SUPER SATURDAY!

AN EVENING WITH

COLLIN RAYE

and special guest, Chad Brock

Often described as the man with the most muscular tenor in country music, singer/songwriter Collin Raye is known for his distinctive style of blending country rhythms with socially conscious lyrics. This winning combination has earned him twelve No. 1 singles and four platinum albums since he began recording solo in 1990. Raye's appearance at this year's Homecoming concert is especially noteworthy because it coincides with the observance of USA Weekend's 2002 "Make a Difference Day." A member of its advisory board, Raye was featured on the cover of the September 17-19, 1999, issue of USA Weekend. Country singer Chad Brock will open for Raye in this year's Homecoming country extravaganza. Tickets from $20 to $33. For info or to purchase tickets, visit the website at <http://ces.frostburg.edu> or call the box office at 301-687-3137 or 1-866-TIXX CES.

FSU Dedicates J. Glenn Beall Archives

FSU on Wednesday, Oct. 16, dedicated the J. Glenn Beall Archives, housing thousands of papers, photos and artifacts from former U.S. senators J. Glenn Beall and his son, J. Glenn Beall Jr., one of Western Maryland's most prominent political families.

The elder Beall served in the U.S. Senate from 1953 to 1965, following a decade in Congress as U.S. Representative from Maryland's 6th District. Before that, he was a Maryland State Senator. He died in 1971.

His son, J. Glenn Beall Jr., was a U.S. Senator from 1971 to 1977, following a term as 6th District U.S. Representative and five years in the Maryland House of Delegates.

"J. Glenn Beall and his family are legendary in Maryland for their dedication to public service at the local, state and national levels," said FSU President Catherine R. Gira.

When Glenn Beall Jr. left office and returned home from Washington in 1977, Frostburg State became the repository for his senatorial papers. They eventually filled 23 file cabinets. When it came time to sell his childhood home in Frostburg, the Beall family found boxes, trunks and suitcases filled with newspaper clippings, letters and pictures from J. Glenn Sr. and his wife Margaret's life together, including the 22 years he was involved in government in Washington.

Beall Jr. said he then reflected about his own mortality and decided that there were many items he and his wife, Nancy, collected over the years that should be archived as well.

"Through the generous donations of Senator Beall and his mother, Mrs. Margaret Beall, the FSU Foundation has now established an endowment through which these important collections can be organized, cataloged and safely stored and made accessible to researchers for many years to come," Gira said.

"These things belong in Frostburg because our roots are deep in Frostburg," Beall said. The first Beall came to Allegany County in 1783, he said, and by around 1800 a Beall had settled in the town that would come to be named Frostburg.

Glenn Beall Jr.'s connection to FSU runs deep, as well. His first six years of school were spent at the Frostburg State Teacher's College Training School, later named the Laboratory school.

Nearly 200 well-wishers, including a number of Beall's former senatorial staffers, filled the fourth floor of the library for the dedication. Three of Beall's staffers in attendance are graduates of Frostburg State.

Among the treasures in the Beall Archives are photographs of both Senators with every president during their terms of office; photographs of the Senators' wives with the First Ladies, an extensive collection of campaign memorabilia, newspapers clippings and photos of official occasions, dinners, etc.

The FSU Archives, on the fourth floor of the Lewis J. Ort Library, is also home to the William Price and Harry Stegmaier Railroad Collection containing thousands of photographs, transparencies and film footage of primarily East Coast railroads; and the George A. Meyers Collection of literature relating to the Lonaconing, Md., native's nearly 40 years as Labor Secretary of the Communist Party, USA.

Some area civic groups have already expressed interest in touring the Beall Archives, which are open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. by appointment. For more information, call x3014.

PRESENTATIONS

Petrocelli: '10 Seconds Can Change Your Life'

"Ten Seconds Can Change Your Life" is the message brought by Bobby Petrocelli, who will speak at FSU Thursday, Oct. 24, at 7 p.m. in the Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall in Lane University Center.

