World-Renowned Morgan State University Choir to Perform Feb. 19

Educational Talk Precedes Performance

The public will have an opportunity to enjoy a world-class performing ensemble and honor the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. when FSU presents the Morgan State University Choir Tuesday, Feb. 19, in the Pealer Recital Hall on the FSU campus. The free concert, part of FSU’s ongoing spring celebration of Dr. King’s life, begins at 5:30 p.m. with an educational exchange and talk with several choir members and Dr. Eric Conway, the choir’s director. A spirited performance by the group follows by 7:30 p.m.

Regional choral musicians, congregational and school choirs, FSU choir students and other music lovers are invited to learn more about live performances and the challenges and rigors of touring during Dr. Conway’s pre-performance open dialogue. As director of the Morgan State University Choir, Dr. Conway has been a part of the group’s concerts at venues all over the world. He will offer insights on how professional artists have successful tours, with the help of select Choir members who will also be present during the dialogue. Dr. Conway will also discuss diversity issues as part of a reflection on Dr. King. The Choir will then share their talents with the community during the concert at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Eric Conway will speak before the concert

The 50-member traveling ensemble is also noted for its emphasis on preserving the heritage of the spiritual, particularly in the historic practices of performance. The Choir tours internationally on a regular basis and appears with the finest American and European orchestras.

The Choir’s performance was jointly organized by FSU’s Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration Committee, Cultural Events Series, the Office of the President, the Office of the Provost, the Office of Student and Educational Services, FSU’s Black Student Alliance and the Diversity Center. For more information, call x3137.

The panel discussion will allow faculty and students to talk with Rev. Kyles. Kyles will also present “Martin Luther King Jr.’s Message from a New Genera- tion” on April 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the Pealer Recital Hall. The presentation will be a celebration of King’s life, legacy and vision for the future.

There will be a final gathering in this series of events, Join in CommUnity, on May 4 at 1 p.m. at Cumberland’s Town Center.

Visual Art
‘Ink and Glaze’ Highlights Two Artists
Two artists share their interpretations of the natural landscape and their interest in pushing the boundaries of ceramics and digital printmaking in “Ink and Glaze,” an exhibition on view at Frostburg State University’s Ann Roper Gallery through Feb. 24. “Ink and Glaze” features the talents of Lisa Sheirer, a former FSU visual arts faculty member and associate professor and program manager of computer graphics and photography at Frederick Community College, and Jacqueline Brown, professor in ceramics at FSU. The show, which is free and open to the public, begins with a reception 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, Feb. 15, including a gallery talk at 7:30 p.m.

Sheirer makes image collages featuring digital photographs and found objects from nature and her immediate environment that are scanned, manipulated, colorized and “sculpted” in Adobe Photoshop. Her visual interpretation of the natural world incorporates abstraction, symmetry and repetition, in which everyday objects are elevated from their original context. “Music is a great inspiration, especially the old-timey music of Appalachia, where I live,” she writes in her artist statement. “I compare my layering of imagery to the layering of rhythms in music and the piecing of images to the making of quilts.” “Ink and Glaze” presents four new black-and-white series Sheirer has been developing since 2006: “Hickory Labyrinth,” “Potomac,” “Corollaries” and “Ice Stories.”

Brown focused on traditional clay training in England before relocating to the United States 24 years ago. She is interested in both ceramics and printmaking, and enjoys combining the two using a technique of printing line and color onto the clay surface. Her linear decoration and choice of color reflect her observations of landscape and the different environments in which humanity exists. She draws inspiration from both her Northern European influences and her experience and exposure to modern and ancient America. “The vessel in all forms is a significant reference point to my craft background, and I strive to make my pieces ‘stand proud’ and speak of their inherent aesthetic beauty,” she explains in her artist statement.

The Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery has free admission and is open to the public Sunday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. For more information about the exhibition, please contact FSU Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Calling All Shutterbugs!
The Environmental Planning and Land Management Institute at FSU invites photographers to submit photographs to its fifth annual Environmental Photogra- phy Contest. The Institute, a joint venture between FSU’s Department of Geography and the Maryland Bureau of Mines, Maryland Department of the Environment, will accept entries until the deadline at 4 p.m. April 11.

The competition is open to any amateur photographer over 11 years old who lives, works or attends school in either Allegany or Garrett counties. Images should depict environmental or natural habitat scenes of Allegany or Garrett county that reflect the environ- mental beauty that defines Western Maryland. Photographs should be 8 by 10 inches and matted; they can be in black and white or color.

