Tootoonchi to Speak on Leadership

The FSU Programming Council will host a presentation by Dr. Ahmad Tootoonchi, dean of the FSU College of Business, titled “What It Takes to Be an Authentic Leader” on Monday, March 26, at 6 p.m. in the Lane Atkinson Room (232).

Tootoonchi will speak about how survival in a profession depends on knowledge and skills relevant to that field, as well as the importance of developing a “leadership mentality.” Tootoonchi is a co-author of the book “Foundation and Practical Elements of Leadership” and chief editor of “The Journal of International Business Disciplines.” He has received three Outstanding Teaching Awards and published numerous articles. He has conducted many workshops and seminars and has provided consulting services for academic, business, and nonprofit organizations.

For info, contact the Lane University Center Information Desk at x4411.

Science in the Movies

Join Dr. Joanne Budzien of the FSU Department of Physics and Engineering on March 26 at 7 p.m. in Compton 226 for an evening of clips from blockbuster movies and a discussion of what science says could, would or should happen in those circumstances. This event is free and open to the public. No RSVP is needed.

For info, contact Dr. Benjamin Norris at bnnorris@frostburg.edu or x4157.

Spring Round-Up of Upcoming Presentations at Frostburg State University feature Dr. Shoshana Brassfield, an assistant professor in the department. The lecture will be followed by discussion.

According to the 17th-century French philosopher René Descartes, if you haven’t chosen your path, you are already on the way to remorse and regret. To live a happy and virtuous life, you need to make up your mind and commit!

For info, contact Dr. Jean-Marie Makang at x3089 or jmakang@frostburg.edu.

Rearranging or Wretched Rubrics?

Attention faculty! The Center for Teaching Excellence Advisory Group will host a forum titled “Rearranging Rubrics or Wretched Rubrics? A Discussion Forum on the Validity of Rubrics for Student Assessment” on Wednesday, March 28, from 7 to 8 p.m. in Lane 113.

Faculty will hear positive and negative viewpoints of using rubrics in the classroom for student assessment. The forum will consist of two short presentations (five to seven minutes) in favor of rubrics for classroom use and two short presentations against its use. The remaining time will be devoted to facilitated discussion among the attendees.

To generate thoughtful discussion, the forum will be open to the first 25 attendees.

Anyone interested in being a presenter for either viewpoint should contact Dr. Brent Rice at brice@frostburg.edu or x4709.

‘Women in the Civil War’

Dana Harrison as Harriet Tubman

In commemoration of Women’s History Month, the Women’s Studies program at FSU will present “Women in the Civil War” on Tuesday, March 27, at 7 p.m. in Lane Manicur Hall. This event is free and open to the public.

Conceptualized by WMST faculty members Dustin Shaffer, Mary Anne Lutz and Eleanor McConnell, and directed by Shaffer, “Women in the Civil War” is a collage of monologues characterizing the unique contributions of women during one of America’s most trying times. From women who dressed like men to fight as soldiers, to spies, nurses and wives, this piece is sure to ignite curiosity and awareness during the 150th-year anniversary of the conflict.

For info, contact Shaffer at dshaffer@frostburg.edu. Tickets are not needed for this event.

Second FSU ‘Enough Is Enough’ Campaign

FSU will participate in “Enough is Enough,” the national campaign to end campus violence, the week of Monday, April 2, through Friday, April 6. Each day will have a different theme, and events, workshops and information will be offered throughout.

Monday is kickoff day, starting with the annual rally and Harmony Walk, beginning at 6:30 p.m. by the Martin Luther King waterfall in the Lane Center lower lobby. FSU alumna Theresa Harrison, president of George Street Services Inc., and C. Natasha Richburg, entrepreneur, preacher, teacher, author and speaker, will lead an interactive session on “Using Conflict as a Tool for Growth: Being Right and Doing Right Are Not the Same” at 7 p.m. in Lane Manicur Hall.

Tuesday is Take the Pledge Day, in which members of the campus community can sign a pledge to take a stand against violence. The first of a series of brown bag lunches will be held from noon to 1 p.m. in Lane 111, beginning with an interactive presentation by the FSU No More Violence in My Life team, in which participants will discuss their own experiences with violence. Each glass will hold a screening of their “It Gets Better” video at 7 p.m. in the Lane Atkinson Room (232). This video features footage from the spring 2011 semester in which members interviewed students, faculty and staff about their experiences with bullying and violence.

Wednesday, the anniversary of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will kick off with the annual Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration, honor of the life of the Civil Rights leader, at 4 p.m. in the Atkinson Room. Student participants will share reflections on King’s work with the civil rights movement.

The second workshop in the Campus and Community Dialogues series, emphasizing violence prevention and community conflict management, will take place in the Lane Manicur Hall on Wednesday from 6 to 8 p.m. The workshop will be preceded by a reception at 5 p.m.

