Astronaut, Frostburg State University Alum to Speak

1985 Grad Ricky Arnold Flew on Space Shuttle in March 2009

NASA astronaut and FSU alumnus Ricky Arnold will return to the Frostburg campus to speak about his journey to become a mission specialist for NASA, which has taken him to the ocean floor and into Earth's orbit.

Members of the University community will have two opportunities to hear him speak. The first, for the FSU community only, will be Thursday, March 4, from 2 to 3:15 p.m. in PAC Pealer Recital Hall. Part of Arnold's talk will cover the variety of careers at NASA and the importance of teachers in encouraging students to pursue math and science. He also will speak to the general public at 7 p.m. that day, also in Pealer.

Presentations will include a question-and-answer session, and are free of charge, but attendees are encouraged to arrive early.

Arnold, who graduated from FSU in 1985 with an accounting degree and returned in 1988 to earn his teacher certification, took a circuitous route to become an astronaut. In between, he earned a master's degree in Marine and Estuarine Science through the University of Maryland Center for Environmental Science, following an interest begun in biology classes at FSU. He also worked as a marine scientist on an oceanographic vessel and taught science and math in Waldorf, Md., Morocco, Saudi Arabia, Indonesia and Romania.

He learned that NASA was seeking teachers with a science and math background to become part of its astronaut corps and was selected in 2004. After completing NASA's two-year astronaut candidate training program, he became a mission specialist.

Arnold was part of STS-119 in March 2009 when the Space Shuttle Discovery delivered and the crew installed critical final pieces of the International Space Station. On that mission, Arnold performed two of the three spacewalks.

In 2007, Arnold was also part of NEEMO (NASA Extreme Environment Mission), a training and research mission aboard the underwater habitat Aquarius. The "aquanaut" mission simulated the level of gravity on the moon, but it was also a "dream come true" for the former marine scientist.

For info on Arnold, visit www.jsc.nasa.gov/Bios/htmlbios/arnold-rr.html.

For info about Arnold's public presentations, call the FSU Office of Alumni Programs at x4068.

Dance

CES to Present STREB

A High-Flying, Action and Daredevil Experience

FSU's Cultural Events Series will present a combination of daredevil stunts, extreme action and dance as the STREB: Extreme Action Company slams into FSU on Wednesday, March 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the PAC Drama Theatre.

The brainchild of choreographer Elizabeth Streb, who is known as "the Evel Knievel of Dance," Extreme Action Company's conditioned dancers take audiences on a journey of perpetual motion with constant leaping, bounding and soaring. Streb's choreography intertwines the disciplines of dance, athletics, boxing, rodeo, the circus and Hollywood stuntwork, resulting in a public demonstration of pure movement.

Tickets for STREB: Extreme Action Company are $20 for adults and $14 for young people under 17. Group rate tickets are also available.

An educational performance with the dancers of STREB will be offered that day at 4:30 p.m. This is an abbreviated performance with a chance to interact with the artists at the conclusion. General admission tickets for the educational performance are $10 and $3 for FSU students.

Tickets for either performance may be purchased by calling 1-866-849-9237 (TIXX-CES) or x3137, by visiting ces.frostburg.edu or in person at CES' new location, 128A Tawes Hall, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Theatre

Appalachian Drama Takes Main Stage

The Department of Theatre and Dance at FSU will present Howard Richardson and William Berney's Appalachian folk tale, "Dark of the Moon." Performances will take place in the PAC Drama Theatre Thursday,

March 4, to Saturday, March 6, at 7:30 p.m.

Loosely based on the ancient folk song, "The Ballad of Barbara Allen," "Dark of the Moon" is a powerful, mystical folk drama set in the mysterious and mesmerizing Smoky Mountains of Appalachia in the 1920s. A tale of tragic love is at the heart of a story that depicts a clash of incongruent worlds – the mountains where witches and other supernatural beings reside and the valley where the humans live.

For reservations and information, call the theatre box office at x7462, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m. Tickets are $6 for students and $12 for the general public.

Visual Arts

Visual Arts to Host Student Art Exhibition

The Department of Visual Arts, with the Art Club and Kappa Pi, will host the 2010 Biennial Student Juried Art Exhibition. The exhibition, to include students from all academic majors, will run Friday, March 5, to Tuesday, March 30. An opening reception and awards ceremony will be held March 5 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery. The reception is free and open to the public.

The entries were judged in graphics, painting, printmaking, photography/digital, ceramics, illustration and 3-D design. Nationally known artist Beth Piver will judge the contest.

The gallery is open to the public, Sunday through Wednesday, 1 to 4 p.m. Hours are subject to change.

For info, contact the Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Music

Wind Ensemble to Play

The FSU Wind Ensemble will perform Sunday, March 7, at 3 p.m. in PAC Pealer Recital Hall. The program will feature music by Joan Tower, Julie Giroux, Augusta Read Thomas and Frank Ticheli. Admission is $5 for adults, $3 for students and free for children 12 and under. For info, call the Music Department at x4109.

