Frostburg State University Student Does Internship for Frostburg State’s Graphic Design Program

Frostburg, MD, December 11, 2013 - Frostburg State University senior, Jessica Curry of Lanham, MD completed her Communication Studies Capstone this fall 2013 semester in the Visual Arts Department.

Curry is a Communication Studies major, and worked with Pete Herzfeld, Associate Professor of Visual Arts, and Susan Dodge, Lecturer of Visual Arts. Together they were working to improve the Graphic Design program for the department. Curry is anticipating graduation of her Bachelors of Science degree in December 2013.

Curry title was as the Learning Planning and Evaluation Assistant. She helped Herzfeld and Dodge research different aspects of the Graphic Design program.

Curry has learned a lot from her internship experience with the Graphic Design team. She says “I have learned how to multi-task and organize my priorities to meet given deadlines when doing assignments. I have also become well rounded on the nature of the Visual Arts Department. I am most proud to say that I have become a more effective communicator, both verbally and orally from this experience.”

Curry said, “My Capstone has prepared me to become a more focused and disciplined individual, and I hope to apply this newfound skill in my future endeavors.”

For more information on the Communication Studies major, please visit the department’s homepage at: http://www.frostburg.edu/dept/cmst/, or you can reach Chairwoman of Communication Studies, Dr. Elesha Ruminski, at 301-687-4480 or by email at: elruminski@frostburg.edu.

For information about the Graphic Design program at Frostburg State University, please contact Associate Professor of Visual Arts, Pete Herzfeld by phone at: 301-687-4698, or email pdherzfeld@frostburg.edu.