FSU to Present Alumni Achievement Awards at 142nd Commencement

Thomas N. Creamer and Dr. Jesse Ketterman

FSU will present the 2013 Distinguished Alumni Achievement Awards to Thomas N. Creamer and Dr. Jesse Ketterman at the 142nd commencement ceremony slated for Saturday, May 18, in the Cordts PE Center.

Creamer, Class of '82, of Gaithersburg, Md., will be honored at the afternoon ceremony. He is manager of Technology Consulting and Data Analysis within Marriott's Technology Management Center, with responsibility for the processes and procedures that result in the expenditure of more than $40 million annually. Creamer recently received two Marriott Values in Practice awards for his efforts to lower costs and increase staff efficiency. One of his efforts resulted in savings of more than $2.1 million over the last two years. Before moving into technology procurement in the private sector, Creamer worked for 10 years on Capitol Hill, initially as a legislative aide and later as systems manager for the congressional computer networks. He has been an election judge with the Montgomery County Board of Elections for four years. After his father died in 2003, Creamer established the Paul J. Creamer Memorial Scholarship within FSU's Political Science Department. In 2010, he was appointed to the Board of Directors of the FSU Foundation, Inc.

Ketterman, of Frostburg, who earned master's degrees from FSU in business administration and education in 1998 and 2001, will be honored at the morning ceremony. He has served in various capacities during his 14 years at FSU, formerly as director of Student Development and assistant and associate director of Residence Life, and presently as assistant vice president for Student Services and dean of students. Ketterman received a national award as Mid-Level Student Affairs Professional of the Year by NASPA: Student Affairs Administrators in Higher Education and was named a member of The Daily Record's VIP List because of his outstanding professional accomplishment, civic involvement and impact of achievement before age 40. He was elected treasurer of the Association for Student Conduct Administrators and serves as the secretary for the Frostburg Business and Professional Association. Ketterman works with his fraternity, Kappa Alpha Order, and was inducted into its Hamilton Court of Honor. He holds a Ph.D. in educational leadership from Touro University International. He and his wife, Lynn, support a number of scholarship funds, including the newly established Buckheit-Ketterman Family Scholarship.

The Distinguished Alumni Achievement Award is one of the most prestigious honors bestowed on FSU alumni. Consideration is based on outstanding professional career growth; community involvement; demonstrated interest in their alma mater; philanthropic commitment to FSU; special achievements, awards, honors and distinctions; and/or educational background, which includes honors and involvement in special activities.

For info about the Distinguished Alumni Achievement Awards, contact the FSU Office of Alumni Programs at x4068. Full details about the commencement ceremony can be found at www.frostburg.edu/events/commencement.

Faculty Award Winners to Be Honored at University Convocation

The recipients of the 2013 Faculty Achievement Awards, with top graduating students from every degree program, will be honored at the University Honors Convocation on Friday, May 17, at 7:30 p.m. in PAC Pealer Recital Hall.

This year's Faculty Achievement Award recipients are Dr. Yan Bao, Department of Accounting, for Teaching; Andy Duncan, Department of English, for Academic Achievement; and Dr. Michael P. Murtagh, Department of Psychology, and Dr. Elesha L. Ruminski, Department of Communication Studies, for University and Community Service. The awards are made possible through generous gifts to the FSU Foundation, Inc.

In addition to the faculty awards, one graduating student per degree program will be honored for academic excellence and leadership.

Dance

Spring Dance Concert

FSU’s Department of Theatre and Dance will present its annual spring Dance Concert, titled “Taking the Movement,” on Friday, May 10, and Saturday, May 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the PAC Drama Theatre. Filled with energy and striking dance moves, “Taking the Movement” explores various dance styles and weaves together nine pieces into a dialogue about embracing the positive in life.

Seniors Caitlin Moore and Niki Newcomb will present their final choreography at FSU before graduating in May. Known for her high-energy dance moves, Moore, in this performance, focuses on the dilemma of wanting to live the life you pictured while being pulled toward the “safe life others direct you to lead.” In contrast, Newcomb’s piece, titled “RINSE,” is a lyrical illustration about the strength it takes to wash, or rinse, a negative relationship from one’s life. Focusing on the longevity of forgiveness, junior Amy Milligan will present an intricately blended contemporary dance.

In addition to five student choreographed works, Director Jamie McGreevy will stage four original pieces, including “RAW,” which debuted in 2010 and which has evolved through an ongoing collaboration with dancers Samantha Flowers and Jordan Kline. Recently presented at the American College Dance Festival, the duet received favorable reviews from renowned artists Seán Curran, Shani Collins Achille and George de la Peña. Flowers will also perform a solo choreographed by McGreevy based on the poetry of Jewel Mathieson.

For reservations and info, call the Theatre and Dance box office at x7462, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m. Tickets are $6 for students and $12 for the general public. Group reservations are available when booked in advance.

Music

Note: Unless otherwise noted, recitals and concerts will take place in PAC Pealer Recital Hall and are free and open to the public. For info, contact the Department of Music at x4109 or visit www.frostburg.edu/dept/music.