Entry forms may be obtained from the FSU Department of Geography/Bureau of Mines Lab or from the Institute’s Web site at www.frostburg.edu/dept/geog/einstein. Participants may submit no more than three photographs.

The deadline for submitting entries is April 11. There are three place winners for the contest each year as well as an award for “the people’s choice” that gives the public the opportunity to vote either in person or on the Internet for their favorite photograph from the 20 finalists.

Contest winners were awarded more than $1,600 in cash, prizes and gift certificates last year. For additional information call Gale Yutzty at x4369 or MaryLynn Pegg at x4721 or visit the Institute’s Web site: www.frostburg.edu/dept/geog.

Entries can be delivered to either Gunter Hall 201 or Dunkle Hall 307 on the FSU campus.

Playwright to Attend ‘Almost, Maine’
University Theatre’s student-directed series, Second Stage, will continue on Feb. 22 and 23 with “Almost, Maine.” Performances will take place at 7:30 p.m. in the F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre of the Performing Arts Center with a talk-back by playwright and Tony-nominated actor John Cariani after the Feb. 23 performance.

Magical realism thrives in Cariani’s moving comedy, hailed by the “New York Sun” as “Love in the Time of Frostbite.” On a cold, clear, moonless Friday night in deep winter, the Northern Lights hover over the remote, mythical town of Almost, Maine. All is not quite what it seems as the residents of Almost find themselves falling in and out of love in unexpected, unusual and often amusing ways. Knees are bruised, hearts are broken and love is—literally—lost, found and realized. Whimsical and charming, “Almost, Maine” inventively explores the mysteries of the human heart, touching its audience with laughter, heartbeat, and hope.

Also an actor, Cariani has appeared on and off Broadway and holds numerous television credits to his name, including the recurring role of Julian Beck on “Law & Order.” He is the winner of the 2004 Outer Critics Circle Award for Best Featured Actor in a Musical at Motel in the revival of Fiddler on the Roof and also received a Tony nomination in 2004 for the same role. Cariani’s first play, “Almost, Maine,” was inspired by his memories of growing up in Presque Isle, Maine.

Appalachian Lab
The University of Maryland Center for Environmental Science Appalachian Laboratory will offer a series of seminars during the spring semester. The next seminar focuses on climate change and is titled, “Metal Sorption on Marine Macroalgae: Seaweed, Synchrotron, and Surface Chemistry” by Johan Schijf, UMCES Chesapeake Biological Laboratory. It is scheduled for 3:30 p.m., Feb. 21, in Room 109.

Presentations
Refreshments follow in the lobby. For more information, visit www.al.umces.edu/seminar/schedule.

Black History in Allegany County
Al Feldstein, local historian and regular contributor to WFWM 91.9 FM, will give a presentation titled, "An Overview of Allegany County African-American History: People, Places, and Events," from 7 to 8:30 p.m. on Feb. 13 in the Compton Science Center room 327. The event is part of Spring 2008’s African American Studies Lecture Series. For more info, call Dr. James Saku at x4724.

Get Down to Business
FSU students who are interested in accounting, business administration or economics are invited to learn more about these exciting areas of study by stopping by and visiting Tammy Shockey at the College of Business Advising Center in Frampton Hall to discuss the programs, declare a major or be assigned faculty advisors. Shockey’s office hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3:30 p.m. in the College of Business Advising Center, located in Frampton Hall, Room 319. For more information, call the College of Business Advising Center at x4008.

Help for Transfer Students Available
The Advising Center will offer "Transfer Drop-In Advising" days in February.
This is a chance for all transfer students to “drop-in” to the Advising Center for some assistance and guidance with their major or assessing their academic goals. Each Monday in February (today, Feb. 18 and 25) students can come by the Advising Center, 124 Sand Springs Hall, from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. without having to make an appointment. Students will meet with Amy Shimko and can also call to make an appointment for other dates and times by calling x4423.

Attention All Education Students!
The application deadline for students entering Phase I, Phase II or Phase III of the Teacher Education Program for the fall 2008 semester is Friday, March 14. ALL APPLICATIONS SHOULD BE RETURNED TO THE OFFICE OF UNIT ASSESSMENT, FRAMPTOM HALL, ROOM 203-3, on or before deadline date. If you need an application form or have questions, contact Barbara Bluebaugh at x7953 or bbluebaugh@frostburg.edu.

