Campus Invited to Q&A Session With Actress Kathleen Turner

Oscar-, Tony- and Golden Globe-nominated actress Kathleen Turner will visit FSU on Monday, Feb. 17. The campus community is invited to attend a question-and-answer session with the screen icon from 3 to 4 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center. The Q&A will follow Turner's sharing her craft in a masterclass with junior and senior students from FSU's Department of Theatre and Dance.

Turner is appearing in Berthold Brecht's "Mother Courage and Her Children" at Arena Stage in Washington, D.C., through March 9. FSU Associate Professor Darrell Rushton was part of the group that workshopped "Mother Courage" in advance of its premiere in January. For info about Mother Courage, visit http://blog.arenastage.org/arena_stage_blogs/2013/07/mother-courages-journey.html and www.arenastage.com/shows-tickets/the-season/productions/mother-courage-and-her-children.

Turner has garnered critical acclaim for her movie performances, including her breakout role in "Body Heat," for which she was nominated for a Golden Globe; "Romancing The Stone" and "Prizzi's Honor," which earned her a Golden Globe Award for each; "Peggy Sue Got Married," which brought nominations for an Academy Award and a Golden Globe; and "War of the Roses," with another Golden Globe nomination. Turner's extensive film credits also include "The Man With Two Brains" with Steve Martin, "Jewel of the Nile" with Michael Douglas, "The Accidental Tourist," "V.I. Warshawski," John Waters' "Serial Mom," "Naked in New York," "Moonlight and Valentino," "The Real Blonde" and Sofia Coppola's "The Virgin Suicides." She recently completed filming "Dumb & Dumber To" with Jim Carrey and Jeff Daniels. More recently, Turner had a major recurring role playing Sue Collini on Showtime's hit series, "Californication," as well the starring role in the independent film, "The Perfect Family."

Turner has also starred on Broadway in "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof," for which she received a Tony nomination; "Indiscretions"; "The Graduate"; and "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," for which she received a second Tony nomination. She also starred on Broadway as a nun in "High" and took the show on tour. Last year, Turner starred as the late journalist Molly Ivins in "Red Hot Patriot: The Kick Ass Wit of Molly Ivins," which had a run at the Arena, and last winter she directed and starred in "The Killing of Sister George" at The Long Wharf Theatre. Following "Mother Courage," she will go to London to star in "Bakersfield Mist" at the Dutchess Theatre.

Turner published a New York Times best-selling autobiography, "Send Yourself Roses: Thoughts on My Life, Love and Leading Roles," in 2008.

Don't miss this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to hear about the craft of acting from one of a generation's most brilliant actresses. For more info, contact Rushton at dsrushton@frostburg.edu.

FSU Master's in Recreation & Parks Management Ranks 10th Nationally as a GetEducated.com Best Buy

FSU's online Master of Science in Recreation and Parks Management program has been ranked a "Best Buy" by GetEducated.com, the consumer guide to online colleges, in its independent review of online masters in the management and administration subject areas. FSU's program ranked 10th among all competing options nationwide.

"Frostburg State University's Master of Science in Recreation and Parks Management provides remarkable value to our students, and I’m proud that it is being recognized,” said President Jonathan Gibraltar. “FSU’s program, one of the first of its kind to go online, was designed to serve the specific needs of the working professionals in these fields. Its cohort model, which allows students to progress through the program with the same group of classmates, has provided them with remarkable networking opportunities and support from their nationwide connections.”

The online Master of Science in Recreation and Parks Management program is designed to provide professionals who have three years of combined administrative and supervisory experience with the skills and techniques required of upper-level managers in public, nonprofit and commercial agencies in the parks and recreation field. The 30-credit program can be completed in 2 1/2 years.

The GetEducated.com Management Best Buy ranking is based on a national survey of 69 regionally accredited colleges that offer 100 online master’s programs in management and administration. The rankings highlight the 44 most affordable online degrees in this field. To appear on a Get Educated Best Buy ranking, the online degree profiled must objectively cost less than the average of all the online degrees reviewed in the comprehensive national data set.

“Frostburg State is a laudable model for how public universities with superior leadership teams are combining the credibility of a traditional university experience with cutting edge technology to better serve America’s working professionals,” says Vicky Phillips, founder of GetEducated.com. “In a time when higher education costs have reached critical levels, FSU’s online learning programs offer a national model for how educational technology coupled with innovative fiscal practices can help solve the crisis of college affordability,” says Phillips.

