CES Brings ‘The Glass Menagerie’ to FSU

“The Glass Menagerie,” one of Tennessee Williams’ most beloved plays, will come to FSU on Tuesday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m. Part of the Main Stage Series of the Cultural Events Series, “The Glass Menagerie,” presented by Walnut Street Theatre, will be performed in the FAC Drama Theatre.

The play takes place in 1937 in a small apartment in St. Louis at the home of Amanda Wingfield and her two children – Tom, an aspiring poet and shoe factory worker, and Laura, a painfully shy girl who wears a brace on her leg and spends her free time playing with her small glass animal collection. Amanda is Laura’s mother and a former Southern belle, who, since her husband left her, has been obsessed with finding an appropriate “gentleman caller” for her fragile daughter. The overhearing mother elicits the help of her irresponsible, dreamer son in hopes of making her own dreams come true.

“The Glass Menagerie” is considered by many to be an autobiographical play about Williams’ own life, with the characters and story mimicking his past more closely than any of his other works. Williams (whose real name is Thomas) would be Tom, his mother, Amanda, and his sickly and (supposedly) mentally ill sister Rose would be Laura (whose nickname in the play is “Blue Roses,” a result of an unfortunate bout of pleurisy as a high school student). It has also been suggested that Laura’s character is based on Williams himself, referencing his introverted nature and obsessive focus on one part of life.

Tickets are $22 for adults and $15 for those under 17. Group discount tickets are available. For info, contact the Cultural Events Series at x3137 or visit http://ces.frostburg.edu.

‘Natural Gas and Our Future’

The Maryland Humanities Council, in partnership with FSU and the Palace Theatre, will present a moderated discussion, “Natural Gas and Our Future,” Wednesday, March 2, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Palace Theatre at 31 E. Main St. in Frostburg. The event is free and open to the public; seating is on a first-come, first-served basis. To register, go to www.mdhc.org.

The discussion will feature Gregory Wrightstone, director of geology for Pittsburgh-based Texas Keystone Inc. and the president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, and Josh Fox, director of the Oscar-nominated film “Gasland.” Roger Wolf, professor emeritus at the University of Maryland School of Law and former director of the Maryland School of Law’s Center for Dispute Resolution, will moderate the discussion.

As the debate about domestic energy raging on, communities such as those in Western Maryland are left to decide whether or not oil, gas, wind and coal companies looking to drill, mine or build across the countryside represent potential benefits or risks. The March 2 forum will allow those interested in the issue of hydraulic fracturing or “fracking” to ask questions of the panelists and engage in a discussion to help inform their decisions about the future of the community.

This event is a part of the Maryland Humanities Council’s new initiative, Practicing Democracy: Seeking Common Ground. Practicing Democracy brings Marylanders together for a series of forums, workshops and events that provide opportunities for people with divergent opinions and perspectives to engage in respectful and effective civic dialogue.

For info, contact Beth Babush at 410-322-7080 or ebabush@mdhc.org, or Andrea Lewis at 410-685-6161 or alewis@mdhc.org.

Visual Arts

FSU Presents Faculty Art Exhibition

FSU’s Department of Visual Arts will present a faculty exhibition beginning with an opening reception on Friday, March 4, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery in the Fine Arts Building. The exhibit will be on view Sunday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. through Monday, March 28.

Jonathan Simon is the new art faculty member in charge of the illustration studio focus. He received his master’s degree from the New York Academy of Figurative Art. Simon has studied at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis and the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. He has studied anatomy firsthand, dissecting actual medical cadavers. Simon was a finalist in The Artist’s Magazine 24th Annual Art Competition and won first place in the American Artist Cover Competition. His work has appeared in exhibitions in Florida, California, Georgia, New York, Virginia, Pennsylvania and Tennessee.

Other FSU Visual Arts faculty members participating in the exhibition include Jackie Brown, Susan Dodge, Robert Hein, Dustin Davis, Mary Susan Bucchino, Dennis Sherald, Pete Hersfeld, Randall Rhodes, Harlowe Hodges, Judy Dieruf, Steve Matthews and Sharon Schade.

The Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery has free admission and is open to the public Sunday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. For info, contact FSU Department of Visual Arts at x4797.
FSU. The festival will include a performance by the FSU Wind Ensemble on Saturday, March 5, at 8 p.m. and a performance by the High School Honor Band on Sunday, March 6, at 3 p.m. Both performances will take place in Pealer Recital Hall in the Performing Arts Center.