Clarinet Ensemble

The FSU Department of Music will present its Clarinet Ensemble on Monday, May 6, at 8 p.m. Dr. Mark Gallagher is the artistic director of this concert.

The ensemble will perform works by Jacques Bouffille, Eric Whitacre, Alfred Uhl and Peter Schickele.

Flute Studio

Join the FSU Flute Studio on Wednesday, May 8, for a recital of flute solo and chamber music, beginning at 8 p.m.

The repertoire will include the popular “Sonatina” for flute and piano by Eldin Burton, the lovely “Passages” for piccolo and piano by Daniel Kelley and “Fantasie” by Georges Hue. The FSU Flute and Guitar Ensemble will present the second half of the program. Ryan Sheally, on flute, and Robert Wallace, on guitar, will perform the celebrated “Trois Gymnopedies” by Eric Satie, “Sicilienne” by J.S. Bach and the fiery “Milonga” by Christopher Caliendo.

Wallace to Perform Junior Guitar Recital

The FSU Department of Music will present Robert Wallace in his junior guitar recital on Thursday, May 9, at 8 p.m. He will be assisted by Zachary Dodge on guitar and Ryan Sheally on flute.

Wallace will perform “A Breeze From Alabama and “Peacherine Rag” by Scott Joplin, arranged by Eythor Thorlaksson; “Prelude No.1 in E Minor Andantino Expressivo” and “Prelude No. 2 in E Major Andantino” by Heitor Villa-Lobos; “Trois Serenades, Op. 96, No. 1 for Duo Guitare” by Ferdinando Carulli; “Siciliano” from “Flute Sonata No. 2 in E-flat Major” by Johann Sebastian Bach, arranged for flute and guitar by Terry Herald; and “La Milonga” (“A Dance”) by Christopher Caliendo.

Kiser to Perform Senior Flute Recital

FSU student Amanda J. Kiser will present a senior flute recital on Saturday, May 11, at 8 p.m. She will be accompanied by Dr. Jay DeWire on piano and will be assisted by guest artists Pamela Murchison on flute, Greg Jaeger on percussion and Mike Murphy on bass. The recital is free and open to the public.

Kiser will begin her recital with “Hamburger Sonate,” a two-movement piece by C.P.E. Bach. She will then play a salsa song, “Charanga,” by the solo-flutist Michael Colquhoun. Murchison will assist her with Giacchino Rossini’s “No. 1 Overture” from “The Barber of Saville,” after which she will play “Fantaisie for Flute,” a song by Georges Hue that shows off the flutist’s technical skills. For her final song, she will be accompanied by DeWire, Jaeger and Murphy. They will play a clever combination of flute and jazz, “Suite for Flute and Jazz Piano Trio,” by the French composer and pianist Claude Bolling.

Presentations

Athletes Benefit From Paleo Diet

Dr. Brian J. Hasslinger, a specialist in evaluation and treatment of allergens, will speak about his research on the Paleo diet on Tuesday, May 7, at 7 p.m. in Cordts PE Center 220-B. The presentation is geared toward athletic training and exercise and sport science majors, but the community is welcome and encouraged to attend this free event.

Hasslinger, board certified by the American Academy of Otolaryngology, has been investigating the benefits of a Paleolithic diet and presented his research at the Pan-American Allergy Society Conference last year. He concluded the diet provides several benefits to general health and wellness and is especially relevant for athletes who are trying to maximize their performance capacity. Athletes who had food allergies performed at much higher levels while following the Paleo diet.

For info, contact the Department of Kinesiology at x7017.

Registration Now Open for TASTE 2013

FSU faculty and staff, are you interested in incorporating more technology into your teaching and helping FSU move forward to meet the needs of today’s tech-savvy students?

If so, be sure to check out TASTE, a two-day conference for sharing ideas and best practices about teaching excellence and technology.

TASTE will be held May 21 and 22 on the FSU campus. TASTE is free and includes a reception with a keynote speaker, breakfast and lunch, and an exhibit hall.

Attendees will have a chance to learn some new teaching strategies and win great giveaways.

Here is a sample of the topics for the conference so far:

Points of Pride

Relay for Life Raises More Than $63,000!

Participants in FSU’s Relay for Life, led by cancer survivors (in purple), make the first lap around the Bobcat Stadium track.

FSU’s annual Relay for Life, with a theme of Knock Cancer Out of the Park, broke its fundraising record again this year by raising $63,434.89. This makes a total of nearly $400,000 raised for the American Cancer Society since FSU’s relay began 12 years ago.

Relay for Life is a fundraiser for the American Cancer Society that raises money for research and funds services for people who have cancer and their caregivers. In advance of the Friday, April 26, event, more than 800 people and 54 teams – students, faculty and staff – had registered to walk, with more than 1,000 participants coming out on the evening of the event. Chele’s Stars raised the most money at $9,378, followed by the What’s Up Docs (FSU’s Pre-Professional Medical Society) at $8,220.67. The FSU combined Greek Life teams raised $11,264.43. Relay for Life, coordinated by FSU’s Chapter of Colleges Against Cancer, is the campus’ largest single volunteer effort each year, encompassing all areas of the campus community.

