://ces.frostburg.edu>.

Best known for their chart-topping hits "Name," "Iris," "Slide" and "Here is Gone," the Goo Goo Dolls are on tour to promote their eighth album, "Let Love In," the result of a return to their Buffalo, N.Y., roots. Founding members John Rzeznik and Robby Takac left Buffalo for Los Angeles, but Rzeznik failed to find much inspiration in L.A. He decided to pack up and head back East, meeting bandmates Takac and drummer Mike Malinin in Buffalo to set up shop in a 100-year-old Masonic Ballroom.

The Goo Goo Dolls

Once again, Goo Goo Dolls will support the USA Harvest organization along the tour by collecting food for distribution in each city, which in turn is distributed on the same night in every city they play. To date, the Goos have collected millions of meals for people in need. The band urges fans attending the shows to bring canned food to the Cordts Center and drop it off at the collection points at the entrance.

Tickets cost $65, $55 and $36, with $18 bleacher seats available to FSU students. For more information, call the Lane University Center Box Office Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at x3137 or toll-free at 1-866-TIXX-CES or online at <http://ces.frostburg.edu>.

Literature

FSU Presents Poet

FSU presents alumnus poet and author Brian Gilmore on Monday, March 12, at 7 p.m. in the FSU Lane University Center Atkinson room 201. This event is part of the Lewis J. Ort Library Author Series 2007 and is free and open to the public.

Gilmore is the author of two books of poetry: Elvis Presley is Alive and Well and Living in Harlem and Jungle Nights and Soda Fountain Rags. Gilmore recently published essays on politics and culture in The Nation, The Progressive, "SACOBSEVER.ORG" and the Detroit Free-Press. He has also reviewed books on privacy issues, hip-hop music, and African-Americans in sports. In addition, he has appeared on the popular NPR radio show "This American Life" hosted by Ira Glass. For more information, contact Jeff Maehre at x4734.

Entertainment

Juston McKinney Stars in Comedy Night

Comedian Juston McKinney will perform at 9 p.m. Thursday, March 8, at the Lane University Center's Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall. This event is sponsored by the University Programming Council Comedy Committee

McKinney has appeared regularly on the "Tonight Show with Jay Leno" and Comedy Central ("Premium Blend", "Shorties Watchin Shorties," "Reel Comedy" and "Comic Remix"). He recently performed at the U.S. Comedy arts festival and received the "Listerine Clean Mouth Award," which honored his talent and clean style of comedy.

UPC will give away over $100 in door prizes at this event. For more info, call X4411.

Presentations

Appalachian Lab

The University of Maryland Center for Environmental Science Appalachian Laboratory will offer a series of seminars during the spring semester. The next presentation is:

March 8: Dr. Dean Urban, Duke University: "Network models of landscape pattern"

All seminars are held in AL room 109 at 3:30 p.m. Refreshments follow in the lobby. For more information, visit www.al.umces.edu/facseminars.htm.

Famous Photographer Offering Seminar

FSU and the Allegany Arts Council are excited to present two seminars, "Reflections" and "Illuminating Creativity," by the internationally famous artist and photographer John Paul Caponigro. The seminars will take place on the FSU campus and are free and open to the public.

The "Reflections" seminar will be held at 6 p.m. on March 7 in the Compton Science Center room 226. Caponigro will share his images of water as well as his experiences and thoughts on photography during a time when the medium is experiencing tremendous changes. The "Illuminating Creativity" seminar is scheduled for 2 p.m. March 8 in the Fine Arts Building room 132. Caponigro will outline his tried and true methods on how to tap into creativity.

For questions about the seminars, please call the FSU Department of Visual Arts at x4797 or visit www.alleganyartscouncil.org. To learn more about Caponigro, please visit his Web site at www.johnpaulcaponigro.com.

Take Note

Gira Committee Seeks Proposals

The Selection Committee for grants from the Catherine R. Gira Campus to Community Fund is actively seeking applications from students, staff and faculty for programs during summer and/or fall 2007. Grants aim to support students or student projects that demonstrate an entrepreneurial spirit, critical thinking skills and a determination to be successful. Activities supported by grants should not only benefit students, the campus and community but should also enhance FSU's reputation as a leader in the promotion of real-life experiences that complement classroom instruction. Proposals for awards will be reviewed in one or more of the following general categories: Leadership; Alumni Connections; Community Service; Internships; and Study Abroad. Grant awards might vary but can be expected to range from $500 to $2,500, depending upon proposal and scope.