Thursday will be Take Action Day. It will feature the second brown bag lunch series, “Closing the Gap: Creating a More Peaceful Frostburg,” by members of the CMST 345 Conflict Management class, in the Lane Atkinson Room from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. The presentation will offer insights on how to close the gap between long- and short-term Frostburg residents. That evening, “Welcome to the Party,” an interactive program by the President’s Advisory Council on Gender-Based Violence, will focus on sexual assault and alcohol abuse. It will be held in the Atkinson Room from 7 to 8 p.m.

For Seats for Peace Day, members of the FSU National Coalition-Building Institute team will present a workshop titled “FSU Building Community through Diversity” from noon to 4 p.m. in Lane 111. Everyone is welcome, but seating is limited to 50 participants. Participation in a workshop may allow for training to become a diversity facilitator.

The week’s activities will be supplemented by information tables and displays. For info, contact Robin Wynder at x4050 or rwynder@frostburg.edu.

Leadership-in-Residence Program

Jonna Huseman and Larry Williams

The Leadership Studies Minor and the Amnesty International Chapter at FSU are sponsoring a leadership-in-residence program on Monday, April 2, and Tuesday, April 3. The two-day program will feature leaders and scholars who will participate in a forum, faculty workshop and classroom visits that focus on the discussion of leadership and the labor movement.

A forum titled “To Occupy or Not to Occupy? Leadership in the Labor Movement” will be held on Monday at 6 p.m. in Compton 226. An “Occupy Compton” reception featuring networking with guests will begin at 5:30 p.m. in the second floor atrium of Compton.

The forum will be initiated by five participants, including two representatives of organized labor, Jonna Huseman and Larry Williams; two FSU students, Brett Shepherd and Jacob Hutton; and two FSU faculty members, Dr. Greg Wood and Dr. Elesha Ruminski.

The guest speakers work within labor organizations and have experiences involving Occupy DC. Huseman, an advocate for workers’ rights, spent three years as a communications specialist for the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Williams, a seasoned employee of IBT’s Organizing Department, has led courses of more than 100 Teamster leaders and representatives from around the country at the IBT national organizing conference.

As part of their visit to FSU, Huseman and Williams will meet with the President’s Leadership Circle and participate in classroom discussions. A luncheon for faculty and staff will also be held, featuring discussion about “Teaching Students to be Citizen Leaders” and how the University offers experiential learning and leadership development activities.

For info about this program, contact Ruminski at x4480 or eruminski@frostburg.edu or visit www.frostburg.edu/dept/lead.

Dewey Bozella to Speak at FSU

Dewey Bozella will come to FSU to share his story of perseverance, courage and faith on April 10 at 7 p.m. in the Lane Manicur Hall.

Bozella was a 24-year-old amateur boxer when he was convicted of a murder he did not commit. Sentenced to 20 years to life in Sing Sing prison, he maintained his innocence and exhausted every appeal. Bozella became a model prisoner, earning his GED, bachelor’s and master’s degrees and working as a counselor for other prisoners. Through it all, he found strength and purpose through boxing, becoming the light heavyweight champion of Sing Sing Prison.

With the help of the Innocence Project, Bozella was exonerated in 2009 after 26 years in prison, earned ESPN’s 2011 Arthur Ashe Courage Award and recently won his first and only professional boxing match at 52 years old. Bozella has also established the Dewey Bozella Foundation, working with kids to teach them the discipline and the value of hard work and courage through boxing.

For info, contact the Black Student Alliance Office at x7402 or the Diversity Center at x4050.

Arbor Day Obsavance and Declaration

FSU will hold a Tree Campus USA Arbor Day Obsavance and Declaration on Wednesday, April 4, from noon to 1 p.m. on the Lane University Center lawn or in the Lane Atkinson Room (232) if it rains.

Among the speakers will be Dr. Sunshine Bross, chair of the Campus Tree Advisory Committee; Becky Wilson, who will speak on the importance of an Urban Tree Canopy; and FSU Sustainability Coordinator Lawrence Gingerich and deans Dr. John Hoffman and Dr. Ahmad Tootoonchi, speaking on campus sustainability as well as interdisciplinary sustainability. Closing out the ceremony, President Jonathan Gillibralter will make a Declaration of Arbor Day followed by the Arbor Day Obsavance of Tree Planting. It will be accompanied by the FSU Chamber Choir under the direction of Dr. Karen Soderberg in a musical reflection of Arbor Day. Volunteers will meet for campus tree planting in front of the arboretum at 1 p.m.

For info, contact Bross at sbross@frostburg.edu.

Call for Presentations

“FOCUS FROSTBURG 2012: ‘Learn-In’ for a Sustainable Future” will be held Wednesday, April 18, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Lane Center.

