Goo Goo Dolls To Play FSU

Concert Set for April 22

The alternative rock superstars the Goo Goo Dolls will appear in concert at FSU's Cordts Physical Education Center Main Arena on Sunday, April 22, at 8 p.m. Tickets will go on sale at 9 a.m. Monday, Feb. 19, at the FSU Lane University Center Box Office and online at <http://ces.frostburg.edu>.

Best known for their chart-topping hits "Name," "Iris," "Slide" and "Here is Gone," the Goo Goo Dolls are on tour to promote their eighth album, "Let Love In," the result of a return to their Buffalo, N.Y., roots. Founding members John Rzeznik and Robby Takak left Buffalo for Los Angeles, but Rzeznik failed to find much inspiration in L.A. He decided to pack up and head back East, meeting bandmates Takac and drummer Mike Malinin in Buffalo to set up shop in a 100-year-old Masonic Ballroom.

Once again, Goo Goo Dolls will support the USA Harvest organization along the tour by collecting food for distribution in each city, which in turn is distributed on the same night in every city they play. To date, the Goos have collected millions of meals for people in need. The band continues to urge fans attending the shows to bring canned food to the Cordts Center and drop it off at the collection points at the entrance.

Tickets cost $65, $55 and $36, with $18 bleacher seats available to FSU students. For more information, call the Lane University Center Box Office Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at x3137 or toll-free at 1-866-TIXX-CES or online at <http://ces.frostburg.edu>.

This Southern comedy takes place in the bedroom of a Knoxville, Tenn., estate, where five reluctant, identically clad bridesmaids hide out in order to avoid the wedding proceedings below. The afternoon refuge, hosted by Meredith, the belligerent and outspoken sister of the bride, becomes a place for revelations and rebelliousness. In this hilarious and touching production, directed by Phil Hopf, dark secrets are revealed and world views are tested.

"Five Women Wearing the Same Dress" features performances by Mallory Smith, Ashli Mazer, Jenny Tabb, Shea-Mikal Green, Shannon Huber and Tekle Ghebremeschel.

All tickets are $5. For reservations and information, please call x7462.

Audience members of all ages are invited to get to know the world's most animated elementary school student during a special children's theatre performance of "Ramona Quimby," presented by TheatreworksUSA at 2 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 24, at the Performing

Actors David Horak, Tiffany May, John Ferry and Terace Yeatts perform a scene in "Ramona Quimby."

Arts Center Pealer Recital Hall on the FSU campus.

Ramona, the exasperating but lovable third-grader who has delighted young readers for the last 40 years in the books of Newbery Award-winning writer Beverly Cleary, now comes to life on the stage in this spirited production. While intended to tickle the funny bone, the play also incorporates issues that touch on the lives of real families.

"Ramona Quimby" is a one-hour performance. To purchase tickets or for more information, call the FSU Cultural Events Box Office at (301) 687-3137 or toll free at 1-866-TIXX-CES, or visit online at ces.frostburg.edu.

UT Explores Untold Story in 'Eurydice'

University Theatre will present a whimsical interpretation of "Eurydice" by Sarah Ruhl on March 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10 at 7:30 p.m. and March 3 at 2 p.m. in the Drama Theatre of FSU's Performing Arts Center.

The traditional story of Orpheus and Eurydice is a cornerstone of Western mythology and has been retold in nearly every art form. Ruhl, the playwright, has said, "We know a great deal about Orpheus' loss. But for some reason we never hear from Eurydice—she's always a cipher, someone who dies twice. I'm interested in her voice, a voice that hasn't been heard before. I'm interested in anyone who dies twice." This creative and fresh look at the myth incorporates moments of humor as well as more serious moments of sentimentality.

Tickets are $5 for students and $10 for non-students for the Main Stage series. For reservations and information, call the theatre box office at x7462. Please note that evening performances now begin at 7:30 p.m.

FSU Alum Nominated To Head

MD's Economic Development

The FSU community is celebrating the news that David Edgerley, an alumnus with long-standing ties to Allegany County and to FSU, has been tapped by Gov. Martin O'Malley to head Maryland's Department of Business and Economic Development.