Applications should be submitted to the committee through the Office of the Provost no later than March 26. To secure a more complete description of the Gira Grants and an application, e-mail request to dfell@frostburg.edu.

Personal Exercise Programs Available

Two of the top students in Exercise and Sport Science are now available to help faculty and staff develop their own personal exercise programs. Mike Perlozzo and David Cheeks will be certified by the National Strength and Conditioning Association as Strength and Conditioning Specialists upon graduation. They are available to work with faculty and staff (for free) from noon to 1 p.m. Monday through Friday at the FSU fitness center in the Cordts PE Center.

The center is reserved for faculty and staff during this hour each day and students are encouraged to come back at other times. If you made a resolution to try and take better care of yourself this year, then Mike and David are here to help. They can show you how to use the equipment, how to build a safe and effective training program, and most importantly, how to stay motivated to succeed. Stop by during the noon hour or call Dr. Art Siemann, (x-4463), to set up an appointment.

Robert Kauffman Re-elected Faculty Chair

The Elections Committee wishes to announce the election of Dr. Robert Kauffman of the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation to a second two-year term as Chair of the FSU Faculty. His new term will begin on June 1, and conclude on May 31, 2009.

Please join the Elections Committee in congratulating Dr. Kauffman, and thanking him for volunteering to continue to serve the FSU Faculty.

Assistance for Students on Probation

Do you have questions about your academic status for the spring 2007 semester? Can I take a course at another institution to get off probation? Can I be dismissed at the end of the spring semester? These questions and more can be addressed at a probation meeting. Invest one hour of your time in order to insure you are able to return to FSU for the fall 2007 semester. This meeting could make a difference! The meeting dates are as follows: Monday, March 12, 4:30 p.m., Compton Science Center 224; Tuesday, March 13, 3:30 p.m., Compton Science Center 224; Wednesday, March 14, 7 p.m., Compton Science Center 327

If you have questions or concerns, call the Provost's Office at x4212.

Disney Info Sessions

Students interested in taking part in the Walt Disney World College Program for the upcoming Fall or Fall Advantage Programs, including students auditioning in Pittsburgh on March 25, should attend either the March 6 or 7 information session at 4 p.m. in Lane University Center 202. Come view a Disney presentation, learn about the academic opportunities and talk to FSU Disney alums about their experiences. For more information, see Disney alums at information tables in the Lane University Center this week or contact Elaine Barry in the Advising Center, 126 Hitchins, x3132.

The FSU Physics and Engineering Club will sell T-shirts for $10 as a fund-raiser. The proceeds will be used to support club-sponsored activities like the Physics and Engineering Day here on campus. The Club holds meetings at 7 p.m. every Thursday in CSC 233. For more information, contact Eric Moore at x4500 or ejmoore@frostburg.edu.

Jobs, Jobs, Jobs

Help Out with Summer Orientation

The Office of Student and Educational Services is looking for students (Preview Guides, formerly known as "Student Assistants") to mentor and guide students during the Summer Orientation Program (formerly known as the "Summer Planning Conference"). Interested students can pick up an application from the Office of Student and Educational Services, the Lane University Center Information Desk, and the Residence Life Office anytime after March 5.

Preview Guides are expected to commit both days and evenings to the position from June 10-June 27. Students will be compensated $950 and the position includes room and board. Given the time constraints of the position, students will not be able to take summer school classes or hold other employment. For more info, contact x4311.

Math/Science Center Seeks Staff

FSU's Regional Math/Science Center is now accepting application packets for its summer residential staff. The six-week summer residential education program is designed to prepare and encourage qualified disadvantaged high school students to pursue post-secondary education. Must be available June 18-Aug. 3, including one training week.

- Tutor/Counselors: Work with students in an academic setting as well as supervise and mentor in residential and recreational settings. Must be comfortable assisting students as they conduct a scientific research investigation and have evidence of successful coursework in math and/or science. Tutoring, camp counseling and/or experience in a TRIO or similar program a plus.