The Wind Ensemble concert on March 5 will feature works by Philip Sparke, Olifon Williams and Charles-Simon Catel and will feature "The Fines of Rome" by Ottorino Respighi.

The High School Honor Band performance on March 6 will feature the works of George Kenny, Alfred Reed, Carol Barnett and John Barnes Chance.

The festival brings students from all over the state of Maryland to FSU for a weekend of music. This year's Honor Band is made up of more than 80 outstanding musicians from 15 high schools. Members are selected based on the recommendation of the high school band director. Band members learn their music then come together for Friday and Saturday rehearsals, are guests at the Saturday evening FSU Wind Ensemble concert and are honored at a Sunday afternoon banquet before concluding the weekend with a public concert.

Admission for each performance is $3 for students, $5 for adults and free for children 12 and under.

For info, contact the FSU Music Department at x4109.

Celtic Crossroads – A St. Patrick’s Treat

FSU's Cultural Events Series presents Celtic Crossroads, performing Irish music like never before, doing to Irish music what Riverdance has done to Irish dance, on Sunday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. Because of the show's popularity, this performance has been moved from FSU's Pealer Recital Hall to the larger venue of The Stage at Mountain Ridge High School in Frostburg.

The name Celtic Crossroads originates from a time in Ireland when neighboring communities met at the crossings between towns and villages to socialize. With a focus on keeping the tradition of Irish music alive, each Celtic Crossroads performer nurtures this bygone concept, but by virtue of their young age and raw talent, they steer this tradition into the 21st century. True high-kicking from some of Ireland's best-respected Irish dancers intensifies the pulsating rhythms of the show.

The show features seven world-class musicians playing over 20 instruments. From start to finish, the audience will be captivated by a fusion of musical varieties in the Irish music genres, such as Eastern European Gypsy, American bluegrass, world classical, jazz and the various forms of Celtic music.

Magical interludes from the haunting uilleann pipes, whistles, low whistles and, of course, the Irish harp, along with some of Ireland's finest examples of traditional song, transport the audience to those crossroads in Ireland. Tempestuous fiddle playing accompanied by explosive banjo, intricate mandolin, accorion, mandola, bouzouki and guitar riffs, while silky flute playing reminds the audience that these traditional musicians are also classically trained. Throw in thunderous bodhran rhythms, drum kit and Peruvian cajon, along with Irish dancers, and the audience will find themselvesclapping to the rhythm.

Tickets for Celtic Crossroads are $22 for adults and $15 for those under 17. Corporate and group discount ticket rates are also available. Tickets may be ordered by calling x3317 or online at http://ces.frostburg.edu.

Leadership Studies Minor Program to Feature Shann Fitch

FSU's Leadership Studies minor, in collaboration with the Office of Student and Educational Services, College of Business, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and Student Communication Studies Association, will host Dr. Shann Fitch as this year's Leadership Scholar in Residence on March 7 and 8. One of the largest interdisciplinary minors at FSU, the Leadership Studies minor is marking its 10-year anniversary in 2011.

While in residence at FSU, Fitch will facilitate leadership studies and communication studies class sessions focused on servant leadership, restorative justice and forgiveness, and will meet with the President's Leadership Circle. He will also facilitate a workshop for faculty on interdisciplinary scholarship on Monday, March 7, at 2 p.m. in Lane 111, and lead a session for student leaders of campus organizations on Tuesday, March 8, at 7 p.m. in the Lane Atkinson Room (232). Faculty interested in attending the workshop should RSVP to Jeff McClellan at jmclclllan@frostburg.edu by March 1.

Fitch, an interdisciplinary scholar and leadership educator, is a professor of leadership studies with the internationally recognized Ph.D. program in leadership studies at Gonzaga University. His academic credentials include a Ph.D. in systems psychology from the University of Alberta in Canada.

Fitch has published numerous scholarly articles and book chapters. In addition, he has published and received many awards for his short stories and poetry. He is a systems psychologist in private practice and a lead consultant for Leadership Spirit International.