The average cost of an online management and administration master’s, according to the survey, is $23,196. GetEducated.com estimates the cost of an FSU online Master of Science at $10,560 for Maryland residents and $13,470 for those from other states.

To view the list of “Best Buys” in online master’s degrees in management and administration, visit www.geteducated.com/online-college-ratings-and-rankings/best-buy-lists/best-buy-online-masters-management-administration.

“Dr. Maureen Dougherty was the program coordinator who had the foresight ahead of the market to put FSU’s first totally online program online. Dr. Natalia Buta is the current coordinator of the program and is carrying on the tradition,” said Dr. Robert Kauffman, chair of the Department of Recreation and Parks Management.

For info about FSU’s Master of Science in Recreation and Parks Management program, call the Office of Graduate Services at x7053, email gradservices@frostburg.edu or visit www.frostburg.edu/grad.

Founded in 1989, GetEducated.com publishes independent reviews and rankings of the best online universities in the United States along the consumer dimensions of affordability, student satisfaction and national reputation.

Films

FSU to Present Screenings of International Films

A scene from “Mi Mejor Enemigo”

FSU will screen a series of international films from Chile, Israel, China and Slovenia each Tuesday for the next month in conjunction with World Artists Experience and the International Division of Maryland’s Office of Secretary of State. The Building Bridges International Film festival is a statewide, month-long initiative in recognition of the state’s global reach and a reflection of those connections here in Maryland.

“Mi Mejor Enemigo” from Chile will be presented on Feb. 11, “Mabul” from Israel on Feb. 18, “Ocean Heaven” from China on Feb. 25 and “Trmasti Spomin” from Slovenia on March 4. Each movie will be screened with English subtitles, and participants will be offered refreshments from that country. All screenings will begin at 7 p.m. in Lane 111 and are free and open to the public.

“Mi Mejor Enemigo” is a darkly comic film about the absurdity of war, culture xenophobia and national borders. The film is based on the geopolitical argument between Chile and Argentina that led to military action in 1978 referred to as the Beagle Conflict. “Mi Mejor Enemigo” tells the story of a six-man Chilean patrol defending the vast grassy plains of southern Patagonia that bonds with a six-man Argentinian patrol defending from the opposite side of the same border.

Teaching Tuesday – ‘Teaching How Not to Plagiarize’

The Center for Teaching Excellence invites faculty and staff to Teaching Tuesdays, a series of informal discussions of topics in teaching and learning. The February session, “Teaching How Not to Plagiarize,” postponed from Feb. 4, will be held Feb. 11 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Lane Center South Addition (244).

More and more students are committing unintentional plagiarism. How do you explain what plagiarism is? What are strategies or class exercises for teaching students how not to plagiarize? How can instructors explain when paraphrasing becomes plagiarism? What should we say to students who are afraid that their own words aren’t good enough? How should a student know what is common knowledge and what needs a source? How should students identify words and phrases that need quotation marks? Should we tell students to cite Wikipedia?

Come share your strategies and hear what others are doing! Bring your lunch and drop in anytime between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

For info, contact Shoshana Brassfield at srbrassfield@frostburg.edu.

Alongside the Clothesline Project is the scarf sale, otherwise known as the Scarf Project.

Tickets are $12 for the general public and $6 for students and may be purchased by phoning x7462 Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m. For the 13th year in a row, V-Day@FSU will donate the proceeds from ticket and merchandise sales. V-Day is a global activist movement to end violence against women and girls and is a catalyst that promotes creative events to increase awareness, raise money and revitalize the spirit of existing anti-violence organizations. V-Day generates broader attention for the fight to stop violence against women and girls, including rape, battery, incest, female genital mutilation and sex slavery. This movement strives to empower women to find their collective voices and demand an end to the violence that affects one in three women in the U.S. and around the world.

During his long musical career, Burke has earned international acclaim in Europe and America as a solo performer, a teacher and as a member of some of folk music's foremost groups. He is also a featured member of Grammy winner Tim O'Brien's crossover band, The Crossing. Burke is a recipient of the National Endowment for the Arts 2002 National Heritage Fellowship, the United States' highest honor for excellence in the folk and traditional arts.