- Head Resident: Supervise residential setting, students and residential staff, help plan and organize residential activities and weekend field trips. Must have a bachelor's degree. Camp counseling and/or supervisory experience in a TRIO or similar program a plus.

For more information and application instructions, please visit www.frostburg.edu/hr/jobs or www.frostburg.edu/clife/mscenter/opportunity.htm or call x4295. Review of applications will begin March 1 and the application deadline is April 2.

Upward Bound Has Opportunities

Upward Bound is seeking a Head Resident and Tutor/Counselors for its summer residential program on FSU's campus. Upward Bound is a federally funded program that encourages qualified Allegany County high school students to seek education beyond secondary school. The summer residence program provides the main focus and aims to give students a sample of the college experience. Tentative dates are from June 10 to July 27 (includes five days of training). Head Resident (requires bachelor's degree) salary is $2,800. Tutor/Counselor salary is $2,000. Room and board are provided. Applicant review will begin immediately and the deadline to apply is April 2. For more information, call x4994 and visit www.frostburg.edu/clife/ubp.

Points of Pride

FSU Profs Put Together Leadership Book

Two professors at FSU have pulled together their years of knowledge, experience and research of management and administration in the workplace to write a new book: 101 Leadership Tips.

Dr. Danny Arnold, dean of FSU's College of Business, and Dr. Ahmad Tootoonchi, chair of the Department of Management, were inspired to pursue writing a book together after conducting a Leadership Development workshop with FSU department chairs. Arnold focused on the importance of vision and how managers can effectively deal with complicated situations and continue to make progress until a group's goal is achieved. Tootoonchi, who has spent many years studying leadership and emotional intelligence, presented information about how certain rational and emotional elements of leadership can create a culture of unity and energize groups to reach their goals. They received such positive feedback from participants that they decided to take their knowledge to the next level and put together a helpful book that would address leadership issues at all levels.

"Most leadership books currently in the market focus primarily on leadership at the top of business organizations," Tootoonchi said. "Our book is unique in the way that it covers both day-to-day management activities as well as higher order leadership dimensions such as vision, judgment, empowerment, ethics and integrity."

Published by Pearson-Prentice Hall, the 75-page book is available for purchase at www.amazon.com and is designed for a broad spectrum of readers who want to learn more about leadership.

Scholarships

Grad Assistantships/Int'l Fellowships

Applications for graduate assistantship positions and international fellowships for the academic year beginning with the spring 2007 semester are available. The positions offer paid tuition (up to 30 hours year) and a $5,000 cash stipend per year, in exchange for 20 hours of service each week. These positions are an academic honor, and thus require the applicant to have been accepted to a graduate program in good academic standing and remain in good academic standing for the duration of the award. Applications are available at the Office of Graduate Services, 141 Pullen Hall (x7053) or on the Web at www.frostburg.edu/grad/forms.htm. Applications for spring 2007 are currently being considered. The deadline to apply for the 2007-2008 academic year is March 15.

International

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases, students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information, contact Dr. Henry Bullamore at the CIE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, x4714, hbullamore@frostburg.edu or visit the CIE Web page at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie.

Summer in Australia

FSU affiliate, AustralLearn (www.australearn.org), is introducing a unique four-week summer program (June 18-July 18, 2007) in performance, dance, circus arts and cultural studies in Melbourne, Australia. The course experience is supplemented with visits to local performance centers and arts venues throughout Melbourne. Application deadline is March 15.

Learn about Muslim Cultures in London

Syracuse University has announced a new program that focuses on the Muslim cultures. It will be offered at its London Center in Bloomsbury in fall 2007. London's diverse Muslim population presents unique opportunities for students whose coursework will include visits to religious centers of Sunni, Shi'a and Sufi organizations, multicultural festivals, as well as to London's museums, special collections and galleries. Application deadline is March 15.

Summer in Mali, Africa

Drew University offers a unique summer study program (July 8-August 2) in Mali. The program allows a first-hand exploration of the culture and arts of Mali. Students are introduced to the ways in which art reflects the social, economic and cultural changes taking place in modern Africa. Application deadline is April 15.