FOCUS FROSTBURG is FSU’s annual day of learning on sustainability and climate awareness that is free and open to FSU students, faculty, staff and the community.

AL Spring Seminars

Dr. Mark Imhoff, NASA Goddard Space Flight Center, will present “Gray Wave of the Great Transformation: A Satellite View of Urbanization, Population Growth and Food Security” Thursday, March 29, at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 109. For info, go to www.unces.edu/al/seminar/schedule.

Visual Arts

‘Eclectic’ Art Show

Come see a variety of artwork, including sculpture, painting, printmaking and illustration by senior artists Jodi Aker, Lindsey Crabtree, Tyler Daniels, Heather Miller and Linda Stewart at the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery in the Fine Arts Building.

The opening reception will be held on March 31 from 2 to 4 p.m. The show will run from March 31 through April 4. The event is free and open to the public.
For info, contact Crabtree at 301-697-5391.

Music

Plummer to Present Junior Recital

FSU student Lindsey Plummer will present her junior mezzo-soprano vocal recital, accompanied by pianist Dr. Sean Beachy, on Sunday, April 1, at 3 p.m., in PAC Pealer Recital Hall. The recital is free and open to the public.

Plummer will perform three Irish folk songs: “I Know My Love,” “I Know Where I’m Goin’” and “Down by the Sally Gardens.” The program will also include works by Robert Schumann, Fernando Orbrodors and Ricky Ian Gordon.

For info, contact the Department of Music at x4109.

Film

Tri-Beta Movie Night

Tri-Beta will host a free movie presentation to all that are interested on April 5 at 5 p.m. in Compton 327.
The feature presentation will be an episode of “Human Planet”: “Jungles – People of the Trees,” a documentary of the human species and its relationship with the natural world that shows the remarkable ways humans have adapted to life in every environment on Earth. This episode focuses on how some cultures only live in trees and their struggles through life.

Workshops

Seventh Annual Art and Writing Workshop

The FSU Center for Creative Writing, with the Allegany Arts Council, will host the Seventh Annual Art and Writing Workshop on Saturday, March 31, from noon to 4:30 p.m., in Dunkle 101. The workshop will feature “Making Art From Literature” by Jamison Odone and “Art as a Muse” by Gabielle Zane.

Odone is an assistant professor of visual arts and is in charge of the illustration focus at FSU. He is a published author and illustrator. In his session, participants will create text and image pieces, primarily through drawing and hand-lettersing. Participants should bring pens, pencils and erasers, as well as colored pencils or markers. Students should also bring whatever text sources inspire them.
Zane is a performer, writer and visual artist and has taught creative writing, performance and visual arts throughout New England. She was the 1997 Connecticut Individual Performance Poetry Champion and winner of the 1997 Slam Master’s Slam in Chicago. In her session, participants will learn how to interact with and respond to all types of art to create stories and poems. Students are encouraged to bring pictures of their favorite artwork.

The event is free and open to the public. For info or to register, email cwcenler@frostburg.edu with your name, address and workshop selection.

Points of Pride

Parks Publishes Book on Colonial Printer

Dr. A Franklin Parks, a professor in the English Department, has written “William Parks: The Colonial Printer in the Transatlantic World of the 18th Century,” published by Penn State University Press. Parks’ book introduces printer/publisher William Parks (not a direct ancestor) and his journey from the provinces of England through London to the colonies of Maryland and Virginia.

Parks teaches professional writing, literature and creative writing. He has also co-authored three books on writing and composition.

Faculty Members Among Arts Council Award Recipients

Robert Hein and Dr. Gregory Latta

Two FSU faculty members, Dr. Gregory Latta of the Department of Physics and Engineering and Robert Hein of the Department of Art and Design, have received the Maryland State Arts Council’s Individual Artist Award, which recognizes artists who have made a unique contribution to the culture of the state.

Hein has been a professor of photography at FSU since 2007. The topics of his work range from introspective expressions of dreams or memories to outward-looking imagery ranging from urban skyline views to children at play. Hein received his Individual Artist Award in photography for his creative endeavor and visual research. It took to finish the editing and processing of the final photographs of his collection.

Latta is a physics professor, singer, songwriter and a multi-instrumentalist specializing in instruments such as the hammered dulcimer, banjo, guitar and concertina. He also performs a very eclectic mix of music ranging from contemporary folk to Irish to Broadway. Latta received the Individual Artist Award for a Non-Classical Music Solo Performance. His recording for this award features traditional Irish music, traditional American music, contemporary American music, traditional Appalachian music and traditional country music.

For info, visit www.msac.org.

FSU Students Present at ATP Conference

FSU students enrolled in “Folklore in Appalachia” shared their work as participants in the Appalachian Regional Commission’s Appalachian Teaching Project at the 2011 ATP Conference held in Arlington, Va., in early December.