The designation is the latest in an impressive list of significant achievements and experiences for Edgerley, who received a bachelor's degree in economics and political science from FSU in 1974. Following graduation from the University, where he worked closely with noted faculty such as political science professor John Bambacus, Edgerley was hired as a grant writer for the Human Resources Development Commission. He later became a grant writer for Allegany County and eventually was appointed to serve as Director of the Allegany County Department of Economic Development and Director of the Allegany County Office of Development Assistance. In recent years, he has served as Director of the Department of Economic Development for Montgomery County. He earned an FSU Alumni Achievement Award in 1989.

Edgerley cites Bambacus as one of his earliest mentors, and he continues to stay in touch with the professor, who is also known for his work as former Republican state senator and former Frostburg mayor. He credits Bambacus with encouraging him to do a rewarding internship in the Public Affairs Internship Program offered through the Department of Political Science, one of the many positive experiences he enjoyed while learning as a student here.

"Frostburg was the right school, the right size, the right group of professionals ... it gave me an early grounding that led me to be able to survive in the business world," Edgerley said.

Robert Llewellyn, professor of art in the Department of Visual Arts, had his intaglio print "Middle River" accepted into the 31st Bradley International Print and Drawing Exhibition. This prestigious exhibition has been a competitive opportunity for artists since 1950. His work was selected from 850 entries by juror Judith Brodsky, who chose 125 works for exhibit. This exhibition will be displayed at Bradley University, The Peoria Art Guild and The Contemporary Art Center of Peoria.

Dr. Jonathan Hodel of the Division of Performing Arts continues to perform regularly. Last fall, Dr. Hodel performed the role of Nemorino in Donizetti's "Elixir of Love" with Asheville Lyric Opera. In early February, he performed the role of Radames in Opera Fort Collins production of "Verdi's Aida." This spring, along with his teaching schedule, he will be performing the role of Pollione in Bellini's "Norma" with South Florida Opera, Rodolfo in Puccini's "La Boheme" with Saint Petersburg Opera, Verdi's "Requiem" with the Sacramento Choral Society and Orchestra and Beethoven's "Ninth Symphony" with the Boulder Philharmonic. He will also conduct "La Traviata" with Asheville Lyric Opera. For more info, please see www.jonathanhodel.com.

The FSU local chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma was established after the College of Business received Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) International accreditation in 2005. Only AACSB accredited schools can have Beta Gamma Sigma chapters.

The new members of the FSU Chapter are Kimberly Blackmon, Sarah Bloss, Sherry Chungo, Sandra Clipp, Brittny Conner, Meghan Cornell, Christopher Evanoff, Samantha Farris, William Fink, Tate Hager, Nathan Hawthorne, Carol Hinchley, Stacy Holler, Dennis Iferd, Jerilyn Jackson, James Jenkins, Courtney Kamauf, Jodi Keefer, Steven Kersten, Michael Manalac, Matthew Martz, Michelle Mummert, Amber Riffe, Kyle Steele, Matthew Stephens, Stephen Valenta, Nicole Wigfield, Andrea Amezcua, Stephane Bastien, Harold Bitner Jr., Travis Bennett, Brenden Bosmans, Cynthia Bridges, Todd Cole, Crystal Ellis, Adrienne Everline, Daniel Filer, Kirk Fogle, Joseph Kennedy, Mark Lochbaum, Joann Petersen, Lisa Sanfilippo, Roy Turley and Margaret Waxter.

Among the many membership requirements, student's cumulative G.P.A. must be in the top 10 percent of juniors, seniors and master's students.

'Audience Notification' Required for Fire Safety

For any activities for 50 people or more, the State Fire Prevention Code requires those attending public activities be informed where building exits are and that they are unlocked and unobstructed. The person in charge shall inspect all exit doors to confirm they are unlocked and unobstructed and read the following: "For your own safety, look for your nearest exit, in case of emergency, walk, do not run to that exit." For a complete copy of this part of the State's Fire Prevention Code, please call x4897.