Planning to Graduate?
If you are planning to graduate at the end of this semester, please note the following:

- The 132nd Commencement Ceremony is scheduled for Saturday, May 17, in the Harold J. Cordts Physical Education Center. The College of Education and College of Education will hold its service at 10 a.m., while the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences will present its Liberal Arts and Sciences commencement at 2 p.m. ceremony.

- Please complete your graduation application at the Registrar’s Office now. This will enable you to receive information about your upcoming Commencement.

- The first Commencement mailing is scheduled for the first week in March and will be sent to both your local and your permanent addresses. Please update your address information in PAWS to assure that you will receive all the details.

- Caps and gowns are provided at no cost to all graduates and may be ordered at the University Bookstore. Your order must be placed by March 24.

- A Grad Fair will be held March 24 in the Alice R. Manipur Assembly Hall in the Lane University Center from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Vendors will be present for ordering your class ring and diploma frames, and you will also have the opportunity to order your cap and gown and announcements. Additional University services will be available and there will be giveaways and refreshments.

- Full details about Commencement are on the FSU Web site. Go to “Current Students.” Commencement information is under “Academics” on the left side. If you have any other questions about Commencement, please contact Brittni Teter at x4423 or bkteter@frostburg.edu.

Deadline for May 2008 Graduation Exceptions
If you plan to graduate in May and your official degree progress report indicates you have not completed all requirements and you have a basis to request an exception, submit your written appeal letter and supporting letters and documentation to the Academic Standards Subcommittee, Office of the Provost, Hitchins 213 by 4 p.m. on Feb. 14 for the February meeting, March 13 for the March meeting, and April 17 for the April meeting (last chance for graduation exceptions and inclusion in the Commencement Booklet). If you have questions or concerns, please call the Provost’s Office at x4212.

News for Graduate Students
Planning to Graduate in May?
Graduate students planning to graduate in May must complete an application for graduation by Feb. 25. Applications are available in the Office of Graduate Services, 141 Pullen Hall.

Attention Seniors!
Interested in Grad School?
Maryland needs teachers! With your bachelor’s degree—any major—FSU has a plan to put you in the classroom. Questions about Graduate Programs?
The office of Graduate Services is located in Pullen 141 and students are encouraged to stop by the office any time to discuss their interests or e-mail Vickie Mazer, Director of Graduate Services, at vmmazer@frostburg.edu.

Graduate Scholarships for 2008-2009
David Sanford Graduate Student Scholarship
The recipient must be enrolled full time or part time as a graduate student, have previously been an undergraduate at FSU and have received a varsity sport participation letter. An FSU overall grade point average of 3.0 or better is required. Applications are currently available at the Office of Graduate Services, 141 Pullen Hall or by calling x7053. Deadline is March 1; one award of $500 is generally annual.

F. Perry Smith Jr. Graduate Scholarship
The recipient must have completed high school education or the equivalent in either Allegany or Garrett Counties in Maryland and be enrolled at FSU with an overall grade point average of 3.0 or better. The recipient must demonstrate financial need (complete and submit the FAFSA form). Applications are currently available at the Office of Graduate Services, 141 Pullen Hall or by calling x7053. Deadline is March 1; five awards between $500 and $1,500 are given annually.

Graduate Assistantships/Int'l Fellowships
Applications for Graduate Assistant/International Fellowship positions for the academic year 2008-2009 are currently being accepted. The positions offer paid tuition (up to 30 hours year) and a $5,000 cash stipend per year, in exchange for 20 hours of service each week. These positions represent an academic honor, and thus require the applicant to have been admitted to a graduate program in good academic standing, and remain in good academic standing for the duration of the award. The applications are available at the Office of Graduate Services, 141 Pullen Hall (x7053) or on the Web at www.frostburg.edu/grad/ ga.htm. Applications for the spring 2008 are currently being considered. The deadline for completed applications for the 2008-2009 academic year is March 15.

Wind, Solar Certified Program Available
FSU is offering an education program on design, installation and maintenance of residential wind and solar (PV) electric generation systems. The program includes an online component (March 31 through May 23) as well as hands-on training (May 29 through June 1) to prepare the attendees for the certification test administered by the North American Board of Certified Energy Practitioners (NABCEP), Inc. The hands-on part of the program will be held in FSU’s Compton Science Center. Participants will learn the basics of PV/wind systems, resource assessment, setup configuration and regulations related to PV and wind generation system installations. Relevant sections of the National Electric Code will also be covered. The FSU engineering labs and WISE system located on campus will be available for practical experiments and demonstrations.