The Brooklyn, N.Y., native is one of the most sought-after speakers in the country with his message that 10 seconds is all it takes to change a life forever.

Petrocelli shares his personal and true story about how his life was turned upside down in one night. Bobby went to bed a happy, fulfilled man, but woke up dazed and injured sitting in his dining room window staring up at a pickup truck. The truck, driven by a man whose blood alcohol level was twice the legal limit, crashed through the wall of his bedroom traveling over 70 mph. His wife was dead and his life was changed forever.

A former teacher and coach, he uses his high energy to empower and motivate all ages and walks of life with his humor and message.

Petrocelli's presentation at FSU is sponsored by Western Maryland Regional Safe Communities Center and BURG Peer Education. For more information, contact Jennifer Drees at x7962.

Speaker from NPR to Participate Career Day

Alexandra McCarty, a representative from National Public Radio's Policy and Station Services Department, will speak on Friday, Oct. 25, as part of Career Day 2002 at FSU. McCarty will meet with interested students from 11 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 25, in Guild Center Room 104.

With NPR since November 1995, McCarty worked her way up from student volunteer to general manager and was instrumental in helping the station grow from a 150-watt student-run operation to a 25,000-watt professional radio station.

National Public Radio, a membership organization of 656 public radio stations nationwide, is radio's leader provider of high-quality news, information and cultural programming worldwide. FSU's WFWM, 91.9 FM, is a member station. For information on NPR, visit the Web site at www.npr.org.

The panel will include Dr. Randy Bandura, professor of Accounting; Lee Fiedler, Mayor of Cumberland and former CEO of Kelly Springfield Tire Co.; Dr. Tom Mappes, coordinator of the Philosophy Department and professor of Philosophy; Dr. Armond Rossi, assistant professor of Economics; and Tom Sigerstad, chair of the Business Management Department.

MUSIC

President's Concert to Close Weekend

FSU's "Take Me Home" Homecoming Weekend comes to a close with the President's Concert on Sunday, Oct. 27, at 3 p.m., in the Performing Arts Center's Pealer Recital Hall.

Featuring outstanding student musicians, the Jazz Ensemble and Collegium Musicum, the concert is free and open to the public.

Under the direction of Dr. Karen Soderberg Sarnaker, Collegium Musicum's performance will include the vocal jazz selection "Take the A-Train" by Billy Strayhorn and arranged by Stephen Zegree, the Venezuelan jazz composition "Salseo" by Oscar Galian and the traditional Black gospel song "The Storm Is Passing Over" by Charles Albert Tindley and arranged by Barbara W. Baker. Kimberly Andrews will be accompanist.

Student soloists include sopranos Kelly Ann Law and Autumn Monahan and Diana Ezerins, percussion.

FSU alumnus James Bowser, tenor, will sing "Mein!" from "Die Schöne Mullerin" by Franz Schubert, "Ideale" by Francisco Paolo Tosti and "En fermant les yeux" from "Manon" by Jules Massenet. Bowser recently made his professional opera debut as 1st Slave and Monostatos cover in Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart's "Die Zauberflote" at the Shreveport Opera Company in Louisiana. After graduating from Frostburg in 2000, he earned his master's degree in vocal performance at the University of Missouri-Columbia. While in graduate school, he performed the role of Martin in Aaron Copland's "The Tender Land" and the role of Pvt. George Shannon in the University's commissioned opera, "Corps of Discovery," which he performed at Carnegie Hall and the Kennedy Center. The following summer, he performed the roles of Daniel Buchanan in Kurt Weill's "Street Scene" and Ewart Dunlop in Meredith Willson's "The Music Man" at the Seagle Music Colony in upstate New York.

The FSU Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Jon Bauman, will conclude the concert with "Switching Gears" by Lars Halle featuring Albert DeFusco, trumpet; Erin Frankenberry, tenor sax; "Teach Me Tonight" by Gene DePaul featuring alto Liza Wenzel and "Pure and Simple" by Jeff Jarvis featuring Stevyn Carmona and Laurence Bruner, trumpet; Jonas Amoonarquah, trombone; Nathan Royer, bass and Jeff Ward, drums.