Scott is a remarkable multi-instrumentalist whose professional credentials span a wide range of music, from traditional to bluegrass to jazz and everything in between. He plays and sings in the eight-piece folk ensemble, The Trail Band, and is a noted composer and arranger with dozens of scores for documentaries, films and commercials under his belt. In 2006, his film score for "Scotland's Lighthouses" was recognized by the Just Plain Folks Music Awards with fourth place in the Celtic Album of the Year and fifth place in the Celtic Song of the Year.

Take Note

FSU to Again Take Part in RecycleMania Competition

FSU will once again participate in the RecycleMania Tournament to see who can reduce, reuse and recycle the most on-campus waste. RecycleMania is an eight-week challenge among more than 461 colleges across the country and Canada that started on Feb. 3 and ends on March 29. FSU is competing to have the highest percentage of recycled materials, the largest number of pounds of recycling per person on campus and the lowest number of pounds of garbage per person.

For the past two years FSU has placed in the top fifth of the campuses that participated, ranking above most Maryland colleges and universities, including UMBC, Towson University, Johns Hopkins and University of Maryland-College Park. The only Maryland school that ranked higher than FSU was Harford Community College. More than 110,000 pounds of waste were recycled from FSU during last year’s tournament. FSU needs every student, faculty and staff member to get involved by following the tips below to continue doing well and ensure a Bobcat victory in RecycleMania!

Start recycling if you haven’t already! Recycling bins are on every floor of every building on campus. Recycling stations have bins for plastic and glass bottles, cans and mixed paper (office paper, newspaper, magazines). Instead of throwing your plastic bottle in a trash can, carry it the extra two or three feet to a recycling bin.

Only recycle materials listed on the bins. Trash or items that do not match the label contaminate the recycling load and disqualify the bag from the competition. To be able to count all of our recycling, it is critical that you follow the labels on the bins.

Get information on how FSU is doing in the competition by visiting the Learning Green, Living Green Facebook page at www.facebook.com/frostburglglg. Recycling info is updated weekly as results are submitted to RecycleMania. You can find out more about RecycleMania at www.recyclemania.org.

Tell your friends about the competition and encourage them to start recycling.

For info, contact Lawrence Gingerich, Safety and Sustainability coordinator, at lagingerich@frostburg.ed or 301-687-4360.

Coming Soon to Your Student Email

Do not delete! Please take a few minutes to complete the Maryland College Alcohol Survey. It’s part of FSU’s commitment to participating in the Maryland Collaborative, a statewide initiative to reduce college drinking and related problems.

It takes about 11 minutes to complete and includes standardized questions on quantity and frequency of alcohol use as well as a host of alcohol-related consequences. Most important, questions are included that assess four suspected “drivers” of college drinking: easy access and availability, early exposure to alcohol, attitudes and expectations about alcohol’s purported “benefits” and parental permissiveness. The survey data will be very useful in helping to better understand which of these drivers to target with interventions to reduce excessive drinking and the problems associated with it.

Next Community Dialogue Session to Focus on Off-Campus Housing

The Frostburg Sustaining Campus and Community Dialogue Series will continue this spring with a focus on formalizing a commitment to support campus and community partnerships. The series aims to strengthen community relationships and foster civility and collaborative problem-solving in Frostburg.

The next dialogue session will be held from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Lyric Theater at 20 E. Main St. in Frostburg on Monday, Feb. 24; with the theme “Living With Each Other: A Discussion of Off-Campus Housing Solutions.” Sessions are open to anyone in the Frostburg community interested in discussing the topics.

Supported by FSU, the Maryland Judiciary’s Mediation and Conflict Resolution Office and Mountainside Community Mediation Center since spring 2012, the dialogue sessions convene students, year-round residents, local officials and University leaders to discuss issues and create new opportunities for collaborative problem-solving and coalition-building in Frostburg. In this second year of the series, community members are working toward tangible solutions for deeper level, sensitive and structurally challenging town-and-gown tensions that bring about safe, secure living conditions and civil relationships between long- and short-term residents in the college town.

Details and documentary segments about the project are available at www.frostburg.edu/dept/cmst/dialogue-series. Those interested in being part of this community-building effort should contact Elesha Ruminski at elruminski@frostburg.edu or x4480.