For info about the minor, go to www.frostburg.edu/cls/lead or contact co-coordinators Dr. Jeff McClellan, an assistant professor in the Management Department, at jmicclclllan@frostburg.edu or x4372; or Dr. Elesha L. Ruminski, an assistant professor and chair of the Communication Studies Department, at eruminski@frostburg.edu or x4480.

Fiscus to Speak on Sustainability

Dan Fiscus, an assistant professor in the Biology Department, will present a seminar “Campus Conversation Toward a Paradigm Shift in Life Sciences to Aid Environmental Sustainability” on Thursday, March 10, at 5 p.m. in Compton 327. The presentation is free and open to the public and is part of the FSU Biology Department spring seminar series.

This talk is part of a project for which Fischus received an FSU Faculty Development Grant for spring 2011. Fiscus will examine how fundamental ideas in the biological, ecological and life sciences figure in the causes and potential solutions for major environmental problems.

As part of this effort, Fischus will seek critique, comments, collaboration and campus discussions on these issues after the talk and through other meetings, e-mail and Twitter. For more information, contact Dan Fiscus at dfiscus@frostburg.edu or x4170.

Appalachian Lab Spring Seminar Series

Dr. Jeffrey S. Down, UMCES Horn Point Laboratory, will present “Biogeochemical Processes in Natural and Constructed Tidal Wetlands” Thursday, March 3, at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 109. For info, see www.umces.edu/al/seminar/schedule.

Int’l Film Series

FSU will continue its screenings of international films each Tuesday with World Artists Experience and the International Division of Maryland’s Office of Secretary of State. The Bridges to the World International Film Series is a statewide, month-long initiative in recognition of the state's global reach and a reflection of those connections here in Maryland.

Each film will be introduced and screened, and participants can sample food from that country. Films will be shown with English subtitles. Screenings will begin at 7 p.m. in Lane 11.

“How Much Does the Trojan Horse Weigh?” (“Ile Wazy Kon Trojanski”), to be shown March 1, is the feature from Poland. The fantasy, age-leaping movie transports 40-year-old Zosia back in time to 1987 after she wishes she could change things from her youth. The schedule for the remaining films is as follows:

- March 8: “Hometown Baghdad,” Iraq
- March 15: “Om Shanti Om,” India

Points of Pride

Theatre ‘Smokey Joe’s Café’

Front, Kai White and Sylvern Groomes; back, Brent Mitchell and Kristen Brown

Come to a raw, nitty-gritty, steamy production of the Tony and Grammy award-winning musical, “Smokey Joe’s Café,” March 3, 4 and 5 at 7:30 p.m., with a matinee performance March 5 at 2 p.m. All performances will take place in the Drama Theatre of the FSU Performing Arts Center.

This rock-style production will honor the original recordings of superstars of the ’50s and ’60s, including Elvis Presley, Big Mama Thornton, Jimmie Littlefield, The Drifters, The Coasters, The Shangri-las, Buddy Holly and many more.

Showcasing timeless hits by the writing team of Leiber and Stoller, like “Jailhouse Rock,” “Stand By Me,” “Kansas City,” “There Goes My Baby,” “Spanish Harlem” and “Hound Dog,” Smokey Joe’s Café reminds us of the American pop-culture of the time.

For reservations and info, contact the Theatre and Dance Box Office at x7462 (Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m.) Tickets are $6 for students and $12 for the general public. Group discounts are available when booked in advance.

New Faces at University Police

There are changing faces at University Police. Sgt. Al Shirka retired Feb. 1. Sgt. Tim Stevens and Sgt. Kevin Farrow will retire March 1 and April 1, respectively. They represent a combined 83 years’ experience at University Police. There will be a combined retirement picnic to celebrate their careers in the spring.

Congratulations are also in order for Jeremy Durst ’05 and Dale Lewis, who will be promoted to sergeant effective March 1. Durst is a four-year veteran of University Police who has consistently demonstrated his many abilities. Lewis, a dedicated officer, began his University Police career in September 2004, following his service with Frostburg City Police.

In January, Corp. William (Bill) Frye and Officer Kevin Kundratich ’08 were hired. Frye is a certified police officer who joins University Police following a 22-year career with Maryland State Police. Kundratich is attending the Maryland Police Academy and expects to graduate in June 2011.

University Police is conducting a search to fill additional vacancies that they hope to fill this spring.