For information, call the FSU Department of Music at x4109.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer on 'Make a Difference Day'

Service and volunteerism has always been a hallmark for FSU Homecoming Festivities. This year the Homecoming Service project will be in partnership with USA Weekend's 2002 Make A Difference Day celebrated on Oct. 26, and Unity In The Spirit of America which honors those that lost their lives on Sept. 11, 2001.

This summer it came to light that a local non-profit agency was in jeopardy of closing its doors due to lack of funding. The Dove Center in Oakland, Md., is a grassroots effort dedicated to the elimination of domestic and sexual violence through intervention and prevention. Volunteers will answer their need for unused toiletries for the children and families who utilize their services.

The campus-wide drive began on Oct. 3, and will continue until Oct. 26. On the Saturday of Homecoming in the Lane University Center, bags will be decorated and packed by FSU alumni, students and AmeriCorps members. Donations will be accepted at the P.E. Center after 3:30 p.m. and bags will continue to be packed before the evening Homecoming concert with performer Collin Raye.

Raye's appearance at this year's Homecoming concert is especially noteworthy because he is member of the advisory board. Raye was featured on the cover of the Sept. 17-19, 1999, issue of USA Weekend.

"Music can make a difference," Raye says. "What drives me now is what the music means to people. Songs have landed on me that made me realize there's more to this than I thought. It's about entertaining people one minute and healing them the next. It's kinda like a ministry."

Three very notable donations have been received so far. The first donation was from Dana Severance, Director of Residence Life. "Welcome Packs" are given to each student when they arrive on campus. Severance had about 200 left and has donated them to the drive. The second happened this weekend from an FSU alum, Theresa Testoni, who had her friends, neighbors, co-workers all collect items. Upon arriving at her place she proceeded to open her car trunk and it was filled to the brim with items-shampoos, soaps, lotions, etc. from hotels and bags filled with items that she purchased to donate. The third donation comes from Janet Novak, from Special Olympics, who has collected over 50 items personally. Thanks go to them and also to Physical Plant, which lent containers for collection.

The following buildings and offices will serve as collection points:

- Ort Library-Main Floor

- Lane University Center-second floor by the Information Desk
- The Braddock House-20 Braddock Road
- Office of University Advancement-second floor Hitchins Bldg.

If you would like more information, call Kristin Warnick at x7598 or e-mail kwarnick@frostburg.edu.

The CIE is currently taking applications for summer study abroad programs. Many programs are available, either through FSU (Oxford, Ireland, Ecuador, Ghana, Germany) or through other organizations such as ISEP (Chile, Finland, France, Germany, Korea, Malta, Thailand, Scotland, Ireland) and AIFS (Austria, China, Czech Republic, Italy, Poland, Russia, South Africa, Spain).

Scholarships are available.

Free Rail Travel Through AIFS

Students who apply to the AIFS Richmond program in Florence, Italy for spring semester 2003 will receive a free youth rail pass for train travel in France and Italy. The pass is worth almost $500! Application deadline is November 1st. Alternatively, students who apply to the AIFS Richmond program in London for spring 2003 will receive a free round trip ticket to Paris on the Eurostar, the high speed train that travels through the Chunnel. Deadline again is Nov. 1. Don't miss out on these fantastic deals. Contact the CIE immediately, x3091.

Learn More About Africa - Info Session Oct. 24

Students who would like to learn more about study abroad opportunities in Africa should plan to attend a special session at the Center for International Education on Thursday, Oct. 24 at 4 p.m. in the Fuller House seminar room. Information will be available on FSU sponsored programs in Africa and through FSU affiliates, such as the School for International Training (see below). There will also be a 25 minute video on Africa, and FSU students who have studied in Africa, or who are originally from Africa, will be available to talk about their experiences.

