Capitol Quartet Showcases Sax
Music lovers are invited to enjoy the bright, brassy sounds of the saxophone in a variety of different music genres when the Capitol Quartet plays at FSU’s Performing Arts Center at 3 p.m. Sunday, March 4.

Featuring saxophonists who are alumni of premier military bands and faculty from some of America’s leading music schools, the Capitol Quartet brings together top talent for spirited and unforgettable performances. The group’s innovative program repertoire typically features special arrangements of timeless masterpieces by composers such as Bach, Beethoven and Mozart, as well as classical and jazz standards and contemporary works for saxophone. The Capitol Quartet is also committed to expanding the repertoire of the saxophone quartet. They have recently commissioned four new works for saxophone quartet by composers Mark Wieser, Charles Ruggiero, James Curnow and John Fitzpatrick.

To purchase tickets or for more information about the Capitol Quartet, call the FSU Cultural Events Box Office at x3137 or toll free at 1-866-TIXX-CES, or visit online at ces.frostburg.edu.

Preservation Hall Jazz Band
Learn More About New Orleans Jazz
The world-renowned Preservation Hall Jazz Band, a group of talented and award-winning musicians who have dedicated their careers to preserving New Orleans jazz, will explore jazz’s roots in the Big Easy during a special educational session at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, March 15, in Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall at FSU’s Lane University Center.

The program, a component of the CES Jazz Club’s educational outreach initiatives, is free and open to the public. Using slides, video and musical examples, Preservation Hall Jazz Band will trace the complex history of New Orleans and its multi-layered cultures to explain the development of New Orleans jazz. At the heart of the presentation is the question, “Why is New Orleans the birthplace of jazz?” Ticket holders will also be able to enjoy the group’s sounds later that day during a sold-out performance at 7:30 p.m. at FSU.

Best known for their chart-topping hits “Name,” “Iris,” “Slide” and “Here is Gone,” the Goo Goo Dolls are on tour to promote their latest album, “Let Love In,” the result of a return to their Buffalo, N.Y., roots. Founding members John Rzeznik and Robby Takac left Buffalo for Los Angeles, but Rzeznik failed to find much inspiration in L.A.
He decided to pack up and head back East, meeting bandmates Takac and drummer Mike Malinin in Buffalo to set up shop in a 100-year-old Masonic Ballroom. Once again, Goo Goo Dolls will support the USA Harvest organization along the tour by collecting food for distribution in each city, which in turn is distributed on the same night in every city they play. To date, the Goos have collected millions of meals for people in need. The band urges fans attending the shows to bring canned food to the Gort's Center and drop it off at the collection points at the entrance. Tickets cost $65, $55 and $36, with $18 bleacher seats available to FSU students. For more information, call the Lane University Center Box Office from Thursday, March 1, through Sunday, March 4: 9 p.m., Thursday, March 1; 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Friday, March 2; 4 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Saturday, March 3; and 6 p.m. Sunday, March 4.

Visual Art

Exhibition Explores Art of Woodturning
An exhibition at FSU's Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery will take a closer look at how the ancient craft of woodturning is gaining modern-day popularity with a variety of area artists. Featuring an interesting mix of expressions in woodworking by craftspeople of all levels, including works created by the regional Quad-State Bodgers, "Wood 2007" will be on view through Feb. 28. "Wood 2007" will also highlight pieces by cabinetmakers and other artists just beginning to explore woodworking. The Roper Gallery has free admission and is open to the public Thursday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. For information, contact FSU Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

FSU Presents Alumni Poet
FSU presents alumni poet and author Brian Gilmore on Monday, March 12, at 7 p.m. in the FSU Lane University Center Atkinson room 201. This event is part of the Lewis J. Ort Library Author Series 2007 and is free and open to the public. Gilmore is the author of two books of poetry: "Elvis Presley is Alive and Well and Living in Harlem" and "Jungle Nights and Soda Fountain Rags." Gilmore recently published essays on politics and culture in "The Nation," "The Progressive," "SACOBSERVER.ORG" and the "Detroit Free-Press." He has also reviewed books on privacy issues, hip-hop music, and African-Americans in sports. In addition, he has appeared on the popular NPR radio show "This American Life" hosted by Ira Glass. For more information, contact Jeff Maehre at x4734.