Gray Hall Renovations

The Gray Hall renovation project has begun. The first contractor is performing the asbestos remediation. The asbestos removal work will be entirely contained within the building, using certified personnel and specialized equipment required by the state of Maryland. A third-party will monitor the remediation contractor to ensure the remediation and waste removal are performed properly. The work should be completed by Friday, July 29 (not March 25 as previously reported).

Take Note

ACS to Host Talk

On March 1, the Western Maryland Chapter of the American Chemical Society will host a dinner and talk at 6:30 p.m. at Rayar's restaurant in Hagerstown, Md. The talk, “When Good Liquids Go Bad: The Oxidations of Ir(III) Coordination Complexes,” will be given by Lisa S. Park-Gehrke, an adjunct instructor in the Chemistry Department at Shepherd College.

If interested in carpooling to this event, contact Peggy Biser at x3193 or phiser@frostburg.edu.

LGLC – Save the Date

The following dates have been set for the LGLC Committee Meetings: March 15, April 19 and May 17. All meetings will take place from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in Lane 115.

For info, contact Lawrence Gingerich at x4360 or lagingerich@frostburg.edu.

Student Xerox at Lane

The student Xerox is back in the Lane Center in the Derezinski Lounge. It is cash only for now (10 cents a copy), but Bobcat Reader will be up and running soon.

FSU YouTube Channel Needs New Vids!

Are you making a video for your class, program or division? Does the video express something interesting, unique and positive about FSU? If so, consider sharing it via the FSU YouTube channel (www.youtube.com/fsu). With 48 subscribers and nearly 1,500 total upload views, the FSU YouTube channel is a way to promote your video to the world at large and other people interested in Frostburg. Additionally, FSU is trying to feature a different video every day throughout the year on the FSU Facebook page (facebook.com/frostburgstateuniversity) by posting a link to a video on the FSU YouTube channel.

To submit a video for consideration, upload it on YouTube and e-mail the link to grom@frostburg.edu. Or burn the video to a disc and send it to Becca Rampsott, Public Information Specialist: Technology and New Media, 245 Hitchins Building, Frostburg State University, 101 Braddock Rd., Frostburg, MD 21532-2303. Be sure to include contact info!

Graduating in May?

If planning to graduate at the end of this semester, note the following:

The 138th commencement ceremony is scheduled for Saturday, May 21, in the Cordts PE Center. The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences will hold its service at 9 a.m. (previously 10 a.m.), while the Colleges of Business

Literature

E=\( (LG)^2 \) Is Back!

All faculty and staff are encouraged to have their students submit materials for the spring 2011 issue of E=\( (LG) \). Articles should be 50-500 words with an environmental or sustainability emphasis and pertain to student research, class activities, nature appreciations, club activities, reportage and more. Photos and digital artwork may be included. The magazine will be published in print and online. Submissions from all disciplines are welcomed.

E=\( (LG) \) is a product of ENGL 402, Editing and Production. The magazine website, which includes previous issues, is http://organizational.frostburg.edu/flagmaj/.

Students should send their materials to liganon@frostburg.edu by March 11.

For info, contact Sydney Duncan at x4225 or eduncan@frostburg.edu.
and Education will present their graduates at 2 p.m. Tickets will be required for admission. The number of tickets allotted to each graduate will be determined later.

Students should complete the graduation application in PAWS now to receive information about the upcoming commencement.

A Grad Fair will be held March 14 at the FSU Bookstore in the Lane Center from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. where students can order their class rings and diploma frames from participating vendors, as well as caps and gowns and announcements.

Caps and gowns are provided at no cost to graduates. Orders must be placed at the bookstore by March 18.

The first commencement mailing is scheduled for March (after spring break) and will be sent to students’ local and permanent addresses. Students should update their address information in PAWS to ensure they receive all the details.

Full details about commencement are on the University’s website at www.frostburg.edu/events/commencement. For info, contact Brittni Teter at xt4423 or bteter@frostburg.edu.

Deadlines

Grade Changes

The last day for any grade change for fall 2010 and Intercession 2011 (including removal of incomplete grades) for undergraduate students is March 4.

Graduation Exceptions

Planning a May 2011 graduation? If your official degree progress report indicates you have not completed all requirements and you have a basis to request an exception, submit your written appeal letter and supporting letters and documentation to the Academic Standards Subcommittee, Office of the Provost, Hitchins 213, by 4 p.m. on March 17 for the March meeting or April 14 for the April meeting (last chance for graduation exceptions and inclusion in the Commencement Booklet). For info, call the Provost’s Office at x4212.