Separate workshops will be offered for PV and windmill installation. The registration fee is $500 for either one of the workshops or $750 for both workshops. FSU will accept applications through March 15. Space is limited and enrollment is on a first come, first served basis.

For more information about the program, visit www.frostburg.edu/renewable or contact Hilkat Soysal at
Can you solve $e=(LG)^2$?

Following FSU's successful Focus the Nation day and ongoing Learning Green, Living Green campaign initiative, ENGL 402 (Editing & Production) announces a new biannual student-written and student-edited magazine highlighting environmental issues around our campus. The magazine will be called $e=(LG)^2$.

The publication invites submissions from all disciplines on environmental concerns, research, nature appreciations, classroom learning experiences, recycling, going green and many other subjects. It hopes to focus on all areas of energy, education and the environment. Submissions from students will be accepted in a variety of genres, including photography and artwork in digital form, prose (non-fiction and fiction), poetry, science writing, news articles and essays.

Students are encouraged to send submissions to Lmag@frostburg.edu by April 1. By submitting work, they are in agreement work will be edited, if necessary.

Library Features
Recycling Display
Mary J. A. Price, Special Collections Librarian at Lewis J. Ort Library, recently designed a display on recycling in Allegany County and at FSU. The display, “What’s in Your Office/ Home?” was inspired by the Focus the Nation festivities Jan. 31; it will remain on view at the library until FSU’s spring break.

Included in the display are those items that can be recycled: aluminum, metal, office paper, cardboard, cardboard food containers, newspaper, magazines and catalogs, plastic, glass and compost (yard clippings). Facts on recycling from the Maryland Department of the Environment will show how FSU can make a difference when the community recycles.

For more info, contact Price at x4889.

Jobs, Jobs, Jobs
Be a Tutor
The Learning Assistance Center has tutor positions for accounting, biology, chemistry, geography and math.

Positions start at $7 per hour and offer very flexible working hours. Tutors also get to choose the number of students that they would like to tutor. If you are interested in becoming a tutor for the PASS office or are an instructor who would like to recommend a student for a tutoring position, please e-mail rhsover@frostburg.edu, call our office at x4441, or stop by Pullen Hall 150. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Rachel Hoover, Coordinator of Academic Skills Development.

Members meet monthly for informal discussion, support and exchange of ideas. For more information, contact mmoran@frostburg.edu.

Community

Who are FSU's Neighbors?

University Neighbors, an association of residents and property owners in the neighborhood adjacent to the FSU campus, will hold its regular meeting on Sunday, Feb. 17, at 7 p.m. at City Place (corner of Water and Mechanic Streets in Frostburg). Students who live off campus in the neighborhood as well as faculty and staff who either live or own property in the neighborhood are welcome to participate in the association. Come help us build positive relationships between “town and gown.” For more information, please contact any member of the leadership team: Maxine Bond (301-689-5464), Lois Deasy (301-689-8082), Eleanor Miller (301-689-3572), Patrick O’Brien (240-580-4336), or Jeffrey Sellers (321-604-5920).

City of Frostburg Pursuing A&E District

FrostburgFirst, a program established to foster economic development and cultural growth in the City of Frostburg, invites all Frostburg artists (actors, writers, musicians, visual artists, etc.) to get involved in establishing a state-designated arts and entertainment district. The deadline to apply for the designation is April 2008, and the Arts & Entertainment Committee needs the input and participation of Frostburg artists for this process to be successful in its representation of the city’s cultural community.

To learn more about this ongoing project, artists and arts advocates may submit their contact information to frostburgfirst@gmail.com or by calling 301-689-6900.

International

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases, students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information, contact the CIE at Fuller House on Braddock Road, x4714, or visit www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie.

Northumbria University in Newcastle, UK

School of Arts and Social Sciences is offering two summer programs; one in the Humanities and the other in Media. The latter is aimed at students with an interest in film production - it consists of instruction in film techniques, leading to the making of a short practical project. The Humanities program is aimed at all students wishing to take humanities electives; it combines the study of literature, history and art history, with a focus on the distinctive history of the North of England in the nineteenth century. Both of these programs will last for three weeks – from June 21 to July 13 – and will be taught by specialists from the School.

Cost? Tuition with accommodation and meals is $3,900.