Get Career Savvy

The Office of Career Services is offering a series of helpful workshops this spring. All workshops are 50 minutes in length and held in 124 Sand Spring Hall. Each one can accommodate eight students. The workshops include the following:

- Applying to Graduate/Professional School: 3:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 27
- To reserve a spot or set up a presentation, call x4403. Watch for more events at www.frostburg.edu/clife/career/events.htm.

Discuss Religion

UUMC and CCM are co-sponsoring “An Open Dialogue about Religion,” a part-panel discussion and part-forum gathering of faculty, students and religious leaders Tuesday, Feb. 27, in room 237 of the Lewis J. Ott Library. This frank and honest discussion will cover such questions as: “Is religion relevant or irrelevant?” “Is religion empowering or restrictive?” and “Is religion the cause of war or the hope for peace?” Current bestsellers such as The End of Faith by Sam Harris take a negative view. Tentative panelists include students Jeff Sellers, Shannon Cameron and Ben Bernard; Larry Neumark, Protestant Chaplain; Ed Hendricks, Catholic Chaplain; and Rick Morley, pastor at St. John’s Episcopal Church, Frostburg. All are welcome to come and share their views on these and other topics. If you would like to be considered for the panel, contact Neumark at x7490.

Appalachian Lab

The University of Maryland Center for Environmental Science Appalachian Laboratory will offer a series of seminars during the spring semester. The next seminar is Thursday, March 1, and will feature Dr. Lori Lynch of the University of Maryland College Park. She will talk about the economics of farmland preservation.

All seminars are held in AL room 109 at 3:30 p.m. Refreshments follow in the lobby. For more information, visit www.al.umces.edu/faceseminars.htm.

Get Into the Entrepreneurial Spirit

The Trident Initiative has organized two events in association with “Entrepreneurship Week,” held at college campuses nationwide from Feb. 24 through March 3.

The first event is a dinner and lecture scheduled for 6 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 27, in the Cords Center Leake Room. The topic for the evening will be “Starting a Business … Adapting to Change.” John Balch from Pharmcere of Cumberland, one of the most respected entrepreneurs in the region, will be the speaker for the evening.

The second event is a Faculty Research Roundtable from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday, March 2, in the Lane University Center, room 140. Faculty and business people from a variety of disciplines in the arts, sciences, engineering and business are invited to brainstorm and explore various research ideas and possibilities for collaboration. There will be eight roundtables in the atrium area. Each table will have an anchor-moderator and be “host” to one topic/research idea that is multidisciplinary or cross-functional. Participants will arrive at each table, discuss a topic for about 15 minutes, and then rotate to another table and begin a discussion on another idea. Attendees are not required to rotate across all tables or necessarily explore all ideas. Anchor-moderators will summarize the discussions at their table towards the end of the forum meeting. For more info on these events, contact Sudhir Singh at x4093.

State’s Environment Subject of Contest

The Environmental Planning and Land Management Institute at FSU, a cooperative effort of the FSU Department of Geography and the Maryland Bureau of Mines, invites amateur photographers to submit photographs to its fourth annual Environmental Photography Contest.

The competition is open to any amateur photographer over 11 years old who lives, works or attends school in either Allegany or Garrett counties. Images should depict environmental or natural habitat scenes of Allegany or Garrett county that reflect the natural environment that defines Western Maryland.

The deadline for submissions is April 6, with an April 19 awards ceremony in Compton Science Center. Numerous prizes, cash and certificates will be awarded.

For additional information call x4369 or x4721 or visit the Institute’s Web site: www.frostburg.edu/dept/geog/envinst.

Points of Pride
Brady Health Center is very pleased to announce it has received a 3-year accreditation from the AHAAC (Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care). Status as an accredited organization means the health center has passed a series of rigorous and nationally recognized standards for the provision of quality health care. A two-day onsite survey visit was conducted Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, 2006. This is the fourth accreditation Brady Health has received and it is in effect till January 2010. Brady Health Center is one of three university health centers within the state of Maryland to receive this accreditation. Congratulations to all the staff, including Barb Sigler, office clerk; Diana Preston, administrative assistant; Judy O’Toole, RN; Amy Kidd, RN; Darlene Smith, nurse practitioner; Harjit Sidhu, MD, medical director and Mary Tola, nurse practitioner/director.