Upward Bound

Tutors/Counselors

Upward Bound is seeking tutors/counselors for its summer residential program on FSU’s campus. Upward Bound is a federally funded program that encourages qualified Allegany County high school students to seek education beyond secondary school. The summer residence program provides the main focus and aims to provide students with a sample of the college experience. Tentative dates are from June 5 to July 22 (which includes five days of training). Tutor/counselor salary is $2,000. Room and board are provided. Applicant review will begin immediately and the deadline to apply is March 1.

For info, contact the Upward Bound office at x4994 or estelle@frostburg.edu, or visit the Upward Bound website at www.frostburg.edu/cife/ubp.

Preview Guides

The Office of Student and Educational Services is looking for students (preview guides) to mentor and guide students during Preview FSU, the summer orientation program. Interested students can pick up an application from the Office of Student and Educational Services (Hitchins 116) or at the Lane Center (Information Desk). Applications must be returned by March 11. Preview guides are expected to commit both days and evenings to the position from June 13 to June 30. Students will be compensated $950, including room and board. Given the time constraints of the position, students will not be able to take summer school classes or hold other employment during that time.

Student Instructors

FSU’s PASS Office is seeking student instructors for its fall 2011 Developmental Math Program. Earn money, receive third-hand experience credits and build your resume!

Student instructors help their peers improve basic math skills by implementing learning programs in pre-algebra and intermediate algebra courses.

Application materials are available by contacting Beth Stallings, director of Developmental Mathematics, at bstallings@frostburg.edu or x4442. The deadline for applications is Wednesday, March 30. Interviews will be conducted in early April.

Seasonal Positions Available at Rocky Gap

Rocky Gap State Park is seeking individuals for contractual employment beginning in April. The hourly wage is $7.25 or more, based on qualifications. Available positions include lifeguard, maintenance, retail and customer service. Applications are available at Rocky Gap State Park; or call 301-722-1480 for an e-mailed copy or go to http://dbm.maryland.gov/jobseekers/Documents/MS100/march2010accessible.pdf. Applications are due March 31.

Upcoming Meetings

Law and society majors and political science majors are encouraged to attend an internship meeting on Wednesday, March 2, at noon in Guild 205. Subsequent meetings at the same time and place include April 6 and May 2. For info, contact Tim Magrath in Guild 141 or at xt4080.

‘Medicinal Herbs’

The Northern Outreach Center and the Appalachian Center for Ethnobotanical Studies will host a course titled “Medicinal Herbs” through the Continuing Education and Training Division of Garrett College, beginning Tuesday, March 1, and will continue for four Tuesdays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. There will be no class on March 22.

The course is being instructed by Mimi Hernandez, MS, RH (AHG), outreach coordinator of the Appalachian Center for Ethnobotanical Studies at FSU. Hernandez will cover various topics: herbs and how they are used, herbalism and how herbal remedies are prepared and taken.

For info, contact Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or tbeachy@garrettcollege.edu. To register, contact Continuing Education and Workforce Development at 301-387-3069.
AAUW Meeting

The Frostburg Branch of the American Association of University Women will meet Tuesday, March 1, at 7 p.m. at the United Methodist Church on Main Street.

The guest speaker will be Dr. Kara Rogers Thomas, an assistant professor in the Sociology Department at FSU. Her topic will be Appalachian Traditional Arts. She will explore her use of service learning projects featuring the region’s folk culture to enhance economic development initiatives.

Members and guests are invited to attend. AAUW will celebrate Women’s History Month and International Women’s Day.

For info, contact Liz West at 301-722-6445 or 301-697-4755.

ACRC Volunteer Social

The Allegheny Conflict Resolution Center will hold a volunteer social on Thursday, March 10, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Mountain City Traditional Arts in Frostburg. The meeting is open to all. ACRC is a nonprofit organization that offers free community mediation to help people manage and resolve relational, organizational and community conflicts.

For info about ACRC, visit www.alleganymediation.org. For questions about the meeting, contact Dr. Elesha L. Ruminski, at elruminski@frostburg.edu or x4480.

Events at MCTA

Mountain City Traditional Arts is located at 25 E. Main St. in Frostburg.