Under the direction of Dr. Kara Rogers Thomas, assistant professor of folklore and sociology at FSU, students developed public programming for Mountain City Traditional Arts, a Frostburg shop and entertainment venue. Students worked in teams to book artists from the Appalachian region to develop presentations and performances geared toward specific folklore genres.

Led by the Consortium of Appalachian Centers and Institutes, a coalition of 15 Appalachian-studies organizations, ATP includes coursework and active research on issues related to building a sustainable future for Appalachia.

For info, contact Thomas at x3124 or krogerthomas@frostburg.edu.

Recreation Society Does Deep Creek Dunk

The FSU Recreation Society participated in the Deep Creek Dunk in late February and raised $690 for the

FSU Students Tour Newseum in DC

Dr. Lindsay Pack, a professor in the Department of Mass Communication, and eight members of the National Broadcasting Society toured the Newseum in Washington, D.C., in early March. They were accompanied by production technician Dave Richey ’98, who showed them sites not normally included on the tour, such as the set for ABC’s “This Week” and a set used recently by President Obama.

Take Note

Eggtravaganza Day

Eggtravaganza, hosted by UCM, is an opportunity to create a unique bedazzled egg and contribute to the effort to end world hunger. The event will be held on April 3 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the UCS table in the Lane Center. A $2 donation will purchase a chick for a family start-up farm in a country of one’s choice. Farms projects are located in Central/Eastern Europe – Kosovo, Latin America/Caribbean – Honduras, Africa – Ghana, Asia/South Pacific – Thailand and North America/ Appalacia. A flock of chicks can help families add nourishing, life-sustaining eggs to their inadequate diets.

Heifer helps many hungry families with a starter flock of 10 to 50 chicks. With Heifer recipients’ commitment to pass on the offspring and training, the exponential impact of adding chickens to communities is a model that helps end hunger and poverty.

For info, contact the Rev. Dr. Cindy Zirlott at x7490 or c.zirlott@frostburg.edu.

Proposals for TASTE 2.0 Being Accepted

TASTE 2.0 is designed to help move FSU’s faculty and staff technologically forward to meet the needs of today’s tech-savvy student. It is a two-day conference on May 23 and 24 where ideas and best practices on teaching excellence are shared. Presentations will emphasize technology that is transforming today’s educational experiences and will be facilitated by FSU faculty, staff and vendors.

TASTE 2.0 is an opportunity that engages students

Taste looking for a faculty development opportunity

TASTE 2.0 is emphasizing these tracks:

• Web 2.0 (e.g., podcasts, Wikis, Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, Second Life, Google Docs, Voki, Pinterest)

• Teaching and learning technologies (e.g., SMART board, Blackboard, PowerPoint, Illuminate)

• Teaching and learning strategies (e.g., rubrics,冰破室s, assessment, motivating students)

To submit proposals, go to http://bit.ly/2W5x3c. The proposal deadline is April 10.

International

Where Would You Like to Study Abroad?

The Center for International Education offers various ways for FSU students to see the world. In some cases, students can pay FSU tuition, room and board and study for a semester or a year in Ireland, England, Spain, France, China, Italy, Australia, Peru, Botswana or in many other countries. FSU also offers summer study abroad programs. Financial aid, student loans and scholarships are available. For info, visit the Fuller House (across the street from Braddock House), call x4714 or email Victoria Gearhart at vmgearhart@frostburg.edu. Also check out the CIE website at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/studyabroad.htm.

Changsha, China—Fall 2012

Through the China Exchange Program, FSU students can spend a semester at Hunan Normal University (www.hunnu.edu.cn/english) in Changsha, Hunan Province, P.R. China. Students pay FSU tuition and fees (based on residency status) through their student e-bill account and room and board costs to Hunan Normal University.

Limerick, Ireland—Fall 2012

Students can study for a semester in Ireland at Mary Immaculate College and pay FSU tuition. Financial aid can be used to help cover the costs of room and board. Credits will transfer back to FSU. Check out the website for Mary Immaculate College at www.mic.ul.ie.

Casey Sundahl at Frostburg Museum

The Frostburg Museum is presenting an exhibition by Casey Sundahl. N’11 through April 14.

Sundahl experiments with texture, shape and structure and has moved from Pollock-esque drip-paintings to more solid, angular forms, often using unorthodox tools.

The Frostburg Museum is at the corners of Hill and Oak streets and is open Tuesday through Saturday from noon to 5 p.m. Admission to the museum is free. Donations are appreciated.

For info, contact Garry Ritchie, at 301-689-1195 or frostburgmuseum@verizon.net. The museum is also on the web at frostmuseum.allconet.org and is now on Facebook, LinkedIn and Twitter.