St. Patrick's Day Benefit

WFWM Public Radio invites you to celebrate your Irish spirit with an evening of music and dancing featuring performances by Shanty Irish, Academic Probation, Morbheanna, Greg Latta, Scottish Country Dancers and more. The event will take place at Windsor Hall in the Cumberland Town Centre Wednesday, March 17. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. with Lynne Barnes-Dale's harp students performing. Tickets are $10 and available at the door. Proceeds benefit WFWM 91.9 FM.

For info, contact WFWM Public Radio at x4143 during business hours.

Film

FSU Int'l Film Series

The FSU Programming Council continues its international film series, "Bridges to the World," which brings views of unique cultures from around the world to the campus of FSU. The series will run Tuesdays until March 23.

Show times are at 7 p.m. in Tawes 153.

The third film of the series is from Estonia, debuting on March 2. "Detsembrikuumus" or "December Heat" is Estonia's official submission to the Academy Awards Foreign Language Film category for 2010. This historical action-drama was produced for the 90th anniversary of the Republic of Estonia, and tells the story of the attempted communist coup. The film follows a young soldier and his wife as they struggle to save their lives and their country.

The fourth film, from Nigeria, will run on March 9. "Royal Messengers" is a Nollywood (Nigerian film industry) comedy that tells a story of King Igwe who has 21 daughters, but no son to take his place.

The last film, "The Island," on March 23, is a Russian biographical film about a 20th century Eastern Orthodox monk.

Each film is free and open to the public. For info, contact Robert Cooper at x4049.

Presentations

FSU Presents Herbalist Series

The Appalachian Center for Ethnobotanical Studies, in partnership with Mountain City Traditional Arts, presents "The Mountain Herbalist Series." Events will be Mondays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at MCTA, 25 E. Main St. in Frostburg. The programs are free and open to the public.

Mimi Hernandez, the coordinator for this series, is an herbal educator whose courses balance traditional reverence with scientific understanding.

The second event of the series, on March 8, showcases "Kitchen Spices for Health." Spices such as cayenne, garlic, cinnamon and turmeric are great to have on hand for household ailments. Incorporating spices into a daily lifestyle can promote wellness in the face of heart disease, diabetes, arthritis and aging.

The third of the series will take place Mar. 22. "Medicinal Flora of Appalachia" explores one of the most diverse and abundant ecosystems for medicinal plants. On April 12, come take a look at the "Weeds, Healing From Your Backyard." Hernandez will explore the practical uses of kudzu on April 26. The last event will be held May 10, showcasing "Medicinal Mints."

For info, call 301-687-8040 or e-mail mhernandez@frostburg.edu.

Ruble's Talk on Russia Rescheduled

Blair A. Ruble, director of the Kennan Institute for Advanced Russian Studies of the Woodrow Wilson Center in Washington, D.C., and program director for Comparative Urban Studies at the Woodrow Wilson Center, will present his talk "Diversity in the Contemporary Russian City" Thursday, March 11 (rescheduled from Feb. 10), at 7:30 p.m. in Dunkle 218.

For info, contact Dr. Paul Charney at x3120 or pcharney@frostburg.edu.

Appalachian Lab Spring Seminar Series

Dr. Hali Kilbourne, UMCES Chesapeake Biological Laboratory, will present "Testing Coral Geochemistry-Based Tropical Cyclone Reconstructions: An Example From Puerto Rico" Thursday, March 11, at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 109. Refreshments will be served in the AL lobby following the seminar.

For info, see www.al.umces.edu/seminar/schedule.

Workshops

MIPS Workshop

The Maryland Industrial Partnerships Program will host a free workshop about how faculty and local businesses can participate in the MIPS program at FSU Monday, March 1, from 2:30 to 4 p.m. in Compton 327. MIPS Manager Ronnie Gist will give a presentation followed by a question-and-answer period and one-on-one meetings if requested.

MIPS provides funding – matched by participating companies – for university-based research projects that help companies develop new products. MIPS funding goes directly to faculty for research that benefits the company's ability to commercialize a product. Applications are due April 30. Research supported by MIPS may be in engineering, computer science, physical, environmental and life sciences.

For info, contact Linda Steele, program specialist, at x4137 or lsteel@frostburg.edu.

Take Note

Info Session on Nursing Program

FSU will offer an information program on its R.N. to B.S. in Nursing at the Western Maryland Regional Medical Center Monday, March 1, in Auditorium Room 6. Kara Platt, FSU nursing recruiter, will be on site from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. to present a program overview and answer questions.

Nurses wanting an unofficial review of their college work for transfer credit should bring an unofficial transcript or list of college course-work.

The FSU RN to BSN program prepares nurses to assume roles in leadership, complex clinical care coordination and community/public health. It also serves as the academic foundation for graduate study. This session is open to local nurses interested in earning a bachelor's degree in nursing.