“I am thrilled by these results and extraordinarily proud of our University community,” said President Jonathan Gibraltar, who also participated in the relay. “Particular credit is due to our students, who plan for this all year. They work incredibly hard to make it happen.”

While the initial $60,000 goal was met, pledges are still being collected to reach the $64,000 stretch goal. To contribute, visit www.relayforlife.org/fsumd or take donations to the Braddock House, 20 Braddock Rd. in Frostburg. Additional sponsors included Zen Shi Sushi, She’s So Pretty, the FSU Residence Hall Association, the FSU Cultural Events Series and Aramark.

For info, call the FSU Office of Leadership and Civic Engagement at x4210.

Workshops

Photo Workshop

FSU will host a Summer Photo Workshop for high school juniors and seniors from Monday, June 17, through Saturday, June 22, at the FSU campus. Students must have a digital camera.

Participants will experience six days of intensive instruction in photography by Robert Hein, an assistant professor of Visual Arts. They will learn to understand and use their digital cameras for more than just snapshots and to edit their photography in Photoshop. At the conclusion of the workshop, they will have a summary print exhibit on campus and will receive a certificate.

Registration forms are available from local high school art teachers. Mail the form and a check for the $100 course fee (made out to Frostburg State University) to Frostburg Business Office, Attn: Photo Workshop, Frostburg State University, 101 Braddock Rd., Frostburg, MD 21532.

For info, contact Hein at x4354 or rmhein@frostburg.edu.

Take Note

Farm-to-Table Dinner

Come celebrate the area’s local farmers at the Farm-to-Table Dinner on Tuesday, May 14, at 5 p.m. in Lane Manicur Hall. The dinner will feature grass-fed beef from Leaning Pine Farm in Mount Savage.

The cost is $5 for students, staff and faculty. Limited seating is available – advance ticket sales only!

This event is sponsored by Frostburg Dining Services. For info and reservations, call x3021.

‘Finals-Fest’ at USMH

FSU@USMH students who are low on energy and need a break are encouraged to come to “Finals-Fest” on Monday, May 6, and Tuesday, May 7, from 5 to 7 p.m. in the USMH third floor south alcove. Get recharged! Food and drinks will be served.

Click It or Ticket

The focus of this month’s Click It or Ticket campaign is to get drivers to buckle up day and night. But motorists should know that officers from University Police are out enforcing seat belt laws year-round. In fact, law enforcement across Maryland issued more than 90,000 citations for seat belt use last year, with many officers conducting high-visibility enforcement during the nighttime hours as well.

“Please buckle up all the time, every time,” said University Police Chief Cynthia Smith. “The life you save may just be your own.”

Far too many drivers and passengers are failing to buckle up during the nighttime hours, a time when roadways are more likely to be shared with impaired or drowsy drivers.

Seat belts save lives, but only when worn and worn properly. And that goes for unbelted passengers in the back seat who are more likely to seriously injure or kill front-seat occupants in a crash. Wearing your seat belt costs nothing and takes two seconds to put on. Not wearing it could cost you money, and worse, it could cost you your life or the life of a loved one or friend. Buckle up, every trip, every time – day and night!

Mediation Center Training Orientation

Mountainside Community Mediation Center (MCMC) invites community members to attend an orientation on May 7 at 6 p.m. for those interested in learning more about the free conflict resolution program as well as upcoming mediator training. The orientation will be held at Mountain City Traditional Arts at 25 E. Main St. in Frostburg.

During the orientation, MCMC volunteers will discuss the mediation process as well as mediator training. Mediators are required to complete 50 hours of basic mediation training. A basic mediation training for the region has been scheduled Thursday through Saturday on June 20, 21 and 22 and June 27, 28 and 29 from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The location of the training will be disclosed at a later date. Those interested in attending the six-session training are encouraged to attend the orientation and complete an application available that evening or visit www.mountainsidemediation.org for more info.

MCMC is funded, in part, through a grant provided by Maryland’s Mediation and Conflict Resolution Office (MACRO). MCMC’s mission is to educate community members about conflict resolution, train community members in mediation and other alternate dispute resolution techniques, and assist community members in their efforts to resolve conflicts and improve relationships. MCMC serves Allegany and Garrett counties.

Community members are encouraged to use MCMC’s free and neutral mediation service. MCMC is available to assist with resolving disputes involving, but not limited to, household members; neighbors, co-workers or fellow students; and landlords, religious communities or neighborhood associations.

For info about mediation services or volunteer opportunities with MCMC, contact Jerilyn Jackson at info@mountainsidemediation.org or 240-727-0408, or contact Dr. Elesha L. Ruminski, MCMC board president and chair of the Department of Communication Studies, at elruminski@frostburg.edu or x4480.