Graduate students from FSU’s Department of Biology have been busy presenting research at various conferences:

- Emily Just, a current graduate student at FSU, presented the poster, “Effectiveness of Bridge-sign Surveys in Determining the Presence or Absence of River Otters Reintroduced in Pennsylvania,” at the Carnivores 2006–Bi-annual meeting.
- Sadie Stevens, a graduate student at FSU, presented the poster, “Use of Remote Cameras in Monitoring River Otters in Riparian Areas: Challenges and Solutions,” at the conference. Sadie will work on spotted-necked otters in east Africa for her dissertation at UM-Amherst.

The book, “101 Leadership Tips,” co-authored by Dr. Danny Arnold, dean of the College of Business, and Dr. Ahmad Tootoonchi, chair of the Department of Management, will be available for purchase at www.amazon.com during the first week of March. According to Dr. Tootoonchi, “It is a good supplemental reading for most management classes, and an excellent source for management and Leadership Development programs.”

The first issue of Journal of International Business Disciplines came out in February. It is the first refereed journal published in FSU’s College of Business, and is co-sponsored by FSU and the International Academy of Business Disciplines. JIBD can be viewed at www.jibd.org.

‘We Are the World’

Event Aims to Build Collective Vision Through Creative Collaboration

The Department of Student and Community Involvement, the Student Government Association, the Leadership Studies Minor and University Neighbors are co-sponsoring a collaborative event called the World Café at 7 p.m. Thursday, March 1, in the Lane University Center Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall. The World Café is an opportunity for students, faculty, staff and community members to come up with a collective vision of an ideal FSU through conversation and discussion. Participants are encouraged to build new relationships with others and share different perspectives.

To further enhance the café motif, coffee and other refreshments will be provided for all involved while an artist draws the participant’s thoughts and ideas. The event is being facilitated by Nancy Margulies, a national consultant, author, and artist who has worked with corporations and educational groups. Mariah Howard, Margulies’ business partner and an artist, will visually record the event.

For more information, contact Laura Bowling at lbowling@frostburg.edu or call x4351. For more information about the World Café concept, visit http://www.nancymargulies.com or http://www.worldcafe.com.

Inclusive Community Option to be Discussed

The Citizen’s Group will hold an Inclusive Communities Partnership Forum from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 28, at City Place.

The Citizen’s Group is composed of Frostburg residents, FSU students and employees who are exploring the possibility of Frostburg joining the National League of Cities Inclusive Community Partnership. The National League of Cities (NLC) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to strengthening and promoting cities as centers of opportunity, leadership and governance.

The focus of the forum is to educate the Frostburg community about the Inclusive Communities Partnership, including the potential benefits to the cities who become involved and requirements for participation. It will also involve a panel presentation that includes Jim Hunt, immediate past president of the NLC, and Carlisle mayor Kirk Wilson. They will share some of the ways the Partnership has been used and is being developed in Carlisle, Pa., Oaksburg, W.Va., and across the United States.

For more information about the Citizen’s Group or the National League of Cities Inclusive Communities Partnership, contact Cherie Snyder at snyder11@verizon.net. For more information about the National League of Cities, visit http://www.nlc.org.
International Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases, students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information, contact Dr. Henry Bullamore at the OE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, x4714, hbullamore@frostburg.edu or visit the OE Web page at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie.

Safety Message

‘Audience Notification’ Required for Fire Safety

For any activities for 50 people or more, the State Fire Prevention Code requires those attending public activities be informed where building exits are and that they are unlocked and unobstructed. The person in charge shall inspect all exit doors to confirm they are unlocked and unobstructed and read the following: “For your own safety, look for your nearest exit, in case of emergency, walk, do not run to that exit.” For a complete copy of this part of the State’s Fire Prevention Code, please call x4897.