Refreshments will be served, along with door prizes and giveaways.

For info, contact Platt at x4791 or knplatt@frostburg.edu.

Help for Students on Academic Probation

For info, call the Provost's Office at x4212.

CHILL Events

For info, visit www.frostburg.edu/chill, or contact April Baer at x3035 or wellness@frostburg.edu.

The Biggest Loser Returns to FSU

CHILL is bringing its "The Biggest Loser on Campus" program back to campus for the second year in a row.

"The Biggest Loser on Campus" is designed to promote student wellness by encouraging increased participation in aerobic activities and health programs on campus. The program rewards campus engagement and self-awareness, not weight loss.

Students are encouraged to attend the interest meeting on Tuesday, March 2, at 7 p.m. in the Cordts Leake Room.

Need to Stay?

The Residence Life Office reminds student teachers that if they need to stay on campus during spring break to contact the office at rlo@frostburg.edu by Friday, March 5.

Want to Be an RA?

The Residence Life Office and Edgewood Commons seek students interested in becoming resident assistants. The following info sessions are all offered at 6 p.m.

- March 7: Westminster Hall
- March 10: Edgewood Commons
- March 23: Sowers Hall
- March 25: Frederick Hall

Applications are due to the RLO at noon on March 31.

United States Census 2010

Census Day is April 1. The census is a count of everyone residing in the United States. The U.S. Constitution requires this process be done every 10 years. All U.S. residents must be counted.

Every year the federal government can allocate more than $300 billion to states and communities based on this data. The data is also included in grant proposals, which are important to the University.

The Census questionnaire is 10 questions and is confidential. For info, go to 2010census.gov.

Planning to Graduate in May?

The 136th commencement ceremony is scheduled for Saturday, May 22, in the Cordts PE Center. The College of Business and College of Education will hold their service at 10 a.m., while the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences will present its graduates at 2 p.m.

Complete your graduation application in PAWS now to receive information about the upcoming commencement.

The first commencement mailing is scheduled for March (after spring break) and will be sent to your local and permanent addresses. Update your address information in PAWS to ensure you will receive the details.

Caps and gowns are provided at no cost and may be ordered at the University Bookstore (in the Annex Building). Your order must be placed by March 26.

A Grad Fair will be held March 22 at the bookstore from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Vendors will be present for ordering class rings and diploma frames, and you can also order your cap and gown and announcements.

Full details about commencement are on the University's Web site at www.frostburg.edu/events/commencement.

For info, contact Brittni Teter at x4423 or bkteter@frostburg.edu.

Get Involved

Writing Green

Students are encouraged to submit materials for the spring 2010 issue of E=(LG)2. The magazine will consider 50- to 500-word articles with an environmental or sustainability emphasis that pertain to student research, class activities, nature appreciations, club activities, reportage and more, including photos and digital artwork. The magazine will be published in print and online. Submissions from all disciplines are welcome.

For info, contact Dr. Sydney Duncan at x4225. Submit materials to lqmag@frostburg.edu by Friday, March 12.

'Congo Teach-In'

In celebration of International Women's Day, FSU will present a "Congo Teach-In" led by Dr. James Walker of the Philosophy Department Monday, March 8, at 6 p.m. in Compton 226. This event will alert people about the history and current situation of atrocities committed against women and girls in the Democratic Republic of the Congo. Walker and audience members will engage in a free-ranging discussion about the DRC. The Women's Studies program at FSU will host this event.

Throughout the day on campus, students and faculty will participate in provocative and interactive "happenings." Information will be displayed in Dunkle Hall, the Compton Science Center, Guild Hall and the Performing Arts Center.

The DRC is the 2010 spotlight for V-Day. This program is part of a new global campaign to call attention to the wide-scale atrocities committed in Eastern DRC. The campaign is being initiated by V-Day and UNICEF, representing the UN Action Against Sexual Violence in Conflict. For info, visit www.vday.org.

For info about the Women's Studies program at FSU and the "Congo Teach-In," contact Walker at jwalker@frostburg.edu or Dr. Randall Rhodes at rrhodes@frostburg.edu.

FSU Participating in RecycleMania

FSU has joined 607 schools representing 49 states, D.C. and Canada in a friendly competition to see who can reduce, reuse and recycle the most on-campus waste. Through March 27, FSU will submit weekly recycling weights to be included in overall RecycleMania rankings. At the end of the competition, recognition is given to winning colleges and universities in several categories, including who recycles the most on a per capita basis, who produces the least amount of waste and who recycles the largest percentage of their overall waste stream. The competition also awards for success in recycling materials such as paper, cardboard, cans and bottles, and food waste.

For info about RecycleMania and to review past results, visit www.recyclemaniacs.org. For info about FSU's participation, e-mail lglg@frostburg.edu.