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information on any of the programs or scholarships that may be available, check with Dr. Amy Simes at the CIE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, call her at x3091 or e-mail her at asimes@frostburg.edu, or visit the CIE's new and improved Web page at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm.

Study in Non-traditional Locations

FSU is affiliated with the School for International Training. This enables FSU students to study through SIT in over 50 locations while remaining registered at FSU. All financial aid will transfer. SIT offers programs in Africa, Asia, South America, Europe and Australasia. This is a fantastic opportunity for students who would like to spend a semester, year or summer off the beaten track.

Financial Aid for Studying Overseas

FSU students are able to transfer all federal financial aid overseas to help pay for study abroad programs, along with state and institutional aid for most FSU sponsored programs. The CIE also awards study abroad scholarships of $500 and $1,000 to qualifying students. Scholarship deadline for intersession and spring programs is Oct. 15 and for summer, fall and academic year it is March 15. Many other state and national scholarships are also available to help cover overseas costs.

Semester Overseas for Same Price as FSU

The International Student Exchange Program (ISEP) allows FSU students to register at FSU, pay FSU tuition and housing, and then study overseas for a semester, year or summer at one of more than 140 locations. Students may take financial aid with them and may apply for scholarships from the CIE and from ISEP. Students may choose programs taught either in English or other languages. For the price of an airline ticket, this is a great way to earn credit toward your FSU degree while enjoying life in a foreign culture. Apply now for summer or fall 2003.

Choose from Over 20 Locations to Study

FSU affiliates with the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS), which offers study abroad programs in a variety of locations at universities around the world. Programs are open to all majors. Study in Prague, South Africa or Japan. You may register at FSU and use your financial aid for all programs. AIFS offers scholarships to qualified students. Apply now through early November for spring 2003. Take advantage of free rail pass offers (above).

Gain Work/Volunteer Experience Overseas

Students interested in working abroad should come by the CIE for information about internships, volunteer organizations and paid work overseas. Many organizations help students obtain jobs and work permits, and some help to arrange housing as well. Students can choose from short experiences (one to two months) to longer experiences (four to 12 months), or even look into a more serious commitment (one to three years). Destinations are available throughout the world.

Do Your Student Teaching in Copenhagen

Education majors who would like to earn a semester of FSU credits while studying in Denmark should apply by Oct. 31 for the spring 2003 semester's exchange program with the KDAS School of Teacher Training in Copenhagen. Students complete projects and spend several weeks in Danish schools practicing student teaching skills. All courses are in English. Financial aid transfers and scholarships are available.

Study in Limerick, Ireland

Students interested in taking part in the Ireland Exchange Program in Limerick are encouraged to pick up an application at the CIE. Participants study at Mary Immaculate College and take one FSU class and three MIC classes. All financial aid will transfer and scholarships are available.

Study Down Under

FSU is affiliated with AustraLearn, an organization that provides unique opportunities for students to study at universities in Australia and New Zealand. AustraLearn arranges cheap flights, an orientation program on the Great Barrier Reef, pre-registration and transcript evaluation. Students may choose from a broad range of courses at campuses in beautiful and exotic surroundings. Scholarships are available from both FSU and AustraLearn. Applications for spring 2003 are being accepted through late October.

Study in Newcastle, England

Students interested in studying at the University of Northumbria in Newcastle, England, may apply through the end of October for the spring 2003 semester. Newcastle is one of the liveliest cities in the UK, just across the Channel from Amsterdam, and three hours north of London (one hour south of Edinburgh) by train. Courses are available in a wide variety of subjects. The cost of the program is about the same as one semester at FSU (in-state) and all financial aid will transfer.

Learn More about Study Abroad

Students who would like to learn more about study abroad opportunities and how they fit into a degree program may come to the CIE. The staff will provide an overview of programs and requirements and have applications available. Scholarship and financial aid information will also be available. Students may use the CIE library and computer to search for programs. Many videos are also available.
